7 (1) in subsection (b)(1), by inserting “in ac-
8 cordance with subsection (e),” before “coordinate”;
9 and

10 (2) by adding at the end the following new sub-
11 section:

12 “(e) CONCENTRATION OF PUBLIC DIPLOMACY RE-
13 SPONSIBILITIES.—

14 “(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of State
15 shall, subject to the direction of the President, have

1 SEC. 212. ESTABLISHMENT OF PUBLIC DIPLOMACY RE-
2 SERVE CORPS.

3 (a) FINDING.—Congress finds that currently a short-
4 age of trained public diplomacy Foreign Service officers
5 at the mid-career level threatens the effectiveness of 6 United States outreach to publics abroad.

7 (b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Con-
8 gress that—

9 (1) the Foreign Service should recruit individ-
10 uals with professional experience relevant to public
11 diplomacy, and provide training and mentoring to 12 cultivate their skills in order to build up the corps
13 of professionals in the public diplomacy cone; and

14 (2) apart from the public diplomacy cone, train-
15 ing of all Foreign Service officers should include
16 more information on techniques of public diplomacy.

17 (c) ESTABLISHMENT OF PUBLIC DIPLOMACY RE-
18 SERVE CORPS.—Section 301 of the Foreign Service Act
19 of 1980 (22 U.S.C. 3941) is amended by adding at the 20 end the following new subsection:

21 “(e) ESTABLISHMENT OF PUBLIC DIPLOMACY RE-
22 SERVE CORPS.—

23 “(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of State is
24 authorized to establish in the Foreign Service a Pub-
25 lic Diplomacy Reserve Corps consisting of mid- and 26 senior-level former Foreign Service officers and

1 other individuals with experience in the private or
2 public sector relevant to public diplomacy, to serve
3 for a period of six months to two years in postings
4 abroad.

5 “(2) PROHIBITION ON CERTAIN ACTIVITIES.—
6 While actively serving with the Reserve Corps, indi-
7 viduals may not engage in activities directly or indi-
8 rectly intended to influence public opinion within the 9 United States in the same manner and to the same
10 extent that employees of the Department of State
11 engaged in public diplomacy are so prohibited.”.

12 SEC. 213. ENHANCING UNITED STATES PUBLIC DIPLOMACY
13 OUTREACH.

14 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

15 (1) The platform strategy for United States
16 public diplomacy programs has changed dramatically
17 with events of the past decade. The United States
18 Government used to operate hundreds of free-stand-
19 ing facilities around the world, known as “American 20 Centers” or “America Houses”, that offered venues
21 for cultural and educational events as well as access
22 to books, magazines, films, and other selected mate-
23 rials about the United States. The consolidation of 24 the United States Information Agency (USIA) into 25 the Department of State accelerated the post-Cold

1 War process of closing these facilities, and the dead-
2 ly attacks on United States embassies in Tanzania
3 and Kenya prompted the imposition of security re-
4 quirements under law that included co-locating
5 United States Government employees in hardened
6 embassy compounds.

7 (2) Information Resource Centers, which offer
8 library services and space for public events, that are 9 now located in embassy compounds allow limited ac-
10 cess—and in some cases, none whatsoever—by the 11 public, and half of them operate on a “by appoint-
12 ment only” basis. “American Corner” facilities, op-
13 erated by local contacts in university or public li-
14 braries in some countries, are no substitute for a
15 designated venue recognized as a resource for infor-
16 mation on United States culture and education
17 staffed by a knowledgeable representative of the em-
18 bassy.

19 (b) PARTNERSHIP ARRANGEMENTS TO FURTHER
20 PUBLIC DIPLOMACY AND OUTREACH.—Recognizing the 21 security challenges of maintaining free-standing public di-
22 plomacy facilities outside of embassy compounds, the Sec-
23 retary of State shall consider new partnership arrange-
24 ments with local or regional entities in foreign countries
25 that can operate free-standing American Centers in areas

1 well-trafficked by a cross-section of people in such coun-
2 tries, including in downtown storefronts, health care clin-
3 ics, and other locations that reach beyond library patrons
4 and university students. Where such partnership arrange-
5 ments currently exist, the Secretary shall evaluate the effi-
6 cacy of such partnership arrangements and determine
7 whether such partnership arrangements can provide a
8 model for public diplomacy facilities outside of embassy
9 and consulate compounds elsewhere. Not later than 180
10 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Sec-
11 retary shall brief the appropriate congressional committees
12 on the evaluation and determinations described in the pre-
13 ceding sentence.

14 (c) ESTABLISHMENT OF CERTAIN PUBLIC DIPLO-
15 MACY FACILITIES.—After taking into account relevant se-
16 curity needs, the Secretary of State shall consider placing 17 United States public diplomacy facilities at locations that 18 maximize the role of such facilities in the educational and 19 cultural life of the cities in which such facilities are lo-
20 cated, and help build a growing constituency for such fa-
21 cilities, in accordance with the authority given to the Sec-
22 retary under section 606(a)(2)(B) of the Secure Embassy
23 Construction and Counterterrorism Act of 1999 (22 24 U.S.C. 4865(a)(2)(B)) to waive certain requirements of

1 that Act with respect to the location of certain United
2 States diplomatic facilities in foreign countries.

3 SEC. 214. PUBLIC DIPLOMACY RESOURCE CENTERS.

4 (a) ESTABLISHMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF LI-
5 BRARIES.—Section 1(b)(3) of the State Department Basic 6 Authorities Act of 1956 (22 U.S.C. 2651a(b)(3)) is
7 amended—

8 (1) in subparagraph (D), by striking “and” at 9 the end;

10 (2) in subparagraph (E), by striking the period
11 at the end and inserting “; and”; and

12 (3) by adding at the end the following new sub-
13 paragraph:

14 “(F) provide for the establishment of new 15 and the maintenance of existing libraries and 16 resource centers at or in connection with United 17 States diplomatic and consular missions.”.

18 (b) OPERATION OF LIBRARIES.—

19 (1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of State shall
20 ensure that libraries and resource centers estab-
21 lished and maintained in accordance with subpara-
22 graph (F) of section 1(b)(3) of the State Depart-23 ment Basic Authorities Act of 1956 (as added by 24 subsection (a)(3) of this section) are open to the 25 general public to the greatest extent practicable,

1 subject to policies and procedures established by the 2 Secretary to ensure the safety and security of 3 United States diplomatic and consular missions and
4 of United States officers, employees, and personnel
5 posted at such missions at which such libraries are 6 located.

7 (2) SHOWINGS OF UNITED STATES FILMS.—To 8 the extent practicable, the Secretary of State shall 9 ensure that such libraries and resource centers
10 schedule public showings of United States films that 11 showcase United States culture, society, values, and 12 history.

13 (c) ADVISORY COMMISSION ON PUBLIC DIPLO-
14 MACY.—Not later than one year after the date of the en-
15 actment of this section, the Advisory Commission on Pub-16 lic Diplomacy (authorized under section 1334 of the For-17 eign Affairs Reform and Restructuring Act of 1998 (22 18 U.S.C. 6553)) shall submit to the Committee on Foreign 19 Affairs of the House of Representatives and the Com-
20 mittee on Foreign Relations of the Senate a report con-
21 taining an evaluation of the functions and effectiveness of 22 the libraries and resource centers that are authorized
23 under this section.

24 (d) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—From 25 amounts authorized to be appropriated for Diplomatic and

1 Consular Programs pursuant to section 101(1)(A), there
2 is authorized to be appropriated to the Secretary of State
3 such sums as may be necessary for each of fiscal years
4 2010 and 2011 to carry out this section.

5 SEC. 215. GRANTS FOR INTERNATIONAL DOCUMENTARY
6 EXCHANGE PROGRAMS.

7 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

8 (1) Since September 11, 2001, a distorted per-
9 ception of the United States has grown abroad, even 10 as many Americans struggle to understand the in-11 creasingly complex world beyond the borders of the 12 United States.

13 (2) This public diplomacy crisis poses an ongo-
14 ing threat to United States security, diplomatic rela-
15 tions, commerce, and citizen-to-citizen relationships
16 between the United States and other countries.

17 (3) Independently produced documentary films
18 have proven to be an effective means of commu-
19 nicating United States ideas and values to popu-
20 lations of other countries.

21 (4) It is in the interest of the United States to 22 provide assistance to United States nongovernmental
23 organizations that produce and distribute independ-
24 ently produced documentary films.

1 (b) ASSISTANCE.—The Secretary of State is author-
2 ized to make grants, on such terms and conditions as the 3 Secretary may determine, to United States nongovern-
4 mental organizations that use independently produced
5 documentary films to promote better understanding of the 6 United States abroad and better understanding of global
7 perspectives and other countries in the United States.

8 (c) ACTIVITIES SUPPORTED.—Grants provided under 9 subsection (b) shall, to the maximum extent practicable,
10 be used to carry out the following activities:

11 (1) Fund, distribute, and promote documentary
12 films that convey a diversity of views about life in 13 the United States to foreign audiences and bring in-
14 sightful foreign perspectives to United States audi-
15 ences.

16 (2) Support documentaries described in para-
17 graph (1) that are made by independent foreign and 18 domestic producers, selected through a peer review
19 process.

20 (3) Develop a network of overseas partners to 21 produce, distribute, and broadcast such documen-
22 taries.

23 (d) SPECIAL FACTORS.—In making the grants de-
24 scribed in subsection (b), the Secretary shall give pref-
25 erence to nongovernmental organizations that—

1 (1) provide at least 35 percent of the total
2 project cost in matching funds from non-Federal 3 sources; and

4 (2) have prior experience supporting independ-
5 ently produced documentary films that have been
6 broadcast on public television in the United States.

7 (e) REPORT.—Not later than two years after the date
8 of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall submit
9 to Congress a report that contains a detailed description
10 of the implementation of this section for the prior year.

11 (f) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—Of the 12 amounts authorized to be appropriated for Educational
13 and Cultural Exchange Programs pursuant to section
14 101(4), there is authorized to be appropriated to the Sec-
15 retary of State $5,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2010
16 and 2011 to carry out this section.

17 SEC. 216. UNITED STATES ADVISORY COMMISSION ON PUB-
18 LIC DIPLOMACY.

19 (a) REAUTHORIZATION OF UNITED STATES ADVI-
20 SORY COMMISSION ON PUBLIC DIPLOMACY.—Section
21 1334 of the Foreign Affairs Reform and Restructuring
22 Act of 1998 (22 U.S.C. 6553) is amended by striking “Oc-
23 tober 1, 2009” and inserting “October 1, 2011”.

24 (b) STUDY AND REPORT.—Section 604(c)(2) of the 25 United States Information and Educational Exchange Act

1 of 1948 (22 U.S.C. 1469(c)) is amended to read as fol-
2 lows:

3 “(2)(A) Not less often than once every two
4 years, the Commission shall undertake an in-depth
5 review of United States public diplomacy programs,
6 policies, and activities. Each study shall assess the 7 effectiveness of the various mechanisms of United
8 States public diplomacy in light of several factors,
9 including public and media attitudes around the 10 world toward the United States, United States citi-
11 zens, and United States foreign policy, and make ap-
12 propriate recommendations.

13 “(B) The Commission shall submit to the Sec-
14 retary and the Committee on Foreign Affairs of the 15 House of Representatives and the Committee on 16 Foreign Relations of the Senate a comprehensive re-
17 port of each study required under subparagraph (A).
18 At the discretion of the Commission, any report
19 under this subsection may be submitted in classified
20 form or with a classified appendix.

21 “(C) Upon request of the Commission, the Sec-
22 retary, the Chair of the Broadcasting Board of Gov-
23 ernors, and the head of any other Federal agency
24 that conducts public diplomacy or strategic commu-
25 nications activities shall provide to the Commission

1 information to assist the Commission in carrying out
2 its responsibilities under this paragraph.”.

3 (c) ENHANCING THE EXPERTISE OF THE UNITED
4 STATES ADVISORY COMMISSION ON PUBLIC DIPLO-
5 MACY.—

6 (1) QUALIFICATIONS OF MEMBERS.—Section
7 604(a)(2) of the United States Information and 8 Educational Exchange Act of 1948 (22 U.S.C.
9 1469(a)(2)) is amended by adding at the end the 10 following new sentences: “At least four members
11 shall have substantial experience in the conduct of 12 public diplomacy or comparable activities in the pri-
13 vate sector. No member may be an officer or em-
14 ployee of the United States.”.

15 (2) APPLICATION OF AMENDMENT.—The 16 amendment made by paragraph (1) shall not apply
17 to individuals who are members of the United States
18 Advisory Commission on Public Diplomacy on the 19 date of the enactment of this Act.

20 SEC. 217. SPECIAL OLYMPICS.

21 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

22 (1) Special Olympics International has been
23 recognized for more than four decades as the world
24 leader in providing life-changing sports training and

1 competition experiences for persons with intellectual
2 disabilities at all levels of severity.

3 (2) While Special Olympics sports programming
4 is widely respected around the world, less well-known
5 are a number of supporting initiatives targeted to 6 changing attitudes toward people with intellectual 7 disabilities, developing leaders among the intellectual
8 disability population, supporting families of people
9 with these disabilities, improving access to health
10 services, and enhancing government policies and pro-
11 grams for people with intellectual disabilities.

12 (3) Special Olympics has documented the chal-
13 lenge of ignorance and poor attitudes toward intel-
14 lectual disability worldwide and its capacity to 15 change discriminatory attitudes to understanding,
16 acceptance, and advocacy for people with intellectual 17 disabilities. It does so through an array of edu-
18 cational and attitude change activities that affect 19 multiple levels of society. These activities have re-
20 ceived financial support from the Bureau of Edu-
21 cational and Cultural Affairs (ECA) of the Depart-
22 ment of State, among other sources.

23 (b) ADMINISTRATION OF PROGRAM.—Section 3(b) of 24 the Special Olympics Sport and Empowerment Act of 25 2004 (Public Law 108–406) is amended, in the matter

1 preceding paragraph (1) by striking “Secretary of State”
2 and inserting “Secretary of State, acting through the As-
3 sistant Secretary of State for Educational and Cultural 4 Affairs”.

5 SEC. 218. EXTENSION OF PROGRAM TO PROVIDE GRANTS
6 TO AMERICAN-SPONSORED SCHOOLS IN PRE-
7 DOMINANTLY MUSLIM COUNTRIES TO PRO-
8 VIDE SCHOLARSHIPS.

9 Section 7113 of the Intelligence Reform and Ter-

11 U.S.C. 2452c) is amended—

12 (1) in subsection (g)—

13 (A) by striking “Committee on Inter-
14 national Relations” and inserting “Committee
15 on Foreign Affairs”; and 16 (B) by striking “April 15, 2006, and April

18 June 15, 2011”; and

19 (2) in subsection (h), by striking “2007 and 20 2008” and inserting “2010 and 2011”.

21 SEC. 219. CENTRAL ASIA SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM FOR 22 PUBLIC POLICY INTERNSHIPS.

23 (a) PILOT PROGRAM ESTABLISHED.—As part of the 24 educational and cultural exchange programs of the De-
25 partment of State, the Secretary of State shall establish

1 a pilot program for fiscal years 2010 and 2011 to award
2 scholarships to undergraduate and graduate students from 3 Central Asia for public policy internships in the United 4 States. Subject to the availability of appropriations, for 5 each fiscal year not more than 50 students may partici-
6 pate in the program established under this section.

7 (b) GENERAL PROVISIONS.—

8 (1) IN GENERAL.—Except as otherwise pro-
9 vided in this section, the program established pursu-
10 ant to subsection (a) shall be carried out under ap-

11 SEC. 303. ESTABLISHMENT OF THE LESSONS LEARNED
12 CENTER.

13 (a) ESTABLISHMENT.—The Secretary of State, in 14 consultation with the Administrator of the United States
15 Agency for International Development (USAID), is au-
16 thorized to establish in the Department of State and under 17 the authority of the Undersecretary for Management a 18 Lessons Learned Center (referred to in this section as the 19 “LLC”) which will serve as a central organization for col-
20 lection, analysis, archiving, and dissemination of observa-
21 tions, best practices, and lessons learned by, from, and 22 to Foreign Service officers and support personnel in the 23 Department of State and USAID.

24 (b) PURPOSE.—The purpose of the LLC is to in-
25 crease, enhance, and sustain the ability of the Department

1 of State and USAID to effectively carry out their missions
2 by devising a system for the collection, analysis, archiving,
3 and dissemination of lessons learned, improving informa-
4 tion sharing and learning capacity, and enabling, encour-
5 aging, and rewarding critical, innovative analysis.

6 (c) REPORT.—Not later than 180 days after the date
7 of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of State shall
8 submit to the appropriate congressional committees a re-
9 port on the status of efforts to establish the LLC. The 10 report shall include recommendations—

11 (1) concerning the regulation and structure of 12 the LLC, including—

13 (A) how to encourage service in the LLC;

14 (B) how to provide for the necessary aca-
15 demic freedom to provide innovative, critical
16 analysis;

17 (C) how to ensure that the staffing of the 18 LLC is a mix of senior and junior staff of the 19 Foreign Service and civil service in the Depart-
20 ment of State and USAID;

21 (D) the anticipated expenditures associated
22 with the establishment of the LLC under sub-
23 section (a); and

24 (E) physical structure of the LLC; and

1 (2) for any legislation necessary to establish the 2 LLC.

3 (d) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

4 (1) ACADEMIC FREEDOM.—The term “academic
5 freedom” means the capability, capacity, and au-
6 thorization to produce analysis and evaluation with-
7 out concern for retaliation or other negative impact
8 on the observer’s career.

9 (2) LESSONS LEARNED.—The term “lessons
10 learned” means information resulting from evalua-
11 tion or observation of negotiations, operations, exer-
12 cises, training events, or other processes and experi-
13 ences, particularly any corrective measures or inno-
14 vative techniques, that produced an improved per-
15 formance or increased capability.

16 SEC. 304. LOCALLY EMPLOYED STAFF COMPENSATION.

17 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

18 (1) United States diplomatic and consular mis-
19 sions worldwide retain over 51,000 locally employed
20 staff under local compensation plans (LCP’s) in 21 about 170 overseas missions.

22 (2) The locally employed staff is the backbone
23 of diplomatic operations, providing management,
24 programmatic, security, maintenance, custodial, and

1 other services wherever the Department of State has 2 established an overseas post.

3 (3) Foreign Service and other United States of-
4 ficers who rotate in-and-out of such missions every 5 two to three years are highly dependent on the local 6 employees to bring them up to speed and make sure
7 that the work of any such mission does not falter in 8 transitions during rotations.

9 (4) As the number of positions at such missions
10 designated for United States officers that are not
11 filled continues to increase, locally employed staff
12 are called upon to assume many of the responsibil-
13 ities that United States staff have carried in the 14 past.

15 (5) Based on a survey conducted by the Office
16 of the Inspector General (OIG) Department of 17 State, the United States is failing to provide a com-
18 petitive compensation package for locally employed
19 staff that is commensurate with their experience,
20 technical skills, and responsibilities.

21 (6) The Department of State OIG survey data
22 show that the United States Government is pro-
23 viding salary increases that are approximately 60
24 percent of what is the prevailing practice of the local 25 labor market.

1 (7) The Department of State OIG has found
2 numerous cases in which such missions are losing
3 staff to other employers. The OIG has also found
4 numerous cases where it is difficult to replace em-
5 ployees who left to take other jobs, particularly in 6 countries with low unemployment rates.

7 (b) POLICY REVIEW.—The Secretary of State shall 8 direct a policy review to assess the adequacy of locally em-
9 ployed staff compensation. In carrying out such policy re-
10 view the Secretary shall consider the recommendations of 11 the Office of the Inspector General of the Department of 12 State, including the following:

13 (1) The Bureau of Human Resources, in co-
14 ordination with the Office of Management, Policy,
15 Rightsizing and Innovation, should hire an outside
16 contractor with international experience to perform
17 an organizational review of the Compensation Man-
18 agement Division of the Office of Overseas Employ-
19 ment to advise on the organization of the compensa-
20 tion management division and on how many analysts
21 are required to handle the compensation manage-
22 ment responsibilities, and to recommend training
23 and certifications the analysts should obtain.

24 (2) The Office of Management, Policy,
25 Rightsizing and Innovation, in coordination with the

1 Bureau of Human Resources and the Bureau of Re-
2 source Management, should ensure that the working
3 group on locally employed staff compensation re-
4 views the connectivity between the activities of the 5 Office of Overseas Employment and the Office of 6 State Programs, Operations and Budget in the Bu-
7 reau of Resource Management, and makes and dis-
8 tributes written, documented determinations as to 9 the data used by the two offices to make estimates
10 of locally employed staff compensation adjustments,
11 the timing of these activities, and the responsibility
12 each office has for tracking implementation of locally
13 employed staff compensation adjustments.

14 (3) The Bureau of Human Resources, in co-
15 ordination with the Office of Management, Policy,
16 Rightsizing and Innovation, should implement a lo-
17 cally employed staff compensation review process
18 whereby the Office of Overseas Employment in the 19 Bureau of Human Resources reviews and adjust
20 each post's salary schedule every five years based on 21 a recent salary survey. During the intervening years, 22 the Department should authorize cost-of-living (or 23 inflation) adjustments based on reliable inflation
24 data.

1 (4) The Bureau of Human Resources, in co-
2 ordination with the Office of Management, Policy,
3 Rightsizing and Innovation, should implement a sys-
4 tematic process of providing comprehensive informa-
5 tion to diplomatic and consular missions, Depart-
6 ment of State offices, and agency headquarters on 7 periodic salary survey reviews, including comprehen-
8 sible salary survey analysis, explanations of salary
9 survey changes, and if appropriate, copies of the off-
10 the-shelf surveys for the host country. This approach
11 should be documented and made a part of the peri-
12 odic process.

13 (5) The Bureau of Human Resources, in co-
14 ordination with the Office of Management, Policy,
15 Rightsizing and Innovation, the regional bureaus,
16 and the Bureau of Resource Management, should es-
17 tablish, maintain, and monitor a database that 18 tracks information related to locally employed staff
19 compensation and adjustments, including budgetary 20 resources, salary level ceilings calculated by the Of-
21 fice of Overseas Employment, salary levels requested
22 by post, salary levels implemented, dates for these 23 activities, and calculations of whether the Depart-
24 ment is meeting prevailing practice. This database

1 should replace the current practice of commu-
2 nicating salary review information by cable.

3 (6) The Bureau of Human Resources, in co-
4 ordination with the Office of Management, Policy,
5 Rightsizing and Innovation, should evaluate the pos-
6 sibility of using different pay setting data estab-
7 lishing different pay scales for blue-collar positions
8 and for professional level positions, and should issue
9 and distribute a written report on the findings and 10 the possibility of implementing the findings.

11 (7) The Office of Management, Policy,
12 Rightsizing and Innovation should ensure that the
13 working group on locally employed staff compensa-
14 tion considers the possibility of including members
15 from other United States Government agencies that 16 employ locally employed staff. Whether this rec-
17 ommendation is implemented or not, the Office of 18 Management, Policy, Rightsizing and Innovation
19 should document the decision in writing, and dis-
20 tribute the decision widely in the Department of 21 State and to other agencies that employ locally em-
22 ployed staff.

23 (8) The Office of Management, Policy,
24 Rightsizing and Innovation should ensure that the
25 working group on locally employed staff compensa-

1 tion considers the possibility of centralizing decision
2 making for locally employed staff salary increases,
3 and, whether such is eventually implemented or not,
4 make a determination as to its value, document the 5 decision in writing, and distribute the decision wide-
6 ly in the Department of State.

7 (9) The Bureau of Human Resources, in co-
8 operation with Resource Management International 9 Cooperative Administrative Support Services, should 10 establish a senior level interagency locally employed
11 staff board of governors to set overall locally em-
12 ployed staff policy.

13 (10) The Bureau of Human Resources should 14 send the cable announcing the proposed salary in-15 creases for locally employed staff to the attention of 16 both the chief of mission and the management offi-
17 cer.

18 (11) The Bureau of Human Resources should
19 request a list of position titles and grades from all 20 positions with exception rate ranges and details on 21 the exception rate range adjustments in the 2010
22 Locally Employed Staff Compensation Question-
23 naire.

24 (c) REPORT.—Not later than 90 days after the date
25 of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of State shall

1 submit to the appropriate committees a report on the im-
2 plementation of this section, including a review of efforts
3 to implement the recommendations of the Office of the 4 Inspector General of the Department of State specified in
5 subsection (b).

1 (b) ESTABLISHMENT OF A MULTILATERAL DIPLO-
2 MACY CONE IN THE FOREIGN SERVICE.—

3 (1) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

4 (A) The Department of State maintains a
5 number of United States missions both within
6 the United States and abroad that are dedi-
7 cated to representing the United States to 8 international organizations and multilateral in-
9 stitutions, including missions in New York,
10 Brussels, Geneva, Rome, Montreal, Nairobi, Vi-
11 enna, and Paris.

12 (B) In offices at the Harry S. Truman
13 Building, the Department maintains a signifi-
14 cant number of positions in bureaus that are ei-
15 ther dedicated, or whose primary responsibility
16 is, to represent the United States to such orga-
17 nizations and institutions or at multilateral ne-
18 gotiations.

19 (C) Given the large number of positions in
20 the United States and abroad that are dedi-
21 cated to multilateral diplomacy, the Department
22 of State may be well served in developing per-
23 sons with specialized skills necessary to become 24 experts in this unique form of diplomacy.

1 (2) REPORT.—Not later than 180 days after
2 the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary
3 of State shall submit to the appropriate congress-
4 sional committees a report—

5 (A) evaluating whether a new cone should
6 be established for the Foreign Service that con-
7 centrates on members of the Service who serve
8 at international organizations and multilateral
9 institutions or are primarily responsible for par-
10 ticipation in broad-based multilateral negotia-
11 tions of international instruments; and

12 (B) that provides alternative mechanisms
13 for achieving the objective of developing a core
14 group of United States diplomats and other
15 Government employees who have expertise and 16 broad experience in conducting multilateral di-
17 plomacy.

18 SEC. 403. IMPLEMENTATION AND ESTABLISHMENT OF OF- 19 FICE ON MULTILATERAL NEGOTIATIONS.

20 (a) ESTABLISHMENT OF OFFICE.—The Secretary of 21 State is authorized to establish, within the Bureau of 22 International Organization Affairs, an Office on Multilat-
23 eral Negotiations, to be headed by a Special Representa-
24 tive for Multilateral Negotiations (in this section referred 25 to as the “Special Representative”).

1 (b) APPOINTMENT.—If the office referred to in sub-
2 section (a) is established, the Special Representative shall
3 be appointed by the President by and with the advice and 4 consent of the Senate and shall have the rank of Amba-
5 sador-at-Large. At the discretion of the President another
6 official at the Department may serve as the Special Rep-
7 resentative. The President may direct that the Special
8 Representative report to the Assistant Secretary for Inter-
9 national Organization Affairs.

10 (c) STAFFING.—The Special Representative shall 11 have a staff of Foreign Service and civil service officers
12 skilled in multilateral diplomacy.

13 (d) DUTIES.—The Special Representative shall have 14 the following responsibilities:

15 (1) IN GENERAL.—The primary responsibility
16 of the Special Representative shall be to assist in the 17 organization of, and preparation for, United States
18 participation in multilateral negotiations, including
19 the advocacy efforts undertaken by the Department
20 of State and other United States agencies.

21 (2) ADVISORY ROLE.—The Special Representa-
22 tive shall advise the President and the Secretary of 23 State, as appropriate, regarding advocacy at inter-
24 national organizations and multilateral institutions
25 and negotiations and, in coordination with the As-

1 sistant Secretary for International Organization Af-
2 fairs, shall make recommendations regarding—

3 (A) effective strategies and tactics to 4 achieve United States policy objectives at multi-
5 lateral negotiations;

6 (B) the need for and timing of high level
7 intervention by the President, the Secretary of 8 State, the Deputy Secretary of State, and other
9 United States officials to secure support from 10 key foreign government officials for the United 11 States position at such organizations, institu-
12 tions, and negotiations;

13 (C) the composition of United States dele-
14 gations to multilateral negotiations; and

15 (D) liaison with Congress, international or-
16 ganizations, nongovernmental organizations,
17 and the private sector on matters affecting mul-
18 tilateral negotiations.

19 (3) LEADERSHIP AND MEMBERSHIP OF INTER-
20 NATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS.—The Special Represent-
21 ative, in coordination with the Assistant Secretary of 22 International Organization Affairs, shall direct the 23 efforts of the United States Government to reform
24 the criteria for leadership and membership of inter-
25 national organizations.

2 by the United States.

3 Subtitle B—General Provisions

4 SEC. 411. ORGANIZATION OF AMERICAN STATES.

5 (a) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Con-
6 gress that—

7 (1) multilateral diplomacy in the context of the 8 Americas has suffered considerably in the past dec-
9 ade, to the direct detriment of the national interest
10 of the United States in the region;

11 (2) given the recent proliferation of multilateral
12 groupings in the Americas region in which the 13 United States is not a member, it is imperative to 14 focus on and promote United States diplomatic ef-
15 forts in the Organization of American States (OAS),
16 where the United States is a founding member and 17 whose central tenets include democratic values con-
18 sidered vital for this region;

19 (3) it is critical for the United States to imme-
20 diately re-establish its unique leadership voice in this 21 region and specifically in the OAS setting; and

22 (4) an effective way to help achieve this short
23 term objective is to establish a fund to promote mul-
24 tilateral interests of the United States in the region.

25 (b) MULTILATERAL FUND.—

1 (1) IN GENERAL.—There is hereby established
2 in the Department of State a Fund to Promote
3 Multilateralism in the Americas (referred to in this 4 section as the “Fund”).

5 (2) ACTIVITIES SUPPORTED.—The Fund shall 6 support activities that promote the multilateral in-
7 terests of the United States in the Americas region,
8 including—

9 (A) United States diplomatic activities
10 within and related to the OAS;

11 (B) voluntary contributions to entities and 12 organs of the OAS to carry out programs and 13 activities that support the interests of the 14 United States;

15 (C) outreach and cultural activities;

16 (D) conferences; and

17 (E) general advocacy for United States in-18 terests.

19 (c) ADMINISTRATION.—The Fund shall be adminis-
20 tered by the United States Mission to the Organization
21 of American States, as directed by the United States Per-
22 manent Representative to the OAS, for use on matters
23 that arise in the context of the OAS.

24 (d) AUTHORIZATION.—Of the amounts authorized to 25 be appropriated for the Administration of Foreign Affairs

1 pursuant to section 101, there is authorized to be appro-
2 priated $2,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2010 and 2011
3 only to carry out this section.

4 SEC. 412. PEACEKEEPING OPERATIONS CONTRIBUTIONS.

5 Section 404(b)(2)(B) of the Foreign Relations Au-
6 thorization Act, Fiscal Years 1994 and 1995 (Public Law
7 103–236) (22 U.S.C. 287e note) is amended at the end
8 by adding the following new clause:

9 “(vi) For assessments made during calendar years
10 2009, 2010, and 2011, 27.1 percent.”.

11 SEC. 413. PACIFIC ISLANDS FORUM.

12 It is the sense of Congress that the Secretary of State
13 should work with the Pacific Islands Forum to find appro-
14 priate affiliations for representatives of American Samoa,
15 Guam, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana 16 Islands.

17 SEC. 414. REVIEW OF ACTIVITIES OF INTERNATIONAL COM-
18 MISSIONS.

19 (a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than one year after the 20 date of the enactment of this Act and two years thereafter,
21 the Secretary of State shall submit to the appropriate con-
22 gressional committees a report on the activities of each 23 of the commissions specified in subsections (a), (b), and 24 (c) of section 103.

1 (b) REPORT ELEMENTS.—The reports required
2 under subsection (a) shall include information concerning
3 the following:

4 (1) Amounts obligated and expended during the
5 two previous fiscal years by each of such commis-
6 sions.

7 (2) A description of the projects carried out
8 during such years by each of such commissions and
9 a description of the management and implementa-
10 tion of such projects, including the use of private 11 contractors.

12 (3) Projects anticipated during the next two fis-
13 cal years related to the activities of each of such 14 commissions because of obligations that the United
15 States has entered into based on any treaty between
16 the United States and another country.

17 (c) SUBMISSION OF THE REPORTS.—The reports
18 may be combined with the annual budget justification sub-
19 mitted by the President in accordance with section
20 1105(a) of title 31, United States Code.

21 SEC. 415. ENHANCING NUCLEAR SAFEGUARDS.

22 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following find-
23 ings:

24 (1) The Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nu-
25 clear Weapons, done at Washington, London, and

1 Moscow July 1, 1968, and entered into force March
2 5, 1970 (commonly known as the “Nuclear Non-
3 Proliferation Treaty” or “NPT”) and the safeguards
4 system of the International Atomic Energy Agency
5 (IAEA) are indispensable to international peace and
6 security.

7 (2) Congress has long supported efforts aimed
8 at effective and efficient assurances of nuclear fuel
9 supply, the strengthening of IAEA safeguards, and
10 assistance to the developing world for nuclear and
11 non-nuclear energy sources, as embodied in the Nu-
13 et seq.).

14 (3) According to some experts, global energy
15 demand will grow by 50 percent in the next 20
16 years, predominantly in the developing world.

17 (4) The Government Accountability Office
18 (GAO) stated in testimony before Congress in Sep-
19 tember 2006 that “while IAEA is increasingly rely-
20 ing on the analytical skills of its staff to detect coun-
21 tries” undeclared nuclear activities, the agency is
22 facing a looming human capital crisis.

23 (5) The Director General of the IAEA told the
24 Board of Governors of the IAEA in March 2009
25 that the “deteriorating conditions in our labora-

1 tories, for example, threaten both our ability to de-
2 liver our programmed, as well as our independent
3 analytical capability”.

4 (6) Considerable investment is needed for the
5 IAEA’s Safeguards Analytical Laboratory (SAL), to
6 meet future IAEA requirements as its workload is
7 growing, the laboratory’s infrastructure is aging,
8 and IAEA requirements have become more demand-
9 ing, and while initial plans have been made for lab-
10 oratory enhancement and are currently pending
11 budgetary approval (sometime in 2009), the simple
12 fact is that, as more countries implement IAEA
13 safeguards, many more nuclear samples come to
14 SAL for analysis.

15 (7) The existing funding, planning, and execu-
16 tion of IAEA safeguards is not sufficient to meet the 17 predicted growth in the future of civilian nuclear
18 power, and therefore any growth in civilian nuclear
19 power must be evaluated against the challenges it
20 poses to verification of the assurances of peace and
21 security provided by the IAEA safeguards system.

22 (b) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There is
23 authorized to be appropriated $10,000,000 for the refur-
24 ishment or possible replacement of the IAEA’s Safe-
25 guards Analytical Laboratory.

1 (c) REPORT.—Not later than 180 days after the date
2 of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of State shall
3 submit to the Committee on Foreign Affairs of the House
4 of Representatives and the Committee on Foreign Rela-
5 tions of the Senate a report on the refurbishment or pos-
6 sible replacement of the IAEA’s Safeguards Analytical
7 Laboratory pursuant to subsection (b).

24 sums as may be necessary for fiscal year 2011.

10 6207(h)(1)(C)) is amended—

19 is amended by inserting after “suitably qualified United 20 States citizens” the following: “(for purposes of this para-
21 graph, the term ‘suitably qualified United States citizens’
22 means those United States citizen applicants who are
23 equally or better qualified than non-United States citizen
24 applicants)”.

1 SEC. 505. DOMESTIC RELEASE OF THE VOICE OF AMERICA
2 FILM ENTITLED “A FATEFUL HARVEST”.

3 (a) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding section 208 of
4 the Foreign Relations Authorization Act, Fiscal Years
5 1986 and 1987 (22 U.S.C. 1461–1a) and section 501(b)
6 of the United States Information and Educational Ex-
7 change Act of 1948 (22 U.S.C. 1461(b)), the Director of
8 the International Broadcasting Bureau shall provide a
9 master copy of the film entitled “A Fateful Harvest” to
10 the Archivist of the United States for domestic release in 11 accordance with subsection (b).

4 (3) by redesignating subsections (g) and (h) as
5 subsection (f) and (g), respectively.

6 TITLE VI—PEACE CORPS

7 SEC. 601. FINDINGS; STATEMENT OF POLICY.

8 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

9 (1) On October 14, 1960, then Senator John F.
10 Kennedy addressed students on the steps of the Uni-
11 versity of Michigan Union to enlist their effort to 12 make the world a better place by serving their coun-
13 try abroad.

14 (2) On March 1, 1961, then President John F.
15 Kennedy signed an Executive Order establishing a
16 Peace Corps that was “designed to permit our peo-
17 ple to exercise more fully their responsibilities in the 18 great common cause of world development”.

19 (3) Since its establishment, the Peace Corps
20 has been guided by its mission to promote world
21 peace and friendship and has sought to fulfill the 22 following three goals:

23 (A) To help the people of interested coun-
24 tries in meeting their needs for trained men
25 and women.

1 (B) To promote a better understanding of
2 Americans on the part of the peoples served.

3 (C) To help promote a better under-
4 standing of other peoples on the part of Ameri-
5 cans.

6 (4) Over the last 48 years, nearly 200,000
7 Peace Corps volunteers have served in 139 countries.

8 (5) The Peace Corps is the world's premier
9 international service organization dedicated to pro-
10 moting sustainable grassroots development by work-
11 ing with host communities in the areas of agri-
12 culture, business development, education, the envi-
13 ronment, health and HIV/AIDS, and youth.

14 (6) The Peace Corps remains committed to 15 sending well trained and well supported Peace Corps
16 volunteers overseas to promote peace, friendship,
17 cross-cultural awareness, and mutual understanding
18 between the United States and other countries. The 19 Peace Corps has an impressive record of engen-
20 dering good will through the service that American 21 volunteers provide.

22 (7) Recognizing the Peace Corps' unique and 23 effective role in promoting volunteer service by 24 American citizens, President Obama and Vice Presi-
25 dent Biden announced their intent to double the size

1 of Peace Corps in an expeditious and effective man-
2 ner.

3 (8) Over 13,000 Americans applied in 2008 to 4 volunteer their service to serve the world's poorest
5 communities in the Peace Corps, a 16 percent in-
6 crease over the nearly 11,000 applications received
7 in 2007.

8 (9) Under current funding levels, the Peace
9 Corps is able to provide new placements for only
10 one-third of the American applicants seeking the op-
11 portunity to serve their country and the world. At 12 the end of fiscal year 2008, there were nearly 8,000
13 Peace Corps volunteers serving in 76 countries
14 around the world.

15 (b) STATEMENT OF POLICY.—It is the policy of the 16 United States to—

17 (1) double the number of Peace Corps volun-
18 teers and strengthen and improve the Peace Corps
19 and its programs;

20 (2) improve the coordination of Peace Corps
21 programs with development programs of other Fed-
22 eral departments and agencies, without diminishing
23 the independence of the Peace Corps; and

24 (3) promote all types of volunteerism by Ameri-
25 cans in the developing world.

1 SEC. 602. AMENDMENTS TO THE PEACE CORPS ACT.

2 (a) PEACE CORPS RESPONSE PROGRAM.—The Peace
3 Corps Act (22 U.S.C. 2501 et seq.) is amended by insert-
4 ing after section 5 the following new section:

5 “SEC. 5A. PEACE CORPS RESPONSE PROGRAM.

6 “The Director of the Peace Corps is authorized to 7 establish a special program that assigns returned Peace
8 Corps volunteers or other volunteers to provide short-term
9 development or other relief assistance or to otherwise be 10 assigned or made available to any entity referred to in sub-
11 section (a)(1) of section 10. The term of such service shall 12 be less than the term of service of a volunteer under sec-
13 tion 5. Except to the extent determined necessary and ap-
14 propriate by the Director, the program established under 15 this section may not cause a diminution in the number
16 or quality of projects or volunteers assigned to longer term
17 assignments under section 5.”

18 (b) COORDINATION OF PEACE CORPS PROGRAMS.—
19 Paragraph (2) of section 4(c) of the Peace Corps Act (22
20 U.S.C. 2503(c)) is amended to read as follows:

21 “(2) The Director of the Peace Corps shall, as 22 appropriate and to the maximum extent practicable
23 without diminishing any program or operational
24 independence, work with the heads of Federal de-25 partments and agencies to identify synergies and

1 avoid duplication of efforts with Peace Corps pro-
2 grams in the field and at headquarters.”.

3 (c) VOLUNTEER LEADERS.—Section 6 (22 U.S.C.
4 2505) of the Peace Corps Act is amended—

5 (1) in the matter preceding paragraph (1)—

6 (A) by striking “and the term” and insert-
7 ing “the term”; and

8 (B) by inserting before the colon the fol-
9 lowing: “, and the term ‘partner’ means an in-
10 dividual identified in good faith by a volunteer
11 leader as the long-term or committed same-sex 12 partner of such volunteer leader”; and

13 (2) in paragraphs (2), (3), and (4), by inserting
14 “, partners,” after “spouses” each place it appears.

15 (d) READJUSTMENT ALLOWANCE.—Subsection (e) of 16 section 5 of the Peace Corps Act (22 U.S.C. 2504(e)) is 17 amended, in the first sentence, by striking “$125” and 18 inserting “$225”.

19 (e) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—Section
20 3(b)(1) of the Peace Corps Act (22 U.S.C. 2502(b)(1))
21 is amended by striking “$270,000,000” and all that fol-
22 lows through the period at the end and inserting the fol-23 lowing: “$400,000,000 for fiscal year 2010 and 24 $450,000,000 for fiscal year 2011.”.

1 SEC. 603. REPORT.

2 (a) PEACE CORPS RESPONSE PROGRAM REPORT.—
3 Not later than one year after the date of the enactment
4 of this Act, the Director of the Peace Corps shall submit 5 to the appropriate congressional committees a report on 6 the Peace Corps Response Program or any similar pro-
7 gram developed under in accordance with section 5A of 8 the Peace Corps Act (as added by section 602(a) of this 9 Act), including information on the following:

10 (1) The achievements and challenges of the 11 Peace Corps Response Program or any similar pro-
12 gram since its inception as the Peace Corps Crisis
13 Corps in 1996.

14 (2) The goals, objectives, program areas, and 15 growth projections for the Peace Corps Response
16 Program or any similar program from fiscal year
17 2010 through fiscal year 2011.

18 (3) The process and standards for selecting
19 partner organizations and projects for the Peace
20 Corps Response Program or any similar program.

21 (4) The standards and requirements used to se-

23 sponse Program or any similar program.

24 (5) The measures used to evaluate projects of 25 the Peace Corps Response Program or any similar 26 program and the effectiveness of volunteers assigned

9 and other Federal departments and agencies carrying out
10 development assistance programs (as required under para-
11 graph (2) of section 4(e) of the Peace Corps Act (22 12 U.S.C. 2503(c)), as amended by section 602(b) of this 13 Act).

14 TITLE VII—SENATOR PAUL
15 SIMON STUDY ABROAD FOUN-
16 DATION ACT OF 2009

17 SEC. 701. SHORT TITLE.

18 This Act may be cited as the “Senator Paul Simon
19 Study Abroad Foundation Act of 2009”.

20 SEC. 702. FINDINGS.

21 Congress makes the following findings:

22 (1) According to former President George W.
23 Bush, “America’s leadership and national security
24 rest on our commitment to educate and prepare our

1 youth for active engagement in the international
2 community.”.

3 (2) According to former President William J.
4 Clinton, “Today, the defense of United States inter-
5 ests, the effective management of global issues, and 6 even an understanding of our Nation’s diversity re-
7 quire ever-greater contact with, and understanding
8 of, people and cultures beyond our borders.”.

9 (3) Congress authorized the establishment of 10 the Commission on the Abraham Lincoln Study
11 Abroad Fellowship Program pursuant to section 104
12 of the Miscellaneous Appropriations and Offsets Act, 13 2004 (division h of Public Law 108–199). Pursuant 14 to its mandate, the Lincoln Commission has sub-
15 mitted to Congress and the President a report of its 16 recommendations for greatly expanding the oppor-
17 tunity for students at institutions of higher edu-
18 cation in the United States to study abroad, with 19 special emphasis on studying in developing nations.

20 (4) According to the Lincoln Commission,
21 “[s]tudy abroad is one of the major means of pro-
22 ducing foreign language speakers and enhancing for-23 eign language learning” and, for that reason, “is 24 simply essential to the [N]ation’s security.”.

1 (5) Studies consistently show that United
2 States students score below their counterparts in
3 other advanced countries on indicators of inter-
4 national knowledge. This lack of global literacy is a
5 national liability in an age of global trade and busi-
6 ness, global interdependence, and global terror.

7 (6) Americans believe that it is important for 8 their children to learn other languages, study
9 abroad, attend a college where they can interact with 10 international students, learn about other countries
11 and cultures, and generally be prepared for the glob-
12 al age.

13 (7) In today's world, it is more important than 14 ever for the United States to be a responsible, con-
15 structive leader that other countries are willing to 16 follow. Such leadership cannot be sustained without 17 an informed citizenry with significant knowledge and 18 awareness of the world.

19 (8) Study abroad has proven to be a very effec-
20 tive means of imparting international and foreign 21 language competency to students.

22 (9) In any given year, only approximately one
23 percent of all students enrolled in United States in-24 stitutions of higher education study abroad.

1 (10) Less than 10 percent of the students who
2 graduate from United States institutions of higher
3 education with bachelors degrees have studied
4 abroad.

5 (11) Far more study abroad must take place in 6 developing countries. Ninety-five percent of the 7 world's population growth over the next 50 years
8 will occur outside of Europe, yet in the academic 9 year 2004–2005, 60 percent of United States stu-
10 dents studying abroad studied in Europe, and 45
11 percent studied in four countries—the United King-
12 dom, Italy, Spain, and France.

13 (12) The Final Report of the National Commis-
14 sion on Terrorist Attacks Upon the United States
15 (the 9/11 Commission Report) recommended that 16 the United States increase support for “scholarship,
17 exchange, and library programs”. The 9/11 Public
18 Discourse Project, successor to the 9/11 Commis-
19 sion, noted in its November 14, 2005, status report
20 that this recommendation was “unfulfilled,” and 21 stated that “[t]he U.S. should increase support for 22 scholarship and exchange programs, our most power-
23 ful tool to shape attitudes over the course of a gen-
24 eration.”. In its December 5, 2005, Final Report on 25 the 9/11 Commission Recommendations, the 9/11

1 Public Discourse Project gave the government a
2 grade of “D” for its implementation of this re-
3 commendation.

4 (13) Investing in a national study abroad pro-
5 gram would help turn a grade of “D” into an “A”
6 by equipping United States students to communicate
7 United States values and way of life through the 8 unique dialogue that takes place among citizens
9 from around the world when individuals study
10 abroad.

11 (14) An enhanced national study abroad pro-
12 gram could help further the goals of other United 13 States Government initiatives to promote edu-
14 cational, social, and political reform and the status
15 of women in developing and reforming societies
16 around the world, such as the Middle East Partner-
17 ship Initiative.

18 (15) To complement such worthwhile Federal
19 programs and initiatives as the Benjamin A. Gilman
20 International Scholarship Program, the National Se-
21 curity Education Program, and the National Secu-
22 rity Language Initiative, a broad-based under-23 graduate study abroad program is needed that will 24 make many more study abroad opportunities acces-
25 sible to all undergraduate students, regardless of

1 their field of study, ethnicity, socio-economic status,
2 or gender.

3 (16) To restore America's standing in the 4 world, President Barack Obama has said that he will 5 call on our nation's greatest resource, our people, to 6 reach out to and engage with other nations.

7 SEC. 703. PURPOSES.

8 The purposes of this title are—

9 (1) to significantly enhance the global competi-
10 tiveness and international knowledge base of the 13 guage skills and international knowledge through 14 significantly expanded study abroad;

8 SEC. 710. GAO REVIEW.

9 (a) REVIEW REQUIRED.—Not later than two years

11 ptroller General of the United States shall commence a re-
12 view of the operations of the Foundation.

13 (b) CONTENT.—In conducting the review required
14 under subsection (a), the Comptroller General shall

4 (4) the extent to which the Foundation is using 5 best practices in the implementation of this Act and 6 the administration of the program described in sec-

8 (5) other relevant matters, as determined by 9 the Comptroller General, after consultation with the 10 appropriate congressional committees.

11 (c) REPORT REQUIRED.—The Comptroller General
12 shall submit a report on the results of the review con-

22 2011.

23 (2) AMOUNTS IN ADDITION TO OTHER AVAIL-
24 ABLE AMOUNTS.—Amounts authorized to be appro-

1 TITLE VIII—EXPORT CONTROL
2 REFORM AND SECURITY AS-
3 SISTANCE

4 Subtitle A—Defense Trade Controls
5 Performance Improvement Act
6 of 2009

7 SEC. 801. SHORT TITLE.

8 This subtitle may be cited as the “Defense Trade
9 Controls Performance Improvement Act of 2009”.

10 SEC. 802. FINDINGS.

11 Congress finds the following:

12 (1) In a time of international terrorist threats
13 and a dynamic global economic and security environ-
14 ment, United States policy with regard to export
15 controls is in urgent need of a comprehensive review
16 in order to ensure such controls are protecting the 17 national security and foreign policy interests of the 18 United States.

19 (2) In January 2007, the Government Account-
20 ability Office designated the effective identification
21 and protection of critical technologies as a govern-
22 ment-wide, high-risk area, warranting a strategic re-
23 examination of existing programs, including pro-
24 grams relating to arms export controls.

1 (3) Federal Government agencies must review
2 licenses for export of munitions in a thorough and
3 timely manner to ensure that the United States is
4 able to assist United States allies and to prevent nu-
5 clear and conventional weapons from getting into the
6 hands of enemies of the United States.

7 (4) Both staffing and funding that relate to the
8 Department of State's arms export control respon-
9 sibilities have not kept pace with the increased work-
10 load relating to such responsibilities, especially dur-
11 ing the current decade.

12 (5) Outsourcing and off-shoring of defense pro-
13 duction and the policy of many United States trad-
14 ing partners to require offsets for major sales of de-
15 fense and aerospace articles present a potential
16 threat to United States national security and eco-
17 nomic well-being and serve to weaken the defense in-
18 dustrial base.

19 (6) Export control policies can have a negative
20 impact on United States employment, nonprolifera-
21 tion goals, and the health of the defense industrial
22 base, particularly when facilitating the overseas
23 transfer of technology or production and other forms
24 of outsourcing, such as offsets (direct and indirect),
25 co-production, subcontracts, overseas investment and

1 joint ventures in defense and commercial industries.
2 Federal Government agencies must develop new and
3 effective procedures for ensuring that export control
4 systems address these problems and the threat they
5 pose to national security.

6 (7) In the report to Congress required by the
7 Conference Report (Report 109–272) accompanying
8 the bill, H.R. 2862 (the Science, State, Justice,
9 Commerce and Related Agencies Appropriations Act,
10 2006; Public Law 109–108), the Department of
11 State concluded that—

12 (A) defense trade licensing has become
13 much more complex in recent years as a con-
14 sequence of the increasing globalization of the 15 defense industry;

16 (B) the most important challenge to the
17 Department of State’s licensing process has
18 been the sheer growth in volume of applicants
19 for licenses and agreements, without the cor-
20 responding increase in licensing officers; and

21 (C) the increase in licensing volume with-
22 out a corresponding increase in trained and ex-
23 perience personnel has resulted in delays and 24 increased processing times.

1 (8) In 2006, the Department of State processed
2 over three times as many licensing applications as
3 the Department of Commerce with about a fifth of
4 the staff of the Department of Commerce.

5 (9) On July 27, 2007, in testimony delivered to
6 the Subcommittee on Terrorism, Nonproliferation
7 and Trade of the Committee on Foreign Affairs of
8 the House of Representatives to examine the effec-
9 tiveness of the United States export control regime,
10 the Government Accountability Office found that—

11 (A) the United States Government needs
12 to conduct assessments to determine its overall
13 effectiveness in the area of arms export control;
14 and

15 (B) the processing times of the Depart-
16 ment of State doubled over the period from
17 2002 to 2006.

18 (10)(A) Allowing a continuation of the status
19 quo in resources for defense trade licensing could ul-
20 timately harm the United States defense industrial
21 base. The 2007 Institute for Defense Analysis report
22 entitled “Export Controls and the U.S. Defense In-
23 dustrial Base” found that the large backlog and long
24 processing times by the Department of State for ap-
25 plications for licenses to export defense items led to

1 an impairment of United States firms in some sec-
2 tors to conduct global business relative to foreign
3 competitors.

4 (B) Additionally, the report found that United
5 States commercial firms have been reluctant to en-
6 gage in research and development activities for the
7 Department of Defense because this raises the fu-
8 ture prospects that the products based on this re-
9 search and development, even if intrinsically com-
10 mercial, will be saddled by Department of State mu-
11 nitions controls due to the link to that research.

12 (11) According to the Department of State's
13 fiscal year 2008 budget justification to Congress,
14 commercial exports licensed or approved under the
15 Arms Export Control Act exceeded
16 $30,000,000,000, with nearly eighty percent of these
17 items exported to United States NATO allies and
18 other major non-NATO allies.

19 (12) A Government Accountability Office report
20 of October 9, 2001 (GAO-02-120), documented am-
21 biguous export control jurisdiction affecting 25 per-
22 cent of the items that the United States Government
23 agreed to control as part of its commitments to the 24 Missile Technology Control Regime. The United
25 States Government has not clearly determined which

1 department has jurisdiction over these items, which
2 increases the risk that these items will fall into the
3 wrong hands. During both the 108th, 109th, and
4 110th Congresses, the House of Representatives
5 passed legislation mandating that the Administra-
6 tion clarify this issue.

7 (13) During 2007 and 2008, the management
8 and staff of the Directorate of Defense Trade Con-
9 trols of the Department of State have, through ex-
10 traordinary effort and dedication, eliminated the
11 large backlog of open applications and have reduced
12 average processing times for license applications;
13 however, the Directorate remains understaffed and
14 long delays remain for complicated cases.

15 SEC. 803. STRATEGIC REVIEW AND ASSESSMENT OF THE 16 UNITED STATES EXPORT CONTROLS SYSTEM.

17 (a) REVIEW AND ASSESSMENT.—

18 (1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than March 31,
19 2010, the President shall conduct a comprehensive
20 and systematic review and assessment of the United
21 States arms export controls system in the context of 22 the national security interests and strategic foreign
23 policy objectives of the United States.

24 (2) ELEMENTS.—The review and assessment
25 required under paragraph (1) shall—

1 (A) determine the overall effectiveness of
2 the United States arms export controls system
3 in order to, where appropriate, strengthen con-
4 trols, improve efficiency, and reduce unneces-
5 sary redundancies across Federal Government
6 agencies, through administrative actions, in-
7 cluding regulations, and to formulate legislative
8 proposals for new authorities that are needed;

9 (B) develop processes to ensure better co-
10 ordination of arms export control activities of
11 the Department of State with activities of other
12 departments and agencies of the United States
13 that are responsible for enforcing United States
14 arms export control laws;

15 (C) ensure that weapons-related nuclear
16 technology, other technology related to weapons
17 of mass destruction, and all items on the Mis-
18 sile Technology Control Regime Annex are sub-
19 ject to stringent control by the United States
20 Government;

21 (D) determine the overall effect of arms
22 export controls on counterterrorism, law en-
23 forcement, and infrastructure protection mis-
24 sions of the Department of Homeland Security;

1 (E) determine the effects of export controls
2 policies and the practices of the export control
3 agencies on the United States defense industrial
4 base and United States employment in the in-
5 dustries affected by export controls;

6 (F) contain a detailed summary of known
7 attempts by unauthorized end-users (such as
8 international arms traffickers, foreign intel-
9 ligence agencies, and foreign terrorist organiza-
10 tions) to acquire items on the United States
11 Munitions List and related technical data,
12 including—

13 (i) data on—

14 (I) commodities sought, such as
15 M-4 rifles, night vision devices, F-14
16 spare parts;

17 (II) parties involved, such as the
18 intended end-users, brokers, con-
19 signees, and shippers;

20 (III) attempted acquisition of
21 technology and technical data critical
22 to manufacture items on the United
23 States Munitions List;

24 (IV) destination countries and
25 transit countries;

- 1 (V) modes of transport;
- 2 (VI) trafficking methods, such as
- 3 use of false documentation and front
- 4 companies registered under flags of
- 5 convenience;
- 6 (VII) whether the attempted il-
- 7 licit transfer was successful; and
- 8 (VIII) any administrative or
- 9 criminal enforcement actions taken by
- 10 the United States and any other gov-
- 11 ernment in relation to the attempted
- 12 illicit transfer;
- 13 (ii) a thorough evaluation of the Blue
- 14 Lantern Program, including the adequacy
- 15 of current staffing and funding levels;
- 16 (iii) a detailed analysis of licensing ex-
- 17 emptions and their successful exploitation
- 18 by unauthorized end-users; and
- 19 (iv) an examination of the extent to
- 20 which the increased tendency toward
- 21 outsourcing and off-shoring of defense pro-
- 22 duction harm United States national secu-
- 23 rity and weaken the defense industrial
- 24 base, including direct and indirect impact
- 25 on employment, and formulate policies to

1 address these trends as well as the policy
2 of some United States trading partners to
3 require offsets for major sales of defense
4 articles; and

5 (G) assess the extent to which export con-
6 trol policies and practices under the Arms Ex-
7 port Control Act promote the protection of
8 basic human rights.

9 (b) CONGRESSIONAL BRIEFINGS.—The President
10 shall provide periodic briefings to the appropriate congres-
11 sional committees on the progress of the review and as-
12 sessment conducted under subsection (a). The require-
13 ment to provide congressional briefings under this sub-
14 section shall terminate on the date on which the President
15 transmits to the appropriate congressional committees the
16 report required under subsection (c).

17 (c) REPORT.—Not later than 18 months after the
18 date of the enactment of this Act, the President shall 19 transmit to the appropriate congressional committees and
20 the Committee on Armed Services of the House of Rep-
21 resentatives and the Committee on Armed Services of the 22 Senate a report that contains the results of the review and
23 assessment conducted under subsection (a). The report re-
24 quired by this subsection shall contain a certification that
25 the requirement of subsection (a)(2)(C) has been met, or

1 if the requirement has not been met, the reasons therefor.
2 The report required by this subsection shall be submitted
3 in unclassified form, but may contain a classified annex,
4 if necessary.

5 SEC. 804. PERFORMANCE GOALS FOR PROCESSING OF AP-
6 PLICATIONS FOR LICENSES TO EXPORT
7 ITEMS ON UNITED STATES MUNITIONS LIST.

8 (a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of State, acting
9 through the head of the Directorate of Defense Trade
10 Controls of the Department of State, shall establish and
11 maintain the following goals:

12 (1) The processing time for review of each ap-
13 plication for a license to export items on the United
14 States Munitions List (other than a Manufacturing
15 License Agreement) shall be not more than 60 days
16 from the date of receipt of the application.

17 (2) The processing time for review of each ap-
18 plication for a commodity jurisdiction determination
19 shall be not more than 60 days from the date of re-
20 ceipt of the application.

21 (3) The total number of applications described
22 in paragraph (1) that are unprocessed shall be not
23 more than 7 percent of the total number of such ap-
24 plications submitted in the preceding calendar year.

1 (b) ADDITIONAL REVIEW.—(1) If an application de-
2 scribed in paragraph (1) or (2) of subsection (a) is not
3 processed within the time period described in the respec-
4 tive paragraph of such subsection, then the Managing Di-
5 rector of the Directorate of Defense Trade Controls or the
6 Deputy Assistant Secretary for Defense Trade and Re-
7 gional Security of the Department of State, as appro-
8 priate, shall review the status of the application to deter-
9 mine if further action is required to process the applica-
10 tion.

11 (2) If an application described in paragraph (1) or 12 (2) of subsection (a) is not processed within 90 days from
13 the date of receipt of the application, then the Assistant
14 Secretary for Political-Military Affairs of the Department
15 of State shall—

16 (A) review the status of the application to de-
17 termine if further action is required to process the 18 application; and

19 (B) submit to the appropriate congressional
20 committees a notification of the review conducted
21 under subparagraph (A), including a description of
22 the application, the reason for delay in processing
23 the application, and a proposal for further action to 24 process the application.

1 (3) For each calendar year, the Managing Director
2 of the Directorate of Defense Trade Controls shall review
3 not less than 2 percent of the total number of applications
4 described in paragraphs (1) and (2) of subsection (a) to
5 ensure that the processing of such applications, including
6 decisions to approve, deny, or return without action, is
7 consistent with both policy and regulatory requirements
8 of the Department of State.

9 (c) STATEMENTS OF POLICY.—

10 (1) UNITED STATES ALLIES.—Congress states
11 that—

12 (A) it shall be the policy of the Directorate
13 of Defense Trade Controls of the Department
14 of State to ensure that, to the maximum extent
15 practicable, the processing time for review of
16 applications described in subsection (a)(1) to
17 export items that are not subject to the require-
18 ments of section 36 (b) or (c) of the Arms Ex-
19 port Control Act (22 U.S.C. 2776 (b) or (c)) to
20 United States allies in direct support of combat
21 operations or peacekeeping or humanitarian op-
22 erations with United States Armed Forces is
23 not more than 7 days from the date of receipt
24 of the application; and

1 (B) it shall be the goal, as appropriate, of
2 the Directorate of Defense Trade Controls to
3 ensure that, to the maximum extent practicable,
4 the processing time for review of applications
5 described in subsection (a)(1) to export items
6 that are not subject to the requirements of sec-
7 tion 36 (b) or (c) of the Arms Export Control
8 Act to government security agencies of United
9 States NATO allies, Australia, New Zealand,
10 Japan, South Korea, Israel, and, as appro-
11 priate, other major non-NATO allies for any
12 purpose other than the purpose described in 13 paragraph (1) is not more than 30 days from
14 the date of receipt of the application.

15 (2) PRIORITY FOR APPLICATIONS FOR EXPORT
16 OF U.S.-ORIGIN EQUIPMENT.—In meeting the goals
17 established by this section, it shall be the policy of 18 the Directorate of Defense Trade Controls of the
19 Department of State to prioritize the processing of
20 applications for licenses and agreements necessary
21 for the export of United States-origin equipment
22 over applications for Manufacturing License Agree-
23 ments.

24 (d) REPORT.—Not later than December 31, 2011,
25 and December 31, 2012, the Secretary of State shall sub-

1 mit to the appropriate congressional committees a report
2 that contains a detailed description of—

3 (1)(A) the average processing time for and
4 number of applications described in subsection
5 (a)(1) to—

6 (i) United States NATO allies, Australia,
7 New Zealand, Japan, South Korea, and Israel;

8 (ii) other major non-NATO allies; and

9 (iii) all other countries; and

10 (B) to the extent practicable, the average processing
11 time for and number of applications described 12 in subsection (b)(1) by item category;

13 (2) the average processing time for and number
14 of applications described in subsection (a)(2);

15 (3) the average processing time for and number
16 of applications for agreements described in part 124
17 of title 22, Code of Federal Regulations (relating to 18 the International Traffic in Arms Regulations (other
19 than Manufacturing License Agreements));

20 (4) the average processing times for applica-
21 tions for Manufacturing License Agreements;

22 (5) any management decisions of the Direc-
23 torate of Defense Trade Controls of the Department
24 of State that have been made in response to data
25 contained in paragraphs (1) through (3); and

1 (6) any advances in technology that will allow
2 the time-frames described in subsection (a)(1) to be
3 substantially reduced.

4 (e) CONGRESSIONAL BRIEFINGS.—If, at the end of
5 any month beginning after the date of the enactment of
6 this Act, the total number of applications described in sub-
7 section (a)(1) that are unprocessed is more than 7 percent
8 of the total number of such applications submitted in the
9 preceding calendar year, then the Secretary of State, act-
10 ing through the Under Secretary for Arms Control and
11 International Security, the Assistant Secretary for Polit-
12 ical-Military Affairs, or the Deputy Assistant Secretary
13 for Defense Trade and Regional Security of the Depart-
14 ment of State, as appropriate, shall brief the appropriate
15 congressional committees on such matters and the correc-
16 tive measures that the Directorate of Defense Trade Con-
17 trols will take to comply with the requirements of sub-
18 section (a).

19 (f) TRANSPARENCY OF COMMODITY JURISDICTION
20 DETERMINATIONS.—

21 (1) DECLARATION OF POLICY.—Congress de-
22 clares that the complete confidentiality surrounding
23 several hundred commodity jurisdiction determina-
24 tions made each year by the Department of State
25 pursuant to the International Traffic in Arms Regu-

1 lations is not necessary to protect legitimate propri-
2 etary interests of persons or their prices and cus-
3 tomers, is not in the best security and foreign policy
4 interests of the United States, is inconsistent with
5 the need to ensure a level playing field for United
6 States exporters, and detracts from United States
7 efforts to promote greater transparency and respon-
8 sibility by other countries in their export control sys-
9 tems.

10 (2) PUBLICATION ON INTERNET WEBSITE.—
11 The Secretary of State shall—

12 (A) upon making a commodity jurisdiction
13 determination referred to in paragraph (1) pub-
14 lish on the Internet website of the Department
15 of State not later than 30 days after the date
16 of the determination—

17 (i) the name of the manufacturer of
18 the item;

19 (ii) a brief general description of the 20 item;

21 (iii) the model or part number of the 22 item; and

23 (iv) the United States Munitions List
24 designation under which the item has been
25 designated, except that—

1 (I) the name of the person or
2 business organization that sought the
3 commodity jurisdiction determination
4 shall not be published if the person or
5 business organization is not the man-
6 ufacturer of the item; and

7 (II) the names of the customers,
8 the price of the item, and any propri-
9 etary information relating to the item
10 indicated by the person or business
11 organization that sought the com-
12 modity jurisdiction determination
13 shall not be published; and

14 (B) maintain on the Internet website of
15 the Department of State an archive, that is ac-
16 cessible to the general public and other depart-
17 ments and agencies of the United States, of the 18 information published under subparagraph (A).

19 (g) RULE OF CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in this sec-
20 tion shall be construed to prohibit the President or Con-
21 gress from undertaking a thorough review of the national
22 security and foreign policy implications of a proposed ex-
23 port of items on the United States Munitions List.

1 SEC. 805. REQUIREMENT TO ENSURE ADEQUATE STAFF
2 AND RESOURCES FOR THE DIRECTORATE OF
3 DEFENSE TRADE CONTROLS OF THE DEPART-
4 MENT OF STATE.

5 (a) REQUIREMENT.—The Secretary of State shall en-
6 sure that the Directorate of Defense Trade Controls of 7 the Department of State has the necessary staff and re-

9 made by this subtitle.

10 (b) MINIMUM NUMBER OF LICENSING OFFICERS.—
11 For fiscal year 2011 and each subsequent fiscal year, the
12 Secretary of State shall ensure that the Directorate of De-
13 fense Trade Controls has at least 1 licensing officer for 14 every 1,250 applications for licenses and other authoriza-
15 tions to export items on the United States Munitions List
16 by not later than the third quarter of such fiscal year,
17 based on the number of licenses and other authorizations
18 expected to be received during such fiscal year. The Sec-
19 retary shall ensure that in meeting the requirement of this 20 subsection, the performance of other functions of the Di-
21 rectorate of Defense Trade Controls is maintained and 22 adequate staff is provided for those functions.

23 (c) MINIMUM NUMBER OF STAFF FOR COMMODITY
24 JURISDICTION DETERMINATIONS.—For each of the fiscal
25 years 2010 through 2012, the Secretary of State shall en-
26 sure that the Directorate of Defense Trade Controls has,

1 to the extent practicable, not less than three individuals
2 assigned to review applications for commodity jurisdiction
3 determinations.

4 (d) ENFORCEMENT RESOURCES.—In accordance
5 with section 127.4 of title 22, Code of Federal Regula-
6 tions, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement is au-
7 thorized to investigate violations of the International Traf-
8 fic in Arms Regulations on behalf of the Directorate of 9 Defense Trade Controls of the Department of State. The
10 Secretary of State shall ensure that the Directorate of De-
11 fense Trade Controls has adequate staffing for enforce-
12 ment of the International Traffic in Arms Regulations.

13 SEC. 806. AUDIT BY INSPECTOR GENERAL OF THE DEPART-
14 MENT OF STATE.

15 (a) AUDIT.—Not later than the end of each of the 16 fiscal years 2011 and 2012, the Inspector General of the 17 Department of State shall conduct an independent audit
18 to determine the extent to which the Department of State
19 is meeting the requirements of sections 804 and 805.

20 (b) REPORT.—The Inspector General shall submit to 21 the appropriate congressional committees a report that
22 contains the result of each audit conducted under sub-
23 section (a).

1 SEC. 807. INCREASED FLEXIBILITY FOR USE OF DEFENSE

2 TRADE CONTROLS REGISTRATION FEES.

3 (a) IN GENERAL.—Section 45 of the State Depart-
4 ment Basic Authorities Act of 1956 (22 U.S.C. 2717) is
5 amended—

6 (1) in the first sentence—

7 (A) by striking “For” and inserting “(a)
8 IN GENERAL.—For”; and

9 (B) by striking “Office” and inserting “Di-
10 rectorate”;

11 (2) by amending the second sentence to read as 12 follows:

13 “(b) AVAILABILITY OF FEES.—Fees credited to the 14 account referred to in subsection (a) shall be available only 15 for payment of expenses incurred for—

16 “(1) management,

19 Performance Improvement Act of 2009 (relating to 20 adequate staff and resources of the Directorate of 21 Defense Trade Controls)),

22 “(3) compliance,

23 “(4) policy activities, and

24 “(5) facilities,

25 of defense trade controls functions.”; and

26 (3) by adding at the end the following:

1 “(c) ALLOCATION OF FEES.—In allocating fees for
2 payment of expenses described in subsection (b), the Sec-
3 retary of State shall accord the highest priority to pay-
4 ment of expenses incurred for personnel and equipment
5 of the Directorate of Defense Trade Controls, including

19 Subtitle A—General Provisions

20 SEC. 901. COORDINATOR OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT
 21 ACTIVITIES TO IMPLEMENT THE MERIDA INI-
 22 TIATIVE.

23 (a) DECLARATION OF POLICY.—Congress declares
 24 that the Merida Initiative is a Department of State-led 25 initiative which combines the programs of numerous

1 United States Government departments and agencies and
2 therefore requires a single individual to coordinate and
3 track all Merida Initiative-related efforts government-wide
4 to avoid duplication, coordinate messaging, and facilitate
5 accountability to and communication with Congress.

6 (b) DESIGNATION OF HIGH-LEVEL COORDINATOR.—

7 (1) IN GENERAL.—The President shall des-
8 ignate, within the Department of State, a Coordi-
9 nator of United States Government Activities to Im-
10 plement the Merida Initiative (hereafter in this sec-
11 tion referred to as the “Coordinator”) who shall be 12 responsible for—

13 (A) designing and shaping an overall strat-
14 egy for the Merida Initiative;

15 (B) ensuring program and policy coordina-
16 tion among United States Government depart-
17 ments and agencies in carrying out the Merida
18 Initiative, including avoiding duplication among
19 programs and ensuring that a consistent mes-
20 sage emanates from the United States Govern-
21 ment;

22 (C) ensuring that efforts of the United
23 States Government are in full consonance with
24 the efforts of the countries within the Merida
25 Initiative;

1 (D) tracking, in coordination with the rel-
2 evant officials of the Department of Defense
3 and other departments and agencies, United
4 States assistance programs that fulfill the goals
5 of the Merida Initiative or are closely related to
6 the goals of the Merida Initiative, including to
7 the extent possible, tracking information re-
8 quired under the second section 620J of the
9 Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C.
10 2378d) (as added by section 651 of division J
11 of Public Law 110–161) with respect to coun-
12 tries participating in the Merida Initiative; and

13 (E) consulting with the Attorney General
14 and the Secretary of Homeland Security with
15 respect to the activities of Federal, State, and
16 local law enforcement authorities in the United
17 States relating to the goals of the Merida Ini-
18 tiative, particularly along the United States-
19 Mexico border.

20 (2) RANK AND STATUS OF THE COORDI-
21 NATOR.—The Coordinator should have the rank and
22 status of ambassador.

23 SEC. 902. ADDING THE CARIBBEAN TO THE MERIDA INITIA-
24 TIVE.

25 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

1 (1) The illicit drug trade—which has taken a
2 toll on the small countries of the Caribbean Commu-
3 nity (CARICOM) for many years—is now moving
4 even more aggressively into these countries.

5 (2) A March 2007 joint report by the United
6 Nations Office on Drugs and Crime (UNODC) and
7 the World Bank noted that murder rates in the Car-
8ibbean—at 30 per 100,000 population annually—are 9 higher than for any other region of the world and 10 have risen in recent years for many of the region’s
11 countries. The report also argues that the strongest 12 explanation for the high crime and violence rates in 13 the Caribbean and their rise in recent years is drug
14 trafficking.

15 (3) If the United States does not move quickly
16 to provide Merida Initiative assistance to the
17 CARICOM countries, the positive results of the 18 Merida Initiative in Mexico and Central America will
19 move the drug trade deeper into the Caribbean and
20 multiply the already alarming rates of violence.

21 (b) CONSULTATIONS.—Not later than 30 days after
22 the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of 23 State is authorized to consult with the countries of the 24 Caribbean Community (CARICOM) in preparation for
25 their inclusion into the Merida Initiative.

1 (c) INCORPORATION OF CARICOM COUNTRIES INTO
2 THE MERIDA INITIATIVE.—The President is authorized to
3 incorporate the CARICOM countries into the Merida Ini-
4 tiative.

13 vention instead of other environmental factors.

14 (2) OPERATIONS RESEARCH.—The term “oper-
15 ations research” means the application of social 16 science research methods, statistical analysis, and 17 other appropriate scientific methods to judge, com-

24 measurement methods under the impact evaluation
25 research, operations research, and program moni-

1 toring, should consult with the appropriate congressional committees as well as the governments of Merida recipient countries.

4 (c) IMPACT EVALUATION RESEARCH, OPERATION RESEARCH, AND PROGRAM MONITORING OF ASSISTANCE.—The President shall establish and implement a program to assess the effectiveness of assistance provided under the Merida Initiative through impact evaluation research on a selected set of programmatic interventions, operations research in areas to ensure efficiency and effectiveness of program implementation, and monitoring to ensure timely and transparent delivery of assistance.

13 (d) REQUIREMENTS.—The program required under subsection (c) shall include—

15 (1) a delineation of key impact evaluation research and operations research questions for main components of assistance provided under the Merida Initiative;

3 ISLAND COUNTRIES.

11 Kiribati, the Marshall Islands, the Federated States of Mi-
12 cronesia, Nauru, Niue, Palau, Papua New Guinea, Samoa, 13 Solomon Islands, Tonga, Tuvalu, and Vanuatu.

14 SEC. 1104. STATELESSNESS.

15 (a) PURPOSE.—It is the purpose of this section to 16 increase global stability and security for the United States
17 and the international community and decrease trafficking
18 and discrimination by reducing the number of individuals
19 who are de jure or de facto stateless and as a consequence
20 are unable to avail themselves of their right to a nation-
21 ality and its concomitant rights and obligations and are 22 excluded from full participation in civil society.

23 (b) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

24 (1) The right to a nationality is a foundation of 25 human rights, and a deterrent to displacement and 26 disaffection. The State is the primary vehicle

1 through which individuals are guaranteed their in-
2 alienable rights and are made subject to the rule of 3 law. Regional stability and security are undermined
4 when individuals cannot avail themselves of their 5 right to a nationality and its concomitant rights and 6 obligations and are excluded from full participation
7 in civil society.

8 (2) The right to a nationality and citizenship is 9 therefore specifically protect in international declara-
10 tions and treaties, including Article 15 of the Uni-
11 versal Declaration of Human Rights, the 1954 Con-
12 vention Relating to the Status of Stateless Persons,
13 the 1961 Convention on the Reduction of Stateless-
14 ness, Article 24 of the International Covenant on 15 Civil and Political Rights, and Article 9(2) of the 16 Convention on the Elimination of Discrimination
17 Against Women.

18 (3) In the 21st century, the adverse effects of 19 de jure or de facto statelessness still impact at least 20 an estimated 11,000,000 million people worldwide,
21 who are unable to avail themselves of the rights of 22 free people everywhere to an effective nationality, to 23 the rights to legal residence, to travel, to work in the 24 formal economy or professions, to attend school, to 25 access basic health services, to purchase or own

1 property, to vote, or to hold elected office, and to 2 enjoy the protection and security of a country.

3 (c) THE UNITED NATIONS.—

4 (1) POLICY.—It shall be the policy of the 5 United States that the President and the Permanent 6 Representative of the United States to the United 7 Nations work with the international community to 8 increase political and financial support for the work
9 of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refu-
10 gees (UNHCR) to prevent and resolve problems re-
11 lated to de jure and de facto statelessness, and to 12 promote the rights of the de jure or de facto state-
13 less, by taking these and other actions:

14 (A) Increasing the attention of the United
15 Nations and the UNHCR to de jure and de
16 facto statelessness and increasing its capacity
17 to reduce statelessness around the world by co-
18 ordinating the mainstreaming of de jure and de
19 facto statelessness into all of the United Na-
20 tions human rights work, in cooperation with all
21 relevant United Nations agencies.

22 (B) Urging United Nations country teams
23 in countries with significant de jure or de facto
24 stateless populations to devote increasing atten-
25 tion and resources to undertake coordinated ef-

1 forts by all United Nations offices, funds, and
2 programs to bring about the full registration
3 and documentation of all persons resident in 4 the territory of each country, either as citizens
5 or as individuals in need of international protec-
6 tion.

7 (C) Urging the creation of an Inter-Agency
8 Task Force on Statelessness with representa-
9 tion from the UNHCR, the United Nations
10 Children’s Fund (UNICEF), and other relevant
11 United Nations agencies that will coordinate to 12 increase agency awareness and information ex-
13 change on de jure and de facto statelessness to 14 ensure a consistent and comprehensive ap-
15 proach to the identification of stateless groups
16 and individuals and resolution of their status.

17 (D) Urging that nationality and de jure
18 and de facto statelessness issues are addressed
19 in all country reviews conducted by United Na-
20 tions treaty bodies and relevant special mecha-
21 nisms engaged in country visits, and pursuing 22 creation of a standing mechanism within the 23 United Nations to complement the work of the 24 UNHCR in addressing issues of de jure and de

1 facto statelessness that give rise to urgent
2 human rights or security concerns.

3 (E) Urging the UNHCR to include nation-
4 ality and statelessness in all country-specific
5 and thematic monitoring, reporting, training,
6 and protection activities, and across special pro-
7 cedures, and to designate at least one human 8 rights officer to monitor, report, and coordinate
9 the office's advocacy on nationality and de jure
10 and de facto statelessness.

11 (F) Urging the United Nations to ensure
12 that its work on trafficking includes measures
13 to restore secure citizenship to trafficked
14 women and girls, and to work with Member
15 States to guarantee that national legislation
16 gives women full and equal rights regarding 17 citizenship.

18 (G) Urging the United Nations to increase
19 its capacity to respond to the needs of de jure
20 or de facto stateless individuals, particularly 21 children, and to strengthen and expand the 22 United Nations protection and assistance activi-
23 ties, particularly in field operations, to better
24 respond to the wide range of protection and as-

1 assistance needs of de jure or de facto stateless
2 individuals.

3 (H) Urging the UNICEF to increase its
4 efforts to encourage all Member States of the 5 United Nations to permit full and easy access
6 to birth registration for all children born in 7 their territories, particularly in Member States
8 in which there are displaced populations, and 9 work with the UNHCR and Member States to 10 ensure the issuance of birth certificates to all
11 children born to refugees and displaced persons.

12 (2) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—
13 There is authorized to be appropriated $5,000,000
14 for each of fiscal years 2010 and 2011 to be made
15 available to improve the UNHCR's assistance to de
16 jure or de facto stateless individuals. Such funds
17 may be used to—

18 (A) protect the rights, meet emergency hu-
19 manitarian needs, and provide assistance to de
20 jure or de facto stateless groups and individ-
21 uals;

22 (B) provide additional resources to—

23 (i) increase the number of protection
24 officers;

1 (ii) increase the number of profes-
2 sional staff in the statelessness unit; and

3 (iii) train protection officers and
4 United Nations country teams in the field
5 to identify, reduce, protect, and prevent de
6 jure and de facto statelessness;

7 (C) improve identification of de jure or de
8 facto stateless groups and individuals by car-
9 rying out a comprehensive annual study of the 10 scope of de jure and de facto statelessness
11 worldwide, including causes of de jure and de
12 facto statelessness and dissemination of best
13 practices for remedying de jure and de facto 14 statelessness; and

15 (D) increase the United Nations edu-
16 cational and technical assistance programs to 17 prevent de jure and de facto statelessness, in-
18 cluding outreach to Member States and their 19 legislatures, with particular emphasis on those 20 countries determined to have protracted de jure
21 or de facto statelessness situations.

22 (3) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS TO
23 THE UNICEF.—There is authorized to be appro-
24 priated $3,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2010 and 25 2011 to augment to the UNICEF's ability to aid

1 countries with significant de jure or de facto stateless
2 populations to bring about the full registration
3 of all children born to de jure or de facto stateless
4 parents.

5 (d) THE UNITED STATES.—

6 (1) FOREIGN POLICY.—Given the importance of 7 obtaining and preserving nationality and the protec-
8 tion of a government, and of preventing the exploi-
9 tation or trafficking of de jure or de facto stateless
10 groups or individuals, the President shall make the 11 prevention and reduction of de jure or de facto

7 tions;

8 (E) directing the Secretary of State to pro-
9 vide assistance to countries to prevent and re-
10 solve situations of de jure or de facto stateless-
11 ness and to prevent the trafficking or exploi-
12 tation of de jure or de facto stateless individ-
13 uals;

14 (F) directing the Office of Trafficking in 15 Persons of the Department of State to continue
16 to document and analyze the effects of state-
17 lessness on trafficking in persons, both as a
18 cause of trafficking and as an obstacle to reach-
19 ing and assisting trafficked persons; and

20 (G) encouraging and facilitating the work
21 of nongovernmental organizations in the United 22 States and abroad that provide legal and hu-
23 manitarian support to de jure or de facto state-
24 less groups or individuals, to increase the access
25 of de jure or de facto stateless groups or indi-

1 viduals to such organizations, and to encourage
2 other governments to provide similar support
3 and access.

4 (2) UNITED STATES ACTIVITIES.—

5 (A) IN GENERAL.—Given the importance
6 of preventing new instances of de jure or de
7 facto statelessness and the trafficking of de jure
8 or de facto stateless individuals, and of pro-
9 tecting the human rights of de jure or de facto
10 stateless individuals, the President shall submit
11 to the Committee on Foreign Affairs and the 12 Committee on the Judiciary of the House of 13 Representatives and the Committee on Foreign
14 Relations and the Committee on the Judiciary
15 of the Senate a report that includes the fol-
16 lowing:

17 (i) A list of countries and territories
18 with significant de jure or de facto state-
19 less populations under their jurisdictions
20 and the conditions and consequences of 21 such de jure or de facto statelessness of 22 such individuals.

23 (ii) United States international efforts
24 to prevent further de jure or de facto
25 statelessness and encourage the granting

1 of full legal protection of the human rights
2 of de jure or de facto stateless individuals.

3 (B) STATEMENT OF POLICY.—It shall be
4 the policy of the United States to comply with 5 the principles and provisions of the 1954 Con-
6 vention Relating to the Status of Stateless Per-
7 sons and the 1961 Convention on the Reduction
8 of Statelessness to the fullest extent possible
9 and to encourage other countries to do so as 10 well.

11 (C) ACTIONS BY SECRETARY OF STATE.—

12 (i) INCREASE IN RESOURCES AND 13 STAFF.—The Secretary of State shall per-
14 manently increase in the Bureau of Popu-
15 lation, Refugees, and Migration in the De-
16 partment of State the resources dedicated 17 to and staff assigned to work toward the 18 prevention and resolution of de jure and de
19 facto statelessness and the protection of de
20 jure or de facto stateless individuals.

21 (ii) COORDINATION.—To coordinate
22 United States policies toward combating de
23 jure and de facto statelessness, the Sec-
24 retary of State shall establish an Inter-
25 agency Working Group to Combat State-

1 lessness. This working group should in-
2 clude representatives of the Bureau of 3 Population, Refugees and Migration, the 4 Bureau of International Organizations, the 5 Bureau of Democracy, Human Rights and
6 Labor, the Office of Trafficking in Persons
7 of the Department of State, and the 8 United States Agency for International
9 Development, as well as representatives

13 (D) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIA-
14 TIONS.—There are authorized to be appro-
15 priated such sums as may be necessary to carry 16 out the provisions of this subsection.

17 SEC. 1105. STATEMENT OF POLICY REGARDING THE ECU-
18 MINICAL PATRIARCHATE.

19 It shall be the policy of the United States to urge 20 Turkey to—

21 (1) eliminate all forms of discrimination, par-
22 ticularly discrimination based on race or religion;

23 (2) grant the Ecumenical Patriarchate appro-
24 priate international recognition and ecclesiastic suc-
25 cession; and

1 (3) grant the Ecumenical Patriarchate the right
2 to train clergy of all nationalities, not just Turkish
3 nationals.

4 SEC. 1106. TRANSFER OF LIQUIDATED ASSETS OF CERTAIN
5 ENTERPRISE FUNDS TO LEGACY INSTITU-
6 TIONS.

7 (a) TRANSFER OF LIQUIDATED ASSETS.—The Presi-
8 dent, acting through the Administrator of the United 9 States Agency for International Development, shall in-
10 struct each Enterprise Fund described in subsection (b)
11 to make available to the legacy institution of the Enter-
12 prise Fund all assets resulting from the liquidation, dis-
13 solution, or winding up of the Enterprise Fund, in whole
14 or in part.

15 (b) ENTERPRISE FUNDS DESCRIBED.—The Enter-
16 prise Funds described in this subsection are the following:

17 (1) The U.S. Russia Investment Fund and the 18 Western Newly Independent States Enterprise Fund
19 established pursuant to section 498B(c) of the For-20 eign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2295b(c)).

21 (2) The Albanian-American Enterprise Fund,
22 the Baltic-American Enterprise Fund, the Czech and 23 Slovak American Enterprise Fund, the Hungarian-

25 American Enterprise Fund established pursuant to

1 section 201 of the Support for East European De-
2 mocracy (SEED) Act of 1989 (22 U.S.C. 5421).

3 SEC. 1107. LIMITATION ON ASSISTANCE FOR HURRICANE
4 PREPAREDNESS AND OTHER WEATHER CO-
5 OPERATION ACTIVITIES TO COUNTRIES IN 6 THE AMERICAS.

7 (a) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Con-
8 gress that the United States should facilitate international 9 cooperation on hurricane preparedness because—

10 (1) hundreds of millions of people in the Amer-
11 icas live in coastal communities and are susceptible
12 to the immense risks posed by hurricanes;

13 (2) the need for hurricane tracking overflights
14 and other weather cooperation activities to track and 15 monitor hurricanes in the Americas is acute; and

16 (3) accurate hurricane forecasts can help pre-
17 vent the loss of life and injury and reduce property
18 loss and economic disruption.

19 (b) REPORT.—

20 (1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 180 days
21 after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Sec-
22 retary of State shall transmit to the appropriate 23 congressional committees a report on the status of 24 United States cooperation with other countries in

1 the Americas on hurricane preparedness and other
2 weather cooperation activities.

3 (2) MATTERS TO BE INCLUDED.—The report
4 required under paragraph (1) shall include—

5 (A) a list of countries in the Americas that
6 do not cooperate with the United States on hur-
7 ricane preparedness and other weather coopera-
8 tion activities; and

9 (B) the status of any negotiations regard-

11 cooperation activities between the United States
12 and countries listed in subparagraph (A).

13 (c) LIMITATION ON ASSISTANCE.—The Secretary of 14 State may not provide assistance for hurricane prepared-
15 ness and other weather cooperation activities to countries
16 listed in the report under subsection (b)(2)(A).

17 (d) WAIVER.—The Secretary of State may waive the 18 limitation on assistance requirements under subsection (c)
19 if the Secretary of State certifies to the appropriate con-
20 gressional committees that the waiver is in the national 21 interest of the United States.

22 SEC. 1108. STATEMENT OF CONGRESS REGARDING AFGHAN 23 WOMEN.

24 Congress—

1 (1) supports the decision by President Hamid
2 Karzai of Afghanistan to submit for review the Shi
3 'ite Personal Status Law and strongly urges him not
4 to publish such law on the grounds that such law
5 violates the basic human rights of women and is in-
6 consistent with the Constitution of Afghanistan;

7 (2) urges President Karzai, the Ministry of 8 Justice, and other parties involved in reviewing the 9 law to formally declare as unconstitutional the provi-
10 sions of such law regarding marital rape and restric-
11 tions on women's freedom of movement;

12 (3) reiterates its strong sense that the provi-
13 sions in such law which restrict the rights of women
14 should be removed, and that an amended draft of 15 the Shi'ite Personal Status Law should be submitted
16 for parliamentary review;

17 (4) encourages the Secretary of State, the Spe-
18 cial Representative for Afghanistan and Pakistan,
19 the Ambassador-at-Large for Global Women's 20 Issues, and the United States Ambassador to Af-
21 ghanistan to consider and address the status of 22 women's rights and security in Afghanistan to en-
23 sure that such rights are not being eroded through 24 unjust laws, policies, or institutions; and

1 (5) encourages the Government of Afghanistan
2 to solicit information and advice from the Ministry
3 of Justice, the Ministry for Women’s Affairs, the Af-
4 ghanistan Independent Human Rights Commission,
5 and women-led nongovernmental organizations to 6 ensure that current and future legislation and offi-
7 cial policies protect and uphold the equal rights of 8 women, including through national campaigns to 9 lead public discourse on the importance of women’s 10 status and rights to the overall stability of Afghani-
11 stan.

12 SEC. 1109. GLOBAL PEACE OPERATIONS INITIATIVE PRO-
13 GRAMS AND ACTIVITIES.

14 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following find-
15 ings:

16 (1) Over 100,000 military and civilian per-
17 sonnel are engaged in 18 United Nations peace-
18 keeping operations around the world. Peacekeeping 19 operations are critical to maintaining a peaceful and 20 stable international environment.

21 (2) The United States has a vital interest in en-
22 suring that United Nations peacekeeping operations
23 are successful. Countries undergoing conflict threat-
24 en the national and economic security of the United
25 States, risk becoming safe havens for terrorist orga-

1 nizations, and often feature levels of human rights
2 abuses and human deprivation that are an affront to 3 the values of the American people.

4 (3) Over the years, United Nations peace-
5 keeping has evolved to meet the demands of dif-
6 ferent conflicts and a changing political landscape.
7 Today's peacekeeping mission is most often "multi-
8 dimensional" and includes a wide variety of complex
9 tasks such as civilian protection, helping to build
10 sustainable institutions of governance, human rights
11 monitoring, security sector reform, facilitating deliv-
12 ery of humanitarian relief and disarmament, demobi-
13 lization and reintegration of former combatants.

14 (4) United Nations peacekeeping operations
15 allow the United States to respond to global crises
16 within a multilateral framework with costs shared
17 among nations. A 2007 Government Accountability
18 Office report found that in general a United States
19 peacekeeping operation is likely to be "much more
20 expensive" than a United Nations peacekeeping op-
21 eration, regardless of location.

22 (5) In many missions due to vast swaths of ter-
23 rain and limited infrastructure, ongoing low-inten-
24 sity fighting, and the presence of "peace spoilers", 25 United Nations peacekeepers cannot carry out the

1 complex tasks with which they are charged without
2 critical enablers, and in particular air assets.

3 (6) The United Nations Secretary-General has 4 repeatedly noted the deleterious impact of insuffi-
5 cient helicopters for peacekeeping missions in Darfur
6 and the Democratic Republic of the Congo. History
7 has shown that under-resourced peacekeeping troops
8 are not only unable to carry out their mandates,
9 they erode the credibility of the United Nations and 10 are themselves likely to come under attack.

11 (7) Senate Resolution 432 and House Resolu-
12 tion 1351 of the 110th Congress—

13 (A) urged members of the international
14 community, including the United States, that 15 possessed the capability to provide tactical and 16 utility helicopters needed for the United Na-
17 tions-African Union Mission in Darfur
18 (UNAMID) to do so as soon as possible; and

19 (B) urged the President to intervene per-20 sonally by contacting other heads of state and 21 asking them to contribute the aircraft and 22 crews to the Darfur mission.

23 (8) The current framework of relying on mem-
24 ber countries to provide air assets on a volunteer
25 basis has not yielded sufficient results. The United

1 Nations still faces a shortfall of over 50 helicopters
2 for UNAMID, the Democratic Republic of Congo
3 (MONUC), and the Republic of Chad
4 (MINURCAT). A review of trend lines suggests that
5 any new United Nations peacekeeping missions au-
6 thorized within the next five to seven years would 7 face similar shortfalls.

8 (9) Numerous studies and reports have deter-
9 mined that there is no global shortage of air assets.
10 It is inexcusable to allow authorized United Nations
11 peacekeeping missions to founder for the lack of 12 critical mobility capabilities.

13 (b) PURPOSE.—The purpose of assistance authorized 14 by this section is to help protect civilians by training and 15 equipping peacekeepers worldwide, to include financing
16 the refurbishment of helicopters.

17 (c) USE OF FUNDS.—

18 (1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of State is 19 authorized to use amounts authorized to be appro-
20 priated to carry out this section to provide funding
21 to carry out and expand Global Peace Operations
22 Initiative programs and activities. Such programs
23 and activities shall include—

24 (A) training and equipping peacekeepers
25 worldwide, with a particular focus on Africa;

1 (B) enhancing the capacity of regional and
2 sub-regional organizations to plan, train for,
3 manage, conduct, sustain and obtain lessons-
4 learned from peace support operations;

5 (C) carrying out a clearinghouse function
6 to exchange information and coordinate G-8 ef-
7 forts to enhance peace operations;

8 (D) providing transportation and logistics
9 support for deploying peacekeepers;

10 (E) developing a cached equipment pro-
11 gram to procure and warehouse equipment for 12 use in peace operations globally;

13 (F) providing support to the international
14 Center of Excellence for Stability Police Units
15 (COESPU) in Italy to increase the capabilities
16 and interoperability of stability police to partici-
17 pate in peace operations;

18 (G) conducting sustainment and self-suffi-
19 ciency activities in support of the objectives de-
20 scribed in subparagraphs (A) through (F) with 21 a focus on assisting partners to sustain pro-
22 ficiencies gained in training programs; and

23 (H) financing the refurbishment of heli-
24 copters in preparation for their deployment to 25 United Nations peacekeeping operations or to

1 regional peacekeeping operations which have
2 been approved by the United Nations Security
3 Council.

4 (2) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of
5 Congress that failure on the part of the inter-
6 national community to take all steps necessary to 7 deploy and maintain fully capacitated United Na-
8 tions peacekeeping operations will result in contin-
9 ued loss of life and human suffering. Therefore, in 10 carrying out this section, the Secretary of State
11 should prioritize the refurbishment of helicopters
12 with a goal of participating in the financing of no
13 fewer than three helicopter refurbishments by the 14 end of fiscal year 2011.

15 (3) SUPPORT FROM OTHER COUNTRIES.—In
16 providing funding under paragraph (1), the Sec-
17 retary of State shall to the greatest extent possible
18 seek to leverage such funding with financing from 19 other countries.

20 (d) REPORT.—

21 (1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 180 days
22 after the date of the enactment of this Act and one
23 year thereafter, the Secretary of State shall submit
24 to the appropriate congressional committees a report

1 on the activities of the United States Government to 2 carry out the provisions of this section.

3 (2) CONTENTS.—The report required under
4 paragraph (1) shall include—

5 (A) a description of the Global Peace Op-
6 erations Initiative programs and activities un-
7 dertaken, by country;

8 (B) a description of the funds obligated 9 and expended in each country, by program and 10 fiscal year;

11 (C) a description of the coordination of 12 these efforts within the United States Govern-
13 ment interagency process and with other na-
14 tions along with any recommendations for im-
15 provements;

16 (D) a description of the GPOI's activities
17 concerning the refurbishment of air assets for 18 United Nations peacekeeping operations and re-
19 gional peacekeeping operations that have been 20 approved by the United Nations Security Coun-
21 cil;

22 (E) data measuring the quality of the 23 training and proficiency of the trainees pro-
24 gram-wide;

1 (F) data on the training and deployment
2 activities of graduates of the international Cen-
3 ter of Excellence for Stability Police Units
4 (COESPU) in their home countries;

5 (G) a description of vetting activities for 6 all GPOI training to ensure that all individuals
7 in composite units are vetted for human rights
8 violations;

9 (H) data measuring the timeliness of 10 equipment delivery and recommendations for 11 improvement as appropriate; and

12 (I) description of how GPOI trainees and 13 GPOI-provided equipment contribute to im-
14 proved civilian protection in peace operations.

15 (e) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There is 16 authorized to be appropriated such sums as may be nec-
17 essary for each of fiscal years 2010 and 2011 to carry 18 out this section.

19 (f) DEFINITION.—In this section, the term “Global 20 Peace Operations Initiative” or “GPOI” means the pro-
21 gram established by the Department of State to address
22 major gaps in international peace operations support, in-
23 cluding by building and maintaining capability, capacity,
24 and effectiveness of peace operations.

1 SEC. 1110. FREEDOM OF THE PRESS.

2 (a) SHORT TITLE.—This section may be cited as the

5 LATING TO FREEDOM OF THE PRESS WORLDWIDE IN AN-
6 NUAL COUNTRY REPORTS ON HUMAN RIGHTS PRAC-
7 TICES.—The Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 is
8 amended—

9 (1) in section 116(d) (22 U.S.C. 2151n(d)), as 10 amended by section 333(d) of this Act—

11 (A) in paragraph (11), by striking “and”
12 at the end; and

14 od at the end and inserting “; and”; and

15 (C) by adding at the end the following new 16 paragraph:

19 of the press, including initiatives in favor of 20 freedom of the press and efforts to improve or 21 preserve, as appropriate, the independence of 22 the media, together with an assessment of 23 progress made as a result of those efforts;

24 “(B) an identification of countries in which
25 there were violations of freedom of the press,
26 including direct physical attacks, imprisonment,

1 indirect sources of pressure, and censorship by
2 governments, military, intelligence, or police
3 forces, criminal groups, or armed extremist or
4 rebel groups; and

5 “(C) in countries where there are particu-
6 larly severe violations of freedom of the press—

7 “(i) whether government authorities
8 of each such country participate in, facili-
9 tate, or condone such violations of the free-
10 dom of the press; and

11 “(ii) what steps the government of
12 each such country has taken to preserve
13 the safety and independence of the media,
14 and to ensure the prosecution of those in-
15 dividuals who attack or murder journal-
16 ists.”; and

17 (2) in section 502B (22 U.S.C. 2304), by add-
18 ing at the end the following new subsection:

19 “(i) The report required by subsection (b) shall in-
20 clude, wherever applicable—

21 “(1) a description of the status of freedom of 22 the press, including initiatives in favor of freedom of 23 the press and efforts to improve or preserve, as ap-
24 propriate, the independence of the media, together

1 with an assessment of progress made as a result of
2 those efforts;

3 “(2) an identification of countries in which
4 there were violations of freedom of the press, includ-
5 ing direct physical attacks, imprisonment, indirect
6 sources of pressure, and censorship by governments,

8 groups, or armed extremist or rebel groups; and

9 “(3) in countries where there are particularly
10 severe violations of freedom of the press—

11 “(A) whether government authorities of
12 each such country participate in, facilitate, or 13 condone such violations of the freedom of the 14 press; and

15 “(B) what steps the government of each
16 such country has taken to preserve the safety
17 and independence of the media, and to ensure
18 the prosecution of those individuals who attack
19 or murder journalists.”.

20 (c) FREEDOM OF THE PRESS GRANT PROGRAM.—

21 (1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of State shall
22 administer a grant program with the aim of pro-
23 moting freedom of the press worldwide. The grant
24 program shall be administered by the Department of 25 State’s Bureau of Democracy, Human Rights and

1 Labor in consultation with the Undersecretary for
2 Public Affairs and Public Diplomacy.

3 (2) AMOUNTS AND TIME.—Grants may be
4 awarded to nonprofit and international organizations
5 and may span multiple years, up to five years.

6 (3) PURPOSE.—Grant proposals should promote
7 and broaden press freedoms by strengthening the
8 independence of journalists and media organizations,
9 promoting a legal framework for freedom of the 10 press, or through providing regionally and culturally
11 relevant training and professionalization of skills to 12 meet international standards in both traditional and
13 digital media.

14 (d) MEDIA ORGANIZATION DEFINED.—In this sec-
15 tion, the term “media organization” means a group or or-
16 ganization that gathers and disseminates news and infor-
17 mation to the public (through any medium of mass com-
18 munication) in a foreign country in which the group or 19 organization is located, except that the term does not in-
20 clude a group or organization that is primarily an agency
21 or instrumentality of the government of such foreign coun-
22 try. The term includes an individual who is an agent or 23 employee of such group or organization who acts within
24 the scope of such agency or employment.

1 (e) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There is
2 authorized to be appropriated such sums as may be ne-
3 cessary to carry out this section.

4 SEC. 1111. INFORMATION FOR COUNTRY COMMERCIAL
5 GUIDES ON BUSINESS AND INVESTMENT CLI-
6 MATES.

7 (a) IN GENERAL.—The Director General of the For-
8 eign Commercial Service, in consultation with the Assist-
9 ant Secretary of Commerce for Trade Promotion and the 10 Assistant Secretary of State for Economic, Energy and 11 Business Affairs, should ensure that the annual Country
12 Commercial Guides for United States businesses include—

13 (1) detailed assessments concerning each for-14 eign country in which acts of unfair business and in-

16 sulted in poor business and investment climates
17 were, in the opinion of the Director General of the 18 Foreign Commercial Service, of major significance;

19 (2) all relevant information about such unfair
20 business and investment practices or other actions
21 during the preceding year by members of the busi-
22 ness community, the judiciary, and the government

1 including the capacity for United States citizens to op-
2 erate their businesses without fear of reprisals; and

3 (3) information on—

4 (A) the extent to which the government of 5 such country is working to prevent unfair busi-

10 United States business or investment interests
11 in relevant cases in such country.

12 (b) ADDITIONAL PROVISIONS TO BE INCLUDED.—

13 The information required under subsection (a) should, to 14 the extent feasible, include—

15 (1) with respect to paragraph (1) of such 16 subsection—

17 (A) a review of the efforts undertaken by 18 each foreign country to promote a healthy busi-

22 propriate, steps taken in international fora;

23 (B) the response of the judicial and local 24 arbitration systems of each such country that is 25 the subject of such detailed assessment with re-

1 spect to matters relating to the business and in-
2 vestment climates affecting United States citi-
3 zens and entities, or that have, in the opinion
4 of the Director General of the Foreign Com-

3 ing system that effectively alerts United States businesses
4 and investors of—

5 (1) a significant deterioration in the business
6 and investment climate in a foreign country, includ-
7 ing discriminatory treatment of United States busi-
8 nesses; or

9 (2) a significant constraint on the ability of the 10 United States Government to assist United States
11 businesses and investors in a foreign country, such 12 as to the closure of a United States diplomatic or 13 consular mission, that is not explained in the most 14 recent Country Commercial Guide for such country.

15 (e) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

16 (1) CO-PRODUCTION AGREEMENT.—The term
17 “co-production agreement” means a United States
18 Government or United States business working with 19 a foreign government, foreign company, or an inter-
20 national organization to produce or manufacture an 21 item.

22 (2) RULE OF LAW.—The term “rule of law”
23 means the extent to which laws of a foreign country
24 are publicly promulgated, equally enforced, inde-

1 pendently adjudicated, and are consistent with inter-
2 national norms and standards.

3 (3) UNFAIR BUSINESS AND INVESTMENT PRAC-
4 TICES.—The term “unfair business and investment
5 practices” includes any of the following:

6 (A) Unlawful actions under international
7 law or the law of the foreign country taken by 8 the government of such country or by busi-
9 nesses, citizens, or other entities of such coun-
10 try that have resulted in lost assets, contracts,
11 or otherwise contributed to an inhospitable
12 business or investment climate.

13 (B) Discriminatory treatment of United 14 States businesses, whether wholly or partially 15 owned.

16 (C) Failure to protect intellectual property
17 rights.

18 (D) Requiring a co-production agreement
19 in order for goods from the United States to 20 enter a foreign country.

21 SEC. 1112. INTERNATIONAL PROTECTING GIRLS BY PRE-
22 VENTING CHILD MARRIAGE.

23 (a) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Con-
24 gress that—

1 (1) child marriage is a violation of human
2 rights and the prevention and elimination of child
3 marriage should be a foreign policy goal of the 4 United States;

5 (2) the practice of child marriage undermines
6 United States investments in foreign assistance to 7 promote education and skills building for girls, re-
8 duce maternal and child mortality, reduce maternal 9 illness, halt the transmission of HIV/AIDS, prevent 10 gender-based violence, and reduce poverty; and

11 (3) expanding educational opportunities for 12 girls, economic opportunities for women, and reduc-
13 ing maternal and child mortality are critical to 14 achieving the Millennium Development Goals and 15 the global health and development objectives of the 16 United States, including efforts to prevent HIV/
17 AIDS.

18 (b) STRATEGY TO PREVENT CHILD MARRIAGE IN 19 DEVELOPING COUNTRIES.—

20 (1) STRATEGY REQUIRED.—The President, act-
21 ing through the Secretary of State, shall establish a
22 multi-year strategy to prevent child marriage in de-
23 veloping countries and promote the empowerment of 24 girls at risk of child marriage in developing coun-
25 tries, including by addressing the unique needs,

1 vulnerabilities, and potential of girls under 18 in de-
2 veloping countries.

3 (2) CONSULTATION.—In establishing the strat-
4 egy required by paragraph (1), the President shall
5 consult with Congress, relevant Federal departments
6 and agencies, multilateral organizations, and rep-
7 resentatives of civil society.

8 (3) ELEMENTS.—The strategy required by 9 paragraph (1) shall—

10 (A) focus on areas in developing countries
11 with high prevalence of child marriage; and

12 (B) encompass diplomatic initiatives be-
13 tween the United States and governments of 14 developing countries, with attention to human 15 rights, legal reforms and the rule of law, and 16 programmatic initiatives in the areas of edu-
17 cation, health, income generation, changing so-
18 cial norms, human rights, and democracy build-
19 ing.

20 (4) REPORT.—Not later than 180 days after
21 the date of the enactment of this Act, the President
22 shall transmit to Congress a report that includes—

23 (A) the strategy required by paragraph
24 (1);

1 (B) an assessment, including data
2 disaggregated by age and gender to the extent
3 possible, of current United States-funded ef-
4 forts to specifically assist girls in developing 5 countries; and

6 (C) examples of best practices or programs
7 to prevent child marriage in developing coun-
8 tries that could be replicated.

9 (c) RESEARCH AND DATA COLLECTION.—The Sec-
10 retary of State shall work with relevant Federal depart-
11 ments and agencies as part of their ongoing research and 12 data collection activities, to—

13 (1) collect and make available data on the inci-
14 dence of child marriage in countries that receive for-15 eign or development assistance from the United 16 States where the practice of child marriage is preva-
17 lent; and

18 (2) collect and make available data on the im-
19 pact of the incidence of child marriage and the age
20 at marriage on progress in meeting key development
21 goals.

22 (d) DEPARTMENT OF STATE'S COUNTRY REPORTS
23 ON HUMAN RIGHTS PRACTICES.—The Foreign Assistance
24 Act of 1961 is amended—

1 (1) in section 116 (22 U.S.C. 2151n), by add-
2 ing at the end the following new subsection:

3 “(g) The report required by subsection (d) shall in-
4 clude for each country in which child marriage is prevalent
5 at rates at or above 40 percent in at least one sub-national
6 region, a description of the status of the practice of child
7 marriage in such country. In this subsection, the term
8 ‘child marriage’ means the marriage of a girl or boy, not
9 yet the minimum age for marriage stipulated in law in 10 the country in which such girl or boy is a resident.”; and

11 (2) in section 502B (22 U.S.C. 2304), as
12 amended by section 1111(b)(2) of this Act, is fur-
13 ther amended by adding at the end the following
14 new subsection:

15 “(j) The report required by subsection (b) shall in-
16 clude for each country in which child marriage is prevalent
17 at rates at or above 40 percent in at least one sub-national
18 region, a description of the status of the practice of child
19 marriage in such country. In this subsection, the term
20 ‘child marriage’ means the marriage of a girl or boy, not
21 yet the minimum age for marriage stipulated in law in 22 the country in which such girl or boy is a resident.”.

23 (e) DEFINITION.—In this section, the term “child
24 marriage” means the marriage of a girl or boy, not yet

1 the minimum age for marriage stipulated in law in the 2 country in which the girl or boy is a resident.

3 (f) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—Of the
4 amounts authorized to be appropriated pursuant to sec-
5 tion 101 of this Act, there is authorized to be appropriated
6 as such sums as necessary for fiscal years 2010 through
7 2011 to carry out this section and the amendments made
8 by this section.

9 SEC. 1113. STATEMENT OF CONGRESS REGARDING RETURN
10 OF PORTRAITS OF HOLOCAUST VICTIMS TO 11 ARTIST DINA BABBITT.

12 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

13 (1) Dina Babbitt (formerly known as Dinah
14 Gottliebova), a United States citizen, has requested
15 the return of watercolor portraits she painted while 16 suffering a 1½-year-long internment at the Ausch-
17 witz death camp during World War II.

18 (2) Dina Babbitt was ordered to paint the por-
19 traits by the infamous war criminal Dr. Josef 20 Mengele.

21 (3) Dina Babbitt's life, and her mother's life,
22 were spared only because she painted portraits of 23 doomed inmates of Auschwitz-Birkenau, under or-
24 ders from Dr. Josef Mengele.

1 (4) These paintings are currently in the posses-
2 sion of the Auschwitz-Birkenau State Museum.

3 (5) Dina Babbitt is the rightful owner of the 4 artwork, because the paintings were produced by her
5 own talented hands as she endured the unspeakable
6 conditions that existed at the Auschwitz death camp.

7 (6) This continued injustice can be righted
8 through cooperation between agencies of the United 9 States and Poland.

10 (7) This issue was raised in the Foreign Rela-11 tions Authorization Act, Fiscal Year 2003 (Public 12 Law 107–228).

13 (b) STATEMENT OF CONGRESS.—Congress—

14 (1) continues to recognize the moral right of 15 Dina Babbitt to obtain the artwork she created, and 16 recognizes her courage in the face of the evils per-
17 petrated by the Nazi command of the Auschwitz-
18 Birkenau death camp, including the atrocities com-
19 mitted by Dr. Josef Mengele;

20 (2) urges the President to make all efforts nec-
21 essary to retrieve the seven watercolor portraits
22 Dina Babbitt painted, while suffering a 1½-year-
23 long internment at the Auschwitz death camp, and 24 return them to her;

1 (3) urges the Secretary of State to make imme-
2 diate diplomatic efforts to facilitate the transfer of 3 the seven original watercolors painted by Dina Bab-
4 bitt from the Auschwitz-Birkenau State Museum to 5 Dina Babbitt, their rightful owner;

6 (4) urges the Government of Poland to imme-
7 diately facilitate the return to Dina Babbitt of the 8 artwork painted by her that is now in the possession
9 of the Auschwitz-Birkenau State Museum; and

10 (5) urges the officials of the Auschwitz-
11 Birkenau State Museum to transfer the seven origi-
12 nal paintings to Dina Babbitt as expeditiously as 13 possible.

14 SEC. 1114. STATEMENT OF POLICY REGARDING SOMALIA.

15 (a) STATEMENT OF POLICY.—It shall be the policy
16 of the United States to—

17 (1) advance long-term stability and peace in So-
18 malia;

19 (2) provide assistance to the government of So-
20 malia and nongovernmental organizations, including
21 Somali-led nongovernmental organizations, and par-
22 ticularly women’s groups, as appropriate;

23 (3) support efforts to establish democratic civil 24 authorities and institutions in Somalia that reflect 25 local and traditional structures, built on the rule of

1 law and respect for human rights, and strengthen
2 the security sector; and

3 (4) support reconciliation efforts in Somalia in 4 order to ensure lasting peace.

5 (b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Con-
6 gress that the President, acting through the Secretary of 7 State, should develop a comprehensive policy in coordina-
8 tion with the international community and the government
9 of Somalia that aligns humanitarian, development, eco-
10 nomic, political, counterterrorism, anti-piracy, and re-
11 gional strategies in order to bring about peace and sta-
12 bility in Somalia and the region.

13 Subtitle B—Sense of Congress
14 Provisions

15 SEC. 1121. PROMOTING DEMOCRACY AND HUMAN RIGHTS
16 IN BELARUS.

17 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

18 (1) Despite some modest improvements, notably
19 the release of political prisoners, the Belarusian Gov-
20 ernment’s human rights and democracy record re-
21 mains poor as governmental authorities continue to 22 commit frequent serious abuses.

23 (2) Since 1996, President Alexander
24 Lukashenka has consolidated his power over all in-

1 stitutions and undermined the rule of law through
2 authoritarian means.

3 (3) Belarus restricts civil liberties, including
4 freedoms of press, speech, assembly, association, and
5 religion. Nongovernmental organizations and polit-
6 ical parties are subject to harassment, fines, pros-
7 ecution, and closure. The Belarusian Government
8 maintains a virtual monopoly over the country's in-
9 formation space.

10 (b) POLICY.—It is the policy of the United States
11 to—

12 (1) support the aspirations of the people of 13 Belarus for democracy, human rights, and the rule 14 of law;

15 (2) support the aspirations of the people of 16 Belarus to preserve the independence and sov-
17 ereignty of their country;

18 (3) seek and support the growth of democratic 19 movements and institutions in Belarus as well the 20 development of a democratic political culture and 21 civil society;

22 (4) seek and support the growth of an open
23 market economy in Belarus through the development
24 of entrepreneurship and protection of property
25 rights; and

1 (5) remain open to re-evaluating United States
2 policy toward Belarus, including existing sanctions,
3 as warranted by demonstrable democratic and
4 human rights progress made by the Belarusian Gov-
5 ernment.

6 (c) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Con-
7 gress that—

8 (1) the United States should furnish assistance
9 to Belarus to the support democratic processes in 10 that country, including—

11 (A) expanding and facilitating the develop-
12 ment of independent print, radio, television, and 13 internet broadcasting to and within Belarus;

14 (B) aiding the development of civil society
15 through assistance to nongovernmental organi-
16 zations promoting democracy and supporting
17 human rights, including youth groups, entre-
18 preneurs, and independent trade unions;

19 (C) supporting the work of human rights
20 defenders;

21 (D) enhancing the development of demo-
22 cratic political parties;

23 (E) assisting the promotion of free, fair,
24 and transparent electoral processes;

1 (F) enhancing international exchanges, in-
2 cluding youth and student exchanges, as well as 3 advanced professional training programs for 4 leaders and members of the democratic forces
5 in skill areas central to the development of civil 6 society; and

7 (G) supporting educational initiatives such
8 as the European Humanities University, a
9 Belarusian university in exile based in Vilnius,
10 Lithuania; and

11 (2) the United States should support radio, tel-
12 evision, and internet broadcasting to the people of 13 Belarus in languages spoken in Belarus, including
14 broadcasting by Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty,
15 European Radio for Belarus, and Belsat.

16 SEC. 1122. SENSE OF CONGRESS ON THE HUMANITARIAN
17 SITUATION IN SRI LANKA.

18 It is the sense of Congress that—

19 (1) both the Liberation Tigers of Tamil Eelam
20 (LTTE) and the Government of Sri Lanka must 21 abide by their commitments to respect human life
22 and cease offensive operations;

23 (2) the United States Government remains
24 deeply concerned about the current danger to civil-

1 ian lives and the dire humanitarian situation created
2 by the fighting in the Mullaittivu area in Sri Lanka;

3 (3) the United States should call upon the Gov-
4 ernment and military of Sri Lanka and the LTTE
5 to allow a humanitarian pause sufficient for the tens
6 of thousands of civilians in the conflict area to es-
7 cape the fighting;

8 (4) both sides must respect the right of free
9 movement of those civilian men, women and children
10 trapped by the fighting;

11 (5) the LTTE must immediately allow civilians
12 to depart;

13 (6) the LTTE should then lay down their arms
14 to a neutral third party;

15 (7) the Government of Sri Lanka should allow 16 the United Nations High Commission for Refugees
17 (UNHCR) and the International Committee of the 18 Red Cross (ICRC) access to all sites where newly ar-
19 rived displaced persons are being registered or being 20 provided shelter, as well as to implement established
21 international humanitarian standards in the camps
22 for internally displaced persons;

23 (8) a durable and lasting peace will only be 24 achieved through a political solution that addresses

1 the legitimate aspirations of all Sri Lankan commu-
2 nities; and

3 (9) the Government of Sri Lanka should put 4 forward a timely and credible proposal to engage its 5 Tamil community who do not espouse violence or 6 terrorism, and to develop power sharing arrange-
7 ments so that lasting peace and reconciliation can be 8 achieved.

9 SEC. 1123. WEST PAPUA.

10 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

11 (1) West Papua was a former Dutch colony just 12 as East Timor was a former Portuguese colony just 13 as Indonesia was a former colony of the Nether-
14 lands.

15 (2) In 1949, the Dutch granted independence
16 to Indonesia and retained West Papua.

17 (3) In 1950, the Dutch prepared West Papua
18 for independence.

19 (4) However, Indonesia, upon achieving inde-
20 pendence, demanded the entire archipelago including
21 the Dutch holding of West Papua and the Por-
22 tuguese controlled territory of East Timor.

23 (5) In 1962, the United States mediated an 24 agreement between the Dutch and Indonesia. Under 25 terms of the agreement, the Dutch were to leave

1 West Papua and transfer sovereignty to the United
2 Nations after which time a national election would
3 be held to determine West Papua's political status.
4 But almost immediately after this agreement was
5 reached, Indonesia violated the terms of the transfer
6 and took over the administration of West Papua
7 from the United Nations.

8 (6) Indonesia then orchestrated an election that 9 many regarded as a brutal military operation. In 10 what became known as an "act of no-choice", 1,025
11 West Papua elders under heavy military surveillance
12 were selected to vote on behalf of more than 800,000
13 West Papuans on the territory's political status. The 14 United Nations Representative sent to observe the 15 election process produced a report which outlined
16 various and serious violations of the United Nations
17 Charter. In spite of the report and in spite of 18 testimonials from the press, the opposition of fifteen
19 countries, and the cries of help from the Papuans
20 themselves, West Papua was handed over to Indo-
21 nesia in November 1969.

22 (7) Since this time, the Papuans have suffered
23 blatant human rights abuses including extrajudicial
24 executions, imprisonment, torture, environmental 25 degradation, natural resource exploitation and com-

1 merchial dominance of immigrant communities and it
2 is now estimated that more than 100,000 West
3 Papuan and 200,000 East Timorese died as a di-
4 rect result of Indonesian rule especially during the 5 administrations of military dictators Sukarno and 6 Suharto.

7 (8) Today, the violence continues. In its 2004
8 Country Reports on Human Rights Practices the 9 Department of State reports that Indonesia “secu-
10 rity force members murdered, tortured, raped, beat
11 and arbitrarily detained civilians and members of 12 separatist movements especially in Papua”.

13 (9) In response to international pressure, Indo-
14 nesia has promised to initiate Special Autonomy for 15 West Papua.

16 (10) Considering that East Timor achieved
17 independence from Indonesia in 2002 by way of a
18 United Nations sanctioned referendum, Special Au-
19 tonomy may be an effort to further disenfranchise a 20 people who differ racially from the majority of Indo-
21 nesians.

22 (11) West Papuans are Melanesian and believed
23 to be of African descent.

24 (b) REPORTS.—

1 (1) SECRETARY OF STATE.—For fiscal year
2 2010, the Secretary of State shall submit to the ap-
3 propriate congressional committees a report on the 4 1969 Act of Free Choice, the current political status
5 of West Papua, and the extent to which the Govern-
6 ment of Indonesia has implemented and included the 7 leadership and the people of West Papua in the de-
8 velopment and administration of Special Autonomy.

9 (2) PRESIDENT.—For each of fiscal years 2010
10 and 2011, the President shall transmit to the appro-
11 priate congressional committees a report that con-
12 tains a description of the extent to which the Gov-
13 ernment of Indonesia has certified that it has halted
14 human rights abuses in West Papua.

15 SEC. 1124. SENSE OF CONGRESS RELATING TO SOVIET NU-
16 CLEAR TESTS AND KAZAKHSTAN'S COMMIT-
17 MENT TO NONPROLIFERATION.

18 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

19 (1) In 1991, immediately after achieving inde-
20 pendence, Kazakhstan closed and sealed the world's 21 second largest nuclear test site in Semipalatinsk
22 which had been inherited from the former Soviet 23 Union and at which more than 500 nuclear tests
24 had been conducted from 1949 to 1991.

1 (2) The cumulative power of explosions from
2 those tests, conducted above ground, on the ground,
3 and underground is believed to be equal to the power
4 of 20,000 explosions of the type of bomb dropped on 5 Hiroshima, Japan, in 1945.

6 (3) More than 1,500,000 people in Kazakhstan
7 suffered because of decades of Soviet nuclear weap-
8 ons testing in the region.

9 (4) A horrifying array of disease will continue
10 to destroy the lives of hundreds of thousands and 11 their descendants for many generations to come as 12 a result of these tests.

13 (5) Since its independence, Kazakhstan has 14 constructed a stable and peaceful state, voluntarily
15 disarmed the world's fourth largest nuclear arsenal,
16 joined the Strategic Arms Reduction Treaty
17 (START), and within the frameworks of the Cooper-
18 ative Threat Reduction program the government of 19 Kazakhstan, in cooperation with the United States
20 Government, conducted a very successful secret op-
21 eration, code-named Project Sapphire, as a result of 22 which 581 kilograms (1,278 pounds) of highly en-
23 riched uranium enough to produce 20–25 nuclear 24 warheads were removed from Kazakhstan.

1 (6) Because of the successful cooperation be-
2 tween the Governments of the United States and
3 Kazakhstan, the last lethal weapon was removed
4 from Kazakhstan in April 1995.

5 (7) Kazakhstan, allegiant to its commitment to 6 nonproliferation, in December 2004 signed with the 7 United States an amendment to the bilateral agree-
8 ment on the nonproliferation of weapons of mass de-
9 struction which will move the two nations towards a 10 new level of cooperation in preventing the threat of 11 bio-terrorism.

12 (8) By its actions, Kazakhstan has proven itself
13 not only as a universally recognized leader and one
14 of the key members in the nonproliferation process,
15 but also as a reliable and consistent ally of the 16 United States in reducing nuclear threats and pre-
17 venting lethal weapons from being acquired by ter-
18 rorist organizations such as Al-Qaeda.

19 (9) Recently Kazakhstan has also offered to 20 host an international nuclear fuel bank where low-
21 enriched uranium would be stored in accordance 22 with the highest international standards for safety,
23 security, and safeguards.

1 (10) The Norwegian Defence Research Estab-
2 lishment is also working with Kazakhstan to
3 strengthen nuclear security and nonproliferation.

4 (b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Con-
5 gress that—

6 (1) the people of Kazakhstan and its Govern-
7 ment should be congratulated for their commitment
8 to nonproliferation and their leadership in offering 9 to host an international nuclear fuel bank; and

10 (2) the Secretary of State should work to estab-
11 lish a joint working group with the Governments of 12 Kazakhstan and Norway to explore common chal-
13 lenges and opportunities on disarmament and non-
14 proliferation, and to assist in assessing the environ-
15 mental damage and health effects caused by Soviet 16 nuclear testing in Semipalatinsk.

17 SEC. 1125. SENSE OF CONGRESS ON HOLOCAUST-ERA
18 PROPERTY RESTITUTION AND COMPENSA-
19 TION.

20 It is the sense of Congress that—

21 (1) countries in Central and Eastern Europe
22 which have not already done so must return looted
23 and confiscated properties to their rightful owners
24 or, where restitution is not possible, pay equitable
25 compensation, in accordance with principles of jus-

1 tice and in an expeditious manner that is trans-
2 parent and fair;

3 (2) countries in Central and Eastern Europe
4 must enact and implement appropriate restitution
5 and compensation legislation to facilitate private,
6 communal, and religious property restitution; and

7 (3) countries in Central and Eastern Europe
8 must ensure that such restitution and compensation
9 legislation establishes a simple, transparent, and 10 timely process, so that such process results in a real 11 benefit to those individuals who suffered from the 12 unjust confiscation of their property.

Chairman BERMAN. In a moment, I will yield myself 5 minutes to explain the bill—5 minutes, 310 pages—I will try to do that and then recognize the ranking member for 5 minutes to allow her to provide her views on the legislation.

If a member wishes to make a general statement on the bill, they may do so by asking to strike the last word once the bill is being considered for amendment.

Given the conflicting responsibilities of many members of the committee, I want to notify members that, without objection, I may recess the committee from time to time. In addition, I reserve the right to exercise the chair's prerogative, under Rule IV of the Committee Rules, to postpone votes for the convenience of the members. I will give members as much notice as I can on when such postponed votes will occur.

I now yield myself 5 minutes to explain the legislation.

H.R. 2410 authorizes funding for Fiscal Years 2010 and 2011 for the Department of State, the Peace Corps, U.S. international broadcasting activities, and other foreign affairs programs. This legislation continues efforts by this committee to strengthen U.S. foreign policy agencies to promote American national security interests and better serve U.S. citizens.

For far too long, we have failed to provide the State Department with the resources it needs to fill critical overseas posts, provide adequate training, and ensure effective oversight of the programs that it manages. With the expansion of the United States diplomatic responsibilities in the 1990s and the more recent demands of Iraq and Afghanistan, the Foreign Service has been strained to the breaking point.

Sixteen percent of all positions are currently unfilled. One in nine positions overseas is vacant.

H.R. 2410 builds on the process begun in the current fiscal year to help rebuild the capacity of the State Department. Specifically, our legislation supports the President's request for funding to hire over 1,000 new staff, including at least 750 Foreign Service Officers. Three hundred and thirty-two of these positions will be used to immediately expand our diplomatic presence in Afghanistan, Pakistan, and other strategic areas.

A further 213 positions will be dedicated to improving and expanding training in critical-needs languages such as Arabic, Chinese, Hindi, and Urdu.

The bill also provides resources for significant numbers of new public diplomacy officers, arms control experts, and counterterrorism specialists.

In addition, H.R. 2410 reforms the Foreign Service Act to accelerate the transition of the diplomatic corps from its traditional diplomatic framework to a more expeditionary mission to meet the new challenges facing our Nation.

Finally, to help ensure that the State Department can continue to attract the best and brightest to its ranks—and retain those professionals over the long term—our legislation closes the “pay gap” that currently results in a 21 percent pay cut when junior Foreign Service Officers leave Washington, DC, for overseas assignments.

Hiring and training a large number of new Foreign Service Officers to advance our national security interests overseas does not come cheap.

But investing resources now to help prevent conflict and failed states is a much more cost-effective method than providing massive amounts of humanitarian relief, funding peacekeeping operations, or, in the most extreme circumstances, putting U.S. boots on the ground.

H.R. 2410 also authorizes funds to pay our full dues and all recognized arrearages to the United Nations. The U.N. system is very far from perfect, and it certainly does not live up to our expectations on a number of occasions. But on a wide range of issues with implications for United States national security—from Iran's nuclear weapons program, to North Korea, to climate change—we need the close cooperation of the international community. And experience has shown that withholding U.S. dues to leverage change at the U.N. simply does not work—we are much more likely to get the reforms we want through active engagement.

H.R. 2410 also supports a significant expansion of the Peace Corps, a vigorous public diplomacy effort, an increase in international broadcasting activities, and a strengthened Arms Control and Nonproliferation Bureau at the State Department.

In addition, the legislation creates a new foundation to help U.S. students study abroad, enhances United States efforts to help Mexico and other Latin American countries to reduce the drug violence, and addresses a number of key human rights and democracy issues around the world.

Finally, H.R. 2410 reforms our system of export controls for military technology, improves oversight of U.S. security assistance, and requires a report to the Congress on actions taken by the United States to maintain Israel's qualitative military edge.

I think it is an excellent piece of legislation—I guess I would—but I want to thank all of the members, really, from both sides of the aisle who have contributed to its creation. Many of your thoughtful ideas are included in this text, and they have made the bill much better.

I urge all of my colleagues to support this legislation, and I now yield to the ranking member to explain her views on H.R. 2410.

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Thank you so much, Mr. Chairman, and I am gratified that our committee is exerting our jurisdiction and our authority over State Department budgeting and programs through a markup of this foreign affairs authorization bill this morning.

I shared the chairman's initial hope that we would be able to move a bipartisan bill forward together in this Congress. We provided views on the majority's proposals, and we were able to reach agreement or acceptance on some of these issues.

I am also pleased to see the addition, in the chairman's manager's amendment, of reporting language calling for an assessment on the return of U.S. personnel to Gaza and vetting capabilities. I hope that the addition of this language is an indication of the chairman's willingness to consider our partner vetting systems bill at a future markup. This partner vetting systems bill, as the chairman knows, seeks to prevent U.S. taxpayer funds from falling into the hands of Palestinian terrorists.

Despite some areas of agreement, the hopes of adopting a bipartisan State Department authorization bill were dashed when policy provisions were included in the majority text that are poison pills, as they seek to promote or advance a social agenda overseas on issues that either remain unresolved here in the United States or that we fundamentally disagree as a matter of conscience.

The majority bill also includes funding levels that appear to ignore the economic reality that our Nation is currently facing. These significant funding increases in the majority bill do not appear to be linked to any specific criteria premised on any certain rational, nor do they appear to be the result of any sort of review of evaluation or budget justification from the Department of State.

I appreciated the statements made by Secretary Clinton when she appeared before our committee several weeks ago, and she said, and I quote, "I have challenged the Department to reform and innovate and save taxpayer dollars," but the majority's bill preempts the State Department's ongoing review by providing massive funding increases before any recommendation, before any changes, before any reforms are announced.

Without justification, the majority bill also represents an explosion of the bureaucracy, containing 48 new reporting requirements and creating 20 new government entities, offices, foundations, programs, and the like.

For these and many other reasons, we will be offering a Republican amendment in the nature of a substitute when the chairman's State Department Authorization bill is open to amendments that will expand on many of these concerns that I have just cited here. Thank you, Mr. Chairman, for your time.

Chairman BERMAN. I have an amendment at the desk, and I recognize myself. I have an amendment at the desk and ask for its immediate consideration.

Without objection, the amendments will be considered en bloc, and the clerk will report.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Mr. Chairman, there were opening statements.

Chairman BERMAN. Let me get this amendment in, and then we will recognize people based on moving to strike the last word. That is what I announced at the beginning of the hearing, if that is all right.

[The amendment of Chairman Berman follows:]

5 SEC. 241. FINDINGS AND SENSE OF CONGRESS ON THE 6 NEED TO STRENGTHEN UNITED STATES
7 ARMS CONTROL AND NONPROLIFERATION
8 CAPABILITIES.

9 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

10 (1) International security relies upon collective 11 security arrangements and alliances, as unilateral
12 actions by one country, no matter how powerful, are 13 insufficient to cope effectively with security threats.

14 (2) In the same manner, collective arrange-
15 ments, conventions, and alliances devoted to halting
16 the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction,
17 their means of production and delivery, frequently
18 institutionalized within multilateral treaties and con-
19 ventions, are critical to effective collective global ac-
20 tion.

21 (3) In order to safeguard and advance United 22 States national security, the Department of State
23 must have the structural and human resources nec-

1 essary to lead and participate in all international ne-
2 gotiations, conventions, organizations, arrangements,
3 and implementation fora in the field of nonprolifera-
4 tion and arms control.

5 (4) North Korea and Iran present fundamental
6 challenges to the global nonproliferation regime,
7 challenges that can only be met by active, com-
8 mitted, and long-term multilateral engagement, par-
9 ticipation, and leadership by the United States.

10 (5) Further, the United States has outlined an 11 ambitious agenda in arms control and nonprolifera-
12 tion for the coming years, including—

13 (A) the conclusion of a strategic arms re-
14 duction treaty with Russia that preserves the 15 benefits of the expiring START I treaty and 16 makes further reductions in the total number of 17 nuclear warheads in both countries, consistent
18 with their national security needs;

19 (B) United States ratification of the Com-
20 prehensive Test Ban Treaty (CTBT), consid-
21 ered a foundational treaty by the global non-
22 proliferation community for further advances
23 toward greater stability and the reduction of 24 role of nuclear weapons;

1 (C) the creation of a Fissile Material Cut-
2 off Treaty (FMCT) to reduce the rate of pro-
3 duction and ultimately halt the production of 4 militarily-useful fissile material for nuclear 5 weapons;

6 (D) the securing of vulnerable nuclear ma-
7 terial worldwide that could be stolen and uti-
8 lized by terrorist groups and rogue countries for 9 nuclear and radiological weapons;

10 (E) the reinvigoration of the Treaty on the 11 Nonproliferation of Nuclear Weapons (NPT),
12 the cornerstone of the global nuclear non-
13 proliferation regime, especially at the 2010 Re-
14 view Conference;

15 (F) the expansion and greater development
16 of the Proliferation Security Initiative (PSI)
17 and the Global Initiative to Combat Nuclear 18 Terrorism into durable international institu-
19 tions;

20 (G) the disruption and prevention of nu-
21 clear black markets;

22 (H) the convening of a Global Summit on 23 Nuclear Security;

24 (I) strengthening the infrastructure and 25 technical and financial resources available to

1 the International Atomic Energy Agency
2 (IAEA) and its international nuclear safeguards
3 system; and

4 (J) engaging multiple international conven-
5 tions and negotiations on restriction on conven-
6 tional arms of various types.

7 (b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Con-
8 gress that—

9 (1) the Secretary of State should immediately
10 develop a plan to strengthen the capabilities of the 11 Department of State to lead and participate effec-
12 tively in all international negotiations and implemen-
13 tation fora in the field of nonproliferation and arms
14 control, especially to increase the human, organiza-
15 tional, and financial resources available to the Un-
16 dersecretary of State for Arms Control and Inter-
17 national Security;

18 (2) such plan should—

19 (A) focus especially on the recruitment and 20 professional development of civilian and Foreign 21 Service officers in the areas of arms control and 22 nonproliferation within the Department of 23 State, especially to increase the number of per-24 sonnel assigned to arms control and non-
25 proliferation and enhance recruitment of tech-

1 nical specialists, as well as provide for the long-
2 term sustainability of personnel and resources;
3 and

4 (B) identify measures to make service in
5 arms control and nonproliferation offices, bu-
6 reaus, and in foreign postings an attractive
7 path for further promotion within the Foreign 8 Service; and

9 (3) the Secretary of State should regularly keep 10 Congress informed as to the measures taken to 11 strengthen the arms control and nonproliferation ca-
12 pabilities of the Department of State, including what 13 additional legal authority or appropriations are re-
14 quired.

15 SEC. 242. AUTHORIZATION OF ADDITIONAL ARMS CONTROL
16 AND NONPROLIFERATION POSITIONS.

17 Of the amounts authorized to be appropriated under 18 section 101, $3,000,000 is authorized to be appropriated
19 for an additional 25 positions at the Department of State
20 for arms control and nonproliferation functions over the 21 number of such positions in existence as of the date of 22 the enactment of this Act.

1 SEC. 243. ADDITIONAL AUTHORITY OF THE SECRETARY OF 2 STATE.

3 Section 401(d) of the Arms Control and Disar-
4 mament Act (Public Law 87-297; 22 U.S.C. 2581) is
5 amended, in the first proviso, by striking “the President”
6 and inserting “the Secretary of State”.

7 SEC. 244. ADDITIONAL FLEXIBILITY FOR RIGHTSIZING
8 ARMS CONTROL AND NONPROLIFERATION
9 FUNCTIONS.

10 Section 1112 of the Admiral James W. Nance and 11 Meg Donovan Foreign Relations Authorization Act, Fiscal
12 Years 2000 and 2001 (Public Law 106-113) is repealed.

1 (A) the total amount of the scholarship re-
2 ceived by such recipient under this section; and

19 ing his release, the International Committee of the Red

Ms. JACKSON LEE. That is certainly all right. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. The clerk will report.

Ms. RUSH. Amendment to H.R. 2410 offered by Mr. Berman of California. "Page 9"—

Chairman BERMAN. Without objection, the amendment will be considered as read, and I recognize myself for 5 minutes to explain the amendment.

This en bloc, or manager's, amendment makes a number of minor technical and conforming amendments to various provisions of the bill.

In addition, it adds a new Subtitle E to Title 2 to strengthen arms control and nonproliferation activities at the Department of State. Specifically, this provision provides for additional new positions in the Arms Control and Nonproliferation Bureau, makes it easier for the Department to hire experts, adds an arms control and nonproliferation rotation program and scholarship programs to enhance the Department's capacity, and provides for a Science Advisory Committee to help the Department develop a science-based approach to these issues.

I believe these provisions will go a long way to rebuild the capacity of the Department to conduct arms control negotiations at a time when these issues are high on the President's agenda.

The manager's amendment also increases the authorization for the Peace Corps above the level in the base text, which will allow the agency to place more volunteers in developing countries around the world.

In addition, the amendment includes two new provisions, one from the majority on Gilad Shalit and one from the minority on Haiti, and makes changes to a number of others—at the request of our Republican colleagues—including, I might add, a few reporting requirements.

Finally, I want to note that our base bill would have provided certain benefits to the committed, same-sex partners of Foreign Service Officers, including access to embassy medical services, transportation to and from posts, and training and recognizing potential terrorist threats.

It is my expectation, based on very recent conversations, that the Secretary of State will move forward with implementing all of the benefits provided in that provision in the very near future, and, based on that expectation, I have agreed to remove this provision from our legislation.

I am deeply committed to this issue and would not casually strike a provision on my own amendment if I did not feel confident that this would be taken care of by the administration. And I would like to say, parenthetically, that I am very pleased today that we have with us Ambassador Michael Guest, a Foreign Service Officer and our former Ambassador to Romania, who, for 26 years, served our country with distinction and who, sadly, was forced to leave the Foreign Service when he could no longer accept the second-class status accorded his lifetime partner.

I am saddened that the administrative changes needed to provide the life partners of Foreign Service Officers serving abroad with critical benefits, such as security training, emergency evacuation, and access to embassy medical services, came too late for Ambassador Guest and his partner, but I am heartened that soon no more of our best and brightest will be forced to choose between family and country.

I urge all of my colleagues to support the amendment, and Ambassador Guest is in the audience there.

Does anyone wish to be heard on the amendment? I recognize the ranking member for 5 minutes.

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Thank you, Mr. Chairman, and I do appreciate the hard work that you and your staff have put into this en bloc manager's amendment. It makes certain edits and technical changes to the underlying text in order to make corrections to clarify your policy intent and to reflect the substance of your discussions with other committees, such as Judiciary and Armed Services, who share jurisdiction over portions of this bill.

While I do not have specific problems with those aspects, I will, respectfully, oppose adoption of the manager's amendment because it would have the effect of further increasing the already prohibitive cost of this legislation and would also perfect some particular items that I cannot support.

As I previously stated, we will present our Republican amendment at the proper time this morning.

The majority's bill contains contradictory provisions in the sections regarding the Department of State's nonproliferation and arms control bureaucracy. On one hand, it asks the Department of State to develop a comprehensive plan to determine what the State Department actually needs, in terms of personnel, additional authorities, new appropriations, and so forth, in order to carry out its arms control and nonproliferation activities, yet before that plan has even begun, the bill removes the statutory requirement for the Assistant Secretary for verification and arms control, it authorizes $3 million for 25 new positions focused on arms control, and mandates other programs and activities.

Instead of attempting to reshape the State Department before the requested plan has even begun, it makes much more sense to wait and see what the Secretary of State says that she actually needs before we tell her what she needs.

As I said, we will present our Republican amendment at the proper time, and I urge my colleagues to oppose the manager's amendment.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentlelady has expired.

Are there people who wish to strike the last word for purposes of opening statements? The gentleman from California, Mr. Sherman, for what purpose do you seek recognition?

Mr. SHERMAN. I would strike the last word, if the chairman thinks this is the appropriate time to just address the bill in general.

Chairman BERMAN. This is the appropriate time to just address the bill in general.

Mr. SHERMAN. Then I will enjoy doing that.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. SHERMAN. I thank the chairman for including in the text of the bill, H.R. 4246, which was introduced in the 110th Congress, the Defense Trade Controls Performance Improvement Act.

I would also like to thank Mr. Manzullo, Mr. Royce, and Mr. Scott for their work on that bill, which will create, as included now in this larger piece of legislation, significant improvements in our process for licensing arms exports.

I would also note that many of the improvements that we were pushing for then have been undertaken by the State Department since the hearings we held in July 2007.

I would like to commend the chairman for including language similar to H.R. 1202, the State Department Report on Unfair Business Practices Abroad. This also came out of hearings of our subcommittee, and I especially commend Mr. Royce for his work on this effort.

Finally, I would like to commend the chairman for including in this bill a provision repealing the mandate that commercial satellites be controlled for export purposes on the munitions list under the International Traffic in Arms Regulation (ITAR). I think that it makes sense to give the State Department and the administration more flexibility in this area. The provision would maintain an effective embargo on satellite sales to China, as well as a prohibition on launching United States satellites in China.

I hope that the administration would use the authority granted by this provision of the bill, and I hope to work with the chairman on report language that calls for an orderly examination of satellite technologies to determine which items can safely come off the United States Munitions List, and I would hope that, within 6 months, that our report language would urge the administration to review this within 6 months. I yield back.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman yields back his time.

Is there anyone on either side who wishes to strike the last word for purposes of general comments on the bill?

Mr. ROHRABACHER. Yes.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman from California, Mr. Rohrabacher.

Mr. ROHRABACHER. I would just like to express my appreciation to Brad Sherman for the good work that he did and the diligence that he took in handling a very significant issue for American industry, but also for national security.

It was a complicated issue that he worked with both Republicans and Democrats and extended courtesy to me, as a member of this committee, and met many of the concerns that I had to make sure that we broadened the ability for our own industry to deal overseas but, at the same time, took care about the issue of China and the potential threat that it would pose, and I appreciate his leadership and just thought I would put that in the record.

Chairman BERMAN. I thank the gentleman. The gentleman from Virginia, Mr. Connolly, for what purpose do you seek recognition?

Mr. CONNOLLY. I move to strike the last word.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. Chairman, just briefly, I wanted to express my support and appreciation to the chairman for the chairman's work and for the amendment he has just put in front of the committee. I think this represents, actually, a real, good-faith, bipartisan effort at addressing many of the issues we have been concerned about for quite some time.

I am a little surprised to hear references to “the prohibitive cost of the bill” or that somehow the arms control section of the bill ought to wait until we hear from the Secretary of State. We actually heard from the Secretary of State for 3½ hours at this committee, and I thought I heard the Secretary say she was in close consultation with the chairman and this committee and expressed general support for the principles clearly enshrined in this bill.

I think it would be naive to believe otherwise, that a bill of this magnitude authorizing the State Department would not have been put together with some careful consultation with the Secretary of State and her staff. So I have confidence moving forward.

Chairman BERMAN. Would the gentleman yield?

Mr. CONNOLLY. Yes, sir.

Chairman BERMAN. I thank the gentleman for yielding. He is correct, both as to the authorized number for the State Department, generally, and for the provisions that we have introduced in this manager’s amendment. There is strong general support, both for the increase in numbers and for nearly all of the provisions in that amendment from the Department of State and the Secretary.

Mr. CONNOLLY. I thank the chairman. As to prohibitive cost, I also serve on the Budget Committee. The Function 150, the foreign affairs function, of the budget continues to, frankly, be the anemic part of the Federal budget, and, as Secretary Gates noted himself while still the Secretary of Defense under the Bush administration, unless we want to have a proliferation of military deployment all over the world, we have got to start investing in smart diplomacy, and that means we have got to shore up and beef up our resources with respect to the State Department and the Foreign Service, and I believe the bill, and the amendment to it, offered by our chairman does just that.

So I am looking forward to supporting this bill. It saddens me to hear there is going to be a “Republican substitute.” I spent 10 years of my life as a senior staff member on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, where we wrote State Department authorization bills and foreign aid bills. We did not have Republican or Democratic bills in those days; we had a bill, to which people offered amendments. Some were successful, some were not, but, at the end of the day, I would hope we could have a unified position moving forward in support of U.S. diplomacy abroad.

I thank the chairman and yield back.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Does anyone else seek recognition to strike the last word?

Mr. SMITH OF NEW JERSEY. I move to strike the last word.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman from New Jersey.

Mr. SMITH OF NEW JERSEY. Thank you very much, Mr. Chairman.

It is good to see Walker Roberts here because he and other members of this committee will know that we have tried repeatedly, and actually succeeded. Henry Hyde did get a State Department bill through into law. We did it in the 1990s. We attached it in 2000 to an appropriations bill in its entirety. We worked in a bipartisan way, although we had our differences. I think those differences are sometimes constructive and good. We get a better bill.

I would like to raise a question, Mr. Chairman, with regard to Section 333, which seems to elevate the human rights agenda for homosexual rights to that of those rights enumerated in the Bill of Rights.

Section 333(b) in the old bill—I know you just amended it, in part, through the manager’s amendment—requires the Secretary, the Assistant Secretary for Democracy, Human Rights, and Labor, tracks “restrictions on the enjoyment of fundamental freedoms consistent with U.S. law in foreign countries based on actual or perceived sexual orientation and gender.”

In the Country Reports on Human Rights Practices, that now would be required to include “discrimination that affects the fundamental freedoms regarding actual or perceived sexual orientation and gender identity.”

My question, first, would be, do the words “restrictions” and “discrimination” include laws in other countries that ban homosexual marriage?

And, secondly, on Part E, although it will be renumbered, I know, or redesignated, training for Foreign Service Officers concerning human rights reporting and advocacy identifying discrimination of an individual based on actual or perceived sexual orientation and gender; does that require Foreign Service Officers—does that make it permissive or mandatory that they be advocates for the homosexual agenda, and if a Foreign Service Officer had a religious tenet, perhaps based on his or her Christianity or perhaps on their Muslim beliefs or perhaps on their Jewish beliefs or any other faith or just a moral belief that it is not wrong, would they be compelled, under this legislation, to advocate and be involved in advocacy for that agenda?

Chairman BERMAN. If the gentleman will yield. Without seeking to have you expand on what you mean by “the homosexual agenda,” I will point out, number one, you left out a few key provisions of that language—“tracking violence and criminalization” and “restrictions on the enjoyment of fundamental freedoms consistent with U.S. law.” In other words, we are not asking our Foreign Officers abroad to track or report on any provisions which we have not ourselves adopted.

So, as to your question about same-sex marriage, the answer is, obviously, no. That is not something that is consistent with U.S. law.

This does not foster anybody’s agenda on the Foreign Service Officers but on the fundamental questions of violence, criminalization, and restrictions on the enjoyment of fundamental freedoms. I want our Foreign Service Officers, in the spirit which you have so frequently and sincerely and passionately advocated, to be forces in favor of promoting human rights and individual rights and individual liberties and actions to deter and stop violence and to ensure that fundamental human liberties are not criminalized, and I do not apologize for supporting such a provision.

Mr. SMITH OF NEW JERSEY. If I could, Mr. Chairman, with regards to Foreign Service Officers, just so I am very clear, if he or she is the FSO that deals with the human rights agenda, and very often very low grade, in terms of their seniority, members of the Foreign Service, if he or she had a moral tenet, would they still have to participate in this? I am not talking about violence; I am talking about the discrimination portion because “discrimination” is not defined in the bill.

There are people, sincerely, who believe that a ban on homosexual marriage is discriminatory. It is going on in many of our states, we all know, and it could become the law of our land. It is the law in several states.

Chairman BERMAN. Many things could become the law of our land. Many things could become the law of the U.S. That is not now the law of the U.S., and nothing in this bill—and I think the reports should reflect that—would force the Foreign Service Officer to do anything that was fundamentally contrary to his own moral precepts.

The time of the gentleman has expired. Who else seeks recognition? The gentlelady from Texas, Ms. Jackson Lee, for what purpose do you seek recognition?

Ms. JACKSON LEE. To strike the last word.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentlelady is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Thank you very much, Mr. Chairman. I rise to both enthusiastically support the Berman Amendment and, as well, H.R. 2410, which, I know, has been both long in coming but also a deliberative initiative that really sets the tone of this new President and new Secretary of State, and I think it is valid to express the importance of the partnership between the Members of Congress in foreign policy, as we move forward, to set a new tone for America, a new face of friendliness, and a new understanding of our Foreign Service leadership and the vast, brave men and women who are part of the Foreign Service.

So I am grateful that a number of items are in this legislation and that I will have subsequent amendments, or an amendment, that will deal with the, if you will, crisis or conflict in Sudan. However, let me express enormous gratification for the inclusion of my legislation, H.R. 72, to increase global stability and security for the United States relating to, de jure or de facto, stateless people.

We do know there are approximately 11 million individuals who are stateless. This encourages the United Nations to have a firm program providing the basic human right of giving everyone the opportunity to have a nationality.

Compounding the crisis of statelessness are internally displaced persons, and I look forward, as we move to our next legislation on this agenda dealing with Pakistan, to confront that question of, how do we help those people who are now presently being displaced in countries around the world, including Pakistan, because of conflict? This is the right thing to do.

I am also very grateful that, in this legislation, there is direction for the State Department to create a policy on genocide so that we do not sit idly by not because of intentions but because of lack of knowledge or how to approach it. This legislation has a provision on genocide so that we can be part of the world family in standing in the way of the horrificness [sic] of genocide.

I also believe this idea of working with the policy dealing with our military assistance and diplomacy is an important aspect that is evidenced in the language in this bill. The Secretary of State and the President make a point that the State Department and diplomacy should be engaged when the military are engaged in diplomacy, and I think the partnership that is set here is very important.

I want to applaud the chairman for his initiative on providing benefits to our Foreign Service partners. That is a simple premise of human dignity, and I look forward to this chairman working with the State Department and pushing the State Department to ensure that every person, regardless of their religious beliefs, regardless of their sexual orientation, regardless of whether they are tall or short, male or female, whether or not they are an athlete or nonathlete, will have the opportunity to live or work in dignity and serve their country.

I have been to a number of places. I have been grateful to have been able to serve in this Congress and visit on behalf of the United States. I have never seen a Foreign Service Officer advocating any personal policies that may be pertaining to their personal life. Maybe I have missed it and, therefore, have avoided any conversations like that.

But, Mr. Chairman, I think that we are on the right track, and I do want to acknowledge work that was done by my other colleagues that I join, which is adding the Caribbean to the Merida Initiative a very, very important element of providing resources for that part of the world, and, as well, which came out of the Western Hemisphere Committee, Mr. Engel and Mr. Meeks, and then the work of my good friend and colleague, Mr. Payne, on Somalia is in this legislation.

I conclude, Mr. Chairman, by just acknowledging to you that, hopefully, the members of Parliament from Pakistan are en route, and I hope that when they do come and come into the room, we will have seating for them, but, more importantly, we will be able to acknowledge them as a group.

I rise to support the amendment and H.R. 2410. I yield back.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentlelady has expired.

We welcome their coming. The issue of seats is beyond my ability to handle because I do not want to throw anybody out.

We would like to get through the opening statements part of this. Who else seeks recognition? The gentlelady from California, Ms. Lee, is recognized for striking the last word—

Ms. LEE. Thank you very much, Mr. Chairman. I move to strike the last word.

Chairman BERMAN [continuing]. And is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. LEE. Thank you for holding this important hearing, and I want to also commend you for your hard work and your staff, all of our staffs, in bringing this important and forward-looking legislation before the committee.

I would also like to thank the chairman and his staff for their hard work and open minds in working with members of this committee to address issues of vital importance around the globe, and working with an open mind has really made a difference, Mr. Chairman, and I just want to thank you so much for that.

I am greatly encouraged that H.R. 2410 takes an important step toward reorienting our foreign policy for the 21st Century by authorizing funding to meet President Obama's budget request. In the words of President Obama, he said, "America is a friend of each nation and every man, woman, and child who seeks a future of peace and dignity,” and I think, Mr. Chairman, that this legislation rightfully commits the resources necessary to uphold that promise.

H.R. 2410 includes many valuable programs and provisions to extend the arm of diplomacy in the interest of development, peace, and progress.

I would also like to thank the chairman for including the United States Caribbean Educational Exchange program in this legislation. I introduced this legislation several years ago. It passed the House in the 110th Congress. It is called the “Shirley H. Chisholm United States Caribbean Educational Equity Act.”

This valuable initiative will promote better understanding of the United States’ values and culture by offering scholarships to Caribbean students to pursue secondary, undergraduate, and graduate or post-graduate studies in the United States.

The benefits of educational exchanges are limitless in our efforts to promote democratic values, a better understanding of the United States and our people, and the work done by these students will offer enormous opportunities for building the capacity of our long-standing allies in the Caribbean community and, actually, in the West Indies and in Caribbean nations.

I am also pleased that this legislation includes reporting language that I offered to address the enduring humanitarian crisis in Gaza. Residents of Gaza continue to lack appropriate access to basic necessities, including food, fuel, water, and reconstruction assistance, absolutely so vital to restoring basic infrastructure and access to services, such as education and healthcare following the 2008 and 2009 conflicts.

I am hopeful that this provision will provide much needed insight and information into the obstacles facing the successful delivery of humanitarian and reconstruction assistance in Gaza.

I am also confident, and I speak for my distinguished colleagues on the committee—I note several of them who I have talked to about this provision—we are confident that this will improve the lives of the Palestinian people in Gaza and that this is essential in fostering conditions necessary for stability, economic and social development and a lasting and sustained peace.

Lastly, Mr. Chairman, as you know, your staff has already worked very closely with my office on the contracting and hiring provisions which have been included in this bill to ensure that the State Department, in its composition and activities, accurately reflects the diversity of the United States, and I know that there are some issues that are still outstanding that we are going to work with on the minority, women-owned, and small business contracting provisions as we move this bill to the floor.

So I look forward to working with you on that additional language, and I thank you again, Mr. Chairman, for your open-mindedness and your willingness to really be very inclusive of all of the members of this committee in this bill. Thank you again.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentlelady has expired. I thank the gentlelady for her comments. I am thanking her for forcing my mind to open. And I recognize the gentlelady from Arizona; for what purpose does she seek recognition?

Ms. GIFFORDS. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I move to strike the last word.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentlelady is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. GIFFORDS. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I would like to support H.R. 2410. It is an important piece of legislation that addresses issues pertaining to both domestic and international, but also it includes our Nation's export-control system.

As you know, I am the chair of the Space and Aeronautics Subcommittee on the Science and Technology Committee, and, in February of this year, the committee held a hearing on the impacts of U.S. export-control policies on science and technology competitiveness which are absolutely critical to our economic and national security.

There are a couple of members of the Science Committee here on the Foreign Affairs Committee, and many of you represent the space industries in your district.

The impact, in terms of what we are hearing from the reports, of the current export-controls regime on America's civil and commercial space programs and space research activities is significant, and we have heard some very troubling conclusions.

For example, the Center for Strategic and International Studies Working Group on the Health of the U.S. Space Industrial Base and the Impact of Export Controls found that, and I quote, "the current export-control policies is constricting U.S. engagement in partnership with the rest of the global space community and is feeding a growing separation between the U.S. space community and an emerging, non-U.S. space community."

It also went on to say that "export controls are adversely affecting U.S. companies' ability to compete for foreign space business, particularly the second and the third tier. It is those two tiers, the second and third tier, of the industry that are the source of much innovation for our country and is normally the most engaged in the global marketplace and in the aerospace and defense sector."

Space is increasingly becoming a global undertaking, with new space-faring nations emerging that will provide both competition and, I believe, opportunities for cooperation and commercial involvement.

I think provisions need to be included in this legislation to ensure that our export-control policies are structured to enable us to address both the competition but also the opportunities while still protecting legitimate security concerns.

So I do not intend to offer an amendment today, Mr. Chairman. I want to work with you, and I want to work with the ranking member, and I want to work with members that are interested in ITAR, but to develop an amendment for the floor that can be properly incorporated into the act.

H.R. 2410 initiates critical actions to reform export controls, and I thank you, Mr. Chairman, for introducing this legislation. I look forward to working with you and other members.

Chairman BERMAN. Will the gentlelady yield?

Ms. GIFFORDS. Yes, sir.

Chairman BERMAN. I very much appreciate the gentlelady's comments on this issue. You, at the end, made reference to some of the provisions already in this bill, but I very much am both aware of those reports and very sensitive to the outdated nature of an Export Administration Act which is essentially the law last reauthorized fully in 1985 or 1986, if I am correct, and I can remember the Conference Committee on that and, since that time, it has not been.

So, obviously, this bill and some of the other regional issues, the State Department legislation, and the foreign assistance reform legislation are on our agenda, but third on my agenda, hopefully, is, in this Congress, to reauthorize the Export Administration Act and update the Export Administration Act along the lines of some of the reports that you have made reference to. I yield back.

Ms. GIFFORDS. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. Thank you, and I look forward to working with you on this. Thank you.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentlelady has expired.

The Commerce Committee, on Monday, had opening comments on their climate change bill. They went all day.

Are we done? Do we need more, or can we go to amendments? All right.

Hopefully, the final speaker on the general statement portion on a motion to strike the last word, the gentlelady from California, is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. WATSON. Mr. Chairman, I move to strike the last word.

Mr. Chairman, I would like to thank you and your staff for working with my office to provide several provisions to the baseline text of the State Department Authorization bill, and I urge my colleagues to support this bill.

Section 214, "Public Diplomacy Resource Center," amends the State Department Basic Authorities Act of 1956 to direct the Secretary of State to ensure that diplomatic and consular mission libraries and resource centers are open to the general public, to the greatest extent possible, to schedule public showings of American films that showcase American culture, principles, values, and history.

Section 215, "Grants for International Documentary Exchange Programs," authorizes the Secretary of State to make grants to U.S. nongovernmental organizations that use independently produced documentary films to promote a better understanding of the United States abroad and a better understanding of global perspectives of other countries and the United States.

Section 216, "U.S. Advisory Commission on Public Diplomacy," amends the Foreign Affairs Reform and Restructuring Act of 1998 to reauthorize the United States Advisory Commission on Public Diplomacy through October 1, 2011.

Section 330, "Department of State Employment Compositions," amends the Foreign Relations Authorization Act of 2003 to direct the Secretary of State to report on efforts to develop a uniform definition of "diversity" that is congruent with core values and the vision of the Department and to evaluate the diversity plans specifically relating to Foreign Service and senior Foreign Service.

This section also provides for a GAO review by the comptroller general of the United States to assist the employment of composition, recruitment, advancement, and retention policies of the State Department for women and minority groups, and, as many of you may know, the Department of State has some of the worst diversity rates among its Foreign Service Officers, to include the senior Foreign Service and Foreign Service specialists.

Mr. Chairman, I would like to submit for the record a report obtained by CRS from the State Department, which shows the lack of diversity within the various levels of the Foreign Service.

Chairman BERMAN. Without objection, that report will be included in the record of the markup.

Ms. WATSON. For example, Foreign Service generalists, by race and gender, shows that, as of September 30, 2008, there were 3,543 white males; 2,073 white females; 164 black males; 210 black females; 181 Spanish males; 108 Hispanic females; 205 Asian males; 182 Asian females; 11 Native American males; 12 Native American females; and as you look up the graph regarding diversity in top leadership levels, there is, basically, none.

I believe the reporting requirements in Section 330 and the GAO review will help the Department of State develop a policy where all groups are participants and involved in conducting our Nation's foreign policy.

So, Mr. Chairman, I urge my colleagues to support the passage of the State Department Reauthorization bill, which will enhance smart public diplomacy, and it will support our diplomacy abroad, our efforts worldwide, and diversity of our Foreign Service. I thank you very much, and I yield back the remaining time.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentlelady has expired.

The pending question is the manager's amendment. The question occurs on the amendment. All in favor, vote aye.

[A chorus of ayes.]

Chairman BERMAN. All opposed will vote no.

[A chorus of noes.]

Chairman BERMAN. The ayes have it. The manager's amendment is adopted.

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Mr. Chairman?

Chairman BERMAN. Should we go to final vote? No. Are there other amendments?

Given the tremendous restraint on the minority side regarding opening statements, I will—

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. We do have an amendment at the desk, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentlelady is recognized.

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Thank you. We have a Republican amendment that, I think, is being given out.

Chairman BERMAN. Pass it out, and then we will read it, and then we will stop reading it.

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Thank you so much.

[Pause.]

20 (5) As appropriate and in accordance with ap-

23 against counterfeiting and piracy in the host coun-
24 try.

1 (6) To coordinate training and technical assist-
2 ance programs of the United States Government
3 within the host country that are aimed at improving
4 the enforcement of laws against counterfeiting and 5 piracy.

6 (7) To identify and promote other means to 7 more effectively combat counterfeiting and piracy ac-
8 tivities under the jurisdiction of the host country.

9 (e) TRAINING.—The Secretary of State shall ensure 10 that each attaché appointed under subsection (b) is fully 11 trained for the responsibilities of the position before as-
12 suming duties at the United States embassy or other mis-
13 sion in question.

14 (f) COORDINATION.—The activities of intellectual 15 property attachés under this section shall be carried out
16 in coordination with the United States Intellectual Prop-
17 erty Enforcement Coordinator appointed under section
18 301 of the Prioritizing Resources and Organization for In-19 tellectual Property Act of 2008 (15 U.S.C. 8111).

20 (g) REPORT TO CONGRESS.—

19 (C) An assessment of the adequacy of the 20 resources of the Department of State employed 21 to carry out subparagraphs (A) and (B) and, if

24 (h) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

25 (1) COUNTERFEITING; COUNTERFEIT GOODS.—

1 (A) COUNTERFEITING.—The term “coun-
2 terfeiting” means activities related to produc-

5 that is identical to or substantially indistin-
6 guishable from a mark or designation protected
7 under trademark laws or related legislation.

8 (B) COUNTERFEIT GOODS.—The term
9 “counterfeit goods” means those goods de-
10 scribed in subparagraph (A).

11 (2) INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS.—The 12 term “intellectual property rights” means the rights
13 of holders of copyrights, patents, trademarks, other 14 forms of intellectual property, and trade secrets.

15 (3) PIRACY; PIRATED GOODS.—

16 (A) PIRACY.—The term “piracy” means
17 activities related to production of or trafficking
18 in unauthorized copies or phonorecords of 19 works protected under copyright law or related 20 legislation.

21 (B) PIRATED GOODS.—The term “pirated
22 goods” means those copies or phonorecords de-
23 scribed in subparagraph (A).

24 (4) UNITED STATES PERSON.—The term
25 “United States person” means—

1 (A) any United States resident or national,

2 (B) any corporation, partnership, other
3 business entity, or other organization, that is 4 organized under the laws of the United States,
5 and

6 (C) any foreign subsidiary or affiliate (in-
7 cluding any permanent foreign establishment)
8 of any corporation, partnership, business entity,
9 or organization described in subparagraph (B),
10 that is controlled in fact by such corporation,

12 except that such term does not include an individual
13 who resides outside the United States and is em-
14 ployed by an individual or entity other than an indi-
15 vidual or entity described in subparagraph (A), (B),
16 or (C).

17 (i) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—Of the 18 amounts authorized to be appropriated under section 101,
19 there are authorized to be appropriated for each fiscal year
20 such sums as may be necessary for the training and sup-
21 port of the intellectual property attachés appointed under 22 subsection (b) and of other personnel serving as intellec-
23 tual property attachés of any other department or agency
24 of the United States.

1 TITLE IV—INTERNATIONAL
2 ORGANIZATIONS

3 SEC. 401. STATEMENT OF POLICY REGARDING PEACE-
4 KEEPING OPERATIONS CONTRIBUTIONS.

5 It remains the policy of the United States, pursuant
6 to section 404(b)(2)(B) of the Foreign Relations Author-
7 ization Act, Fiscal Years 1994 and 1995 (Public Law
8 103-236; 22 U.S.C. 287e note) that United States as-9 sessed contributions for a United Nations peacekeeping
10 operation shall not exceed 25 percent of the total of all
11 assessed contributions for such operation.

12 SEC. 402. ENHANCING NUCLEAR SAFEGUARDS.

13 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following find-
14 ings:

15 (1) The Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nu-
16 clear Weapons, done at Washington, London, and
17 Moscow July 1, 1968, and entered into force March
18 5, 1970 (commonly known as the “Nuclear Non-
19 Proliferation Treaty” or “NPT”) and the safeguards
20 system of the International Atomic Energy Agency
21 (IAEA) are indispensable to international peace and
22 security.

23 (2) Congress has long supported efforts aimed
24 at effective and efficient assurances of nuclear fuel
25 supply, the strengthening of IAEA safeguards, and

1 assistance to the developing world for nuclear and
2 non-nuclear energy sources, as embodied in the Nu-
3 clear Non-Proliferation Act of 1978 (22 U.S.C. 3201
4 et seq.).

5 (3) According to some experts, global energy
6 demand will grow by 50 percent in the next 20
7 years, predominantly in the developing world.

8 (4) The Government Accountability Office
9 (GAO) stated in testimony before Congress in Sep-
10 tember 2006 that “while IAEA is increasingly rely-
11 ing on the analytical skills of its staff to detect coun-
12 tries” undeclared nuclear activities, the agency is
13 facing a looming human capital crisis.

14 (5) The Director General of the IAEA told the
15 Board of Governors of the IAEA in March 2009
16 that the “deteriorating conditions in our labora-
17 tories, for example, threaten both our ability to de-
18 liver our programmed, as well as our independent
19 analytical capability”.

20 (6) Considerable investment is needed for the
21 IAEA’s Safeguards Analytical Laboratory (SAL), to
22 meet future IAEA requirements as its workload is
23 growing, the laboratory’s infrastructure is aging,
24 and IAEA requirements have become more demand-
25 ing, and while initial plans have been made for lab-

1 oratory enhancement and are currently pending
2 budgetary approval (sometime in 2009), the simple
3 fact is that, as more countries implement IAEA
4 safeguards, many more nuclear samples come to
5 SAL for analysis.

6 (7) The existing funding, planning, and execu-
7 tion of IAEA safeguards is not sufficient to meet the
8 predicted growth in the future of civilian nuclear
9 power, and therefore any growth in civilian nuclear
10 power must be evaluated against the challenges it
11 poses to verification of the assurances of peace and
12 security provided by the IAEA safeguards system.

13 (b) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There is
14 authorized to be appropriated $10,000,000 for the refurb-
15 ishment or possible replacement of the IAEA's Safe-
16 guards Analytical Laboratory.

17 (c) REPORT.—Not later than 180 days after the date
18 of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of State shall
19 submit to the Committee on Foreign Affairs of the House
20 of Representatives and the Committee on Foreign Rela-
21 tions of the Senate a report on the refurbishment or pos-
22 sible replacement of the IAEA's Safeguards Analytical
23 Laboratory pursuant to subsection (b).

1 SEC. 403. DURBAN REVIEW CONFERENCE FUNDING.

2 None of the funds authorized to be appropriated by
3 this Act may be used by the Secretary of State as a con-
4 tribution for any part of the Durban Review Conference
5 or its preparatory or follow-on activities.

6 SEC. 404. RESTRICTIONS REGARDING IRAN-LED INTER-
7 NATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS.

8 None of the funds authorized to be appropriated by
9 this Act may be used by the Secretary of State as a con-
10 tribution for any organization, agency, or program within 11 the United Nations system in which Iran holds a position
12 of leadership.

13 SEC. 405. UNITED NATIONS HUMAN RIGHTS COUNCIL.

14 None of the funds authorized to be appropriated by
15 this Act may be used by the Secretary of State as a con-
16 tribution for the United Nations Human Rights Council.

17 SEC. 406. UNITED NATIONS RELIEF AND WORKS AGENCY.

18 None of the funds authorized to be appropriated by
19 this Act may be used by the Secretary of State as a con-
20 tribution for the United Nations Relief and Works Agency.

21 SEC. 407. UNITED NATIONS DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM ETH-
22 ICS JURISDICTION.

23 The Secretary of State shall withhold ten percent
24 from the United States voluntary contribution for fiscal 25 year 2010 to the United Nations Development Program
26 until the Secretary of State certifies to the Committee on

1 Foreign Affairs and the Committee on Appropriations of 2 the House of Representatives and the Committee on For-
3 eign Relations and the Committee on Appropriations of 4 the Senate that the United Nations Development Program
5 has acceded to the jurisdiction of the United Nations Eth-
6 ics Office.

7 SEC. 408. WITHHOLDING OF CONTRIBUTIONS TO UNITED
8 NATIONS FOR LEGAL FEES OF CERTAIN OFFI-
9 CERS OR EMPLOYEES.

10 The United States may not contribute to the United 11 Nations any funds to be used to pay or reimburse legal 12 expenses incurred by current or former United Nations
13 officers or employees in connection with proceedings aris-
14 ing out of alleged malfeasance in connection with the em-
15 ployment of such officers or employees with the United 16 Nations. The President shall ensure that no United States
17 contributions to the United Nations are used for such pur-
18 poses, including, where necessary, by withholding from 19 United States contributions to the regularly assessed bien-
20 nial budget of the United Nations amounts equal to any 21 amounts so paid or reimbursed.

22 SEC. 409. REVIEW OF ACTIVITIES OF INTERNATIONAL COM-
23 MISSIONS.

24 (a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than one year after the
25 date of the enactment of this Act, and two years there-

1 after, the Secretary of State shall submit to the appro-
2 priate congressional committees a report on the activities
3 of each of the international commissions specified in sec-
4 tion 103.

5 (b) REPORT ELEMENTS.—The reports required
6 under subsection (a) shall include information on the fol-
7 lowing:

8 (1) Amounts obligated and expended during the 9 two previous fiscal years by each of such commis-
10 sions.

11 (2) A description of the projects carried out
12 during such years by each of such commissions and
13 a description of the management and implementa-
14 tion of such projects, including the use of private
15 contractors.

16 (3) Projects anticipated during the next two fis-
17 cal years relating to the activities of each of such 18 commissions because of obligations that the United
19 States has entered into based on any treaty between
20 the United States and another country.

21 (c) SUBMISSION OF REPORTS.—The reports required
22 under subsection (a) may be combined with the annual 23 budget justification submitted by the President in accord-
24 ance with section 1105(a) of title 31, United States Code.

1 TITLE V—UNITED STATES

11 Act, the United States International Broadcasting Act of 12 1994, and the Foreign Affairs Reform and Restructuring
13 Act of 1998, and to carry out other authorities in law con-
14 sistent with such purposes:

17 sums as may be necessary for fiscal year 2011.

22 for fiscal year 2010 and such sums as may be nec-
23 essary for fiscal year 2011.

2 Section 504(c) of the Foreign Relations Authoriza-
3 tion Act, Fiscal Year 2003, (Public Law 107-228; 22
4 U.S.C. 6206 note), is amended by striking “2009” and
5 inserting “2011”.

11 States citizens” the following: “(for purposes of this para-
12 graph, the term ‘suitably qualified United States citizens’
13 means those United States citizen applicants who are
14 equally or better qualified than non-United States citizen
15 applicants)”.

16 SEC. 504. DOMESTIC RELEASE OF THE VOICE OF AMERICA
17 FILM ENTITLED “A FATEFUL HARVEST”.

18 (a) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding section 208 of
19 the Foreign Relations Authorization Act, Fiscal Years
20 1986 and 1987 (22 U.S.C. 1461-1a) and section 501(b)
21 of the United States Information and Educational Ex-
22 change Act of 1948 (22 U.S.C. 1461(b)), the Director of
23 the International Broadcasting Bureau shall provide a
24 master copy of the film entitled “A Fateful Harvest” to
25 the Archivist of the United States for domestic release in 26 accordance with subsection (b).

1 (b) DOMESTIC RELEASE.—Upon evidence that nec-
2 essary United States rights and licenses have been secured
3 by the person seeking domestic release of the film referred 4 to in subsection (a), the Archivist shall—

6 the United States; and

7 (2) make copies of the film available for pur-
8 chase and public viewing within the United States.

17 (2) by striking subsection (f); and

18 (3) by redesignating subsections (g) and (h) as
19 subsection (f) and (g), respectively.

1 TITLE VI—UNITED NATIONS
2 TRANSPARENCY, ACCOUNT-
3 ABILITY, AND REFORM ACT
4 OF 2009

5 SEC. 601. SHORT TITLE.

6 This title may be cited as the “United Nations Trans-
7 parency, Accountability, and Reform Act of 2009”.

8 SEC. 602. DEFINITIONS.

9 In this title :

10 (1) EMPLOYEE.—The term “employee” means
11 an individual who is employed in the general serv-
12 ices, professional staff, or senior management of the 13 United Nations, including consultants, contractors
14 and subcontractors.

15 (2) GENERAL ASSEMBLY.—The term “General 16 Assembly” means the General Assembly of the 17 United Nations.

18 (3) MEMBER STATE.—The term “Member
19 State” means a Member State of the United Na-
20 tions. Such term is synonymous with the term
21 “country”.

22 (4) SECRETARY.—The term “Secretary” means
23 the Secretary of State.

1 (5) SECRETARY GENERAL.—The term “Sec-
2 retary General” means the Secretary General of the 3 United Nations.

4 (6) SECURITY COUNCIL.—The term “Security
5 Council” means the Security Council of the United 6 Nations.

7 (7) UN.—The term “UN” means the United
8 Nations.

9 (8) APPROPRIATE CONGRESSIONAL COMMIT-
10 TEES.—The term “appropriate congressional com-
11 mittees” means—

12 (A) the Committees on Foreign Affairs,
13 Appropriations, and Oversight and Government
14 Reform of the House; and

15 (B) the Committees on Foreign Relations,
16 Appropriations, and Homeland Security and 17 Governmental Affairs of the Senate.

18 Subtitle A—Funding of the United
19 Nations

20 SEC. 611. FINDINGS.

21 Congress finds the following:

22 (1) The United States pays billions of dollars
23 into the United Nations system every year (over 24 5,300,000,000 dollars in 2005, according to the

1 White House Office of Management and Budget),
2 significantly more than any other country.

3 (2) Under current rules and contribution levels,
4 it is possible to assemble the two-thirds majority
5 needed for important United Nations budget votes
6 with a group of countries that, taken together, pay
7 less than 1 percent of the total United Nations reg-
8 ular budget.

9 (3) The disconnect between contribution levels
10 and management control creates significant perverse
11 incentives in terms of United Nations spending,
12 transparency, and accountability.

13 (4) The United Nations system suffers from 14 unacceptably high levels of waste, fraud, and abuse,
15 which seriously impair its ability to fulfill the lofty
16 ideals of its founding.

17 (5) Amidst the continuing financial, corruption,
18 and sexual abuse scandals of the past several years,
19 American public disapproval of United Nations has 20 reached all-time highs. A 2008 Gallup poll revealed
21 that 65 percent of Americans believe that the United 22 Nations is doing a poor job, a negative assessment
23 shared by a majority of respondents from both polit-
24 ical parties. Research polling by another firm in late
25 2006 found that 71 percent of Americans think that

1 the United Nations is “no longer effective” and
2 needs to be significantly reformed, while 75 percent
3 think that the United Nations “needs to be held
4 more accountable.”

5 (6) Significant improvements in United Nations
6 transparency and accountability are necessary for 7 improving public perceptions of and American sup-
8 port for United Nations operations.

9 (7) Because of their need to justify future con-
10 tributions from donors, voluntarily funded organiza-
11 tions have more incentive to be responsive and effi-
12 cient in their operations than organizations funded
13 by compulsory contributions that are not tied to per-14 formance.

15 (8) Article XVII of the Charter of the United 16 Nations, which states that “[t]he expenses of the 17 Organization shall be borne by the Members as ap-
18 portioned by the General Assembly,” leaves to the 19 discretion of the General Assembly the basis of ap-
20 portionment, which could be done on the basis of 21 voluntary pledges by Member States.

22 (9) Unlike United States assessed contributions
23 to the United Nations regular budget, which are 24 statutorily capped at 22 percent of the total, there
25 is no cap on voluntary contributions.

1 (10) The United States, which contributes gen-
2 erously to international organizations whose activi-
3 ties it recognizes as credible, worthwhile, and effi-
4 cient, contributes more than 22 percent of the budg-
5 et of certain voluntarily funded United Nations Spe-
6 cialized Agencies.

7 SEC. 612. APPORTIONMENT OF THE UNITED NATIONS REG-
8 ULAR BUDGET ON A VOLUNTARY BASIS.

9 (a) UNITED STATES POLICY.—

10 (1) SHIFTING OF FUNDING.—It is the policy of 11 the United States to seek to shift the funding mech-
12 anism for the regular budget of the United Nations
13 from an assessed to a voluntary basis.

14 (2) DIRECTION.—The President shall direct the 15 United States Permanent Representative to the
16 United Nations to use the voice, vote, and influence
17 of the United States at the United Nations to shift
18 the funding mechanism for the regular budget of the 19 United Nations to a voluntary basis, and to make it
20 a priority to build support for such a trans-
21 formational change among Member States, particu-
22 larly key United Nations donors;

23 (b) CERTIFICATION OF PREDOMINANTLY VOL-
24 UNTARY UN REGULAR BUDGET FUNDING.—A certifi-
25 cation described in this section is a certification by the

1 Secretary of State to the Appropriate Congressional Com-
2 mittees that at least 80 percent of the total regular budget
3 of the United Nations is apportioned on a voluntary basis.
4 Each such certification shall be shall be effective for a pe-
5 riod of no more than 1 year, and shall be promptly revoked
6 by the Secretary, with notice to the Appropriate Congres-
7 sional Committees, if the underlying circumstances change
8 so as not to warrant such certification.

9 (c) WITHHOLDING OF NONVOLUNTARY CONTRIBU-
10 TIONS.—

11 (1) IN GENERAL.—Beginning two years after 12 the effective date of this Act and notwithstanding 13 any other provision of law, no funds may be obli-
14 gated or expended for a United States assessed con-
15 tribution to the regular budget of the United Na-16 tions in an amount greater than 50 percent of the 17 United States share of assessed contributions for the 18 regular budget of the United Nations unless there is 19 in effect a certification by the Secretary, as de-
20 scribed in subsection (b).

21 (2) RELEASE.—For a period of three years
22 after appropriation, funds appropriated for use as a
23 United States contribution to the regular budget of 24 the United Nations but withheld from obligation and 25 expenditure pursuant to paragraph (1) may be obli-

1 gated and expended for that purpose upon the cer-
2 tification described in subsection (b). After three 3 years, in the absence of such certification, those
4 funds shall revert to the United States Treasury.

5 SEC. 613. BUDGET JUSTIFICATION FOR UNITED STATES
6 CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE REGULAR BUDGET
7 OF THE UNITED NATIONS.

8 (a) DETAILED ITEMIZATION.—The annual congres-
9 sional budget justification shall include a detailed itemized
10 request in support of the contribution of the United States
11 to the regular budget of the United Nations.

12 (b) CONTENTS OF DETAILED ITEMIZATION.—The 13 detailed itemization required under subsection (a) shall—

14 (1) contain information relating to the amounts
15 requested in support of each of the various sections
16 and titles of the regular budget of the United Na-
17 tions; and

18 (2) compare the amounts requested for the cur-
19 rent year with the actual or estimated amounts con-
20 tributed by the United States in previous fiscal years
21 for the same sections and titles.

22 (c) ADJUSTMENTS AND NOTIFICATION.—If the 23 United Nations proposes an adjustment to its regular as-
24 sessed budget, the Secretary of State shall, at the time
25 such adjustment is presented to the Advisory Committee

1 on Administrative and Budgetary Questions (ACABQ),
2 notify and consult with the appropriate congressional com-
3 mittees.

4 Subtitle B—Transparency and Ac-
5 countability for United States
6 Contributions to the United Na-
7 tions

8 SEC. 621. FINDINGS.

9 Congress finds the following:

10 (1) As underscored by continuing revelations of 11 waste, fraud, and abuse, oversight and account-
12 ability mechanisms within the United Nations sys-
13 tem remain significantly deficient, despite decades of 14 reform attempts, including those initiated by Secre-
15 taries-General of the United Nations.

16 (2) Notwithstanding the personal intentions of 17 any Secretary-General of the United Nations to pro-
18 mote institutional transparency and accountability
19 within the United Nations System, the Secretary-
20 General lacks the power to impose far reaching man-
21 agement reforms without the concurrence of the 22 General Assembly.

23 (3) Groupings of Member States whose voting
24 power in the General Assembly significantly out-
25 paces their proportional contributions to the United

1 Nations system have repeatedly and successfully de-
2 feated, delayed, and diluted various reform proposals
3 that would have enabled more detailed oversight and 4 scrutiny of United Nations system operations and 5 expenditures.

6 (4) To an unacceptable degree, major donor
7 states, including the United States, lack access to 8 reasonably detailed, reliable information that would 9 allow them to determine how their contributions
10 have been spent by various United Nations system
11 entities, further contributing to the lack of account-
12 ability within the United Nations system.

13 SEC. 622. DEFINITIONS.

14 In this title:

15 (1) UNITED NATIONS ENTITY.—The term
16 “United Nations Entity” means any United Nations
17 agency, commission, conference, council, court, de-
18 partment, forum, fund, institute, office, organiza-
19 tion, partnership, program, subsidiary body, tri-
20 bunal, trust, university or academic body, related or-21 ganization or subsidiary body, wherever located, that 22 flies the United Nations flag or is authorized to use
23 the United Nations logo, including but not limited to 24 those United Nations affiliated agencies and bodies
25 identified as recipients of United States contribu-

1 tions under section 1225(b)(3)(E) of the John War-
2 ner National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal
3 Year 2007 (Public Law 109–364).

4 (2) UNITED NATIONS SYSTEM.—The term
5 “United Nations System” means the aggregation of 6 all United Nations Entities, as defined in paragraph 7 (1).

18 (2) no UNRWA school, hospital, clinic, other
19 facility, or other infrastructure or resource is being
20 used by a foreign terrorist organization for oper-
21 ations, planning, training, recruitment, fundraising,
22 indoctrination, communications, sanctuary, storage
23 of weapons or other materials, or any other pur-
24 poses;

1 (3) UNRWA is subject to comprehensive finan-
2 cial audits by an internationally-recognized third
3 party independent auditing firm and has imple-
4 mented an effective system of vetting and oversight
5 to prevent the use, receipt, or diversion of any 6 UNRWA resources by any foreign terrorist organiza-
7 tion or members thereof;

8 (4) no UNRWA-funded school or educational
9 institution uses textbooks or other educational mate-
10 rials that propagate or disseminate anti-American,
11 anti-Israel, or anti-Semitic rhetoric, propaganda or 12 incitement; and

13 (5) no recipient of UNRWA funds or loans is 14 a member of a foreign terrorist organization.

15 (c) DEFINITION.—In this section, the term “foreign 16 terrorist organization” means an organization designated 17 as a foreign terrorist organization by the Secretary of 18 State in accordance with section 219(a) of the Immigra-
19 tion and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1189(a)).

20 (d) EFFECTIVE DURATION OF CERTIFICATION.—The 21 certification described in subsection (b) shall be effective
22 for a period of 180 days from the date of transmission
23 to the Appropriate Congressional Committees, or until the 24 Secretary receives information rendering that certification
25 factually inaccurate, whichever is earliest. In the event

1 that a certification becomes ineffective, the Secretary shall
2 promptly transmit to the Appropriate Congressional Com-
3 mittees a description of any information that precludes the 4 renewal or continuation of the certification.

5 (e) LIMITATION.—During a period for which a certifi-
6 cation described in subsection (b) is in effect, the United
7 States may not contribute to the United Nations Relief
8 and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near 9 East (UNRWA) or a successor entity an annual amount—

10 (1) greater than the highest annual contribu-
11 tion to UNRWA made by a member country of the 12 League of Arab States;

13 (2) that, as a proportion of the total UNRWA
14 budget, exceeds the proportion of the total budget
15 for the United Nations High Commissioner for Ref-
16 ugees (UNHCR) paid by the United States; or

17 (3) that exceeds 22 percent of the total budget
18 of UNRWA.

19 (f) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Con-
20 gress that, in order to alleviate the suffering of Palestinian 21 refugees, responsibility for those refugees should be fully 22 transferred to the Office of the United Nations High Com-
23 missioner for Refugees.

1 SEC. 640. UNITED NATIONS TREATY BODIES.

2 The United States shall withhold from United States
3 contributions to the regular assessed budget of the United
4 Nations for a biennial period amounts that are propor-
5 tional to the percentage of such budget that are expended
6 with respect to a United Nations human rights treaty
7 monitoring body or committee that was established by—

8 (1) a convention (without any protocols) or an 9 international covenant (without any protocols) to 10 which the United States is not party; or

11 (2) a convention, with a subsequent protocol, if 12 the United States is a party to neither.

13 SEC. 641. EQUALITY AT THE UNITED NATIONS.

14 (a) DEPARTMENT OF STATE REVIEW AND RE-
15 PORT.—

16 (1) IN GENERAL.—To avoid duplicative efforts
17 and funding with respect to Palestinian interests
18 and to ensure balance in the approach to Israeli-Pal-
19 estinian issues, the Secretary shall, not later than 20 180 days after the date of the enactment of this
21 Act—

22 (A) complete an audit of the functions of 23 the entities listed in paragraph (2); and

24 (B) submit to the appropriate congress-
25 sional committees a report containing audit
26 findings and conclusions, and recommendations

1 for the elimination of such duplicative entities
2 and efforts.

3 (2) ENTITIES.—The entities referred to in 4 paragraph (1) are the following:

5 (A) The United Nations Division for Pales-
6 tinian Rights.

7 (B) The Committee on the Exercise of the 8 Inalienable Rights of the Palestinian People.

15 Palestine.

16 (E) The Special Committee to Investigate
17 Israeli Practices Affecting the Human Rights of 18 the Palestinian People and Other Arabs of the 21 mines results in duplicative efforts or funding

22 or fails to ensure balance in the approach to 23 Israeli-Palestinian issues.

24 (b) IMPLEMENTATION BY PERMANENT REPRESENTA-
25 TIVE.—

1 (1) IN GENERAL.—The President shall direct
2 the United States Permanent Representative to the
3 United Nations to use the voice, vote, and influence
4 of the United States at the United Nations to seek 5 the implementation of the recommendations con-
6 tained in the report required under subsection
7 (a)(1)(B).

8 (2) WITHHOLDING OF FUNDS.—Until such rec-
9 ommendations have been implemented, the United
10 States shall withhold from United States contribu-
11 tions to the regular assessed budget of the United
12 Nations for a biennial period amounts that are pro-
13 portional to the percentage of such budget that are 14 expended for such entities.

15 (c) GAO AUDIT.—The Comptroller General of the 16 United States of the Government Accountability Office
17 shall conduct an audit of—

18 (1) the status of the implementation of the rec-
19 ommendations contained in the report required
20 under subsection (a)(1)(B); and

21 (2) United States actions and achievements
22 under subsection (b).

23 SEC. 642. ANTI-SEMITISM AND THE UNITED NATIONS.

24 The President shall direct the United States perma-
25 nent representative to the United Nations to use the voice,

1 vote, and influence of the United States at the United Na-
2 tions to make every effort to—

3 (1) ensure the issuance and implementation of 4 a directive by the Secretary General or the Secre-
5 tariat, as appropriate, that—

6 (A) requires all employees of the United
7 Nations and its specialized agencies to officially
8 and publicly condemn anti-Semitic statements
9 made at any session of the United Nations or 10 its specialized agencies, or at any other session
11 sponsored by the United Nations;

12 (B) requires employees of the United Na-
13 tions and its specialized agencies, programs,
14 and funds to be subject to punitive action, in-
15 cluding immediate dismissal, for making anti-
16 Semitic statements or references;

17 (C) proposes specific recommendations to 18 the General Assembly for the establishment of 19 mechanisms to hold accountable employees and 20 officials of the United Nations and its special-
21 ized agencies, programs, and funds, or Member
22 States, that make such anti-Semitic statements
23 or references in any forum of the United Na-
24 tions or of its specialized agencies;

1 (D) continues to develop and implements
2 education awareness programs about the Holo-

4 as part of an effort to combat intolerance and 5 hatred; and

6 (E) requires the Office of the United Na-
7 tions High Commissioner for Human Rights
8 (OHCHR) to develop programming and other

11 General Assembly that establishes the mechanisms
12 described in paragraph (1)(C); and

13 (3) continue working toward further reduction
14 of anti-Semitic language and anti-Israel resolutions
15 in the United Nations and its specialized agencies,
16 programs, and funds.

17 SEC. 643. REGIONAL GROUP INCLUSION OF ISRAEL.

18 The President shall direct the United States Perma-
19 nent Representative to the United Nations to use the 20 voice, vote, and influence of the United States at the 21 United Nations to expand the Western European and Oth-
22 ers Group (WEOG) in the United Nations to include
23 Israel as a permanent member with full rights and privi-
24 leges.

1 Subtitle D—United Nations Human
2 Rights Council

3 SEC. 651. FINDINGS.

4 Congress finds the following:

5 (1) Since its establishment in 2006, the United 6 Nations Human Rights Council has failed to mean-
7 ingfully promote the protection of internationally
8 recognized human rights, and has proven to be even 9 more problematic than the United Nations Human
10 Rights Commission that it was created to replace.

11 (2) The United Nations Human Rights Council
12 suffers from significant structural flaws, such as the 13 fact that it draws its members from the General As-
14 sembly without any substantive membership criteria,
15 with the perverse result that a number of the world's 16 worst human rights abusers are members of the 17 council.

18 (3) The structure and composition of the 19 United Nations Human Rights Council have made it
20 subject to gross political manipulation, with the re-
21 sult that, during its two and one-half years of oper-
22 ation, the Council has passed 20 resolutions cen-
23 suring the democratic state of Israel, as compared to 24 only 4 censuring the dictatorship in Burma, just one
25 censuring the North Korean regime, and none con-

1 demning the severe, ongoing human rights abuses in 2 Sudan, China, Cuba, Zimbabwe, Belarus, and else-
3 where.

4 SEC. 652. HUMAN RIGHTS COUNCIL MEMBERSHIP AND 5 FUNDING.

6 (a) IN GENERAL.—For each fiscal year subsequent
7 to the effective date of this Act until the Secretary of State
8 submits to Congress a certification that the requirements
9 described in subsection (b) have been satisfied—

10 (1) the Secretary of State shall withhold from 11 a United States contribution each fiscal year to a
12 regularly assessed biennial budget of the United Na-
13 tions an amount that is equal to the percentage of 14 such contribution that the Secretary determines
15 would be allocated by the United Nations to support
16 the United Nations Human Rights Council;

17 (2) the Secretary of State shall not make a vol-
18 untary contribution to the United Nations Human 19 Rights Council; and

20 (3) the United States shall not run for a seat
21 on the United Nations Human Rights Council.

22 (b) CERTIFICATION.—The annual certification re-
23 ferred to in subsection (a) is a certification made by the 24 Secretary to Congress that the United Nations Human 25 Rights Council does not include a Member State—

1 (1) subject to sanctions by the Security Council;

2 (2) under a Security Council-mandated inves-
3 tigation for human rights abuses;

4 (3) subject, within the prior 5 years, to a coun-
5 try-specific resolution passed under Agenda Item 9
6 by the former United Nations Human Rights Com-
7 mission;

8 (4) which the Secretary of State has deter-
9 mined, for purposes of section 6(j) of the Export Ad-
10 ministration Act of 1979 (as continued in effect pur-
11 suant to the International Emergency Economic 12 Powers Act), section 40 of the Arms Export Control
13 Act, section 620A of the Foreign Assistance Act of 14 1961, or other provision of law, is a government that 15 has repeatedly provided support for acts of inter-
16 national terrorism; or

17 (5) which the President has designated as a
18 country of particular concern for religious freedom
19 under section 402(b) of the International Religious 20 Freedom Act of 1998.

21 Subtitle E—International Atomic
22 Energy Agency

23 SEC. 661. INTERNATIONAL ATOMIC ENERGY AGENCY.

24 (a) ENFORCEMENT AND COMPLIANCE.—

25 (1) OFFICE OF COMPLIANCE.—

1 (A) ESTABLISHMENT.—The President
2 shall direct the United States Permanent Rep-
3 resentative to International Atomic Energy
4 Agency (IAEA) to use the voice, vote, and influ-
5 ence of the United States at the IAEA to estab-
6 lish an Office of Compliance in the Secretariat
7 of the IAEA.

8 (B) OPERATION.—The Office of Compli-
9 ance shall—

10 (I) function as an independent body
11 composed of technical experts who shall 12 work in consultation with IAEA inspectors
13 to assess compliance by IAEA Member
14 States and provide recommendations to the 15 IAEA Board of Governors concerning pen-
16 alties to be imposed on IAEA Member
17 States that fail to fulfill their obligations
18 under IAEA Board resolutions;

19 (ii) base its assessments and rec-
20 ommendations on IAEA inspection reports;
21 and

22 (iii) take into consideration informa-
23 tion provided by IAEA Board Members
24 that are 1 of the 5 nuclear weapons states
25 as recognized by the Treaty on the Non-

1 Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons (21 UST
2 483) (commonly referred to as the “Nu-
3 clear Nonproliferation Treaty” or the 4 “NPT”).

5 (C) STAFFING.—The Office of Compliance
6 shall be staffed from existing personnel in the 7 Department of Safeguards of the IAEA or the 8 Department of Nuclear Safety and Security of 9 the IAEA.

10 (2) COMMITTEE ON SAFEGUARDS AND
11 VERIFICATION.—The President shall direct the 12 United States Permanent Representative to the 13 IAEA to use the voice, vote, and influence of the 14 United States at the IAEA to ensure that the Com-
15 mittee on Safeguards and Verification established in 16 2005 shall develop and seek to put into force a 17 workplan of concrete measures that will—

18 (A) improve the ability of the IAEA to 19 monitor and enforce compliance by Member
20 States of the IAEA with the Nuclear Non-
21 proliferation Treaty and the Statute of the 22 International Atomic Energy Agency; and

23 (B) enhance the ability of the IAEA, be-
24 yond the verification mechanisms and authori-
25 ties contained in the Additional Protocol to the

1 Safeguards Agreements between the IAEA and
2 Member States of the IAEA, to detect with a
3 high degree of confidence undeclared nuclear
4 activities by a Member State.

5 (3) PENALTIES WITH RESPECT TO THE IAEA.—

6 (A) IN GENERAL.—The President shall di-
7 rect the United States Permanent Representa-
8 tive to the IAEA to use the voice, vote, and in-
9 fluence of the United States at the IAEA to en-
10 sure that a Member State of the IAEA that is 11 under investigation for a breach of or non-12 compliance with its IAEA obligations or the 13 purposes and principles of the Charter of the 14 United Nations has its privileges suspended,
15 including—

16 (I) limiting its ability to vote on its 17 case;

18 (ii) being prevented from receiving
19 any technical assistance; and

20 (iii) being prevented from hosting
21 meetings.

22 (B) TERMINATION OF PENALTIES.—The
23 penalties specified under subparagraph (A)
24 shall be terminated when such investigation is

1 concluded and such Member State is no longer
2 in such breach or noncompliance.

3 (4) PENALTIES WITH RESPECT TO THE NU-
4 CLEAR NONPROLIFERATION TREATY.—The Presi-
5 dent shall direct the United States Permanent Rep-
6 resentative to the IAEA to use the voice, vote, and
7 influence of the United States at the IAEA to en-
8 sure that a Member State of the IAEA that is found
9 to be in breach of, in noncompliance with, or has 10 withdrawn from the Nuclear Nonproliferation Treaty
11 shall return to the IAEA all nuclear materials and 12 technology received from the IAEA, any Member
13 State of the IAEA, or any Member State of the Nu-
14 clear Nonproliferation Treaty.

15 (b) UNITED STATES CONTRIBUTIONS.—

16 (1) VOLUNTARY CONTRIBUTIONS.—Voluntary
17 contributions of the United States to the IAEA
18 should primarily be used to fund activities relating 19 to Nuclear Safety and Security or activities relating 20 to Nuclear Verification.

21 (2) LIMITATION ON USE OF FUNDS.—The
22 President shall direct the United States Permanent
23 Representative to the IAEA to use the voice, vote,
24 and influence of the United States at the IAEA to—

1 (A) ensure that funds for safeguards in-
2 spections are prioritized for countries that have
3 newly established nuclear programs or are initi-
4 ating nuclear programs; and

5 (B) block the allocation of funds for any
6 other IAEA development, environmental, or nu-
7 clear science assistance or activity to a
8 country—

9 (I) the government of which the Sec-
10 retary of State has determined, for pur-
11 poses of section 6(j) of the Export Admin-
12 istration Act of 1979, section 620A of the 13 Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, section 40
14 of the Arms Export Control Act, or other 15 provision of law, is a government that has 16 repeatedly provided support for acts of 17 international terrorism and the government
18 of which the Secretary has determined has 19 not dismantled and surrendered its weap-
20 ons of mass destruction programs under 21 international verification;

22 (ii) that is under investigation for a
23 breach of or noncompliance with its IAEA
24 obligations or the purposes and principles
25 of the Charter of the United Nations; or

1 (iii) that is in violation of its IAEA
2 obligations or the purposes and principles
3 of the Charter of the United Nations.

4 (3) DETAIL OF EXPENDITURES.—The Presi-
5 dent shall direct the United States Permanent Rep-
6 resentative to the IAEA to use the voice, vote, and
7 influence of the United States at the IAEA to se-
8 cure, as part of the regular budget presentation of 9 the IAEA to Member States of the IAEA, a detailed
10 breakdown by country of expenditures of the IAEA
11 for safeguards inspections and nuclear security ac-
12 tivities.

13 (c) MEMBERSHIP.—

14 (1) IN GENERAL.—The President shall direct
15 the United States Permanent Representative to the
16 IAEA to use the voice, vote, and influence of the 17 United States at the IAEA to block the membership
18 on the Board of Governors of the IAEA for a Mem-
19 ber State of the IAEA that has not signed and rati-
20 fied the Additional Protocol and

21 (A) is under investigation for a breach of 22 or noncompliance with its IAEA obligations or 23 the purposes and principles of the Charter of 24 the United Nations; or

1 (B) that is in violation of its IAEA obliga-
2 tions or the purposes and principles of the 3 Charter of the United Nations.

4 (2) CRITERIA.—The United States Permanent
5 Representative to the IAEA shall make every effort
6 to modify the criteria for Board membership to re-
7 flect the principles described in paragraph (1).

8 (d) SMALL QUANTITIES PROTOCOL.—The President
9 shall direct the United States Permanent Representative
10 to the IAEA to use the voice, vote, and influence of the 11 United States at the IAEA to make every effort to ensure 12 that the IAEA changes the policy regarding the Small 13 Quantities Protocol in order to—

14 (1) rescind and eliminate the Small Quantities
15 Protocol;

16 (2) require that any IAEA Member State that 17 has previously signed a Small Quantities Protocol to 18 sign, ratify, and implement the Additional Protocol,
19 provide immediate access for IAEA inspectors to its 20 nuclear-related facilities, and agree to the strongest 21 inspections regime of its nuclear efforts; and

22 (3) require that any IAEA Member State that
23 does not comply with paragraph (2) to be ineligible
24 to receive nuclear material, technology, equipment,
25 or assistance from any IAEA Member State and

1 subject to the penalties described in subsection
2 (a)(3).

3 (e) NUCLEAR PROGRAM OF IRAN.—

4 (1) UNITED STATES ACTION.—The President
5 shall direct the United States Permanent Represent-
6 ative to the IAEA to use the voice, vote, and influ-
7 ence of the United States at the IAEA to make 8 every effort to ensure the adoption of a resolution by 9 the IAEA Board of Governors that, in addition to 10 the restrictions already imposed, makes Iran ineli-
11 gible to receive any nuclear material, technology,
12 equipment, or assistance from any IAEA Member
13 State and ineligible for any IAEA assistance not re-
14 lated to safeguards inspections or nuclear security
15 until the IAEA Board of Governors determines that 16 Iran—

17 (A) is providing full access to IAEA in-
18 spectors to its nuclear-related facilities;

19 (B) has fully implemented and is in com-
20 pliance with the Additional Protocol; and

21 (C) has permanently ceased and disman-
22 tled all activities and programs related to nu-
23 clear-enrichment and reprocessing.

24 (2) PENALTIES.—If an IAEA Member State is 25 determined to have violated the prohibition on as-

1 assistance to Iran described in paragraph (1) before
2 the IAEA Board of Governors determines that Iran
3 has satisfied the conditions described in subpara-
4 graphs (A) through (C) of such paragraph, such
5 Member State shall be subject to the penalties de-
6 scribed in subsection (a)(3), shall be ineligible to re-
7 ceive nuclear material, technology, equipment, or as-
8 sistance from any IAEA Member State, and shall be 9 ineligible to receive any IAEA assistance not related 10 to safeguards inspections or nuclear security until 11 such time as the IAEA Board of Governors makes 12 such determination with respect to Iran.

13 (f) REPORT.—Not later than 6 months after the date
14 of the enactment of this Act and annually for 2 years
15 thereafter, the President shall submit to the appropriate
16 congressional committees a report on the implementation
17 of this section.

18 SEC. 662. SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING THE NUCLEAR
19 SECURITY ACTION PLAN OF THE IAEA.

20 It is the sense of Congress that the national security
21 interests of the United States are enhanced by the Nuclear 22 Security Action Plan of the IAEA and the Board of Gov-
23 ernors should recommend, and the General Conference
24 should adopt, a resolution incorporating the Nuclear Secu-
25 rity Action Plan into the regular budget of the IAEA.

1 Subtitle F—Peacekeeping
2 SEC. 671. REFORM OF UNITED NATIONS PEACEKEEPING
3 OPERATIONS.

4 It is the sense of Congress that—

5 (1) although United Nations peacekeeping oper-
6 ations have contributed greatly toward the pro-
7 motion of peace and stability for nearly 6 decades
8 and the majority of peacekeeping personnel who 9 have served under the United Nations flag have 10 done so with honor and courage, the record of 11 United Nations peacekeeping has been severely tar-
12 nished by operational failures and unconscionable
13 acts of misconduct;

14 (2) in response to such failures, in 2000 and 15 2005, respectively, the Secretary General charged
16 the high-level Panel on United Nations Peace Oper-
17 ations, led by former Foreign Minister of Algeria
18 Lakhdar Brahimi, and his Special Advisor on the 19 Prevention of Sexual Exploitation and Abuse, His 20 Royal Highness Prince Zeid Ra'ad Zeid Al-Hussein
21 of Jordan, to provide honest assessments of the 22 United Nations' shortcomings and make rec-
23 ommendations that would help restore the con-
24 fidence of the international community in United 25 Nations peacekeeping operations;

1 (3) audits of procurement practices in the De-
2 partment of Peacekeeping Operations, conducted by
3 the Office of Internal Oversight Services, also have 4 uncovered “significant” corruption schemes, includ-
5 ing a 2007 audit of peacekeeping contracts valued at 6 $1.4 billion, of which more than $614 million, or 7 44%, were subject to corruption;

8 (4) despite the fact that the United Nations has 9 had more than eight years to implement the reforms
10 contained in the Brahimi Report, nearly four years
11 to implement the reforms in the Zeid Report, and 12 the fact that Secretary-General Ban Ki-Moon, his 13 predecessor Kofi Annan, and the Special Committee
14 on Peacekeeping Operations repeatedly have ex-
15 pressed their commitment “to implementing funda-
16 mental, systematic changes as a matter of urgency,” 17 a number of critical reforms continue to be blocked
18 or delayed by Members States who arguably benefit
19 from maintenance of the status quo; and

20 (4) if the reputation of and confidence in 21 United Nations peacekeeping operations is to be re-
22 stored, fundamental and far-reaching reforms, par-
23 ticularly in the areas of planning, management, pro-
24 curement, training, conduct, and discipline, must be 25 implemented without further delay.

1 SEC. 672. POLICY RELATING TO REFORM OF UNITED NA-
2 TIONS PEACEKEEPING OPERATIONS.

3 It shall be the policy of the United States to pursue
4 reform of United Nations peacekeeping operations in the 5 following areas:

6 (1) PLANNING AND MANAGEMENT.—

7 (A) GLOBAL AUDIT.—As the size, cost,
8 and number of United Nations peacekeeping
9 operations have increased substantially over the 10 past decade, an independent audit of each such 11 operation, with a view toward “right-sizing” op-
12 erations and ensuring that such operations are 13 cost effective, should be conducted and its find-
14 ings reported to the Security Council.

15 (B) PROCUREMENT AND TRANS-
16 PARENCY.—A modern logistics system and 17 transparent, streamlined procurement proce-
18 dures should be established within the United 19 Nations Department of Field Support to ensure 20 that all peacekeeping missions are resourced ap-
21 propriately and in a timely fashion while indi-
22 vidual accountability for waste, fraud and abuse
23 within United Nations peacekeeping missions is 24 established and uniformly enforced.

25 (C) REVIEW OF MANDATES AND CLOSING
26 OPERATIONS.—In conjunction with the audit

1 described in subparagraph (A), the United Na-
2 tions Department of Peacekeeping Operations
3 should conduct a comprehensive review of all
4 United Nations peacekeeping operation man-
5 dates, with a view toward identifying objectives
6 that are practical and achievable, and report its 7 findings to the Security Council. In particular,
8 the review should consider the following:

9 (I) Except in extraordinary cases, in-
10 cluding genocide, the United Nations De-
11 partment of Peacekeeping Operations
12 should not be tasked with activities that 13 are impractical or unachievable without the 14 cooperation of the Member State(s)
15 hosting a United Nations peacekeeping op-
16 eration, or which amount to de-facto
17 Trusteeship outside of the procedures es-
18 tablished for such under Chapter XII of 19 the United Nations Charter, thereby cre-
20 ating unrealistic expectations and obfus-
21 cating the primary responsibility of the 22 Member States themselves in creating and 23 maintaining conditions for peace.

1 (ii) Long-standing operations that are
2 static and cannot fulfill their mandate
3 should be downsized or closed.

4 (iii) Where there is legitimate concern
5 that the withdrawal from a country of an
6 otherwise static United Nations peace-
7 keeping operation would result in the re-
8 sumption of major conflict, a burden-shar-
9 ing arrangement that reduces the level of 10 assessed contributions, similar to that cur-
11 rently supporting the United Nations
12 Peacekeeping Force in Cyprus, should be 13 explored and instituted.

14 (D) LEADERSHIP.—As peacekeeping oper-
15 ations become larger and increasingly complex,
16 the Secretariat should adopt a minimum stand-
17 ard of qualifications for senior leaders and 18 managers, with particular emphasis on specific
19 skills and experience, and current senior leaders
20 and managers who do not meet those standards
21 should be removed.

22 (E) PRE-DEPLOYMENT TRAINING.—Pre-de-
23 ployment training on interpretation of the man-
24 date of the operation, specifically in the areas
25 of use of force, civilian protection and field con-

1 conditions, the Code of Conduct, HIV/AIDS, and 2 human rights should be mandatory, and all per-
3 sonnel, regardless of category or rank, should 4 be required to sign an oath that each has re-
5 ceived and understands such training as a con-
6 dition of participation in the operation.

7 (F) GRATIS MILITARY PERSONNEL.—The
8 General Assembly should seek to strengthen the 9 capacity the United Nations Department of 10 Peacekeeping Operations and ease the extraor-
11 dinary burden currently placed upon the limited
12 number of headquarters staff by lifting restric-
13 tions on the utilization of gratis military per-
14 sonnel by the Department so that the Depart-
15 ment may accept secondments from Member
16 States of military personnel with expertise in 17 mission planning, logistics, and other oper-
18 ational specialties.

19 (2) CONDUCT AND DISCIPLINE.—

20 (A) ADOPTION OF A UNIFORM CODE OF 21 CONDUCT.—A single, uniform Code of Conduct
22 that has the status of a binding rule and ap-
23 plies equally to all personnel serving in United
24 Nations peacekeeping operations, regardless of 25 category or rank, including military personnel,

1 should be adopted and incorporated into legal
2 documents governing participation in such an
3 operation, including all contracts and Memorandums of Understanding, promulgated and effectively enforced.

6 (B) UNDERSTANDING THE CODE OF CONDUCT.—All personnel, regardless of category or rank, should receive training on the Code of Conduct prior to deployment with a peacekeeping operation, in addition to periodic follow-on training. In particular—

12 (I) all personnel, regardless of category or rank, should be provided with a personal copy of the Code of Conduct that has been translated into the national language of such personnel, regardless of whether such language is an official language of the United Nations;

19 (ii) all personnel, regardless of category or rank, should sign an oath that each has received a copy of the Code of Conduct, that each pledges to abide by the Code of Conduct, and that each understands the consequences of violating the Code of Conduct, including immediate ter-

1 mination of participation in and permanent
2 exclusion from all current and future
3 peacekeeping operations , as well as the as-
4 sumption of personal liability for victims
5 compensation, as a condition of appoint-
6 ment to any such operation; and

7 (iii) peacekeeping operations should
8 conduct educational outreach programs to 9 reach local communities where peace-
10 keeping personnel of such operations are 11 based, including explaining prohibited acts
12 on the part of United Nations peace-
13 keeping personnel and identifying the indi-
14 vidual to whom the local population may 15 direct complaints or file allegations of ex-
16 ploitation, abuse, or other acts of mis-
17 conduct.

18 (C) MONITORING MECHANISMS.—Dedi-
19 cated monitoring mechanisms, such as the Con-
20 duct and Discipline Units already deployed to 21 support United Nations peacekeeping oper-
22 ations in Haiti, Sudan, Kosovo, Burundi, Libe-
23 ria, Lebanon, Timor Leste, Cote d'Ivoire, West-
24 ern Sahara, and the Democratic Republic of 25 Congo, should be present in each operation to

1 monitor compliance with the Code of Conduct,
2 and

3 (I) should report simultaneously to
4 the Head of Mission, the United Nations
5 Department of Peacekeeping Operations,
6 and the Associate Director of OIOS for 7 Peacekeeping Operations (established
8 under 【section 1114(b)(9)】); and

9 (ii) should be tasked with designing
10 and implementing mission-specific meas-
11 ures to prevent misconduct, conduct follow-
12 on training for personnel, coordinate com-
13 munity outreach programs, and assist in 14 investigations, as OIOS determines nec-
15 essary and appropriate.

16 (D) INVESTIGATIONS.—A permanent, pro-
17 fessional, and independent investigative body
18 should be established and introduced into 19 United Nations peacekeeping operations. In 20 particular—

21 (I) the investigative body should in-
22 clude professionals with experience in in-
23 vestigating sex crimes and the illegal ex-
24 ploitation of resources, as appropriate, as 25 well as experts who can provide guidance

1 on standards of proof and evidentiary re-
2 quirements necessary for any subsequent
3 legal action;

4 (ii) provisions should be included in
5 all Memorandums of Understanding, in-
6 cluding a Model Memorandum of Under-
7 standing, that obligate Member States that
8 contribute troops to a peacekeeping oper-
9 ation to designate a military prosecutor
10 who will participate in any investigation
11 into credible allegations of misconduct
12 brought against an individual of such
13 Member State, so that evidence is collected
14 and preserved in a manner consistent with 15 the military law of such Member State;

16 (iii) the investigative body should be
17 regionally based to ensure rapid deploy-
18 ment and should be equipped with modern 19 forensics equipment for the purpose of 20 positively identifying perpetrators and,
21 where necessary, for determining paternity;
22 and

23 (iv) the investigative body should re-
24 port directly to the Associate Director of 25 OIOS for Peacekeeping Operations, while

1 providing copies of any reports to the De-
2 partment of Peacekeeping Operations, the 3 Head of Mission, and the Member State
4 concerned.

5 (E) FOLLOW-UP.—The Conduct and Dis-
6 cipline Team in the headquarters of the United
7 Nations Department of Peacekeeping Oper-
8 ations should be appropriately staffed,
9 resourced, and tasked with—

10 (I) promulgating measures to prevent
11 misconduct;

12 (ii) receiving reports by field per-
13 sonnel and coordinating the Department's 14 response to allegations of misconduct;

15 (iii) gathering follow-up information
16 on completed investigations, particularly by 17 focusing on disciplinary actions against the 18 individual concerned taken by the United 19 Nations or by the Member State that is 20 contributing troops to which such indi-
21 vidual belongs, and sharing such informa-
22 tion with the Security Council, the Head of 23 Mission, and the community hosting the 24 peacekeeping operation; and

1 (iv) contributing pertinent data on
2 conduct and discipline to the data base re-
3 quired pursuant to subparagraph (H).

4 (F) FINANCIAL LIABILITY AND VICTIMS
5 ASSISTANCE.—Although peacekeeping oper-
6 ations should provide immediate medical assist-
7 ance to victims of sexual abuse or exploitation,
8 the responsibility for providing longer-term
9 treatment, care, or restitution lies solely with 10 the individual found guilty of the misconduct.
11 In particular, the following reforms should be 12 implemented:

13 (I) The United Nations should not as-
14 sume responsibility for providing long-term
15 treatment or compensation by creating a
16 “Victims Trust Fund”, or any other such 17 similar fund, financed through assessed
18 contributions to United Nations peace-
19 keeping operations, thereby shielding indi-
20 viduals from personal liability and rein-
21 forcing an atmosphere of impunity.

22 (ii) If an individual responsible for
23 misconduct has been repatriated, reas-
24 signed, redeployed, or is otherwise unable 25 to provide assistance, responsibility for

1 providing assistance to a victim should be
2 assigned to the Member State that contrib-
3 uted the contingent to which such indi-
4 vidual belonged or to the manager con-
5 cerned.

6 (iii) In the case of misconduct by a
7 member of a military contingent, appro-
8 priate funds shall be withheld from the 9 troop contributing country concerned.

10 (iv) In the case of misconduct by a ci-
11 vilian employee or contractor of the United
12 Nations, appropriate wages shall be gar-
13 nished from such individual or fines shall 14 be imposed against such individual, con-
15 sistent with existing United Nations Staff
16 Rules, and retirement funds shall not be 17 shielded from liability.

18 (G) MANAGERS AND COMMANDERS.—The
19 manner in which managers and commanders
20 handle cases of misconduct by those serving
21 under them should be included in their indi-
22 vidual performance evaluations, so that man-
23 agers and commanders who take decisive action
24 to deter and address misconduct are rewarded,
25 while those who create a permissive environ-

1 ment or impede investigations are penalized or 2 relieved of duty, as appropriate.

3 (H) DATA BASE.—A centralized data base,
4 including personnel photos and fingerprints,
5 should be created and maintained within the
6 United Nations Department of Peacekeeping
7 Operations, the Office of Field Support, and 8 other relevant United Nations bodies without 9 further delay to track cases of misconduct, in-
10 cluding the outcome of investigations and sub-
11 sequent prosecutions, to ensure that personnel
12 who have engaged in misconduct or other crimi-
13 nal activities, regardless of category or rank,
14 are permanently barred from participation in 15 future peacekeeping operations.

16 (I) COOPERATION OF MEMBER STATES.—
17 If a Member State routinely refuses to cooper-
18 ate with the directives contained herein or acts
19 to shield its nationals from personal liability,
20 that Member State should be barred from con-
21 tributing troops or personnel to future peace-
22 keeping operations.

23 (J) WELFARE.—Peacekeeping operations
24 should continue to seek to maintain a minimum
25 standard of welfare for mission personnel to

1 ameliorate conditions of service, while adjust-
2 ments are made to the discretionary welfare
3 payments currently provided to Member States
4 that contribute troops to offset the cost of oper-
5 ation-provided recreational facilities, as nec-
6 essary and appropriate.

7 SEC. 673. CERTIFICATION.

8 (a) NEW OR EXPANDED PEACEKEEPING OPER-
9 ATIONS CONTINGENT UPON PRESIDENTIAL CERTIFI-
10 CATION OF PEACEKEEPING OPERATIONS REFORMS.—

11 (1) NO NEW OR EXPANDED PEACEKEEPING OP-
12 ERATIONS.—

13 (A) CERTIFICATION.—Except as provided
14 in subparagraph (B), until the Secretary of 15 State certifies that the requirements described
16 in paragraph (2) have been satisfied, the Presi-
17 dent shall direct the United States Permanent 18 Representative to the United Nations to use the 19 voice, vote, and influence of the United States
20 at the United Nations to oppose the creation of 21 new, or expansion of existing, United Nations
22 peacekeeping operations.

23 (B) EXCEPTION AND NOTIFICATION.—The
24 requirements described under paragraph (2)
25 may be waived with respect to a particular

1 peacekeeping operation if the President deter-
2 mines that failure to deploy new or additional
3 peacekeepers in such situation will significantly
4 contribute to the widespread loss of human life,
5 genocide, or the endangerment of a vital na-
6 tional security interest of the United States. If 7 the President makes such a determination, the 8 President shall, not later than 15 days before
9 the exercise of such waiver, notify the appro-
10 priate congressional committees of such deter-
11 mination and resulting waiver.

12 (2) CERTIFICATION OF PEACEKEEPING OPER-
13 ATIONS REFORMS.—The certification referred to in 14 paragraph (1) is a certification made by the Sec-
15 retary to the appropriate congressional committees
16 that the following reforms, or an equivalent set of 17 reforms, related to peacekeeping operations have 18 been adopted by the United Nations Department of 19 Peacekeeping Operations or the General Assembly,
20 as appropriate:

21 (A) A single, uniform Code of Conduct
22 that has the status of a binding rule and ap-
23 plies equally to all personnel serving in United
24 Nations peacekeeping operations, regardless of
25 category or rank, has been adopted by the Gen-

1 eral Assembly and duly incorporated into all
2 contracts and a Model Memorandum of Under-
3 standing, and mechanisms have been estab-
4 lished for training such personnel concerning
5 the requirements of the Code and enforcement
6 of the Code.

7 (B) All personnel, regardless of category or 8 rank, serving in a peacekeeping operation have 9 been trained concerning the requirements of the 10 Code of Conduct and each has been given a per-
11 sonal copy of the Code, translated into the na-
12 tional language of such personnel.

13 (C) All personnel, regardless of category or 14 rank, are required to sign an oath that each has 15 received a copy of the Code of Conduct, that 16 each pledges to abide by the Code, and that 17 each understands the consequences of violating 18 the Code, including immediate termination of 19 participation in and permanent exclusion from 20 all current and future peacekeeping operations,
21 as well as the assumption of personal liability
22 for victims compensation as a condition of the 23 appointment to such operation.

24 (D) All peacekeeping operations have de-
25 signed and implemented educational outreach

1 programs to reach local communities where
2 peacekeeping personnel of such operations are 3 based to explain prohibited acts on the part of 4 United Nations peacekeeping personnel and to 5 identify the individual to whom the local popu-
6 lation may direct complaints or file allegations
7 of exploitation, abuse, or other acts of mis-
8 conduct.

9 (E) The creation of a centralized data
10 base, including personnel photos and finger-
11 prints, has been completed and is being main-
12 tained in the United Nations Department of 13 Peacekeeping Operations that tracks cases of 14 misconduct, including the outcomes of inves-
15 tigation and subsequent prosecutions, to en-
16 sure that personnel, regardless of category or 17 rank, who have engaged in misconduct or other 18 criminal activities are permanently barred from 19 participation in future peacekeeping operations.

20 (F) A Model Memorandum of Under-
21 standing between the United Nations and each
22 Member State that contributes troops to a
23 peacekeeping operation has been adopted by the 24 United Nations Department of Peacekeeping

1 Operations that specifically obligates each such 2 Member State to—

3 (I) uphold the uniform Code of Con-
4 duct which shall apply equally to all per-
5 sonnel serving in United Nations peace-
6 keeping operations, regardless of category
7 or rank;

8 (ii) designate a competent legal au-
9 thority, preferably a prosecutor with exper-
10 tise in the area of sexual exploitation and 11 abuse where appropriate, to participate in 12 any investigation into an allegation of mis-
13 conduct brought against an individual of 14 such Member State;

15 (iii) refer to its competent national or 16 military authority for possible prosecution,
17 if warranted, any investigation of a viola-
18 tion of the Code of Conduct or other crimi-
19 nal activity by an individual of such Mem-
20 ber State;

21 (iv) report to the Department of 22 Peacekeeping Operations on the outcome
23 of any such investigation;

24 (v) undertake to conduct on-site court
25 martial proceedings, where practical and

1 appropriate, relating to allegations of mis-
2 conduct alleged against an individual of 3 such Member State; and

4 (vi) assume responsibility for the pro-
5 vision of appropriate assistance to a victim
6 of misconduct committed by an individual
7 of such Member State.

8 (G) A professional and independent inves-
9 tigative and audit function has been established
10 within the United Nations Department of 11 Peacekeeping Operations and the OIOS to mon-
12 itor United Nations peacekeeping operations.

3 establish and maintain the Western Hemisphere
4 Regional Coordination Centers under section
5 731.

6 (B) ORGANIZATIONS SPECIFIED.—The or-
7 ganizations referred to in subparagraph (A) are

8 SEC. 721. STATEMENT OF POLICY REGARDING THE PRO-
9 LIFERATION OF WEAPONS-RELATED NU-
10 CLEAR, CHEMICAL, AND BIOLOGICAL MATE-
11 RIALS, TECHNOLOGY, AND FACILITIES.

12 (a) IN GENERAL.—To enhance the prevention of the 13 proliferation of weapons-related nuclear, chemical, and bi-14 ological materials, technology, and facilities, it shall be the 15 policy of the United States to—

16 (1) promote the negotiation and implementation
17 by all countries of—

18 (A) a comprehensive safeguards agreement
19 with the International Atomic Energy Agency
20 (IAEA); and

21 (B) an Additional Protocol to the safe-
22 guards agreement;

23 (2) secure guarantees by all countries of unre-
24 stricted access by IAEA personnel to all nuclear-re-

1 lated materials and facilities in territories under the 2 control of the host country;

3 (3) promote the implementation by all countries
4 of United Nations Security Council Resolution 1540;
5 and

6 (4) promote the accession to and ratification
7 and implementation of—

8 (A) the Convention on the Prohibition of 9 the Development, Production, Stockpiling and 10 Use of Chemical Weapons and on their De-
11 struction (also referred to as the Chemical 12 Weapons Convention);

13 (B) the 1980 IAEA Convention on the 14 Physical Protection of Nuclear Material;

15 (C) the 2005 United Nations International
16 Convention for the Suppression of Acts of Nu-
17 clear Terrorism; and

18 (D) the Convention on the Prohibition of 19 the Development and Stockpiling of Bacterio-
20 logical (Biological) and Toxin Weapons and on 21 their Destruction (also referred to as the Bio-22 logical Weapons Convention).

23 (b) ADDITIONAL PROTOCOL DEFINED.—In this sec-
24 tion, the term “Additional Protocol” means the Protocol
25 Additional to an agreement between a country and the

1 International Atomic Energy Agency for the Application
2 of Safeguards.

3 SEC. 722. STATEMENT OF POLICY REGARDING THE SMALL
4 QUANTITIES PROTOCOL.

5 Because a Small Quantities Protocol (SQP) sets
6 aside many of the operative provisions of a general safe-
7 guards agreement, the ability of the IAEA to verify that
8 nuclear materials and facilities in a country with an SQP
9 are not being diverted for illicit purposes is significantly
10 impaired. For this reason, it shall be the policy of the 11 United States to—

12 (1) oppose the negotiation by the IAEA of an 13 SQP for any country that did not have an SQP as 14 of January 1, 2008; and

15 (2) encourage every country with an SQP to 16 withdraw formally from or renegotiate that agree-
17 ment for the purpose of increasing transparency and 18 eliminating any exemption or provision that could 19 restrict the ability of the IAEA to verify that a
20 country's nuclear materials and facilities are not 21 being diverted to impermissible uses.

1 SEC. 723. SECURING ADHERENCE TO AGREEMENTS RE-
2 GARDING NUCLEAR NONPROLIFERATION BY
3 COUNTRIES IN THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE.

4 (a) IN GENERAL.—The President shall use all avail-
5 able political, economic, and diplomatic tools to ensure
6 that each country in the Western Hemisphere—

7 (1) has signed and implemented a comprehen-
8 sive safeguards agreement with the IAEA;

9 (2) has signed and implemented an Additional 10 Protocol to its safeguards agreement;

11 (3) guarantees unrestricted access for IAEA
12 personnel to all nuclear-related facilities;

13 (4) has implemented the provisions of United 14 Nations Security Council Resolution 1540;

15 (5) has acceded to, ratified, and fully imple-
16 mented the conventions referred to in section
17 22(a)(4);

18 (6) does not negotiate with the IAEA an SQP
19 if that country did not have an SQP as of January
20 1, 2008; and

21 (7) withdraws formally from or renegotiates an 22 SQP agreement if a country has such an agreement.

23 (b) SANCTIONS.—For any Western Hemisphere
24 country that has not satisfied all of the requirements spec-
25 ified in subsection (a), the President is authorized to—

1 (1) suspend United States nonhumanitarian
2 foreign assistance to the government of that country;
3 and

4 (2) prohibit the sale, provision, or transfer of 5 articles, including the issuance of any specific license
6 or grant of any other specific permission or author-
7 ity to export any goods or technology under—

8 (A) the Export Administration Act of 9 1979;

10 (B) the Arms Export Control Act;

11 (C) the Atomic Energy Act of 1954; or

12 (D) any other statute that requires the 13 prior review and approval of the United States
14 Government as a condition for the export or re-
15 export of goods or services.

16 SEC. 724. HALTING THE PROLIFERATION OF NUCLEAR 17 FUEL FABRICATION.

18 (a) STATEMENT OF POLICY.—It shall be the policy
19 of the United States to oppose the development or acquisi-
20 tion by any country of a capacity to fabricate nuclear fuel
21 if such country did not have such capacity as of January
22 1, 2008.

23 (b) PREVENTION OF CAPACITY TO FABRICATE NU-
24 CLEAR FUEL.—The President shall use all available polit-
25 ical, economic, and diplomatic tools, and shall use the

1 voice, vote, and influence of the United States in all inter-
2 national organizations and associations of which it is a
3 member, including the IAEA and the Nuclear Suppliers
4 Group, to prevent the development or acquisition by any 5 country of a capacity to fabricate nuclear fuel if such 6 country did not have such capacity as of January 1, 2008.

7 (c) NUCLEAR TECHNICAL COOPERATION WITH THE 8 IAEA.—The President shall direct the United States Per-
9 manent Representative to the IAEA to use the voice, vote,
10 and influence of the United States at the IAEA to block
11 the allocation of funds for any IAEA development, envi-
12 ronmental, or nuclear science assistance or activity to a 13 country the government of which—

14 (1) the Secretary of State has determined, for 15 purposes of section 6(j) of the Export Administra-
16 tion Act of 1979, section 620A of the Foreign As-
17 sistance Act of 1961, section 40 of the Arms Export
18 Control Act, or other provision of law, is a govern-
19 ment that has repeatedly provided support for acts
20 of international terrorism;

21 (2) is actively cooperating with a government as 22 described in paragraph (1);

23 (3) is under investigation for a breach of or 24 noncompliance with its IAEA obligations or the pur-

1 poses and principles of the Charter of the United
2 Nations; or

3 (4) is in violation of its IAEA obligations or the 4 purposes and principles of the Charter of the United 5 Nations.

6 SEC. 725. COOPERATION WITH THE PROLIFERATION SECU-
7 RITY INITIATIVE.

8 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

9 (1) From its inception on May 31, 2003, the 10 Proliferation Security Initiative, also referred to as 11 the PSI, has repeatedly demonstrated its effective-
12 ness in preventing the proliferation of weapons of 13 mass destruction.

14 (2) In his February 11, 2004, address at the 15 National Defense University regarding additional 16 measures to enhance global efforts against the pro-
17 liferation of weapons of mass destruction President
18 Bush proposed that “the work of the Proliferation
19 Security Initiative be expanded to address more than 20 shipments and transfers. Building on the tools we’ve
21 developed to fight terrorists, we can take direct ac-
22 tion against proliferation networks. We need greater 23 cooperation not just among intelligence and military
24 services, but in law enforcement, as well. PSI par-
25 ticipants and other willing nations should use the

1 Interpol and all other means to bring to justice
2 those who traffic in deadly weapons, to shut down
3 their labs, to seize their materials, to freeze their as-
4 sets. We must act on every lead. We will find the 5 middlemen, the suppliers and the buyers.”.

6 (3) The number of countries participating in 7 PSI has steadily increased, thereby greatly enhanc-
8 ing its effectiveness.

9 (4) Many countries in the Western Hemisphere
10 formally or informally cooperate with the PSI.

11 (5) Expanded law enforcement cooperation
12 throughout the Western Hemisphere, including by 13 means of greater coordination of policies, improved
14 communications, and enhanced capabilities would
15 significantly promote the objectives of the PSI.

16 (b) SENSE OF CONGRESS CONCERNING STRENGTH-
17 ENING COOPERATION REGARDING NONPROLIFERA-
18 TION.—It is the sense of Congress that—

19 (1) it is in the national security interest of the 20 United States to establish comprehensive coopera-
21 tion to prevent the proliferation of nuclear, chemical,
22 and biological materials in the Western Hemisphere;
23 and

24 (2) the Secretary of State should seek to secure
25 the formal or informal cooperation by Western

1 Hemisphere countries for the purpose of securing
2 the goals of the Proliferation Security Initiative an-
3 nounced by the President on May 31, 2003.

4 SEC. 726. ESTABLISHMENT OF THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE

16 (b) PURPOSE.—

17 (1) IN GENERAL.—The NPI shall—

18 (A) encourage the establishment of con-

23 United States Government and in other partici-
24 pating countries; and

1 (B) encourage bilateral and multilateral
2 support, cooperation, and coordination of na-

4 and in-depth cooperation to counter the illicit 5 acquisition or trade of weapons-related nuclear,
6 chemical, or biological materials, technology, or
7 facilities.

8 (2) COOPERATIVE PROGRAMS.—The cooperative
9 programs referred to under paragraph (1)(B) shall 10 include the following:

13 the development and operation of NPI pro-
14 grams.

15 (B) Assistance in developing a comprehen-
16 sive legal and regulatory framework in each
17 country, as appropriate, to enable the establish-
18 ment and effective implementation of export
19 controls and the capacity to track nuclear,
20 chemical, and biological materials, equipment,
21 technology, and facilities.

22 (C) Provision of equipment, development of 23 infrastructure, and the acquisition of other re-
24 sources required by participating countries to

9 carrying out policies aimed at undermining United States
10 national security interests or is not cooperating fully with 11 United States nonproliferation efforts.

12 (b) WAIVER.—The President may waive the prohibi-
13 tion under subsection (a) with respect to a specific trans-
14 action if the President determines that such transaction 15 is important to the national security interests of the 16 United States.

17 SEC. 728. RESTRICTIONS ON NUCLEAR COOPERATION WITH 18 COUNTRIES ASSISTING THE NUCLEAR PRO-
19 GRAM OF VENEZUELA OR CUBA.

20 (a) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding any other provi-
21 sion of law or any international agreement, no agreement
22 for cooperation between the United States and the govern-
23 ment of any country that is assisting the nuclear program
24 of Venezuela or Cuba or transferring advanced conven-
25 tional weapons or missiles to Venezuela or Cuba may be

1 submitted to the President or to Congress pursuant to sec-
2 tion 123 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 (42 U.S.C.
3 2153), no such agreement may enter into force with such 4 country, no license may be issued for export directly or

7 that would be subject to such agreement, and no approval
8 may be given for the transfer or retransfer directly or indi-

11 would be subject to such agreement, until the President
12 determines and reports to the Committee on Foreign Af-
13 fairs of the House of Representatives and the Committee
14 on Foreign Relations of the Senate that the government
15 of the country that is assisting the nuclear program of 16 Venezuela or Cuba or transferring advanced conventional 17 weapons or missiles to Venezuela or Cuba—

8 This subtitle may be cited as the “Defense Trade
9 Controls Performance Improvement Act of 2009”.

10 SEC. 802. FINDINGS.

11 Congress finds the following:

12 (1) In a time of international terrorist threats
13 and a dynamic global economic and security environ-
14 ment, United States policy with regard to export
15 controls is in urgent need of a comprehensive review
16 in order to ensure such controls are protecting the 17 national security and foreign policy interests of the 18 United States.

19 (2) In January 2007, the Government Account-
20 ability Office designated the effective identification
21 and protection of critical technologies as a govern-
22 ment-wide, high-risk area, warranting a strategic re-
23 examination of existing programs, including pro-
24 grams relating to arms export controls.

1 (3) Federal Government agencies must review
2 licenses for export of munitions in a thorough and
3 timely manner to ensure that the United States is
4 able to assist United States allies and to prevent nu-
5 clear and conventional weapons from getting into the
6 hands of enemies of the United States.

7 (4) Both staffing and funding that relate to the
8 Department of State's arms export control respon-
9 sibilities have not kept pace with the increased work-
10 load relating to such responsibilities, especially dur-
11 ing the current decade.

12 (5) Outsourcing and off-shoring of defense pro-
13 duction and the policy of many United States trad-
14 ing partners to require offsets for major sales of de-
15 fense and aerospace articles present a potential
16 threat to United States national security and eco-
17 nomic well-being and serve to weaken the defense in-
18 dustrial base.

19 (6) Export control policies can have a negative
20 impact on United States employment, nonprolifera-
21 tion goals, and the health of the defense industrial
22 base, particularly when facilitating the overseas
23 transfer of technology or production and other forms
24 of outsourcing, such as offsets (direct and indirect),
25 co-production, subcontracts, overseas investment and

1 joint ventures in defense and commercial industries.
2 Federal Government agencies must develop new and
3 effective procedures for ensuring that export control
4 systems address these problems and the threat they
5 pose to national security.

6 (7) In the report to Congress required by the
7 Conference Report (Report 109–272) accompanying
8 the bill, H.R. 2862 (the Science, State, Justice,
9 Commerce and Related Agencies Appropriations Act,
10 2006; Public Law 109–108), the Department of
11 State concluded that—

12 (A) defense trade licensing has become
13 much more complex in recent years as a con-
14 sequence of the increasing globalization of the 15 defense industry;

16 (B) the most important challenge to the
17 Department of State’s licensing process has
18 been the sheer growth in volume of applicants
19 for licenses and agreements, without the cor-
20 responding increase in licensing officers; and

21 (C) the increase in licensing volume with-
22 out a corresponding increase in trained and ex-
23 periented personnel has resulted in delays and 24 increased processing times.

1 (8) In 2006, the Department of State processed
2 over three times as many licensing applications as
3 the Department of Commerce with about a fifth of
4 the staff of the Department of Commerce.

5 (9) On July 27, 2007, in testimony delivered to
6 the Subcommittee on Terrorism, Nonproliferation
7 and Trade of the Committee on Foreign Affairs of
8 the House of Representatives to examine the effec-
9 tiveness of the United States export control regime,
10 the Government Accountability Office found that—

11 (A) the United States Government needs
12 to conduct assessments to determine its overall
13 effectiveness in the area of arms export control;
14 and

15 (B) the processing times of the Depart-
16 ment of State doubled over the period from
17 2002 to 2006.

18 (10)(A) Allowing a continuation of the status
19 quo in resources for defense trade licensing could ul-
20 timately harm the United States defense industrial
21 base. The 2007 Institute for Defense Analysis report
22 entitled “Export Controls and the U.S. Defense In-
23 dustrial Base” found that the large backlog and long
24 processing times by the Department of State for ap-
25 plications for licenses to export defense items led to

1 an impairment of United States firms in some sec-
2 tors to conduct global business relative to foreign
3 competitors.

4 (B) Additionally, the report found that United
5 States commercial firms have been reluctant to en-
6 gage in research and development activities for the
7 Department of Defense because this raises the fu-
8 ture prospects that the products based on this re-
9 search and development, even if intrinsically com-
10 mercial, will be saddled by Department of State mu-
11 nitions controls due to the link to that research.

12 (11) According to the Department of State's
13 fiscal year 2008 budget justification to Congress,
14 commercial exports licensed or approved under the
15 Arms Export Control Act exceeded
16 $30,000,000,000, with nearly eighty percent of these
17 items exported to United States NATO allies and
18 other major non-NATO allies.

19 (12) A Government Accountability Office report
20 of October 9, 2001 (GAO-02-120), documented am-
21 biguous export control jurisdiction affecting 25 per-
22 cent of the items that the United States Government
23 agreed to control as part of its commitments to the 24 Missile Technology Control Regime. The United
25 States Government has not clearly determined which

1 department has jurisdiction over these items, which
2 increases the risk that these items will fall into the
3 wrong hands. During both the 108th, 109th, and
4 110th Congresses, the House of Representatives
5 passed legislation mandating that the Administra-
6 tion clarify this issue.

7 (13) During 2007 and 2008, the management
8 and staff of the Directorate of Defense Trade Con-
9 trols of the Department of State have, through ex-
10 traordinary effort and dedication, eliminated the
11 large backlog of open applications and have reduced
12 average processing times for license applications;
13 however, the Directorate remains understaffed and
14 long delays remain for complicated cases.

15 SEC. 803. STRATEGIC REVIEW AND ASSESSMENT OF THE 16 UNITED STATES EXPORT CONTROLS SYSTEM.

17 (a) REVIEW AND ASSESSMENT.—

18 (1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than March 31,
19 2010, the President shall conduct a comprehensive
20 and systematic review and assessment of the United
21 States arms export controls system in the context of 22 the national security interests and strategic foreign
23 policy objectives of the United States.

24 (2) ELEMENTS.—The review and assessment
25 required under paragraph (1) shall—

1 (A) determine the overall effectiveness of
2 the United States arms export controls system
3 in order to, where appropriate, strengthen con-
4 trols, improve efficiency, and reduce unneces-
5 sary redundancies across Federal Government
6 agencies, through administrative actions, in-
7 cluding regulations, and to formulate legislative
8 proposals for new authorities that are needed;

9 (B) develop processes to ensure better co-
10 ordination of arms export control activities of
11 the Department of State with activities of other
12 departments and agencies of the United States
13 that are responsible for enforcing United States
14 arms export control laws;

15 (C) ensure that weapons-related nuclear
16 technology, other technology related to weapons
17 of mass destruction, and all items on the Mis-
18 sile Technology Control Regime Annex are sub-
19 ject to stringent control by the United States
20 Government;

21 (D) determine the overall effect of arms
22 export controls on counterterrorism, law en-
23 forcement, and infrastructure protection mis-
24 sions of the Department of Homeland Security;

1 (E) determine the effects of export controls
2 policies and the practices of the export control
3 agencies on the United States defense industrial
4 base and United States employment in the in-
5 dustries affected by export controls;

6 (F) contain a detailed summary of known
7 attempts by unauthorized end-users (such as
8 international arms traffickers, foreign intel-
9 ligence agencies, and foreign terrorist organiza-
10 tions) to acquire items on the United States
11 Munitions List and related technical data,
12 including—

13 (I) data on—

14 (I) commodities sought, such as
15 M-4 rifles, night vision devices, F-14
16 spare parts;

17 (II) parties involved, such as the
18 intended end-users, brokers, con-
19 signees, and shippers;

20 (III) attempted acquisition of
21 technology and technical data critical
22 to manufacture items on the United
23 States Munitions List;

24 (IV) destination countries and
25 transit countries;

- 1 (V) modes of transport;
- 2 (VI) trafficking methods, such as
3 use of false documentation and front
4 companies registered under flags of
5 convenience;
- 6 (VII) whether the attempted il-
7 licit transfer was successful; and
- 8 (VIII) any administrative or
9 criminal enforcement actions taken by
10 the United States and any other gov-
11 ernment in relation to the attempted
12 illicit transfer;
- 13 (ii) a thorough evaluation of the Blue
14 Lantern Program, including the adequacy
15 of current staffing and funding levels;
- 16 (iii) a detailed analysis of licensing ex-
17 emptions and their successful exploitation
18 by unauthorized end-users; and
- 19 (iv) an examination of the extent to
20 which the increased tendency toward
21 outsourcing and off-shoring of defense pro-
22 duction harm United States national secu-
23 rity and weaken the defense industrial
24 base, including direct and indirect impact
25 on employment, and formulate policies to

1 address these trends as well as the policy
2 of some United States trading partners to
3 require offsets for major sales of defense
4 articles; and

5 (G) assess the extent to which export con-
6 trol policies and practices under the Arms Ex-
7 port Control Act promote the protection of
8 basic human rights.

9 (b) CONGRESSIONAL BRIEFINGS.—The President
10 shall provide periodic briefings to the appropriate congres-
11 sional committees on the progress of the review and as-
12 sessment conducted under subsection (a). The require-
13 ment to provide congressional briefings under this sub-
14 section shall terminate on the date on which the President
15 transmits to the appropriate congressional committees the
16 report required under subsection (c).

17 (c) REPORT.—Not later than 18 months after the
18 date of the enactment of this Act, the President shall 19 transmit to the appropriate congressional committees and
20 the Committee on Armed Services of the House of Rep-
21 resentatives and the Committee on Armed Services of the 22 Senate a report that contains the results of the review and
23 assessment conducted under subsection (a). The report re-
24 quired by this subsection shall contain a certification that
25 the requirement of subsection (a)(2)(C) has been met, or

1 if the requirement has not been met, the reasons therefor.
2 The report required by this subsection shall be submitted
3 in unclassified form, but may contain a classified annex,
4 if necessary.

5 SEC. 804. PERFORMANCE GOALS FOR PROCESSING OF AP-
6 PLICATIONS FOR LICENSES TO EXPORT
7 ITEMS ON UNITED STATES MUNITIONS LIST.

8 (a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of State, acting
9 through the head of the Directorate of Defense Trade
10 Controls of the Department of State, shall establish and
11 maintain the following goals:

12 (1) The processing time for review of each ap-
13 plication for a license to export items on the United
14 States Munitions List (other than a Manufacturing
15 License Agreement) shall be not more than 60 days
16 from the date of receipt of the application.

17 (2) The processing time for review of each ap-
18 plication for a commodity jurisdiction determination
19 shall be not more than 60 days from the date of re-
20 ceipt of the application.

21 (3) The total number of applications described
22 in paragraph (1) that are unprocessed shall be not
23 more than 7 percent of the total number of such ap-
24 plications submitted in the preceding calendar year.

1 (b) ADDITIONAL REVIEW.—(1) If an application de-
2 scribed in paragraph (1) or (2) of subsection (a) is not
3 processed within the time period described in the respec-
4 tive paragraph of such subsection, then the Managing Di-
5 rector of the Directorate of Defense Trade Controls or the
6 Deputy Assistant Secretary for Defense Trade and Re-
7 gional Security of the Department of State, as appro-
8 priate, shall review the status of the application to deter-
9 mine if further action is required to process the applica-
10 tion.

11 (2) If an application described in paragraph (1) or 12 (2) of subsection (a) is not processed within 90 days from
13 the date of receipt of the application, then the Assistant
14 Secretary for Political-Military Affairs of the Department
15 of State shall—

16 (A) review the status of the application to de-
17 termine if further action is required to process the 18 application; and

19 (B) submit to the appropriate congressional
20 committees a notification of the review conducted
21 under subparagraph (A), including a description of
22 the application, the reason for delay in processing
23 the application, and a proposal for further action to 24 process the application.

1 (3) For each calendar year, the Managing Director
2 of the Directorate of Defense Trade Controls shall review
3 not less than 2 percent of the total number of applications
4 described in paragraphs (1) and (2) of subsection (a) to
5 ensure that the processing of such applications, including
6 decisions to approve, deny, or return without action, is
7 consistent with both policy and regulatory requirements
8 of the Department of State.

9 (c) STATEMENTS OF POLICY.—

10 (1) UNITED STATES ALLIES.—Congress states
11 that—

12 (A) it shall be the policy of the Directorate
13 of Defense Trade Controls of the Department
14 of State to ensure that, to the maximum extent
15 practicable, the processing time for review of
16 applications described in subsection (a)(1) to
17 export items that are not subject to the require-
18 ments of section 36 (b) or (c) of the Arms Ex-
19 port Control Act (22 U.S.C. 2776 (b) or (c)) to
20 United States allies in direct support of combat
21 operations or peacekeeping or humanitarian op-
22 erations with United States Armed Forces is
23 not more than 7 days from the date of receipt
24 of the application; and

1 (B) it shall be the goal, as appropriate, of
2 the Directorate of Defense Trade Controls to
3 ensure that, to the maximum extent practicable,
4 the processing time for review of applications
5 described in subsection (a)(1) to export items
6 that are not subject to the requirements of sec-
7 tion 36 (b) or (c) of the Arms Export Control
8 Act to government security agencies of United
9 States NATO allies, Australia, New Zealand,
10 Japan, South Korea, Israel, and, as appro-
11 priate, other major non-NATO allies for any
12 purpose other than the purpose described in
13 paragraph (1) is not more than 30 days from
14 the date of receipt of the application.

15 (2) PRIORITY FOR APPLICATIONS FOR EXPORT
16 OF U.S.-ORIGIN EQUIPMENT.—In meeting the goals
17 established by this section, it shall be the policy of
18 the Directorate of Defense Trade Controls of the
19 Department of State to prioritize the processing of
20 applications for licenses and agreements necessary
21 for the export of United States-origin equipment
22 over applications for Manufacturing License Agree-
23 ments.

24 (d) REPORT.—Not later than December 31, 2011,
25 and December 31, 2012, the Secretary of State shall sub-

1 mit to the appropriate congressional committees a report
2 that contains a detailed description of—

3 (1)(A) the average processing time for and
4 number of applications described in subsection
5 (a)(1) to—

6 (I) United States NATO allies, Australia,
7 New Zealand, Japan, South Korea, and Israel;

8 (ii) other major non-NATO allies; and

9 (iii) all other countries; and

10 (B) to the extent practicable, the average pro-
11 cessing time for and number of applications described 12 in subsection (b)(1) by item category;

13 (2) the average processing time for and number
14 of applications described in subsection (a)(2);

15 (3) the average processing time for and number
16 of applications for agreements described in part 124
17 of title 22, Code of Federal Regulations (relating to 18 the International Traffic in Arms Regulations (other
19 than Manufacturing License Agreements));

20 (4) the average processing times for applica-
21 tions for Manufacturing License Agreements;

22 (5) any management decisions of the Direc-
23 torate of Defense Trade Controls of the Department
24 of State that have been made in response to data
25 contained in paragraphs (1) through (3); and

1 (6) any advances in technology that will allow
2 the time-frames described in subsection (a)(1) to be
3 substantially reduced.

4 (e) CONGRESSIONAL BRIEFINGS.—If, at the end of
5 any month beginning after the date of the enactment of
6 this Act, the total number of applications described in sub-
7 section (a)(1) that are unprocessed is more than 7 percent
8 of the total number of such applications submitted in the
9 preceding calendar year, then the Secretary of State, act-
10 ing through the Under Secretary for Arms Control and
11 International Security, the Assistant Secretary for Polit-
12 ical-Military Affairs, or the Deputy Assistant Secretary
13 for Defense Trade and Regional Security of the Depart-
14 ment of State, as appropriate, shall brief the appropriate
15 congressional committees on such matters and the correc-
16 tive measures that the Directorate of Defense Trade Con-
17 trols will take to comply with the requirements of sub-
18 section (a).

19 (f) TRANSPARENCY OF COMMODITY JURISDICTION
20 DETERMINATIONS.—

21 (1) DECLARATION OF POLICY.—Congress de-
22 clares that the complete confidentiality surrounding
23 several hundred commodity jurisdiction determina-
24 tions made each year by the Department of State
25 pursuant to the International Traffic in Arms Regu-

1 lations is not necessary to protect legitimate propri-
2 etary interests of persons or their prices and cus-
3 tomers, is not in the best security and foreign policy
4 interests of the United States, is inconsistent with
5 the need to ensure a level playing field for United
6 States exporters, and detracts from United States
7 efforts to promote greater transparency and respon-
8 sibility by other countries in their export control sys-
9 tems.

10 (2) PUBLICATION ON INTERNET WEBSITE.—

11 The Secretary of State shall—

12 (A) upon making a commodity jurisdiction
13 determination referred to in paragraph (1) pub-
14 lish on the Internet website of the Department
15 of State not later than 30 days after the date
16 of the determination—

17 (I) the name of the manufacturer of
18 the item;

19 (ii) a brief general description of the 20 item;

21 (iii) the model or part number of the 22 item; and

23 (iv) the United States Munitions List
24 designation under which the item has been
25 designated, except that—

1 (I) the name of the person or
2 business organization that sought the
3 commodity jurisdiction determination
4 shall not be published if the person or
5 business organization is not the man-
6 ufacturer of the item; and

7 (II) the names of the customers,
8 the price of the item, and any propri-
9 etary information relating to the item
10 indicated by the person or business
11 organization that sought the com-
12 modity jurisdiction determination
13 shall not be published; and

14 (B) maintain on the Internet website of
15 the Department of State an archive, that is ac-
16 cessible to the general public and other depart-
17 ments and agencies of the United States, of the 18 information published under subparagraph (A).

19 (g) RULE OF CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in this sec-
20 tion shall be construed to prohibit the President or Con-
21 gress from undertaking a thorough review of the national
22 security and foreign policy implications of a proposed ex-
23 port of items on the United States Munitions List.

1 SEC. 805. REQUIREMENT TO ENSURE ADEQUATE STAFF

11 For fiscal year 2011 and each subsequent fiscal year, the
12 Secretary of State shall ensure that the Directorate of De-

14 every 1,250 applications for licenses and other authoriza-
15 tions to export items on the United States Munitions List
16 by not later than the third quarter of such fiscal year,
17 based on the number of licenses and other authorizations
18 expected to be received during such fiscal year. The Sec-

5 with section 127.4 of title 22, Code of Federal Regula-
6 tions, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement is au-
7 thorized to investigate violations of the International Traf-
8 fic in Arms Regulations on behalf of the Directorate of 9 Defense Trade Controls of the Department of State. The
10 Secretary of State shall ensure that the Directorate of De-
11 fense Trade Controls has adequate staffing for enforce-
12 ment of the International Traffic in Arms Regulations.

13 SEC. 806. AUDIT BY INSPECTOR GENERAL OF THE DEPART-
14 MENT OF STATE.

22 contains the result of each audit conducted under sub-
23 section (a).

20 adequate staff and resources of the Directorate of 21 Defense Trade Controls)),

22 “(3) compliance,

24 “(5) facilities,

25 of defense trade controls functions.”; and

26 (3) by adding at the end the following:

3 retary of State shall accord the highest priority to pay-
4 ment of expenses incurred for personnel and equipment
5 of the Directorate of Defense Trade Controls, including
6 payment of expenses incurred to meet the requirements
7 of section 805 of the Defense Trade Controls Performance

9 (b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 38(b) of 10 the Arms Export Control Act (22 U.S.C. 2778(b)) is 11 amended by striking paragraph (3).

12 SEC. 808. REVIEW OF INTERNATIONAL TRAFFIC IN ARMS
13 REGULATIONS AND UNITED STATES MUNI-
14 TIONS LIST.

15 (a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of State, in coordi-
16 nation with the heads of other relevant departments and 17 agencies of the United States Government, shall review,
18 with the assistance of United States manufacturers and 19 other interested parties described in section 811(2) of this 20 Act, the International Traffic in Arms Regulations and 21 the United States Munitions List to determine those tech-
22 nologies and goods that warrant different or additional 23 controls.

24 (b) CONDUCT OF REVIEW.—In carrying out the re-
25 view required under subsection (a), the Secretary of State

1 shall review not less than 20 percent of the technologies
2 and goods on the International Traffic in Arms Regula-
3 tions and the United States Munitions List in each cal-
4 endar year so that for the 5-year period beginning with 8 entirety.

9 (c) REPORT.—The Secretary of State shall submit to 10 the appropriate congressional committees and the Com-
11 mittee on Armed Services of the House of Representatives
12 and the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate an 13 annual report on the results of the review carried out
14 under this section.

15 SEC. 809. SPECIAL LICENSING AUTHORIZATION FOR CER-
16 TAIN EXPORTS TO NATO MEMBER STATES,
17 AUSTRALIA, JAPAN, NEW ZEALAND, ISRAEL,
18 AND SOUTH KOREA.

19 (a) IN GENERAL.—Section 38 of the Arms Export
20 Control Act (22 U.S.C. 2778) is amended by adding at 21 the end the following:

22 “(k) SPECIAL LICENSING AUTHORIZATION FOR CER-
23 TAIN EXPORTS TO NATO MEMBER STATES, AUSTRALIA,
24 JAPAN, NEW ZEALAND, ISRAEL, AND SOUTH KOREA.—

1 “(1) AUTHORIZATION.—(A) The President may
2 provide for special licensing authorization for exports
3 of United States-manufactured spare and replace-
4 ment parts or components listed in an application
5 for such special licensing authorization in connection
6 with defense items previously exported to NATO
7 member states, Australia, Japan, New Zealand,
8 Israel, and South Korea. A special licensing author-
9 ization issued pursuant to this clause shall be effec-
10 tive for a period not to exceed 5 years.

11 “(B) An authorization may be issued under 12 subparagraph (A) only if the applicable government
13 of the country described in subparagraph (A), acting
14 through the applicant for the authorization, certifies
15 that—

16 “(I) the export of spare and replacement
17 parts or components supports a defense item
18 previously lawfully exported;

19 “(ii) the spare and replacement parts or 20 components will be transferred to a defense
21 agency of a country described in subparagraph
22 (A) that is a previously approved end-user of 23 the defense items and not to a distributor or a
24 foreign consignee of such defense items;

1 “(iii) the spare and replacement parts or

18 TIVE

19 SEC. 901. COORDINATOR OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT
20 ACTIVITIES TO IMPLEMENT THE MERIDA INI-
21 TIATIVE.

22 (a) DECLARATION OF POLICY.—Congress declares
23 that the Merida Initiative is a Department of State-led
24 initiative which combines the programs of numerous
25 United States Government departments and agencies and

1 therefore requires a single individual to coordinate and
2 track all Merida Initiative-related efforts government-wide
3 to avoid duplication, coordinate messaging, and facilitate
4 accountability to and communication with Congress.

5 (b) DESIGNATION OF HIGH-LEVEL COORDINATOR.—

6 (1) IN GENERAL.—The President shall des-
7 ignate, within the Department of State, a Coordi-
8 nator of United States Government Activities to Im-
9 plement the Merida Initiative (hereafter in this sec-
10 tion referred to as the “Coordinator”) who shall be
11 responsible for—

12 (A) designing and shaping an overall strat-
13 egy for the Merida Initiative;

14 (B) ensuring program and policy coordina-
15 tion among United States Government depart-
16 ments and agencies in carrying out the Merida
17 Initiative, including avoiding duplication among
18 programs and ensuring that a consistent mes-
19 sage emanates from the United States Govern-
20 ment;

21 (C) ensuring that efforts of the United
22 States Government are in full consonance with
23 the efforts of the countries within the Merida
24 Initiative;

1 (D) tracking, in coordination with the rel-
2 evant officials of the Department of Defense
3 and other departments and agencies, United
4 States assistance programs that fulfill the goals
5 of the Merida Initiative or are closely related to
6 the goals of the Merida Initiative, including to
7 the extent possible, tracking information re-
8 quired under the second section 620J of the
9 Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C.
10 2378d) (as added by section 651 of division J
11 of Public Law 110–161) with respect to coun-
12 tries participating in the Merida Initiative; and

13 (E) consulting with the Attorney General
14 and the Secretary of Homeland Security with
15 respect to the activities of Federal, State, and
16 local law enforcement authorities in the United
17 States relating to the goals of the Merida Ini-
18 tiative, particularly along the United States-
19 Mexico border.

20 (2) RANK AND STATUS OF THE COORDI-
21 NATOR.—The Coordinator should have the rank and
22 status of ambassador.

23 SEC. 902. ADDING THE CARIBBEAN TO THE MERIDA INITIA-
24 TIVE.

25 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

1 (1) The illicit drug trade – which has taken a
2 toll on the small countries of the Caribbean Commu-
3 nity (CARICOM) for many years – is now moving
4 even more aggressively into these countries.

5 (2) A March 2007 joint report by the United
6 Nations Office on Drugs and Crime (UNODC) and
7 the World Bank noted that murder rates in the Car-
8ibbean – at 30 per 100,000 population annually –
9 are higher than for any other region of the world
10 and have risen in recent years for many of the re-
11gion’s countries. The report also argues that the 12 strongest explanation for the high crime and violence
13 rates in the Caribbean and their rise in recent years
14 is drug trafficking.

15 (3) If the United States does not move quickly
16 to provide Merida Initiative assistance to the
17 CARICOM countries, the positive results of the 18 Merida Initiative in Mexico and Central America will
19 move the drug trade deeper into the Caribbean and
20 multiply the already alarming rates of violence.

21 (b) CONSULTATIONS.—Not later than 60 days after
22 the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of
23 State is authorized to consult with the countries of the 24 Caribbean Community (CARICOM) in preparation for
25 their inclusion into the Merida Initiative.

1 (c) INCORPORATION OF CARICOM COUNTRIES INTO
2 THE MERIDA INITIATIVE.—The President is authorized to
3 incorporate the CARICOM countries into the Merida Ini-
4 tiative.

5 SEC. 903. CARICOM COUNTRY DEFINED.

11 tus in CARICOM;

12 (2) a country the government of which the Sec-
13 retary of State has determined, for purposes of sec-
14 tion 6(j) of the Export Administration Act of 1979
15 (as continued in effect pursuant to the International 16 Emergency Economic Powers Act), section 40 of the 18 eign Assistance Act of 1961, or any other provision

19 of law, is a government that has repeatedly provided
20 support for acts of international terrorism; or

15 European Union, its member-states, and the entire inter-

1 TITLE XI—MISCELLANEOUS
2 PROVISIONS

3 SEC. 1101. ASSISTANCE TO SUPPORT MEASURES FOR THE 4 REUNIFICATION OF CYPRUS.

5 (a) ASSISTANCE AUTHORIZED.—The President is au-
6 thORIZED to provide assistance under this Act and the For-
7 eign Assistance Act of 1961 to support measures aimed
8 at the reunification of Cyprus.

9 (b) CONSULTATION.—The President shall, to the 10 maximum extent practicable, consult with the Government
11 of the Republic of Cyprus with respect to the provision 12 of assistance under subsection (a) in order to ensure the 13 transparency of such assistance.

14 (c) REPORT.—The President shall transmit to the 15 appropriate congressional committees a report on the im-
16 plementation of this section for each of the fiscal years
17 2010 and 2011. The report shall include a description of

19 jectives of the programs and activities for which the assist-

22 of Cyprus.

23 (d) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—Of the

3 to be appropriated to the President such sums as may be

5 carry out this section.

6 SEC. 1102. LIMITATION ON ASSISTANCE TO THE FORMER
7 YUGOSLAV REPUBLIC OF MACEDONIA.

8 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

9 (1) Greece has demonstrated an enormous good
10 will gesture in agreeing that “Macedonia” may be 11 included in the future name of the Former Yugoslav
12 Republic of Macedonia (FYROM) as long as that 13 term is combined with a geographic qualifier that 14 makes it clear that there are no territorial ambitions
15 on the part of the FYROM with regard to the his-
16 torical boundaries of the Greek province of Mac-
17 edonia.

18 (2) The FYROM continues to utilize materials
19 that violate provisions of the United Nations-bro-
20 kered Interim Agreement between the FYROM and 21 Greece regarding hostile activities or propaganda,
22 and has failed to work with the United Nations and 23 Greece to achieve the longstanding goals of the 24 United States and the United Nations to find a mu-
25 tually-acceptable, new official name for the FYROM.

1 (b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Con-
2 gress that amounts authorized to be appropriated under 3 this Act or the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 for the 4 FYROM should be conditioned on the FYROM's willing-
5 ness to engage in meaningful discussions with Greece in 6 accordance with United Nations Security Council Resolu-
7 tion 817.

8 (c) LIMITATION.—None of the funds authorized to be 9 appropriated under this Act or the Foreign Assistance Act
10 of 1961 may be made available to the FYROM for pro-
11 grams and activities that directly or indirectly promote 12 hostile activities or propaganda by state-controlled agen-
13 cies of the FYROM or encourage acts by private entities
14 likely to incite violence, hatred or hostility, including sup-
15 port for printing and publishing of textbooks, maps, and 16 teaching aids that may include inaccurate information on 17 the histories and geographies of Greece and FYROM.

18 (d) REPORT.—The President shall transmit to the
19 appropriate congressional committees a report on the im-
20 plementation of this section for each of the fiscal years
21 2010 and 2011. The report shall include a description of 22 the recipients of assistance provided to the FYROM under 23 this Act and the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, the ob-
24 jectives of the programs and activities for which the assist-
25 ance is provided, and the role of United States-funded pro-

1 grams and activities in helping achieve an agreement be-
2 tween Greece and the FYROM on an acceptable name for 3 the FYROM.

4 SEC. 1103. STATEMENT OF POLICY REGARDING THE ECU-
5 MENICAL PATRIARCHATE.

6 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

7 (1) The Ecumenical Patriarchate is the spir-
8 itual home of the world's oldest and second largest 9 Christian Church.

10 (2) Within the 2,000 year old Sacred See of the 11 Ecumenical Patriarchate, the New Testament was 12 codified and the Nicene Creed was created.

13 (3) Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew is one
14 of the world's preeminent spiritual leaders and 15 peacemakers representing over 300 million Orthodox
16 Christians worldwide.

17 (4) The disappearance of the Sacred See would 18 mean the end of a crucial link between the Christian
19 and the Muslim world since the continuing presence
20 of the Ecumenical Patriarchate in Turkey is a living
21 testimony of religious co-existence since 1453.

22 (5) The Ecumenical Patriarchate has a record
23 of reaching out and working for peace and reconcili-
24 ation amongst all faiths and has fostered dialogue
25 among Christians, Jews, and Muslims.

1 (6) The Ecumenical Patriarchate co-sponsored
2 the Peace and Tolerance Conference in Istanbul
3 which issued the Bosphorus Declaration that stated,
4 “A crime committed in the name of religion is a
5 crime against religion.”.

6 (7) The Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew
7 stated in Brussels in 2004, “The Ecumenical Patri-
8 archate is a supranational ecclesiastical institution .
9 . . which demonstrates religious tolerance as a beau-
10 tiful reality. For we bear respect toward all of our 11 humans, irrespective of their faith. Without any 12 trace of fanaticism or discrimination on account of 13 differences of religion, we coexist peacefully and in 14 a spirit that honors each and every human being.”.

15 (8) The Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew has 16 called for the admission of Turkey into the Euro-
17 pean Union because, “. . . it may provide a concrete
18 example and a powerful symbol of mutually bene-
19 ficial cooperation between the western and Islamic 20 worlds and put an end to the talk of the clash of civ-
21 ilizations. This in turn would be a true strength-
22 ening of Europe and the European ideals that con-
23 verge with the values of the ‘pilgrims of the book’
24 spoken of by the current Prime Minister of Tur-
25 key.”.

1 (9) In 1993 the European Union defined the
2 membership criteria for accession to the European 3 Union at the Copenhagen European Council, obli-
4 gating candidate countries to have achieved certain
5 levels of reform, including stability of institutions
6 guaranteeing democracy, the rule of law, and human
7 rights, and respect for and protection of minorities.

8 (10) Under the terms of the draft European
9 Union Constitution, current, and prospective mem-
10 ber states should have the goal of eliminating dis-
11 crimination based on sex, race, color, ethnic or social 12 origin, genetic features, language, religion or belief,
13 political or any other opinion, membership of a na-
14 tional minority, property, birth, disability, age, or 15 sexual orientation.

16 (11) The Turkish Constitution secures religious
17 rights for all Turkish citizens.

18 (12) The Government of Turkey has failed to 19 recognize the Ecumenical Patriarchate's inter-
20 national status.

21 (13) The Government of Turkey has limited to 22 Turkish nationals the candidates available to the 23 Holy Synod of the Greek Orthodox Church for selec-
24 tion as the Ecumenical Patriarchate and reneged on 25 its agreement to reopen the Theological School at

1 Halki, thus impeding training for the Orthodox cler-
2 gy in Turkey.

3 (14) The Government of Turkey has confiscated
4 75 percent of the Ecumenical Patriarchate prop-
5 erties and has placed a 42 percent retroactive tax on 6 the Balukli Hospital of Istanbul which is operated
7 by the Ecumenical Patriarchate.

8 (15) The European Council has agreed to open
9 accession negotiations with Turkey, conditional upon
10 the continuation by Turkey of reform processes to 11 increase protection and support for human rights
12 and civil liberties.

13 (b) STATEMENT OF POLICY.—The United States
14 calls on the Republic of Turkey to—

15 (1) based on the goals set forth in the draft of 16 the European Union Constitution, eliminate all 17 forms of discrimination, particularly those based on 18 race or religion, and immediately—

19 (A) grant the Ecumenical Patriarchate ap-
20 propriate international recognition and eccle-
21 siastic succession;

22 (B) grant the Ecumenical Patriarchate the 23 right to train clergy of all nationalities, not just 24 Turkish nationals; and

- 1 (C) respect the human rights and property
2 rights of the Ecumenical Patriarchate;
- 3 (2) pledge to uphold and safeguard religious 4 and human rights without compromise;
- 5 (3) continue the achievement of processes and 6 programs to modernize and democratize its society;
7 and
- 8 (4) respect international law and the basic tenets
9 of human rights.

10 SEC. 1104. FREEDOM OF THE PRESS.

11 (a) SHORT TITLE.—This section may be cited as the

7 progress made as a result of those efforts;

8 “(B) an identification of countries in which
9 there were violations of freedom of the press,
10 including direct physical attacks, imprisonment,
11 indirect sources of pressure, and censorship by
12 governments, military, intelligence, or police
13 forces, criminal groups, or armed extremist or
14 rebel groups; and

15 “(C) in countries where there are particu-
16 larly severe violations of freedom of the press—

17 “(I) whether government authorities
18 of each such country participate in, facili-
19 tate, or condone such violations of the free-
20 dom of the press; and

21 “(ii) what steps the government of
22 each such country has taken to preserve
23 the safety and independence of the media,
24 and to ensure the prosecution of those in-

1 dividuals who attack or murder journal-
2 ists.”; and

3 (2) in section 502B (22 U.S.C. 2304), by add-
4 ing at the end the following new subsection:

5 “(i) The report required by subsection (b) shall in-
6 clude, wherever applicable—

7 “(1) a description of the status of freedom of
8 the press, including initiatives in favor of freedom of
9 the press and efforts to improve or preserve, as ap-
10 propriate, the independence of the media, together
11 with an assessment of progress made as a result of 12 those efforts;

13 “(2) an identification of countries in which
14 there were violations of freedom of the press, includ-
15 ing direct physical attacks, imprisonment, indirect
16 sources of pressure, and censorship by governments,
17 military, intelligence, or police forces, criminal 18 groups, or armed extremist or rebel groups; and

19 “(3) in countries where there are particularly
20 severe violations of freedom of the press—

21 “(A) whether government authorities of
22 each such country participate in, facilitate, or
23 condone such violations of the freedom of the 24 press; and

1 “(B) what steps the government of each
2 such country has taken to preserve the safety
3 and independence of the media, and to ensure
4 the prosecution of those individuals who attack
5 or murder journalists.”.

6 (c) FREEDOM OF THE PRESS GRANT PROGRAM.—

7 (1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of State shall
8 administer a grant program with the aim of pro-
9 moting freedom of the press worldwide. The grant

13 Public Affairs and Public Diplomacy

14 (2) AMOUNTS AND TIME.—Grants may be
15 awarded to nonprofit and international organizations
16 and may span multiple years, up to five years.

17 (3) PURPOSE.—Grant proposals should promote
18 and broaden press freedoms by strengthening the
19 independence of journalists and media organizations,
20 promoting a legal framework for freedom of the 21 press, or through providing regionally and culturally
22 relevant training and professionalization of skills to
23 meet international standards in both traditional and
24 digital media.

1 (d) MEDIA ORGANIZATION DEFINED.—In this sec-
2 tion, the term “media organization” means a group or or-
3 ganization that gathers and disseminates news and infor-
4 mation to the public (through any medium of mass com-
5 munication) in a foreign country in which the group or
6 organization is located, except that the term does not in-
7 clude a group or organization that is primarily an agency
8 or instrumentality of the government of such foreign coun-

10 employee of such group or organization who acts within
11 the scope of such agency or employment.

7 during the preceding year by members of the busi-

1 SEC. 1109. JORDAN CIVILIAN NUCLEAR COOPERATION
2 AGREEMENT.

3 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

4 (1) For many decades, the United States and
5 Jordan have maintained a strong and mutually-sup-
6 portive relationship on a range of regional and inter-
7 national issues, especially the creation of a mod-
8 erate, prosperous, and stable Middle East. Jordan's 9 support for the Israeli-Palestinian peace process and 10 its efforts to halt Iran's nuclear weapons program
11 have been especially useful.

12 (2) The importance of the relationship between 13 the United States and Jordan has increased in re-
14 cent years with Jordan's role as a vital United 15 States ally in the effort to stabilize Iraq and our 16 strengthened military and intelligence cooperation.
17 Jordan has also demonstrated a long-standing com-
18 mitment to combating terror financing and imple-
19 menting effective export controls and customs en-
20 forcement mechanisms.

21 (3) Jordan's assistance to efforts by the United 22 States and other countries to halt Iran's nuclear 23 weapons program, its safeguards agreement with the 24 International Atomic Energy Agency, its adherence
25 to the Additional Protocol to that safeguards agree-
26 ment, and its agreement with the United States to

1 construct a modern storage facility for Jordan's nu-
2 clear waste monitored in strict accordance with
3 IAEA guidelines, has demonstrated Jordan's com-
4 mitment to nuclear nonproliferation, including oppo-
5 sition to the enrichment and reprocessing of nuclear 6 materials that could be diverted to military uses.

7 (4) Given Jordan's legitimate energy needs and 8 its desire to benefit from its large deposits of ura-
9 nium, as well as the potential for significant com-
10 mercial opportunities for the United States nuclear 11 sector, a nuclear cooperation agreement between the 12 United States and Jordan would be of significant
13 benefit to both countries.

14 (5) Given Jordan's long-established record as a
15 reliable ally of the United States, its efforts to com-
16 bat terrorism, and its commitment to promoting 17 peace and stability with Israel and throughout the 18 region, a nuclear cooperation agreement between it
19 and the United States could serve as a model for 20 similar agreements with other countries throughout
21 the Middle East.

22 (b) STATEMENT OF POLICY.—It shall be the policy
23 of the United States to—

1 (1) establish an agreement on peaceful nuclear
2 cooperation with Jordan pursuant to section 123 of 3 the Atomic Energy Act of 1954; and

4 (2) ensure that any United States-Jordan nu-
5 clear cooperation agreement is based on whether 6 Jordan has—

7 (A) developed and fully implemented an ef-
8 fective export control regime;

9 (B) developed and fully implemented the 10 necessary legislative and functional actions to 11 effectively combat the logistical and financial 12 networks that support terrorist organizations;

13 (C) cooperated with the United States in 14 identifying, preventing, disrupting, and pros-
15 ecuting entities and individuals that assist
16 Iran's procurement of nuclear goods, services,
17 or technology and entities affiliated with the 18 Iranian Revolutionary Guard Corps; and

19 (D) permanently renounced the enrichment
20 or reprocessing of nuclear materials and has 21 undertaken all measures, including unrestricted
22 inspection of its facilities by the International 23 Atomic Energy Agency, that are necessary to 24 ensure that no clandestine programs exist.

1 SEC. 1110. UNITED STATES CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE INTER-
2 NATIONAL TRUST FUND FOR DEMINING AND
3 MINE VICTIMS ASSISTANCE.

4 Of the amounts authorized to be appropriated for 5 nonproliferation, anti-terrorism, demining and related pro-
6 grams and activities, there is authorized to be appro-
7 priated $12,000,000 for each of the fiscal years 2010 and 8 2011 for United States contributions to the International
9 Trust Fund for Demining and Mine Victims Assistance
10 for the removal of landmines, mine victim assistance pro-

21 acy institution of an Enterprise Fund to which is trans-
22 ferred no more than 50 percent of all assets from the liq-
23 uidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Enterprise
24 Fund shall receive such assets only upon the approval of 25 the Administrator of the United States Agency for Inter-

1 national Development of appropriate and regular oversight
2 procedures for the legacy institution, to include regular re-
3 ports by the legacy institution regarding its programs and 4 operations, expenditures for salary and travel costs, per-
5 sonnel appointment procedures and personnel benefits
6 programs, and the value at the time of reporting of the 7 assets held by the legacy institution.

8 (d) LEGACY INSTITUTION DEFINED.—For purposes
9 of this section, the term “legacy institution” means a non-
10 profit foundation established to carry out successor pro-
11 grams and activities in the country or countries for which 12 an Enterprise Fund was established by the United States
13 after that Enterprise Fund has agreed with the United 14 States Agency for International Developments on the ter-
15 mination and winding up of its operations. The non-profit
16 foundation shall have as its objectives the promotion of 17 civil society, rule of law, democracy, transparency of gov-
18 ernance, and economic reform in the country or countries
19 for which the Enterprise Fund was established by the 20 United States.

21 SEC. 1112. SENSE OF CONGRESS ON RESTRICTIONS ON RE-
22 LIGIOUS FREEDOM IN VIETNAM.

23 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

24 (1) The Secretary of State, under the Inter-
25 national Religious Freedom Act of 1998 (22 U.S.C.

1 6401 et seq.) and authority delegated by the Presi-
2 dent, designates nations found guilty of “particularly
3 severe violations of religious freedom” as “Countries
4 of Particular Concern”.

5 (2) In November 2006, the Secretary of State
6 announced that the Socialist Republic of Vietnam
7 was no longer designated as a “Country of Par-
8 ticular Concern”.

9 (3) The Unified Buddhist Church of Vietnam
10 (UBCV), the Hoa Hao Buddhists, and the Cao Dai
11 groups continue to face unwarranted abuses because
12 of their attempts to organize independently of the 13 Government of Vietnam, including the detention and
14 imprisonment of individual members of these reli-
15 gious communities.

16 (4) Over the last 3 years, 18 Hoa Hao Bud-
17 dhists have been arrested for distributing sacred
18 texts or publically protesting the religious restric-

1 (6) According to Human Rights Watch, “In
2 April 2008 Montagnard Christian Y Ben Hdok was
3 beaten to death while in police custody in Dak Lak
4 after other Montagnards in his district tried to flee to
5 Cambodia to seek political asylum.”.

6 (7) According to the United States Commission
7 on International Religious Freedom 2009 Annual
8 Report, religious freedom advocates and human
9 rights defenders Nguyen Van Dai, Le Thi Cong
10 Nhan, and Fr. Thaddeus Nguyen Van Ly are in

22 peaceful activities seeking the return of Catholic
23 Church properties confiscated by the Vietnamese
24 Government after 1954 in Hanoi, including in the 25 Thai Ha parish.

1 (b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Con-
2 gress that—

3 (1) the Secretary of State should place Vietnam
4 on the list of “Countries of Particular Concern” for
5 particularly severe violations of religious freedom;
6 and

7 (2) the Government of Vietnam should lift re-
8 strictions on religious freedom and implement nec-
9 essary legal and political reforms to protect religious
10 freedom.

11 SEC. 1113. SENSE OF CONGRESS ON HOLOCAUST-ERA
12 PROPERTY RESTITUTION AND COMPENSA-
13 TION.

14 It is the sense of Congress that—

15 (1) countries in Central and Eastern Europe
16 which have not already done so—

17 (A) should return looted and confiscated
18 properties to their rightful owners or, where 19 restitution is not possible, pay equitable com-
20 pensation to the rightful owners, in accordance 21 with principles of justice and in a manner that 22 is expeditious, transparent, and fair; and

23 (B) should enact and implement appro-
24 priate restitution and compensation laws to ef-
25 fectively facilitate private, communal, and reli-

1 gious property restitution in a manner that is 2 expeditious, transparent and fair; and

3 (2) the Secretary of State should urge all gov-
4 ernments of countries whose domestic insurance
5 companies have not done an adequate job of settling
6 Holocaust-era insurance policies and disclosing the 7 names of policy owners to enact and implement nec-
8 essary laws to resolve these remaining matters.

25 ed on any list identified in subparagraph (A)

1 but which nevertheless would be, if they were
2 United States goods, services, or technology,

4 potential to make a material contribution to the 5 development of nuclear, biological, or chemical
6 weapons, or of ballistic or cruise missile sys-
7 tems.

8 (2) EXCLUSION.—The term “goods, services, or

8 the Office of APEC Affairs.

15 in the United States, including an analysis of the esti-
16 mated or projected costs associated with such meetings.

Chairman BERMAN. We would also like to point out that this amendment has been printed smaller so that two pages of the bill are on each page, and it is printed both front and back, and we congratulate the minority for their saving a few trees.

The clerk will read the amendment.

Ms. RUSH. Amendment in the nature of a substitute to H.R. 2410 offered by Ms. Ros-Lehtinen of Florida, "Strike all" —

Chairman BERMAN. Without objection, the reading of the amendment is dispensed with, and the gentlelady from Florida, the ranking member, is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Thank you so much, Mr. Chairman.

Let me be clear to our colleagues, at the outset, this Republican substitute does not cut funding for U.S. foreign affairs activities. Let me repeat that: It does not cut funding for U.S. foreign affairs activities. But, unlike the majority's bill, it caps any account increases at 3.7 percent over current-year levels. This is a reasonable, 3.7-percent increase. That is the average rate of inflation for 2008. Even that amount is higher than the cost-of-living increases being given to our troops in the field.

By taking this measured approach, the Republican substitute would produce a minimum, single-year cost savings of $2.84 billion in 2010, as compared to the majority's bill. Let me repeat that, Mr. Chairman: The Republican substitute would produce a minimum, single-year cost savings of $2.84 billion in 2010, as compared to the majority's bill.

Among other key differences, the Republican substitute does not include the majority's proposal to authorize the payment of all claimed U.N. arrears or back payments. Instead, the Republican substitute leverages our contributions to the U.N. on specific, concrete reforms in that institution.

Why should American taxpayers be asked to write a blank check to the United Nations? Why not demand specific returns on our investments?

Also, the Republican substitute does not include the majority's inexplicable authorization to pay a higher rate for U.N. peacekeeping than even the U.N. is charging us, and that bears repetition as well. The Republican substitute does not include the majority's inexplicable authorization to pay a higher rate for U.N. peacekeeping than even the U.N. is charging us.

The majority's assessment rate could result in the U.S. paying, in 1 year alone, more than $100 million more for U.N. peacekeeping above that which the U.N. requires us to pay.

Instead, the Republican substitute includes the U.N. Transparency, Accountability, and Reform Act, a comprehensive approach to fundamental U.N. reform. This bill has been pending before the committee for the past 2½ years, notwithstanding the 88 current co-sponsors, our numbers requests to have it marked up, and our request that it be included in the bill before us today.

This section of the Republican substitute addresses the anti-U.S. and anti-Israel bias at the U.N. Human Rights Council. It addresses the continuing provision of nuclear assistance by the International Atomic Energy Agency to the likes of Iran and Syria. It addresses the widespread corruption at the U.N. and its agencies.

I would also like to emphasize, in light of the Gaza reporting language in the chairman manager's amendment, which I referenced to earlier in my opening remarks, that the Republican substitute includes language addressing problems with UNRWA, the United Nations Relief and Works Agency.

Keeping bilateral U.S. assistance to West Bank and Gaza from reaching unintended recipients is but one component of a broader problem: UNRWA has a notorious history of allowing the use of its facilities by the likes of Hamas and, even recently, was funneling assistance to Gaza through banks that are sanctioned by the United States for money-laundering and terrorist-financing concerns.

The majority bill and the manager's amendment are silent on this issue. Focused on reform and accountability, the Republican substitute maintains current levels of funding for the State Department's Office of Inspector General to continue its investigations and auditing while the majority bill cuts oversight funding for the IG, all the while ballooning the State funding that the IG is supposed to be monitoring.

Our substitute includes language requiring that the U.S. Treasury receive 50 percent of the remaining assets of the Enterprise Funds that were started with U.S. taxpayer money and are winding down. This could result, Mr. Chairman, in hundreds of millions of dollars being used to pay down our national debt.

The Republican substitute also includes important security-related provisions, such as an outright prohibition on assistance to a Palestinian Authority that includes Hamas and other Palestinian terrorist organizations.

It also has many other valuable components, such as Mr. Royce's amendment, Mr. Manzullo's amendment, and expands on Holocaust-era property restitution and compensation, and it has other items that, unfortunately, I have run out of time to explain.

Thank you, Mr. Chairman, and I hope that our colleagues see this as a responsible, calibrated approach that will provide necessary funding but will leverage transparency and reform in outlining foreign policy priorities for our Government. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentlelady has expired.

Before I recognize myself, I would like to ask the committee to welcome, and I would ask my colleague from Texas, Ms. Sheila Jackson Lee, to introduce a group of Pakistani parliamentarians, part of an exciting parliamentary democracy for whom we will be focusing on after we finish this legislation. And we are very glad to have you here, and the gentlelady from Texas, with whom I went to Pakistan just a few weeks ago—my first trip, her 25th, I think—the gentlelady from Texas.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Mr. Chairman, your kind indulgence will not be over utilized. Let me wish that you will visit Pakistan many, many more times. This is an exhibition of the true sense of international relations and the extended friendship that we want to continue with Pakistan.

Might I have these members of Parliament, who happen to be all women and who will be returning again for democratization issues in the month of June? The Member of Parliament Memon, is here, if you would please stand; the Member of Parliament Ijaz; the Member of Parliament Yasir; the Member of Parliament Shadre; and the Member of Parliament Hasme, if you would just continue to stand.

We welcome you. We thank you for your presence here—

[Applause.]

Ms. JACKSON LEE [continuing]. And we look forward to working with you. We also acknowledge Tajah Gaya, who has worked with us on a number of issues. Thank you all very much. Mr. Chairman, I yield back. Welcome.

Chairman BERMAN. I thank the gentlelady, and I now recognize myself to strike the last word, and I speak in opposition to the substitute amendment. I will try and make this quick.

Basically, this bill reverses a trend that started under Secretary of State Powell and was continued under Secretary of State Rice in recognizing the vital loss of capacity inside the State Department to pursue a critical diplomatic agenda, an agenda that is vital to our own national security interests.

This cut is a cut from the proposed budget of a significant, huge amount of money. It is drastically reduced from the administration's budget request. It puts a cap on contributions to international peacekeeping that is too tight, given the fact that the assessment rate is being negotiated now for future years, and this would, in effect, preempt those negotiations.

It eliminates contributions to any U.N. organization in which Iran holds a position of leadership. That is not so bad.

By and large, I disagree with the fundamental notion that our withholding dues is a strategy that is going to achieve its goals. All it does is add to the arrearages—we end up paying it anyway, and the whole thrust of this bill is to get off of that particular track.

Again, I repeat: The bill that we have in front of us, which this would seriously wipe out, is 8 percent over the projected levels for 2009, which, to me, is only the first step toward restoring U.S. global leadership.

It is rather difficult for me to understand why we would want to deny the State Department these resources. Recall the vacancy figures in the current Foreign Service that I mentioned earlier, and think, for a moment, about the incredible needs to deal with issues like hunger and the global food insecurity that we are trying to deal with here, in our legislation. This substitute wipes that out.

With the crisis that exists with stabilization and reconstruction assistance, Secretary Gates, no less, and others in the military have asked us. In other words, here, we are cutting the State Department, and we know what is going to come.

The Defense Department will be asked to take on missions not directly related to their mission that the State Department should be performing. We will not be saving this kind of money by these cuts; we will be pushing it onto the Department of Defense, people not trained for that mission required to do that mission because of the urgent, national security interest we have in stabilization and reconstruction work.

So I could go through the whole bill. There are some good provisions in the substitute, but they are vastly overwhelmed by the fundamental assault on the President's budget request, and I urge my colleagues on the committee to vote no, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Does anyone else seek recognition on this amendment? The gentleman from New Jersey, Mr. Smith.

Mr. SMITH OF NEW JERSEY. I yield the remainder of my time to Ranking Member Ros-Lehtinen.

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Thank you so much. Thank you for the time.

I know that the word is used about "cut." Again, the substitute continues the trend of increasing funding for foreign affairs but keeps those increases to 3.7 percent as we continue to wait for the State Department's budget justification, which, every other year, we have received, and we wait for the conclusions of the Department's ongoing review. There is no such cut.

The Republican substitute also strengthens the United States-Israel relationship and highlights the 2007 memorandum of understanding between our two nations, reaffirming the increase in security assistance to help Israel meet the growing threats that she faces. The substitute also affirms our commitment to Israel's missile-defense capabilities, in light of Iran's stated intent to mass produce longer-range missiles and to help ease uncertainties about the overall U.S. commitment to missile defenses in Europe.

Just today, it was reported that Iran had successfully test fired a new, medium-range, surface-to-surface missile. In response, the Republican text incorporates the substance of the bipartisan, Iran Refined Petroleum Sanctions Act introduced by our chairman, which has been co-sponsored by over 100 Members.

We must urgently address the rising threat to the United States and our allies posed by Iran's pursuit of nuclear weapons capabilities and its support for violent and extremist Islamic militants like Hamas and Hezbollah.

The Republican substitute also includes the Western Hemisphere Counterterrorism and Nonproliferation Act to help address the growing threats in our own neighborhood.

Our substitute also includes a provision to increase accountability and oversight of taxpayer-funded activities, such as civilian police training and security assistance to Yemen and Lebanon.

Our substitute maintains current funding levels for the National Endowment for Democracy, where the majority's bill cuts funding to NED.

Our substitute does acknowledge the value of some of the provisions in the majority's bill and, therefore, includes language on protecting girls by preventing child marriage, providing exchanges between Liberia and the United States for women legislators, and calls attention on securing the release of Galad Shalit, the Israeli soldier held captive by his Gazan kidnappers since 2006, and it includes provisions on intellectual-property-rights protection, which is a priority for both the chairman and for me.

We hope that all of the members look carefully at the Republican substitute, which takes this calibrated approach. I thank my good friend for his time, and I yield back the time to him.

Chairman BERMAN. For what purpose does the gentleman from California seek recognition?

Mr. SHERMAN. [Off mike.]

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. SHERMAN. I would want to address the idea of the cap in this substitute amendment. I have to disagree with the ranking member when she uses the argument that 3.7 percent exceeds the rate-of-pay increase for our troops in the field.

The implication there is that somehow this bill is going to provide wild, large salary increases to State Department personnel. That is hardly the case. It is not an increase in the pay of each person; it is an increase in the number of people and the amount of activity that they will engage in.

It would be wrong, I think, to criticize a defense bill that had total personnel costs growing at more than 3.7 percent and say that bill was unduly generous to the troops because inflation is below 3.7 percent. Personnel costs in the Defense Department rise in the next few years chiefly as a result of the plan to increase the size of the Army.

But as to the idea of a 3.7-percent cap, I might be inclined to support it if there was language in the amendment which capped at the rate of inflation the propaganda budget for al-Qaeda, if there was a cap in this amendment on the number and severity of international crises that we are going to face, but those caps are not in the amendment.

The fact is that it is the Pentagon that tells us that we are entering treacherous waters around the world. I do not think there has been a more complicated time for our foreign policy, and it is the Pentagon that tells us that the right troops to deploy work for the State Department and USAID.

I think we have to deal with the foreign policy crises that confront us as effectively as possible, and I think those crises have grown faster than the rate of inflation. I yield back to the chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. Anyone else seeking debate? The gentleman from Indiana, Mr. Burton.

Mr. BURTON. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I move to strike the last word.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. BURTON. I am disappointed that the Republican substitute will not be accepted because I think every opportunity that we have right now, with the uncertainty that takes place in the Middle East, that we ought to be showing our support for Israel, and, in the bill that is before us, the Democrat bill, it is silent on the majority State Department Authorization bill, the Israel-related provisions contained in the Republican substitute text, which constitute a comprehensive, coordinated effort to provide the necessary military, economic, and diplomatic support for the State of Israel.

The aid request reflects the second year of a 10-year memorandum of understanding signed by the United States and Israel in 2007 to gradually increase U.S. security assistance to the Jewish state in order to meet increasing threats, and, by authorizing foreign military assistance and financial aid to Israel, the United States makes good on the 10-year memorandum of understanding, signed by the United States and Israel in 2007, to gradually increase U.S. security assistance to the Jewish state.

With what is going on over there right now, Mr. Chairman, I think it is important, in every single bill that we pass that deals with foreign assistance, the State Department, or whatever it happens to be, we ought to state very, very clearly our strong support for the State of Israel because they are our only real, true friend and anchor in the Middle East, and if we do not show that support, and if we do not let the Iranian leader, Mr. Ahmadinejad, know that we are strongly in favor of Israel and the support of Israel, I think he is likely to continue rattling his sabers, as he did just yesterday when he launched that missile, and they said that it had pinpoint accuracy, and it had the distance capable of reaching Israel.

So all of the talk that we are hearing about discussing a peaceful solution to the nuclear program that Iran is developing really has not gained much footing.

So we need to show, very strongly, that we support Israel, we support them in every single way possible, and to send a very strong signal, a very strong signal, to Iran that we are going to continue to do that, and if they continue their nuclear development program, they will pay a very dear price.

Chairman BERMAN. Would the gentleman yield?

Mr. BURTON. I would be happy to yield to my colleague.

Chairman BERMAN. The actual language in the substitute is different than what the gentleman described, and, in fact, as a great supporter of our foreign assistance to Israel, I would find this language to question the intensity of our commitment, for the gentleman does not authorize appropriations of $2.7 million; he authorizes such sums as appropriated.

This is not a foreign assistance bill. This committee would always be earmarking the requested and the specific amount. The gentleman's amendment simply provides an authorization subject to appropriations—

Mr. BURTON. I understand that.

Chairman BERMAN [continuing]. And I would view it, given that you are trying to speak on an issue that is not appropriate for this bill, but your failure to talk about the dollar amount indicates less-than-full interest.

Mr. BURTON. Reclaiming my time, Mr. Chairman, I do not have a great deal left. Let me just say that I want to make sure that the message is clear, and, in the majority bill, I do not think it is clear.

I think that we ought to take every single opportunity to show our support for Israel, and we ought to make it very, very strong. I do not think the majority bill does that, and that is why I am disappointed that the substitute offered by the ranking member is not going to be accepted.

Chairman BERMAN. All right. The time of the gentleman has expired. The delegate from American Samoa, Mr. Eni Faleomavaega, is recognized.

Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA. Mr. Chairman, I move to strike the last word.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA. And I yield 5 minutes of my time to you, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. And I appreciate the gentleman yielding, but I have decided I do not want it.

Mr. FALCOMA. For that, Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Chairman BERMAN. All right. Any further debate on the amendment? The gentleman from South Carolina, Mr. Wilson, is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. WILSON. Thank you, Mr. Chairman, and I move to strike the last word.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman is recognized.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Chairman, I want to commend the ranking member, Ileana Ros-Lehtinen, for her leadership in providing for the Republican substitute. This truly is, I think, a very significant alternative that caps spending. It stops the spending increases. It provides for a 3.7 increase, by way of inflation. It is not a cut; it is a cap. It is a very positive way to address the fiscal situation of the United States that we face today.

I, particularly, approve of the Republican substitute with the reform of the United Nations. I believe that we can, particularly, see, with the scandal of the oil-for-food scandal, that there should be transparency. The funds being spent by the U.N. are frequently just simply not accountable. There needs to be proper accounting.

I also want to thank you, Mr. Chairman, for recognizing that there are, in the Republican alternative, restraints on Iran, and the challenge of Iran, truly, today, has been revealed more than ever with their most recent missile test, which has the capability of striking to the West as far as southeastern Europe, Turkey, but, to the East, could strike our allies in Pakistan.

So what we have, in the Democrat bill, it provides for an increase of 12 percent in contributions to international organizations, and then it provides for a repayment of all U.N. arrears without requiring any U.N. reform or transparency. I would hope that could be addressed.

Additionally, it has been pointed out that the majority proposal provides for paying U.N. peacekeeping assessments at 27.1 percent, even though the U.N. has only requested and assessment of 25.9 percent. This is a $100 million increase per year of a bill which actually increases spending by $2.84 billion a year.

The increase in the basic salary and operations of the State Department, with the majority proposal, is a 34.5-percent increase, more than a third of the current spending.

Another concern I have is it creates 20 new government entities, 48 new reporting requirements. It decreases the funding for the Department of State Inspector General while vastly increasing the funding over which the IG has oversight, and I think this could lead to a potential for further fraud, waste, or abuse.

A final point I want to make is concern about earmarks. In this bill, there is a series of designated new funding earmarks, specifically, $120 million for the new Senator Paul Simon Study Abroad Foundation; $5 million to promote "independently produced documentary films." Again, I am concerned, how in the world would you define, truly, what is proper?

Additionally, there is a provision that provides for diabetes treatment and safe water for the Pacific Island countries, at $500,000 a year. That seems so broad that it could be subject to misunderstanding or misinterpretation or misspending of the taxpayers' money.

So, with those points, I would like to urge persons to look at the Republican substitute. Congresswoman Ileana Ros-Lehtinen has done an extraordinary job of creating a bill with so many different points that she so eloquently stated a few minutes ago. I urge support of the Republican substitute, and I yield the balance of my time.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentleman has expired.

The chair would like to call the question, if that is all right, on the Republican substitute. Can we vote on the question? Is there anyone? The gentleman from Florida is recognized.

Mr. BILIRAKIS. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I move to strike the last word.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. BILIRAKIS. Thank you for the time. I wanted to thank the ranking member for her excellent alternative to H.R. 2410 but, first, want to thank and acknowledge, you, Mr. Chairman, for including a small part of my language in Section 1105 of H.R. 2410 calling for religious freedom of the Ecumenical Patriarchate.

I am disappointed, however, that it does not go far enough. The language in H.R. 2410 fails to mention the human rights and property rights violations perpetrated by the Government of Turkey and against the Ecumenical Patriarchate.

More importantly, there is no mention of reopening the theological school at Halki, something that President Obama addressed in the Turkish Parliament weeks ago.

I appreciate the ranking member acknowledging the seriousness of the frail status of the Patriarchate, the center of faith for me and over a request of 1 billion Orthodox Christians worldwide.

The ranking member's substitute amendment is comprehensive and includes the totality of the language in a bipartisan resolution seeking religious freedom for the Ecumenical Patriarchate.

Ms. Ros-Lehtinen; I also appreciate her inclusion of additional important language regarding Cyprus and Afyon. The language you included in your substitute amendment that failed to be included in H.R. 2410 very simply asked for transparency and accountability of funding. The language requires the President to submit a report to Congress to make sure that U.S. tax dollars are being used for programs and activities that help achieve reunification of Cyprus.

In regards to Afyon, the substitute amendment also requires the President to submit a report to Congress which will ensure that U.S. funds are not being directed to programs that promote hostile activities or propaganda by the Government of Afyon, or private entities in Afyon, against Greece.

Again, thank you for your substitute amendment, Madam Ranking Member Ms. Ros-Lehtinen. Thank you very much, and I yield back the balance of my time, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentleman has expired.

The gentleman from New York; for what purpose do you seek recognition?

Mr. MCMAHON. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I would also like to just strike the last word.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. MCMAHON. Thank you, Mr. Chairman Berman. Thank you for your hard work, and I will be brief because I know you want to move this along.

I would just like to state for the record that I agree with Congressman Bilirakis. It is critical that the State Department and USAID work to foster the reunification of Cyprus. I strongly support the notion that a memorandum of understanding should be signed between the legitimate Government of Cyprus and USAID. However, I also understand that the Foreign Relations Authorization Act is not the appropriate vehicle in which to do this. If this amendment were to be placed in the bill, it would not be strong enough at this time and would not have effect.

I look forward to working with the committee on addressing this issue in the Foreign Assistance Act itself.

Chairman BERMAN. Would the gentleman yield?

Mr. MCMAHON. Yes, sir. I yield the remainder of my time. Yes, I yield, sir.

Chairman BERMAN. I thank the gentleman for yielding.

I want to respond, actually, to the comments of both you and the gentleman from Florida. Having just been to Cyprus, my fundamental interest in the unification of Cyprus was only enhanced by virtue of what I saw there and the people with whom I met, and I share both of your commitments to this being a priority foreign policy goal for the United States now, and I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Mr. MCMAHON. Thank you, sir, and I yield the remainder of my time.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Can we vote on the pending amendment, the gentlelady from Florida, the ranking member's amendment in the nature of a substitute? All of those in favor, say aye.

[A chorus of ayes.]

Chairman BERMAN. All opposed, say no.

[A chorus of noes.]

Chairman BERMAN. In the opinion of the chair, the noes have it, and the amendment in the nature of a substitute fails.

Any other comments?

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Mr. Chairman?

Chairman BERMAN. The gentlelady from Texas.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

Chairman BERMAN. The clerk will distribute the amendment, and the clerk will read.

[The amendment of Ms. Jackson Lee follows:]

AMENDMENT TO HR 2410

At the end of the bill please add:

Sec. 1126. SENSE OF CONGRESS SUDAN

It is the Sense of Congress that—

- (1) the United States should support efforts to find a stable and lasting peace in Sudan in the wake of a devastating conflict that led to a major humanitarian disaster and caused the deaths of hundreds of thousands, and continues to cause violence in Darfur and throughout Sudan;
- (2) that to achieve that peace, all parties must agree to uphold the Comprehensive Peace Agreement (CPA);
- (3) that international partners should aim to widen acceptance of the Darfur Peace Agreement by all stakeholders;
- (4) that the United States should support efforts to prepare for the national elections and for the referendum;
- (5) that the United States should support efforts to develop a coordinated international strategy to support the rebuilding of Sudan, with a particular focus on key CPA benchmarks including policy toward the Three Areas; transitional justice, which would include prosecuting perpetrators of war crimes; oil revenue sharing; the census; the return of displaced Darfuris and other peoples to their homeland; and management of the armed forces; and
- (6) that US policy toward Darfur should be fully integrated with US policy toward the CPA, as full and lasting resolution to the Darfur crisis hinges on the resolution of a common set of national problems.

Ms. RUSH. Amendment to H.R. 2410 offered by Ms. Jackson Lee of Texas. "At the end of the bill, please add: 'Section 1126. Sense of Congress Sudan. It is the Sense of Congress that—(1) the United States'"——

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent that the amendment be considered as read.

Chairman BERMAN. Without objection, so ordered.

The "Sense of Congress on Sudan," an amendment offered by Ms. Jackson Lee of Texas; the gentlelady is recognized to speak on behalf of her amendment.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. First, I would like to thank the chairman and his staff for working with me and my office on this legislation that would be included in a very important, new initiative in our Foreign Affairs Authorization bill. It is to emphasize that the foreign policy of the United States is not unmindful of the continuing conditions and humanitarian crisis in Sudan.

There is an estimated 2.45 million people that are displaced, more than 240,000 people have been forced into neighboring Chad, and an estimated 450,000 people are killed.

Yesterday, members of the Congressional Black Caucus joined leaders on this issue, including a recent person who has experienced fasting for a number of days because of the conditions there, and the evidence is that our job is not yet complete.

We are delighted that an envoy has been appointed, but this is a crisis, and this resolution, "A Sense of Congress," continues to emphasize the importance of the United States participating in determining and helping to establish a stable and lasting peace in Sudan in the wake of a devastating conflict that continues to cause violence in Darfur and throughout Sudan.

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Will the gentlelady yield for 30 seconds?

Ms. JACKSON LEE. I yield to the gentlelady.

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Thank you. I am pleased to support the amendment by the gentlewoman from Texas, Ms. Jackson Lee, regarding Sudan. This amendment emphasizes the importance of finding a truly comprehensive peace for all of Sudan—north, south, east, and west—and now that the Sudanese regime has callously expelled number of humanitarians NGOs, the stakes are higher than ever.

The administration will, hopefully, soon develop a comprehensive approach toward Sudan, and I am pleased to support the amendment by the gentlelady from Texas.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Thank you. Reclaiming my time, I would like to acknowledge the members on this committee who have been supportive, including the chairman of the Subcommittee on Africa, Congressman Donald Payne, that led to the commitment yesterday for many of us to begin fasting, along with the chairwoman of the Congressional Black Caucus, Congresswoman Barbara Lee.

I just will conclude by saying that the importance if this is to reinforce America's commitment to a peaceful Sudan and also prosecuting the perpetrators of war crimes and, as well, allowing the Darfurians and others to return to their homeland with safe elections and, of course, a legitimate referendum so that people can design their own destiny.

Mr. Chairman, I would hope that other members would welcome the opportunity to co-sponsor this amendment, but I believe that this is an important addition, and a necessary addition, to major legislation that will help establish the foreign policy of the United States of America, and I would ask my colleagues to support this amendment.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentlelady has expired.

The question is—

Mr. ROHRABACHER. Mr. Chairman?

Chairman BERMAN. Who seeks recognition? On this amendment, the gentleman from California.

Mr. ROHRABACHER. Yes. Thank you very much. I will be very quick.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. ROHRABACHER. Thank you very much. I support the amendment and thank my colleague for offering the amendment.

Let me just note that, while it is a good amendment, it neglects to mention the heinous role that China is playing in this ongoing Sudan tragedy, and I would, very quickly, remind my colleagues that, in spending more money, as this package of bills that we are putting together here now in this legislation will do, we are, basically, and considering the fact that we are now in such a heavy area of deficit spending for the overall budget, we, in essence, are borrowing more money from China in order to give to other peoples, which makes no sense whatsoever.

So I do support the amendment, but I think we should all note that China is playing a horrible role in the Sudan, but that exemplifies the role that it is playing throughout the world with other dictatorships as well.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. ROHRABACHER. I certainly will.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. The gentleman has made a very, very important statement, and you can be assured that, in the writing of this amendment, the role of China was not ignored. In fact, we captured it, we hope, by declaring a marker in this legislation that it is important for the United States to be actively involved, which means to engage with sovereign nations, such as China, that have played a horrific role in bolstering up the Sudanese Government and the President of Sudan, who, as we all know, has been indicted.

We know that there is an envoy, as we speak, en route to China who has the full force of the United States Government to emphasize the key responsibility of China, in essence, recognizing its responsibility, and I would use the term "stand down," from creating a comfortable zone for these heinous acts to occur.

So I yield back to the gentleman, thanking him for his comment and indicating that it is not unmindful and not missed in the language of this particular amendment.

Chairman BERMAN. Would the gentleman yield further?

Mr. ROHRABACHER. I would yield further.

Chairman BERMAN. I want to use this one opportunity, and I will not repeat it again.

I certainly understand differences of opinion as to how much we should authorize for State Department and Peace Corps operations, and I am speaking to the gentleman's general comments.

Mr. ROHRABACHER. Right.

Chairman BERMAN. But this is not a foreign assistance bill. This is not about giving money to other countries. We will have that bill, and I will support that activity when it comes up, but that is not what this bill is about. This is about State Department and other related agencies' operations. The increases in this are to beef up and shore up what we view as a weak, deeply incapacitated, foreign relations agency that has lost positions and is unable to carry out its diplomatic mission to the degree that we think serves our interests.

I just want to make it clear that it is not foreign aid; it is State Department operations.

Mr. ROHRABACHER. Reclaiming my time, let me note, then, and be more perfect in my language, that we are borrowing more money from China in order to give to the United Nations. That might be a little bit more accurate. It is just as nonsensical—it is just borrowing more money from China to give to other countries. So, with that said, I think I have made my point.

Chairman BERMAN. I want accurate attacks, not—

Mr. ROHRABACHER. All right.

Chairman BERMAN. All right. I yield back. Is there any further—the gentleman from New Jersey, Mr. Payne, is recognized.

Mr. PAYNE. Thank you very much, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. PAYNE. Thank you. Let me just commend the gentlelady from Texas for this very timely amendment. We all know that it was, 4 years ago, a unanimous vote in the House, 422 to 0, that genocide was declared, and, for the first time in the history of this Congress, that genocide was declared while it was actually occurring, and it is still occurring.

However, we are certainly disappointed that the declaration has not ended the genocide, and we are also disappointed that the rest of the world has not really stepped up on this issue, as we were hoping.

We do urge our new envoy to Sudan, who is on his way to Beijing, that we have strong words with the Government of China. As you know, PetroChina is the sole oil company in Sudan, and we feel that they could be more supportive in urging the Government of Sudan to have more consideration for human rights.

We have gone to the region many times. We see the suffering continues. Thirteen organizations have been expelled. Unless there is an intervention by humanitarian organizations, many people will die, children. The rainy season will be coming soon, making it impossible to deliver food, if you wanted to, and so this is very, very important.

I also feel that the indicted President of Sudan should report to The Hague to answer the court's indictment, and I would like to also commend Mia Farrow, who led the "Darfur Fast for Peace," where she, after 12 days, was taken off the fast, and many of us picked it up.

The Congressional Black Caucus has picked up the "Darfur Fast for Peace," where the members will take a day, and we will send a "Dear Colleague" urging all of the Members of the Congress to have a "Darfur Fast for Life" for 1 day to fast so that we would not only support this psychologically, but we could also feel the pain of even 1 day without food. We can drink water, but, even in Darfur, they do not have water to drink, as I did for the 4 days that I fasted last week.

I would hope that this will be picked up, but, primarily, we must stop the genocide in Darfur. We must support the Comprehensive Peace Agreement in Sudan. We must bring war criminals to justice. As a matter of fact, there were three rebels who were indicted also, and they are going to The Hague to stand trial, and I think that the President of Sudan should follow suit as the rebels. One has already turned himself in in The Hague, and I would hope that the others would.

So, once again, let me commend the gentlelady for this resolution and also commend our chair of the Congressional Black Caucus, Barbara Lee, for the outstanding work that she and other Members of the Congress have done. I yield back the balance of my time.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentlemen has expired. The gentlemen from New Jersey is recognized on the pending amendment.

Mr. SMITH OF NEW JERSEY. Thank you very much, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. SMITH OF NEW JERSEY. Mr. Chairman, I do support strongly the "Sense of the Congress" resolution offered by my friend and colleague from Texas, and I think she puts a very important emphasis on the CPA, the Comprehensive Peace Agreement.

I remember one meeting in Khartoum, meeting with Salva Kiir, who made it very clear that if the CPA falls apart, a new genocide in Southern Sudan would be very likely. We already know that the genocide occurring in Darfur is unconscionable. Upwards of 450,000 people have been killed—nobody knows the exact number—and I think General Bashir's response, when indicted, to oust the nongovernmental organizations and the humanitarian-aid workers, in a like manner, was unconscionable.

I have been to the camps, like many members of this committee have been and other Members of Congress. I was in Mukjar and Kalma Camps, and to think that those camps, without the aid workers, without the doctors and the LPNs and the nurses and the people who are providing food and other humanitarian assistance, the situation, horrific as it is, only gets worse.

So my hope is that, with the continued pressure of the United States, the European community, this resolution, again, lifts the issue up, as it ought to be. Today, 12:00, genocide continues in Darfur. It is always appropriate to bring this up. I commend the gentlelady.

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. If the gentleman would yield, thank you, and I agree with the gentleman from New Jersey that if the CPA falls, there is little hope for finding a negotiated settlement for Darfur. Key to the importance of finding a truly comprehensive peace process is the implementation of the Comprehensive Peace Agreement. It ended two decades of conflict between former rebels in the South and the regime in Khartoum.

This is a critical time for the CPA. Elections are due this year, but, almost certainly, they will be delayed. Tensions in the contested areas are still high, and intermittent fighting between rival ethnic groups has had a deathly toll. So we hope that there will soon be peace to this largely contested and so battled area. I yield back.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentleman has expired. The gentlelady from California.

Ms. LEE. Thank you very much, Mr. Chairman. I, too, want to congratulate and thank the gentlelady from Texas for offering this amendment and would like to request that I be added as a co-sponsor of the amendment.

Chairman BERMAN. Without objection.

Ms. LEE. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. Let me just say how important this is at this moment because we have seen, and many of us have visited the camps in Darfur on many occasions and have seen the desperation in the eyes of the people of Darfur.

Hundreds of thousands of people have been killed, and millions of people have been displaced from their homes. We have got to turn the heat up now, and we have got to turn it up high.

Oftentimes, and I have to commend Congressman Don Payne for, as I always say, being the lone voice in the wilderness, calling what it is what it is, and that is genocide and, finally, put the United States on the right side of history in declaring genocide.

But also it is important that we do look at China and turn the heat up on China. I want to remind my colleague that we did pass a resolution, a couple of years ago, calling for China to join the world community to try to pressure and insist that the Sudanese Government end this genocide, and so we have to, I think, take it another step now, and I look forward to working with you on ways to do that.

Finally, let me just say, yes, the Congressional Black Caucus has mounted our fast efforts, and I want to just commend Congressman Payne for dealing the charge. Yesterday, members of the Caucus committed to at least a 24-hour fast. I started mine last night, Congresswoman Jackson Lee will take over tonight, and I hope that members of this committee will understand the value of fasting and consider joining with us in this effort because we have to raise awareness with regard to what is taking place in Darfur.

Again, young people in our country, the faith community, people have pulled together, but we still need to beat that drum much louder so that the world understands that the United States will not tolerate any more of this and will move very aggressively to end it.

So thank you, Mr. Chairman, and thank you, Congresswoman Jackson Lee.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Will the gentlelady yield?

Ms. LEE. Yes, I will yield.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Will the gentlelady yield? Let me just quickly say, Mr. Chairman, and I thank you, I want to thank the gentlelady for seeking to be a co-sponsor and just add my challenge to raising the ante and participating in the fast in a broad manner, as we are doing. Some of us have been arrested already and will probably try to do that in the future, but, in any event, I think it is very important, and I conclude by saying, if the humanitarian organizations have been evicted out of Sudan, it is a death knell that is one that we could not understand the horror that is forthcoming if these humanitarian organizations do not come in.

The purpose of this sense of the resolution is to, again, heighten the emphasis of the United States that we are not going to abandon the people of Sudan or Darfur. I yield back to the gentlelady.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentlelady has expired.

The question occurs on the Jackson Lee-Lee Amendment. All in favor, say aye.

[A chorus of ayes.]

Chairman BERMAN. All opposed, no. The ayes have it. The amendment is adopted. Are there any other amendments?

Mr. BURTON. Mr. Chairman?

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman from Indiana.

Mr. BURTON. Mr. Chairman, I have an Amendment No. 1 at the desk.

Chairman BERMAN. The clerk will get a copy of the amendment, and then the clerk will—

Mr. BURTON. It is not going to be necessary for it to be handed up because I intend to withdraw the amendment. What I want to do is have a—

Chairman BERMAN. Do not even bother handing it out.

Mr. BURTON. I wanted to have a colloquy with the chairman. First of all, in our previous discussion, that was a "Sense of Congress" amendment that was added to the ranking member's substitute, and I think you indicated that the cost was going to be above what was anticipated, and, as I understand it from the staff, the savings in the overall GOP substitute offsetted the Foreign Military Financing costs for Israel.

Chairman BERMAN. Would the gentleman yield?

Mr. BURTON. Yes, sir.

Chairman BERMAN. I think it is my fault. I think I muddled through what I was trying to say so poorly that you heard something I did not intend to say.

Mr. BURTON. Whatever, in any event, what I would like to do, Mr. Chairman, is ask that, when we get to the Foreign Aid Authorization bill, that the Foreign Military Financing that we have given to Israel in the past will be a part of that, and, if I get your commitment, then we will move on.

Chairman BERMAN. You have my commitment, and you would have had it, even if you had not asked, and it is part of why I am here.

Mr. BURTON. Okay, Mr. Chairman. Thank you.

Chairman BERMAN. I appreciate it very much. We will not count that as a minority-side amendment since it was not passed out.

Mr. BURTON. Well, if that is the case, I have another amendment at the desk, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. Do you want to label the amendment at this time? Should it be passed out?

Mr. BURTON. Yes, it should be passed out, Mr. Chairman.

[The amendment of Mr. Burton follows:]

23 nually thereafter in connection with the submission

1 priations budget request, the Secretary of State, in
2 consultation with the Secretary of Defense, shall
3 submit to the appropriate congressional committees
4 a report regarding the activities authorized under
5 subsection (b)(1).

6 (2) CLASSIFIED ANNEX.—The report required
7 under paragraph (1) shall be submitted in unclassi-
8 fied form to the maximum extent practicable, but 9 may include a classified annex, if necessary.

10 (3) DEFINITION OF APPROPRIATE CONGRES-
11 SIONAL COMMITTEES.—In this subsection, the term
12 “appropriate congressional committees” means—

13 (A) the Committee on Foreign Affairs and 14 the Committee on Armed Services of the House
15 of Representatives; and

16 (B) the Committee on Foreign Relations
17 and the Committee on Armed Services in the 18 Senate.

Mr. BURTON. This amendment deals with showing strong support for United States-Israeli missile defense projects. United States-Israeli missile defense cooperation has presently been authorized and appropriated in the Defense Authorization and Appropriation bills. I understand that this is the State Department bill, but I did want to bring this up.

Missile defense cooperation is generally not considered a form of direct aid, but many U.S. and Israeli observers consider it a vital component of the Israel's strategic relationship with the United States. Israel and the United States each financially contribute to several projects and share technology from co-developed weapons systems.

This provision not only supports these goals but specifies support to co-development of long- and medium-range, antiballistic-missile defenses, as well as short-range projectile defenses.

The ranking member mentioned, just a moment ago, when she was discussing the Republican substitute, that Iran just launched a missile that had a range of 1,200 miles, and, according to their defense minister, their Sajil II missile had pinpoint accuracy. That is very, very troubling.

As we know, Iran is trying to develop a nuclear capability. Now we know they have a missile that has pinpoint accuracy that can reach Europe and Israel, and Ahmadinejad has said he wants to see Israel wiped off the face of the Earth, and I think it is extremely important that we send a very strong message by adopting this amendment to this bill that we strongly support a cooperative effort to make sure we have anti-ballistic-missile technology that Israel can use to knock down those missiles, if they are fired at Israel.

Chairman BERMAN. The amendment is deemed as read, and I recognize myself for purposes of offering an amendment to the amendment and ask that it be considered, and I grant that it be considered. The clerk will read.

[The amendment of Chairman Berman follows:]

SUBSTITUTE AMENDMENT TO HR 2410

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MR. BURTON

3 amounts authorized to be appropriated to carry out this
4 Act, there are authorized to be appropriated such sums
5 as may be necessary for co-development of joint ballistic
6 missile, medium and short-range projectile defense
7 projects with Israel, including—

8 (1) complete accelerated co-production of Arrow
9 missiles;

10 (2) system development of the Israel Missile
11 Defense Organization program to develop a short-
12 range ballistic missile defense capability, David's
13 Sling weapon system, and integrate the weapon sys-
14 tem with the ballistic missile defense system and 15 force protection efforts of the United States; and

Ms. RUSH. Substitute amendment to H.R. 2410 offered by Mr. Berman to the amendment offered by Mr. Burton. "Strike section 1202 and insert the following: 'Section 1202. Support to Israel for Missile Defense.'"—

Chairman BERMAN. The amendment should be considered as read, without objection, and I recognize myself on behalf of my substitute amendment.

Like the gentleman, I am a very strong supporter of a variety of different programs that the United States is working with the Government of Israel, in terms of dealing with short-, intermediate-, and long-range missile defense.

The substitute only changes two items. One, it removes language which would otherwise bring in the jurisdiction of other committees and conforms it to the jurisdiction of the committee; and, secondly, it eliminates reference to NATO because the words, "deployment as soon as is technologically possible," when dealing with NATO, can be viewed as—I interpret that as a possible mandate on us to deploy something which, with a little bit of negotiations, for instance, in the context of what we are planning to do in Poland and the Czech Republic vis-à-vis Iran's missile threat, some discussions and negotiations with other parties, in this particular case—the Russians—can create a much broader base of support for effective missile defense. And I interpret your language as literally offered, and the inclusion of the NATO countries to perhaps limit and constrain the ability to do that, the substitute speaks to the issues that you addressed as you debated on behalf of your amendment.

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. If the gentleman would yield.

Chairman BERMAN. I would be happy to yield.

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Thank you, and I thank you for this substitute amendment to the Burton Amendment, and I congratulate Mr. Burton for always being an outspoken advocate for maintaining strong, positive ties with our greatest democratic ally in the Middle East, Israel, and doing everything that we can to ensure that she will always have the qualitative military edge and gets the protection that she needs, and this missile defense issue is of great importance.

So I am sure that Mr. Burton understands the corrections to his amendment that get to the very heart of what Mr. Burton seeks to do.

Mr. BURTON. Thank you for so eloquently stating my position. I agree.

Chairman BERMAN. And I agree with your eloquent statement of his position, and if we can go to the vote on the substitute amendment; all of those in favor, say aye.

[A chorus of ayes.]

Chairman BERMAN. All opposed, no. The ayes have it. The substitute amendment is adopted.

The question is now on the amendment, as amended. All of those in favor, say aye.

[A chorus of ayes.]

Chairman BERMAN. All opposed, no. The ayes have it, and the amendment is adopted.

The gentleman from South Carolina.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

Chairman BERMAN. The clerk will read.

Mr. WILSON. And while it is being handed out, Mr. Chairman, I will proceed. The current bill under consideration—

Chairman BERMAN. Let us wait.

Mr. WILSON. It is so brief, you are going to love it.

Chairman BERMAN. In that case, we will dispense, by unanimous consent, with the reading. The gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.

[The amendment of Mr. Wilson follows:]

AMENDMENT TO H.R. 2410

OFFERED BY MR. WILSON OF SOUTH CAROLINA

Page 77, line 17, strike “may” and insert “particularly those applicants who served in the Armed Forces, shall”.

Mr. WILSON. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. The current bill under consideration today adds 2,200 new Foreign Service Officer positions—that is over 2 years—for the State Department and the U.S. Agency for International Development, many to work in failed, failing, or at-risk states.

The bill states that a potential’s higher experience in war zones “may be considered an affirmative factor in making such appointments.”

My amendment is a technical amendment. It turns “may” into “shall,” and it provides that applicants who served in the armed services fall into this category, which, obviously, I would interpret to be veterans.

Without this amendment, it would seem that these agencies will not get the veterans they need. The U.S. Agency for International Development’s low, 5-percent veteran-hiring rate is evidence that we need a change, and this has been indicated by a report from the Congressional Research Service.

USAID and the State Department do give a preference to veterans, as do all U.S. Government agencies, but it is not big, five points on a 100-point scale. As a result, USAID has a mere 5.2 percent of new hires in Fiscal Year 2007 as veterans. This is far below the government average of 23 percent.

I know the State Department and USAID would benefit from having many more veterans and the skills and experiences they have, and I would specifically point out that, from the Office of Personnel Management, which was provided by the CRS, that, in the last 7 years, the number of Federal employees who have a background as veterans has increased from 17.4 percent to 22.9 percent, but, sadly, with USAID, which is a great agency, there has been a reduction in veteran hires, from 9.9 percent to 5.2 percent, and so I believe this amendment would be helpful.

This bill stresses——

Chairman BERMAN. Would the gentleman yield?

Mr. WILSON. Yes.

Chairman BERMAN. I appreciate the gentleman yielding.

The gentleman seeks to cover this program for hiring of people with experience in areas of great instability to create a veterans' preference.

The chair agrees with the gentleman's intent. The chair is advised that because of the technical way this is drafted, this may undermine the general veterans' preference. The chair pledges to work with the gentleman, between now and the time that this comes to the floor, to see if he agrees with our conclusion about the way it is crafted, and, if he does, to work with him to provide language which achieves his purpose but without undermining the existing veterans.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Chairman, thank you, and, with that said, I will withdraw the amendment.

I do want to point out that our veterans and persons serving overseas do have such experience that can be positive.

Chairman BERMAN. It makes perfect sense.

Mr. WILSON. I have seen humanitarian efforts in Iraq to provide potable water, schools, backpacks, health clinics, and, in Pakistan, I was honored to participate and observe in the providing of earthquake relief in Pakistan.

So, with your statements, and, again, I appreciate your enthusiasm for it, and withdraw the amendment.

Chairman BERMAN. I appreciate the gentleman's action to withdraw his amendment, and, by unanimous consent, the amendment is withdrawn.

Should we see what the next amendment is and, at least, have it pending before the vote? The gentleman from Arizona; for what purpose does he rise or sit?

Mr. FLAKE. I have an amendment at the desk.

Chairman BERMAN. The clerk will distribute and read the amendment.

[The amendment of Mr. Flake follows:]

AMENDMENT TO H.R. 2410

OFFERED BY MR. FLAKE OF ARIZONA

At the end of subtitle A of title XI of the bill, add the following new section:

1 SEC. 1115. RULE OF CONSTRUCTION.

2 Nothing in the legislative history of this Act shall be
3 construed to modify or otherwise affect the implementa-
4 tion of any provision of this Act that authorizes appropria-
5 tions for any foreign assistance program, project, or activ-
6 ity.

Ms. RUSH. Amendment to H.R. 2410 offered by Mr. Flake of Arizona. "At the end of subtitle A of title XI of the bill, add the following new section: 'Section 1115. Rule of Construction. Nothing in the legislative history of this Act shall be construed to modify or otherwise affect the implementation of any provision of this Act that authorizes appropriations for any foreign assistance program, project, or activity.'"

Mr. FLAKE. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. I think what we will do now, if it is okay, is—this amendment is pending. The gentleman from Arizona will be the first person recognized when we come back.

We have three votes. It is the intention of the chair to continue the markup after those votes and to get through as many additional amendments as we can before a vote, which we expect in about 1 hour, 1½ hours, after these three votes, and, with that, the committee is now recessed.

[Whereupon, at 12:11 p.m., a recess was taken.]

Chairman BERMAN. The committee will come to order. The gentleman from Arizona, Mr. Flake's, amendment regarding report language affecting Foreign Assistance Act authorizations is pending. The gentleman from Arizona is recognized for 5 minutes to speak on his amendment.

Mr. FLAKE. I thank the chairman.

This amendment, the intent is to go at soft earmarks that are sometimes included in conference reports that accompany an authorization bill.

I had a discussion with the chairman on the floor just now, and he noted that the big problem here is on appropriation bills. I will concede that. That is where most of the soft earmarks occur, in committee reports that accompany appropriation bills, but it has also been a problem, in the past, on authorization bills like this one.

For example, language in the committee report for the last State Authorization bill, and this was approved in 2005, reads: "The committee encourages the Agency for International Development and other government agencies to consider sympathetically such applications as the Asian University for Women in Bangladesh or consider applications that they may make for additional assistance."

Now, this language was not included in the text of the bill, and, as a result, it was never able to be challenged on the House floor or anywhere else, and the problem with committee language is you cannot get at it or challenge it. It is typically put in in relative secrecy, and there is no ability to actually strike at it.

So I think that we do need to do something about this. I concede that this is mostly a problem with the appropriation bill, but we have had examples in the past where it has been a problem with the authorization bill as well, and, with that, you can yield back, and we will have a discussion, or I will yield time to the chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. Well, if it is all right with the gentleman, he could yield back his time, and I will just recognize myself, and then if you want to—

Mr. FLAKE. Well, let me just say, I do want to work with the chairman on this, and I take his point that there is no intent on this committee, under this leadership, to include these kinds of soft earmarks in authorization bills like this one, but, like I said, I do have examples where it has happened in the past.

If the chairman will commit that he will not allow soft earmarks in the committee report accompanying this authorization, then I am happy to withdraw, but, if not—

Chairman BERMAN. Okay.

Mr. FLAKE [continuing]. I feel that we need the language.

Chairman BERMAN. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. FLAKE. Yes, I will yield.

Chairman BERMAN. I will commit that that kind of a soft earmark, none of which—there is no report yet, but we have no intention of doing anything like that in the report on this bill. I will commit to the gentleman to make sure we do nothing like that in the report on this bill. That commitment, I am prepared to give.

The problem with your language, and you have given me a good example of sort of a mush earmark, now, the fact is, if the chairman of this committee had any clout—which is a fact that is arguable, at best—he could not have that language about whatever university that was in Bangladesh, I think, and he would call the director of USAID or something, and he would say, "I want some of this money to go there."

So there is a limitation on what your amendment would do, but your amendment is crafted much broader than that, and we have a great example from this morning's discussion. The gentleman from New Jersey, Mr. Smith, in the context of certain language, made a good point. Would language regarding the dealing with tracking of violence and criminalization against a certain class of people force someone to do something that violated their moral or religious precepts? And I indicated that the committee report language will make it clear that we do not intend for that provision to be construed to allow that to happen.

That is what report language generally does. It helps to elaborate, to create, to deal with some hypothetical issues that might be raised in a debate, like that one was, and tries to clarify it.

Your bill, your amendment, goes far beyond just the earmark question because it talks about the entire legislative history, and it is a fundamental attack on the report writers of the world.

Mr. FLAKE. If the gentleman would yield.

Chairman BERMAN. I would be happy to.

Mr. FLAKE. I have no intention to attack the chairman in his commitment to ensure that no soft earmarks, no funding earmarks, like this will be contained in the committee report, and I ask unanimous consent to withdraw the amendment.

Chairman BERMAN. Without objection, the amendment is withdrawn. Who else seeks recognition?

Mr. SMITH OF NEW JERSEY. Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment at the desk.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman from New Jersey is recognized.

The clerk will distribute the amendment. The word is coming back that we do not have an amendment, but this may be it now.

[The amendment of Mr. Smith of New Jersey follows:]

Ms. RUSH. Amendment to H.R. 2410 offered by Mr. Smith of New Jersey. "Page 130, beginning line 9, strike section 334 and insert the following: 'Section 334. Office for Global Women's Issues. (a) Establish'—"

Mr. SMITH OF NEW JERSEY. Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent that the amendment be considered as read.

Chairman BERMAN. Without objection, the amendment is deemed read, and the gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. SMITH OF NEW JERSEY. Mr. Chairman, my amendment authorizes an Office for Women's Issues led by an ambassador-at-large designed to coordinate and advise on activities, policies, programs, and funding related to women's empowerment internationally.

The office would promote activities designed to expand educational opportunities and job training for women, push equal pay for equal work for women, push microfinancing and micro-enterprise programs for women, push property and inheritance rights for women, improve maternal health and expand pregnancy care centers, combat forced abortions, forced sterilization, sex and labor trafficking, and other forms of violence against women, seek an end to genital mutilation, stop child marriage, and promote changes in male attitudes and behavior that are detrimental to women.

Consistent with a core, human rights norm that all human life is precious and sacred and worthy of protection, regardless of age, sex, race, color, creed, disability, wantedness, or condition of dependency, my amendment seeks to protect unborn children and their mothers from the violence of abortion.

Dr. Alveda King, niece of the late Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. has had two abortions but now, boldly and compassionately, she speaks out for both victims, mother and baby. She is part of a group of courageous, post-abortive women called the "Silent No More Campaign" and works tirelessly to help women deal with the emotional pain and find peace and a sense of reconciliation following an abortion.

In discussing her late uncle, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.'s remarkable dream of inclusion and justice, Alveda King recently said in a speech, "How can the dream of my uncle survive if we murder the children?" The niece of the late Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. says, "Protection of the unborn is the civil rights issue of our time." Her words ought not to be dismissed lightly.

Mr. Chairman, it is absolutely imperative that women never be regarded or reduced to the status of objects or second-class citizens. The same is true, I would respectfully submit to my colleagues, of unborn children. They are human, they are alive, they are not objects or throw-aways, and, today, like never before, they are in need of friends.

Abortion is child abuse. Abortion methods dismember, chemically poison, starve to death, suction to death, or puncture to death, with ultra-sharp, surgical knives, the fragile bodies of young girls and boys. Human rights, especially the right to life, must be for all, including, and especially, the weakest and the most vulnerable.

Sex-selection abortion kills millions of baby girls around the world, singled out for destruction simply because they are girls.

Like genocide, gendercide is based on extreme prejudice enabled by indifference.

As part of a humane and consistent agenda for women, the Office of Global Women's Issues ought to be the first in line in affirming the inherent value and dignity of mothers and their babies, both before, as well as after, birth.

Like newborns, unborn babies are a class of human beings that need care, nurturing, love, and, as the littlest patients of all, medical interventions designed to mitigate disability or disease.

The Preamble of the U.N. Convention on the Rights of the Child states, and I quote, "The child, by reason of his or her physical and mental immaturity, needs special safeguards and care, including appropriate legal protection before, as well as after, birth."

Abortion is the antithesis of protection. It is the abandonment of both mother and child. If abortion is promoted by the Office for Global Women's Issues, it will profoundly undermine both the message and the mission of what would otherwise be a truly noble initiative. My amendment seeks to ensure that that will not be the case. I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. WOOLSEY. Mr. Chairman?

Chairman BERMAN. For what purpose does the gentlelady from California seek recognition?

Ms. WOOLSEY. I would like to respond to Mr. Smith.

Chairman BERMAN. By striking the last word? The gentlelady is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. WOOLSEY. Thank you very much. Mr. Chairman and Mr. Smith, I strongly oppose this amendment, and I urge my colleagues to vote against it.

I want to express my respect for you, Representative Smith, and say that I believe this is a good-faith effort, on your part, to do the right thing, but this amendment is the wrong thing to do. Given that family planning actually prevents abortion, it should be one of the things that all of us support in every way we can.

I wish my colleague from New Jersey could truly appreciate how essential family planning and reproductive healthcare is to women in developing countries and, perhaps more importantly, how essential family planning is to their families and to their nations.

Mr. SMITH OF NEW JERSEY. Would my good friend yield on that point, just very briefly?

Ms. WOOLSEY. Briefly.

Mr. SMITH OF NEW JERSEY. There is nothing in this amendment that refers to planning family; this only deals with abortion.

Ms. WOOLSEY. Right, but, by assuming abortion and not supporting family planning in the past, we have ended up where we are, with women in Tanzania, where I visited just about a month ago, having death and dissemination of their families because they could not plan for their families because of what has come out of this committee in the past.

Women play a critical role in driving economic development throughout the world, and reducing the rate of maternal mortality is essential for driving broad-based, economic growth.

So the new Office of Global Women's Issues is mandated not only to promote gender integration and women's empowerment internationally for all U.S. programs, but the ambassador is to play a leadership role, internationally, in all matters relevant to women. That is why the Office of Global Women's Issues is so important to us, and by narrowing the mandate of this office, we will only detract from our effort to improve the status of women around the world.

So I urge my colleagues to oppose the Smith Amendment. I yield back.

Chairman BERMAN. Has the gentlelady yielded back her time?

Ms. WOOLSEY. I have.

Chairman BERMAN. All right. Is there a speaker here on this amendment? Mr. Inglis?

Mr. INGLIS. Mr. Chairman, I have a perfecting amendment at the desk.

Chairman BERMAN. Perfecting?

Mr. INGLIS. Yes.

Chairman BERMAN. You are recognized. The clerk will distribute the perfecting amendment.

Mr. INGLIS. Mr. Chairman, this is an amendment to—

Chairman BERMAN. First, the clerk should read the amendment. [The amendment of Mr. Inglis follows:]

INGLIS

Amendment to the Amendment offered by Mr. Smith of New Jersey

In Section 334 (c)(B) insert new (iii) and renumber accordingly

(iii) Increase women's participation in political processes at the local, national and international levels, including representation in governing bodies;

Ms. RUSH. Amendment by Mr. Inglis, amendment to the amendment offered by Mr. Smith of New Jersey. "In Section 334(c)(B) insert new [Subsection] (iii) and renumber accordingly. '[Subsection] (iii): Increase women's participation in political processes at the local, national, and international levels, including representation in governing bodies;'"

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman is recognized on his amendment.

Mr. INGLIS. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. First of all, of course, I am very much in support of what Mr. Smith is doing here, and I simply seek to add another section that would instruct our State Department personnel to spend time doing what they may already be doing, but we want to encourage them, in the form of a statute, to increase women's participation in the political process and increase that representation in governing bodies.

It is very important for us to export concepts of human rights and dignity, and, of course, it is important, in that connection, to stress the significance of women's participation because we all know that, in our own country, we have had a problem with that, and elsewhere around the world there is a substantial problem with recognizing the full participation of women in the political process.

So I am very much in support of both what Mr. Smith is doing here because of the importance of the issues that he is raising as to the dignity of women around the world, and then I would suggest to the committee that we add this section about women's participation in the political process, and, with that, I would be happy to yield to the gentleman from New Jersey, if he would like to comment on this.

Mr. SMITH OF NEW JERSEY. I thank you for the amendment. I think it is a strengthening amendment. As we saw when the women parliamentarians from Pakistan visited earlier, women's participation in the political process is essential. So you do nothing but strengthen it, so I appreciate it.

Mr. INGLIS. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I yield back.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman's time has expired.

Ms. WOOLSEY. Mr. Chairman?

Chairman BERMAN. Yes. The gentlelady from California on the perfecting amendment.

Ms. WOOLSEY. I move to strike the last word.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentlelady is recognized.

Ms. WOOLSEY. I would just like to comment that Mr. Inglis's amendment certainly is a good addition, but this amendment continues to restrict women's access to full reproduction options and should be voted against. I yield back.

Chairman BERMAN. The question is on the Inglis Perfecting Amendment to the Smith Amendment. All of those in favor, say aye.

[A chorus of ayes.]

Chairman BERMAN. Opposed? The ayes have it. The perfecting amendment is adopted.

On the Smith Amendment, as amended, I recognize myself and yield myself 5 minutes.

If I cannot persuade the gentleman to withdraw this amendment now, I am going to have to ask for a "no" vote. I say that reluctantly, but I will explain why I come down that way.

First of all, I have just seen the amendment. The amendment is very prescriptive, not that there is anything wrong with that, but there are a lot of things in there, and if you are going to have a prescriptive list of things you want that office to do, I can think of some prescriptive things that, if we are going to define it with a prescriptive list of things to do, we should think about whether a balanced approach would be to add some additional things.

So what occurs to me as I first look at this is that it talks about "eliminate family planning practices, including coercive abortion and sterilization." I agree with that completely, but maybe there should be something in there that calls on that office to promote noncoercive methods and choices of family planning alternatives to abortion that might be desperately needed and wanted in countries with peoples who are receiving our foreign assistance work and that the office is working on.

So, putting in a list of a number of detailed things which we have not had a chance to see if it has gaps in, I think, is a mistake.

Secondly, I just want to remind everyone that, right now, existing law says the Siljander Amendment of 1981, part of the Foreign Ops Appropriations Act of 2009—and it will continue to be—says:

“None of the funds made available under this Act may be used to lobby for or against abortion.”

A more balanced way of saying the same thing is what the gentleman from New Jersey is driving at. The Leahy Amendment serves to clarify the term “motivate.” Under the Helms Amendment, the Helms Amendment says: “None of the funds made available under this Act”—this was since 1973, again, part of the Foreign Operations Appropriations—“may be used to pay for the performance of abortion as a method of family planning or to motivate or coerce any person to practice abortions.”

The Leahy Amendment clarifies the term “motivate,” as it relates to family planning assistance, “shall not be construed to prohibit the provision, consistent with local law, of information and counseling about all pregnancy options.”

We have a layer of provisions and laws already, and my third point is, this office, while it has some general obligations, its primary function right now is dealing with the women of Iraq and the women of Afghanistan who have suffered tremendously by virtue of what has gone in those two countries, and that is their emphasis now.

Now, all of a sudden, we are imposing a whole series of prescriptive duties on them that they may not be staffed and ready to accept.

So it is not, at first blush, anything you have in your amendment that bothers me; it is what is not in the amendment, the lack of time I have to get the full picture, and, for that reason, I reluctantly—well, I ask for the gentleman to withdraw his amendment for now to see if we can work through this process, understanding what he is going after, to see if we can come up with something before we go to the floor, or, in the alternative, I ask my colleagues to vote against the amendment.

My time has expired. The gentleman from California, Mr. Rohrabacher.

Mr. ROHRABACHER. Yes. I yield my time to Mr. Smith.

Mr. SMITH OF NEW JERSEY. I appreciate my friend for yielding.

With all due respect to the distinguished chairman, and I have an enormous amount of respect for Mr. Berman, I would ask that we do have a vote on this. We can continue to work on the language.

As I said to the distinguished gentlelady from California, nothing whatsoever in this precludes family planning being promoted. We know it will be promoted.

My concern is that so many things, like safe blood—I held a hearing in this room when we were in control of the House, and I chaired the Africa and Global Human Rights Subcommittee, and we heard from the World Health Organization that if women had access to safe blood, 44 percent of maternal mortality disappears.

So we have done some good things in that area, but I think, as an advocacy group, we do not expect that all of this will be done overnight by the Global Office. These are strongly held beliefs, I think, on both sides of the aisle, and these are the kinds of things that we want them to do.

The ultimate consensus breaker is abortion, and the hope is that we will see our way clear to say, "Let us have a foreign policy that is not promoting abortion."

As you said, the Siljander Amendment clearly states that, but does that apply to the Global Office. It is unclear.

Chairman BERMAN. It applies to any of the monies appropriated to the State Department.

Mr. SMITH OF NEW JERSEY. So this just makes it clear, in this piece of legislation.

I would urge my colleagues to join me in voting for this. I yield back.

Mr. ROHRABACHER. I yield back the balance of my time.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman from Virginia, Mr. Connolly.

Mr. CONNOLLY. I thank the chair.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. CONNOLLY. You know, Mr. Chairman, I was the youngest member of the U.S. delegation to the first World Population Conference in Bucharest, Romania, in 1974.

Chairman BERMAN. You were not even that young then.

Mr. CONNOLLY. I was, believe it or not—I did not have any gray hair, that is right—appointed by the Nixon administration, and, you know, this debate is an important one, and I know that my colleague from New Jersey is sincere in wanting to express his values, but the notion that somehow the United States promotes abortion overseas is itself fallacious. It is a false premise. I have never known the United States Government to do that.

We have legislated on this issue for decades, and while it may make some sense for some people, in terms of making political points with certain parts of their constituencies, I do not know that it makes sense in terms of overall U.S. foreign policy.

Now, we need to be concerned about the health of women. We need to be concerned about the spacing of children and the morbidity and mortality rates of children, in terms of child survival rates. That is what we need to be focused on.

I have no reason to believe, nor does anyone on this committee, frankly, that somehow Secretary Clinton's Office of Women and Global Affairs would somehow promote something that, as you point out, Mr. Chairman, is already prohibited and proscribed by law. This amendment is designed to make a point, and it is a point, I think, that is not necessary at this time, and it actually could prove injurious to United States' foreign policy interests.

I join with the chairman, reluctantly, in urging my colleagues to vote no.

Mr. CONNOLLY. I will yield back the balance of my time.

Chairman BERMAN. Okay. The previous question has been moved by the ranking member. Debate is closed. We will now vote on the Smith Amendment, as amended. All of those in favor, say aye.

[A chorus of ayes.]

Chairman BERMAN. All opposed, say no. No. The noes have it.

[The amendment of Mr. Royce follows:]

AMENDMENT TO FOREIGN RELATIONS AUTHOR-
IZATION ACT, FISCAL YEARS 2010 AND 2011
OFFERED BY MR. ROYCE OF CALIFORNIA

At the appropriate place, insert the following new section:

1 SEC. ____ . SENSE OF CONGRESS ON RESTRICTIONS ON RE-
2 LIGIOUS FREEDOM IN VIETNAM.

3 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

4 (1) The Secretary of State, under the Inter-
5 national Religious Freedom Act of 1998 (22 U.S.C.
6 6401 et seq.) and authority delegated by the Presi-
7 dent, designates nations found guilty of “particularly
8 severe violations of religious freedom” as “Countries
9 of Particular Concern”.

10 (2) In November 2006, the Secretary of State
11 announced that the Socialist Republic of Vietnam
12 was no longer designated as a “Country of Par-
13 ticular Concern”.

14 (3) The Unified Buddhist Church of Vietnam
15 (UBCV), the Hoa Hao Buddhists, and the Cao Dai
16 groups continue to face unwarranted abuses because
17 of their attempts to organize independently of the 18 Government of Vietnam, including the detention and

1 imprisonment of individual members of these reli-
2 gious communities.

3 (4) Over the last 3 years, 18 Hoa Hao Bud-
4 dhists have been arrested for distributing sacred
5 texts or publically protesting the religious restric-
6 tions placed on them by the Government of Vietnam,
7 at least 12 remain in prison, including 4 sentenced
8 in 2007 for staging a peaceful hunger strike.

9 (5) At least 15 individuals are being detained in 10 long term house arrest for reasons relating to their 11 faith, including the most venerable Thich Quang Do
12 and most of the leadership of the UBCV.

13 (6) According to Human Rights Watch, “In
14 April 2008 Montagnard Christian Y Ben Hdok was
15 beaten to death while in police custody in Dak Lak
16 after other Montagards in his district tried to flee to 17 Cambodia to seek political asylum.”.

18 (7) According to the United States Commission
19 on International Religious Freedom 2009 Annual
20 Report, religious freedom advocates and human
21 rights defenders Nguyen Van Dai, Le Thi Cong
22 Nhan, and Fr. Thaddeus Nguyen Van Ly are in 23 prison under Article 88 of the Criminal Code of 24 Vietnam and Fr. Nguyen Van Loi is being held
25 without official detention orders under house arrest.

1 (8) In February 2009, as many as 11
2 Montagnard Protestants were detained for refusing
3 to join the officially recognized Southern Evangelical
4 Church of Vietnam, and 2 still remain in prison.

5 (9) Since August 2008, the Government of 6 Vietnam has arrested and sentenced at least eight
7 individuals and beaten, tear-gassed, harassed, pub-
8 licly slandered, and threatened Catholics engaged in
9 peaceful activities seeking the return of Catholic
10 Church properties confiscated by the Vietnamese
11 Government after 1954 in Hanoi, including in the 12 Thai Ha parish.

13 (b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Con-
14 gress that—

15 (1) the Secretary of State should place Vietnam
16 on the list of “Countries of Particular Concern” for 17 particularly severe violations of religious freedom;
18 and

19 (2) the Government of Vietnam should lift re-
20 strictions on religious freedom and implement nec-
21 essary legal and political reforms to protect religious
22 freedom.

Ms. RUSH. Amendment to Foreign Relations Authorization Act, Fiscal Years 2010 and 2011, offered by Mr. Royce of California. "At the appropriate place, insert the following new section: 'Section blank. Sense of Congress on Restrictions'"——

Chairman BERMAN. Without objection, the amendment will be deemed read.

The gentleman from California is recognized for 5 minutes on his amendment.

Mr. ROYCE. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. A number of us, on both sides of the aisle, are members of the Human Rights Caucus, and I bring this resolution up for a particular reason.

There is a problem for the Buddhist Church in Vietnam, and, over the years, we have had this issue of the countries of particular concern, the list that allows us to apply some leverage in order to try to obtain the right kind of conduct, whether it is in Burma or Saudi Arabia. Vietnam was on that list and was taken off a few years ago, but, colleagues, Human Rights Watch said that they have commenced the worst crackdown on human rights in 20 years, and I just want to share this with you.

I had an opportunity, in the past, to visit some of those dissidents, some of those Buddhist monks, in prison. One was Thich Quang Do, who is serving 33 years. Another who was under house arrest was Le Quang Liem.

When you meet with someone, and, subsequently, they have their head bashed in by the state because they attempt to go to a religious ceremony for their prophet's birthday, I just want to read you the press account.

"Mr. Trung Van Duk was clubbed to death on site. His body is kept at the Phu Tan District Prison. As for Mr. Le Quang Liem, he suffered several major blows to the head and shoulders. Fellow Hoa Hao Buddhists came to his aid, quickly carried him to the gates of the Thu Than City. Three thousand Hoa Hao Buddhists surrounded the gates to protect him. The policeman pursuing Mr. Le Quang Liem ruthlessly clubbed and beat the Hoa Hao Buddhists surrounding the gates of the city."

Now, we have Protestant leader Ben Hdok, this year, who was also beaten to death. This is a photograph from the Human Rights Report of Pastor Nguyen Kon Chin beaten over 20 times. This is his latest beating, July 12, 2008. His church was bulldozed twice.

The point I am trying to make here is that when Human Rights Watch gives us the hard evidence, in terms of the crackdown that occurred this year, and it is across the board, we must act. The church that has the greatest problem, I think, are the Buddhists because, as Le Quang Liem showed me, the sacred texts are not acceptable to the party, so the party has rewritten them to about 30 percent of what used to be in the document and changed the document. This is why the head of the Unified Buddhist Church, Thich Quang Do, and why Le Quang Liem cannot convert to the party's interpretation for their religion as Buddhists.

Now, the bottom line is that the State Department is going to do what it wants to do. We cannot compel Vietnam's inclusion, but we can use our judgment and express our view that the Vietnamese harassment of religious believers here is over the top.

So this is what I really recommend to all of you. For those of us who are members of the Human Rights Caucus, we have had hearings on this, we have heard in detail all that has happened, also to the Catholic Church at Thai Ha and to the parishioners there, how they have been beaten. I just think it is time, in a bipartisan way, we go on record in this body to, at least, express to the Vietnamese Government that someone is paying attention, just like we do to Burma and just like we do to the Saudis and so forth.

I will reserve the balance of my time, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. You cannot reserve it, but you can get one of your friends to yield.

Mr. ROYCE. Then let me explain one other point. The fact that Vietnam was put on the list shows how bad things were, and, for a while, that served to create some leverage, but now, as Human Rights Watch has told us, we have lost any leverage, and the U.S. Commission on International Religious Freedom, which is the custodian of this list, to begin with, now recommends that Vietnam be delisted, our own U.S. Commission on Religious Freedom. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentleman has expired. The gentlemen from America Samoa; for what purpose do you seek recognition?

Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA. I move to strike the last word.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA. Mr. Chairman, I have the utmost respect for my colleague and friend from California, Mr. Royce, and I also am a member of the Human Rights Caucus, and I want to include, for the record, Mr. Chairman, the letter that was received from Vietnam's Ambassador to the United States in opposition to the Royce Amendment.

Chairman BERMAN. Without objection, that letter from the ambassador will be included.

Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA. I also want to include the State Department's response to the amendment.

Chairman BERMAN. I am sorry?

Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA. The State Department.

Chairman BERMAN. They have sent a communication on this issue.

Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA. Yes.

Chairman BERMAN. Having seen neither, we will include both.

Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA. Okay. Mr. Chairman, the State Department continues to list Vietnam as a country of particular concern with respect to religious freedom. This is what the amendment calls for:

“Vietnam was placed on a Country of Particular Concern list in 2004, and, in 2006, under the Bush administration, the U.S. Department of State took Vietnam off of the CPC list because it no longer fit the criteria of a severe violator under the International Religious Freedom Act.”

While I agree with my friend from California that problems remain in Vietnam, and while I am aware that the U.S. Commission on International Religious Freedom would like to see Vietnam put back on the list, the Commission on International Religious Freedom also recognizes some positive developments, as does the U.S. Department of State.

According to the State Department, Vietnam has addressed the central violations put forward in the Royce Amendment and has instituted policies and practices to protect religious freedom.

According to the statement from the State Department, and I quote,

“All prisoners of faith that were on our list in 2004 have been released. There have been only isolated cases of renunciation in the past year. Almost all of the places of worship that were shut down prior to 2004 have been reopened, new churches and religious denominations continue to be recognized, religious texts are now printed and distributed to several ethnic minority languages, and many thousands of believers are able to practice their faith without harassment.”

The reference that my good friend’s amendment makes to the Catholic Church was a land dispute and not a religious dispute. In fact, according to the ambassador’s letter, the improvement of religious freedom was acknowledged by Vatican Under Secretary of State Monsignor Pietro Parolini, the Pope’s envoy during his visit to Vietnam in February of this year.

The ambassador’s letter also reports that the Bush administration’s decision to take Vietnam off the CPC list, that, in the year 2008 and early 2009, nine religious groups received national recognition, tripling the number that received recognition throughout 2007, the number of locally registered Protestant congregations has increased. In Ho Chi Minh City alone, there are now 130 registered congregations, and, by the end of the year 2008, there were 1,175 in the Central Highlands and about 126 in the Northern Provinces.

With that, Mr. Chairman, again, I respect very highly my good friend’s proposed amendment, but, for the reasons—

Mr. ROYCE. Will the gentleman yield for a question?

Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA. I will gladly yield.

Mr. ROHRABACHER. The letter that you submitted; was it from the American Ambassador to Vietnam, or are you submitting a letter from Vietnamese Ambassador to the United States?

Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA. From the Ambassador of Vietnam to the United States.

Mr. ROHRABACHER. So the representative of the government who has been accused of the human rights abuses; he is the representative of that government, not our Government.

Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA. And rightly so.

Mr. ROHRABACHER. All right.

Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA. That is what he is here for, and I believe the same letter was also sent to other members of the committee.

Chairman BERMAN. Is the gentleman yielding back?

Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA. Mr. Chairman, with that, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. SMITH OF NEW JERSEY. Mr. Chairman?

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentleman has expired. The gentleman from New Jersey.

Mr. SMITH OF NEW JERSEY. Thank you very much, Mr. Chairman. First of all, let me thank Mr. Royce for his excellent amendment.

As one of the prime authors of the International Religious Freedom Act (IRFA)—Frank Wolf was the prime author, but all of the International Religious Freedom Act hearings, and the markup, were in this room—I was also the chair of the Human Rights Committee at the time—when we wrote that legislation, we meant for countries like Vietnam, which are egregious violators of religious freedom, to be listed as countries of particular concern. Vietnam actually uses the registration of churches as a way of suppressing these institutions and church membership.

I have been to Vietnam several times—as a matter of fact, David Killion and I were there on one of those trips, but my most recent trip took me to Ho Chi Minh City, Hanoi, and Hue. I met with about 60 dissidents who were out of prison. Several are under house arrest, including the venerable Thich Quang Do.

There was an easing in Vietnam's repression for a time. What happened, though, after PNTR and after Vietnam's ascension into the World Trade Organization, was a snapback. You will recall, my colleagues, probably that, like Charter 77, that great human rights manifesto of Czechoslovakia—Vaclav Havel and others have signed that—we have a similar manifesto for human rights in Vietnam today.

On 8406, April 8, 2006, some of the leading intellectuals in Vietnam all signed the Block 8406 document, many hundreds of them, and now, one by one, those men and women have been dragged back to prison—for some, it is the first trip—they have been totally mistreated—some have been tortured. We have seen a profound deterioration of the human rights situation in Vietnam.

On religious freedom, the U.S. Commission on International Religious Freedom, the individual body created by IRFA, the International Religious Freedom Act, back in 1998, has recommended, since 2001, that Vietnam be listed as a CPC, a Country of Particular Concern.

In 2004 and 2005, the Bush administration put them, designated them, as CPC countries, as they ought to have been.

Ambassador John Hanford, our ambassador-at-large, worked very hard, got a whole set of what he called “deliverables” that many of us thought, and had some expectation, that the Vietnamese Government would honor. One by one, those deliverables have been ripped in half, and the dissidents all hauled back into prison.

The Unified Buddhist Church remains outlawed, and we have severe depression there.

The Protestant Church, the Montagnards—there is a whole list and category of individuals, including the Catholic Church, which has now seen the pendulum that was easing go in the opposite direction.

So I strongly urge my colleagues to go with Mr. Royce on his CPC designation. It is well-founded, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentleman has expired. I am going to recognize myself to speak in support of the Royce Amendment.

The U.S. Commission on International Religious Freedom has recommended that Vietnam be named a "Country of Particular Concern." There was a significant level of improvement, and whether it was a "snapback," as Mr. Smith said, or an erosion, the fact is, there are still far too many serious abuses and restrictions of religious freedom in Vietnam.

By redesignating Vietnam, I hope that the consequence will be that the Vietnamese Government will engage with us further on this issue and address these concerns. While some areas of United States-Vietnamese relations have improved quite markedly in recent years, restrictions on religious freedom remain an area of real concern, so I am going to vote for the amendment.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Would the gentleman yield for just a moment?

Chairman BERMAN. Yes. I will yield for a moment.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Let me, as a member of the Human Rights Commission, respectfully disagree with my distinguished colleague and agree with the chairman. This is, I think, an important step. It is a "Sense of Congress" that allows latitude, but I conclude by saying that you cannot label all of the Vietnamese-Americans that are here to be anti the present Government of Vietnam. They care about it. They care about their relatives, and they report to you all of the time the human rights abuses that they suffer.

My final statement is, if we reflect back on the Vietnam War, many of our contemporaries, those of us who remember that war, lost their life, upwards of 50,000-plus of Americans who died, so that there might be democracy, there might be justice, there might be human rights, and we cannot fail them, and I think this is a reasonable response to that, and I yield back and support the amendment.

Chairman BERMAN. My time has expired. The gentleman from California.

Mr. ROHRBACHER. I will make this very quick, Mr. Chairman. We need to go on record in opposition to the brutal human rights violations that are now taking place in Vietnam. I commend Mr. Royce for what he is doing. Less than 2 months ago, police in the Mekong Delta brutally beat to death the head of the Kamir Christians Alliance Church. And we just heard, in opposition to Mr. Royce's amendment, we heard the fact that so many churches have been registered, as if that is good thing. The fact that they had to register those churches with a regime that espouses an atheistic philosophy is actually something that indicates that we should be passing this resolution, as Mr. Royce has suggested.

One last note, as the situation has degenerated in Vietnam and human rights activists have been jailed and religious leaders have been brutally beaten to death, the American business community continues to invest in Vietnam and to go there, treating that government as if it is no different than the Belgian Government. We owe it to our founding fathers and everybody who built this country to value liberty and justice. And if we just value making money and letting our businessmen go over there like that and then write policy for us, shame on us. Thank you, Mr. Royce and thank you, Mr. Chairman for supporting this amendment.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentleman has expired. The question is on the amendment from the gentleman from California, Mr. Royce. All those in favor say aye.

[A chorus of ayes.]

Chairman BERMAN. All opposed, no.

[A chorus of noes.]

Chairman BERMAN. The ayes have it. The amendment is adopted. All right. Mr. Gallegly?

Mr. GALLEGLY. I have a short amendment.

Chairman BERMAN. A short amendment. Real short?

Mr. GALLEGLY. I think so. Everything I do is short.

Chairman BERMAN. If it is the one I think it is, I like it.

Mr. GALLEGLY. Okay. I have an amendment at the desk.

Chairman BERMAN. It is not on immigration?

Mr. GALLEGLY. No.

Chairman BERMAN. Okay.

Mr. GALLEGLY. Well, we may work something in there.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman is recognized.

[The amendment of Mr. Gallegly follows:]

Amendment #__ Offered by Mr. Gallegly of California

To H.R. 2410

line 11 and

Page 250, line 14, strike "Mexico" and insert "the Western Hemisphere"

Page 250, line 19, strike "ten" and insert "twenty"

Page 251 strike lines 3 through 7.

Mr. GALLEGLY. Mr. Chairman, this amendment makes three changes to section 912 of the bill, which increases—

Chairman BERMAN. The clerk will read the amendment.

Mr. GALLEGLY. Okay.

Chairman BERMAN. Without objection, the reading of the amendment is waived. The gentleman from California.

Mr. GALLEGLY. As I said, Mr. Chairman, this amendment makes three changes to section 912 of the bill, which increases penalties for illicit trafficking in arms and weapons to Mexico. First, this amendment expands the enhanced penalties from exports to Mexico, to exports to the Western Hemisphere. Trafficking weapons to the Caribbean or Central or South America is just as detrimental to our national security as smuggling guns to Mexico.

Second, this amendment increases the penalty for exporting weapons to the Western Hemisphere from 10–20 years. If we want to send a strong message to those putting guns in the hands of the drug cartels, we need to also increase the possible jail time.

And third, this amendment strikes subsection C of section 912, which imposes a sunset on these new penalties. Unfortunately, gun trafficking to Mexico and other countries is nothing new. This problem will not go away by the year 2012.

Chairman BERMAN. Would the gentleman yield?

Mr. GALLEGLY. Yes, I will.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman's amendment deals with the illegal trafficking of small arms to Mexico and others. It is all part of our Merida Initiative and our effort to deal with the crisis down there. It is an excellent amendment because it recognizes that the issue is not just Mexico. It is the entire Western Hemisphere. It is right in extending the penalties. The language in the bill had focused on fines. In some cases, you are dealing with people who can never pay for their fines. In some case, you are dealing with people for whom the fines are nothing because they have so much cash. So, the extension of the sentencing is a good idea and I do not think there is logic to the sunset clause. So, I urge the committee to adopt the amendment.

Is there any further discussion or debate?

[No further discussion.]

Chairman BERMAN. If not, the question is on the amendment by the gentleman from California, Mr. Gallegly. All those in favor, say aye.

[A chorus of ayes.]

Chairman BERMAN. All opposed, no.

[A chorus of noes.]

Chairman BERMAN. The ayes have it. The amendment is adopted. We will recess and come back at 3 o'clock where we hope to finish up this bill and take up the Pakistan bill.

[Whereupon, a recess was taken.]

Chairman BERMAN. The committee will come to order. The gentleman from Indiana.

Mr. PENCE. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I have an amendment at the desk.

Chairman BERMAN. The clerk will read the amendment from Mr. Pence.

[The amendment of Mr. Pence follows:]

AMENDMENT TO H.R. 2410

OFFERED BY MR. PENCE OF INDIANA

In subsection C of Title III, strike the current section 333 and insert the following new section:

SEC. 333. PROTECTION OF FUNDAMENTAL HUMAN RIGHTS.

The Secretary of State shall continue to work through appropriate United States Government employees at United States diplomatic and consular missions to encourage the governments of other countries to protect all people against gross violations of internationally recognized human rights, as described in section 116(a) of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2151n), regardless of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin.

Ms. RUSH. Amendment to H.R. 2410 offered by Mr. Pence of Indiana. "In subsection C of Title III, strike the current section 333 and insert the following new section: 'Section 333. Protection of fundamental human rights. The Secretary of State shall continue to work through appropriate United States'"—

Mr. PENCE. Mr. Chairman, I would ask unanimous consent to consider the amendment as read.

Chairman BERMAN. Without objection, that will be the order and the gentleman of Indiana is recognized for 5 minutes on his amendment.

Mr. PENCE. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. This is a fairly straightforward amendment that follows on some action that this committee has already taken with regard to section 333. And my amendment would actually replace what remains of section 333 with a reaffirmation of our shared commitment to protect fundamental human rights for all people on the globe.

First, let me say rather emphatically, this is obviously a sensitive issue and it is an issue that has been recently debated on the floor of the Congress. The question of sexual orientation, gender identity is one that upon which many millions of Americans are divided and this Congress has debated and will continue to debate. But let me say emphatically, I do not support criminalization of homosexual behavior. And I understand the import of the aspects of this legislation that identify themselves with efforts toward ending the criminalization of homosexual behavior around the world. So, let me say emphatically on that point, this is not about that.

What I do oppose, though, as the current legislation suggests, I oppose mandating that our Secretary of State, diplomatic and consular staff essentially promote a gay rights agenda around the globe over and above other issues. Currently, section 333(c) reads, in part,

“in keeping with the administration’s endorsement of efforts by the United Nations to decriminalize homosexuality in member states, the Secretary of State shall work through appropriate United States Government employees at United States diplomatic and consular missions to encourage governments of countries to reform or repeal laws, and again it refers to laws of such countries criminalizing homosexuality. But, then, it goes on to say to reform or repeal laws restricting the enjoyment of fundamental freedoms consistent with the United States law by homosexual individuals or organizations.”

My amendment would simply delete that language and replace it, as my colleagues can see, with the assertion that the Secretary of State shall continue to work through appropriate United States Government employees, diplomatic and consular missions, to encourage governments of other countries to protect all people against gross violations of internationally recognized human rights, as described in the Foreign Assistance Act, regardless of race, creed, religion, sex, or national origin, which, of course, is from Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

It seems to me that that is altogether much more appropriate than using this legislation to specifically direct, and I emphasize to my colleagues, the language of this legislation says “the Secretary of State shall work through employees, diplomatic staff, and consular missions” to promote a particular agenda on a particular issue bearing on a particular rights of particular individuals. We ought to rather have a broader statement on internationally recognized human rights.

And I want to say, respectfully, and we ought to identify race, color, religion, sex, national origins, those matters upon which the American people broadly agree, rather than introducing and singling out an issue that divides so many in our Nation and I suspect will continue to. My amendment will ensure that American diplomats speak with an undivided voice, undivided voice of the American people and their values. As currently drafted, our bill would tie the hands of American diplomats by mandating that they make sexual orientation a foreign policy priority regardless of other national security considerations.

So, I offer this legislation and would be delighted to have the chair accept it. But, I offer this legislation really in the spirit of saying let us move this critical reauthorization bill with the broadest possible consensus. I know the chairman. I respect the chairman. I respect my colleagues on both parties on this committee. But, as we just saw in recent days on the floor of this Congress, this is a difficult issue that goes to the very heart of values to the American people and we ought not single it out with a mandate in this reauthorization bill and essentially risk turning our diplomatic core into agents of a particular point of view that emerges out of the midst of the American political debate, but make them advocates of those broad principles and advocates of human rights that do unite the American people. And I yield back.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentleman has expired. The gentleman from Virginia, Mr. Connolly, is recognized.

Mr. CONNOLLY. I thank the chair. Mr. Chairman, I find it amazing that ostensibly in the name of letting us have a broad consensus on the protection of fundamental human rights, the gentleman would carve out one whole class of human beings, who would be exempted from those human rights. I find that to be an exquisite contradiction that I certainly cannot support.

I represent a state that not so long ago enshrined discrimination in its statutes. It is a sorry part of our past we certainly do not want to go back to. And I think it is perfectly appropriate for the United States to include sexual orientation along with race, color, religion, sex, or national origin. I think it is wrong in the name of comity to say let us all agree we are going to carve out a whole class of human beings against whom we will sanction discrimination. And, again, sadly, we hear rhetoric about "a gay or homosexual agenda," whatever that is. I do not subscribe to any particular agenda other than that which says I do not favor discrimination. And I did not run for office to sign up to discriminate against any class of human beings and I am not going to do it now.

So, Mr. Chairman, I hope, unlike the gentleman from Indiana, I hope you will not accept this amendment because I do not think it represents fundamental American values. I yield back my time.

Chairman BERMAN. Can we call a question? Is there further debate? The gentlelady from California.

Ms. WATSON. I would like to align myself with Mr. Connolly's remarks, as well. I am reading the language in this amendment, section 333, and I do not see the language that he described in it. And it says "regardless of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin." Can the chair point out the language that Mr. Pence is referring to?

Chairman BERMAN. If the gentlelady will yield?

Ms. WATSON. I will yield.

Chairman BERMAN. I believe it is fair to say—and the gentleman from Indiana can correct me if I am wrong—that he seeks to strike subsection C of Title III, which starts with "international efforts to revise laws criminalizing homosexuality." He seeks to strike that paragraph from lines 1 through 12 and insert the language that has been passed out as his amendment. I am sorry, he is striking section 333, which starts with—

Ms. WATSON. I am looking at the bill, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. All right. Yes, I am sorry. If you are looking at the bill, look on page 125, section 333, "discrimination related to sexual orientation." Subsection (a) has already been struck by the amendment because for the reasons that we have a strong expectation that that issue will be dealt with administratively.

Subsection (b) is tracking violence or criminalization related to sexual orientation. The gentleman from Indiana seeks to strike that.

Subsection (c), "international efforts to revise laws criminalizing homosexuality," he seeks to strike that. And then he seeks to strike the country or ports on human rights language in the rest of the section.

He is striking everything in 333 that has not already been struck and substitute the language in front of him. Is that a fair characterization, Mr. Pence?

Mr. PENCE. Yes, Mr. Chairman, it is substituted with the language that is in my amendment.

Ms. WATSON. As the United States of America and as our Secretary of State travels the globe to spread the virtue of western democracy and the fact that in our Constitution, in our Bill of Rights, we protect human rights. I think it would be counterproductive and hypocritical to take the language that you have in the bill out and substitute with this language because it is obvious that this language would allow discrimination and we are a country that abhors discrimination. We have an inclusive society and we need to have language that protects the rights of all human beings regardless of color, creed, sex, or sexual orientation. I would hope that this amendment would be struck down. Thank you, Mr. Chairman, I yield back.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentlelady has expired.

Mr. DELAHUNT. Mr. Chairman?

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman from Massachusetts, Mr. Delahunt.

Mr. DELAHUNT. I will be very brief.

Chairman BERMAN. I wish to strike the last word and recognize—

Mr. DELAHUNT. I wish to strike the last word and I want to associate myself with the remarks of Mr. Connolly, the gentleman from Virginia. I want to be very clear. I do not consider the existing section as promoting a gay rights agenda. It simply does not do that. That is a mischaracterization of that particular section.

What the gentleman from Indiana's amendment would do, it would signal to the rest of the world that violence against people, gay people, gay men, lesbians, and bisexuals, and others with a different sexual orientation, would be of no concern, of less of a concern to the United States. This is about condemning violence against a category of people because of their sexual orientation. It is not about a gay rights agenda. It is about violence against gays. I think that is a bad message to send.

As you, Mr. Chairman, are aware, I recently came back from Moscow where there was an event and there was violence against people because of their sexual orientation and it was condemned by every single democracy in Europe. And I think that the gentleman's amendment, no matter how well intentioned, would be a move that would bring discredit to the United States. And with that, I yield back.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Would the gentleman yield?

Mr. DELAHUNT. I will yield.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. We went through this before. The chairman indicated his viewpoint. He indicated he was going to work with the State Department, that we were going to stand on the basic respect for human dignity. What this amendment does with the reference to protecting rights, in essence, it takes away rights, as it refers to laws that may not, in fact, identify and respect sexual orientation differences. And so I would ask that we would oppose this amendment and I yield back to the chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. DELAHUNT. I will yield further.

Chairman BERMAN. I appreciate the general feeling. I just want to join issue with my friend from Indiana on one aspect of his comment, a notion of a general statement versus specific references. First of all, a number of us, and I know you are one of them—who, in the context of the general respect for human rights, in terms of particular issues in particular countries—have been at the forefront of trying to jar attention. The earlier debate about religious freedom in Vietnam was an example. There are all kinds of issues, but in that specific situation, there was conduct by Vietnam that troubles us greatly and we tried to address it with language by Mr. Royce. I remember after the Gulf War the issue that Kuwait, who we had—as part of a coalition, had liberated from an Iraqi aggression, had a system, which did not allow women to vote. It became part of our agenda as parliamentarians and part of the State Department's agenda, in terms of bilateral relationships, to push. Obviously, the Kuwaitis will decide for themselves, but we would push the notion that that discrimination based on sex was wrong. And here we are 20 years later and Kuwaiti women have a right to vote. Kuwaiti women now have a right to run for Parliament and lo and behold, four Kuwaiti women were just elected to the parliamentary.

So, we have issues that were thought of as cultural norms in certain societies years ago change. And there was a time we talked about, oh, democracy would not work in Asia and it was contrary to Asian values. But, this is one of, I think, the fundamental freedoms. And by your own comments, you indicated your abhorrence, and I believe you, with both the violence and the criminalization of homosexual conduct and your opposition to that. There was a time in America where that was common, part of State laws. They were knocked out and a remnant to the past.

The one thing I do not think we should rightfully be doing is asking our diplomats to push issues that we, in our country, have not come to terms with yet. For instance, in some cases, I hate to say it, we do not have a Federal statute on employment discrimination based on sexual orientation. I hope one day soon we will. This language that you seek to strike is sensitive to all those issues. It focuses on it. The report language will make it very clear that no one will be forced to promote an agenda in this area in carrying out the provisions of this law that they find morally repugnant. And I would join my colleagues from Virginia, Texas, California, and Massachusetts in urging a no vote.

The gentleman from Arizona, Mr. Flake.

Mr. FLAKE. I move to strike the last word.

Chairman BERMAN. Yes. We have some members who have to go to the White House, so we would love to get a vote on this soon. The gentleman is recognized for 4½ minutes.

Mr. FLAKE. I yield to the gentleman from Indiana.

Mr. PENCE. I thank the gentleman for yielding. Let me just say, and I appreciate, other than everybody except Bill Delahunt, I appreciate the comments that were made by all the members of the panel and even those from my friend from Massachusetts. And it seems to me, Mr. Chairman, you just said we ought not to push issues we have not come to terms with yet. I think I wrote that down. It is in the record. And maybe I am just not really getting an understanding, this language. It says, "the Secretary of State shall," I am looking now at section 333(c), "Secretary of State shall work through, diplomatic, consular, missions," et cetera, "to encourage governments" and, again, I am stepping over the criminalizing homosexuality part, but then also says, "reform or repeal laws restricting the enjoyment fundamental freedoms by homosexual individuals, organizations." That strikes me as singling out the interest of a particular group when what we ought to be doing is having our diplomatic corps be, as my amendment suggests, promoting internationally recognized human rights as described in the Foreign Assistance Act, the gentleman from Massachusetts referred to and the chairman did.

I abhor violence against individuals. I abhor discrimination. The reason I cited the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, because it internationally recognized human rights. There is a long list of abuses against individuals, which are encompassed in this, that our diplomatic corps ought to be about pressing the interest of individuals, regardless of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin. It just seems to me that as we are in the business in this important committee of laying a legal foundation, we ought not to be singling out. It seems that one of my colleague's issues, the phrase that they were concerned, we were expressing less of a concern toward a group of individuals that may have homosexual or sexual preference. What troubles me about this language, Mr. Chairman, is just simply it seems like the bill as currently written puts more of a concern on individuals on the basis of sexual orientation and gender identity than a broad concern for individuals, who are the subject of human rights abuses or discrimination.

So, that is the reason why, as you accurately stated, I am calling for us to strike this section and replace it with what would be a very broad affirmation grounded in the Foreign Assistance Act, grounded in the Civil Rights Act of 1964, and simply say that as our Nation continues to debate along the fault lines of whether it would be hate crimes or other issues, that we would not be dictating, which I see when it says, "Secretary of State shall," we are dictating that our diplomatic corps, our foreign service essentially get in the business of promoting an agenda upon which there is broad disagreement and disagreement based on values and world view of millions of Americans. With that, I will be happy to yield back and move the previous question.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentleman has expired. Can we go to the question? All those in favor of the amendment by the gentleman from Indiana say aye.

[A chorus of ayes.]

Chairman BERMAN. All opposed, say no.

[A chorus of noes.]

Chairman BERMAN. No. In the opinion of the chair, the noes have it. The gentleman from Illinois. The amendment fails, by the way.

Mr. MANZULLO. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I have an amendment at the desk.

Chairman BERMAN. The clerk will read.

Ms. RUSH. Amendment H.R. 2410, offered by—

Mr. MANZULLO. I move that the amendment be considered read.

Ms. RUSH [continuing]. Mr. Manzullo of Illinois—

Chairman BERMAN. Without objection, the amendment is considered as read. It is a long amendment.

Mr. MANZULLO. Thank you. This amendment seeks to correct a problem that barred American small businesses from participating in the Asian Pacific Economic Cooperation forum. What it does is when APEC gets together, businesses from all over the world are actively engaged in shaping important policies, such as standards, intellectual property rights, and even export promotion. But, unfortunately, America's 26 million small businesses are not given a seat at the table. The City of Rockford, which is in the district I represent, Mr. Chairman, has about 340,000 people and exports $1.4 billion worth of products. So, it is a heavy manufacturing, heavy exporting area and this bill allows small businesses the opportunity to come to the table.

The Small Business Exporters Association of America supports the amendment. It levels the field of America's small business and manufacturers. It will give the little guys the opportunity to attend and participate in the APEC meetings.

Mr. Chairman, I want to thank you for working with us on another issue which is also very important to manufacturers of northern Illinois. The inclusion of language in section 804 pertains to the Directorate of Defense trade controls on which Congressman Sherman and I worked last year is a huge boost. It is a step in the right direction. Mr. Sherman and I—our expert process and also the provision on satellites in section 826 will help create more manufacturing jobs. And I would urge the adoption of the amendment and I yield back.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentleman has expired. I recognize myself for 5 minutes to support the Manzullo amendment. It addresses a need for more U.S. engagement in APEC and for assistance for small businesses to participate in the forum. And I yield the balance of my time to the gentleman from American Samoa, the chair of the Asia and Pacific Subcommittee.

Mr. FALCOMA. I thank you, Mr. Chairman, for yielding. I do want to commend my good friend and ranking member of our subcommittee, the gentleman from Illinois, for offering this amendment. Mr. Chairman, I know of no one in this committee, who has a greater sense of passion, understanding, and commitment concerning the needs of our small businesses throughout our country. Because the gentleman was formerly chairman of the committee of small business and I as a former member of that committee, I thought the gentleman did an outstanding job in pressing for the needs of our small businesses throughout our Nation.

The gentleman's amendment is a clear statement to the State Department and several other Federal agencies of the importance of small businesses and quite often our small businesses never seem to get the attention and the proper treatment to be included in business contracts and transactions, especially with foreign countries. My only concern is that whether the gentleman's amendment is in the right structure as far as APEC is concerned. Problems with APEC is that while this organization is composed of 21 countries, which includes two unique entities, like Hong Kong and Taiwan, APEC today is still struggling with its own sense of identity and whether it will evolve into a formalized economic organization like NAFTA or the European Union.

Over the years, APEC has been an excellent forum, which allows heads of state and governments to conduct side meetings. My colleagues will recall our former President Bush attended the APEC meeting that was hosted by Prime Minister John Howard of Australia and long afterwards, he left the conference while the attendees were still in the meeting. As it is currently structured, every embassy we have around the world has economic advisors to each of our ambassadors. And I think this is where the rubber meets the road, Mr. Chairman. Do our economists or advisors of these embassies, does the State Department earnestly have programs that specifically address the needs of our small businesses?

It has been my experience that when we address economic trade relations with other countries, exports, imports, always seem to look after the needs of the larger corporations. But when it comes to including small businesses, nothing is done. Having said all of that, Mr. Chairman, it is my understanding the gentleman's amendment has been revised so as to also have the support of you, Mr. Chairman. And, again, to emphasize the gentleman's concerns, small business is never given proper consideration by the State Department and other Federal agencies to promote trade relations with other countries. And I could not have think of better what the gentleman is saying, that if you are not at the table, you will be on the menu. And I must say that our small businesses have been on the menu for all of these years and it is about time that the State Department and other agencies give due attention to this need. And I thank, again, my good friend from Illinois for proposing this amendment. I urge my colleagues to support the amendment.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentleman has expired. The question is on the amendment from the gentleman from Indiana. All those in favor, say aye.

[A chorus of ayes.]

Chairman BERMAN. Illinois. We already dealt with. Illinois, it is close. All opposed, no.

[A chorus of noes.]

Chairman BERMAN. The ayes have it. The amendment is adopted. State of play, just a couple more amendments and then final passage. We, obviously, need a reporting quorum, so we are getting near the end of the first bell and I think the most time consuming one, I hope. The gentleman from Florida.

Mr. MACK. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I have an amendment at the desk.

Chairman BERMAN. The clerk will read.

[The amendment of Mr. Mack follows:]

AMENDMENT TO H.R.
OFFERED BY MR. MACK OF FLORIDA

In title ~~XI~~^{II}, add at the end of subtitle B the following new section:

1 ~~SEC. 1126.~~ JEWISH COMMUNITY IN VENEZUELA.

2 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

3 (1) The Jewish community in Venezuela has 4 been a thriving one and the Jewish population in-
5 cluded families that have lived in the country for 6 over two centuries and many survivors of World War
7 II.

8 (2) According to the 2008 International Reli-
9 gious Freedom Report released by the Bureau of 10 Democracy, Human Rights, and Labor,
11 “[g]overnment-sponsored media outlets [in Ven-
12 ezuela] utilized anti-Jewish caricatures and political 13 cartoons on several occasions”.

14 (3) The United States Commission on Inter-
15 national Religious Freedom has placed Venezuela on 16 its watch list of religious freedom violators, finding
17 that official state rhetoric against the Venezuelan
18 Jewish community created an environment where

1 Jewish religious leaders and institutions are at risk
2 of attack.

3 (4) On January of 2009, a Caracas synagogue
4 was ransacked and vandalized and the assailants
5 shattered religious objects, spray-painting “Jews, get 6 out” on the temple’s walls and stole a computer
7 database containing names and addresses of Jews
8 living in Venezuela.

9 (5) In February 2009, assailants threw an ex-
10 plosive at a Jewish community center, spreading
11 widespread fear in the Jewish community in Ven-
12 ezuela.

13 (6) On January 6, 2009, Venezuela expelled
14 Israel’s ambassador to Venezuela along with six
15 other Israeli diplomats.

16 (7) On January 14, 2009, Venezuela officially
17 severed relations with the State of Israel ending 60
18 years of diplomatic ties and deepening the vulner-
19 ability of Venezuelan Jews.

20 (b) STATEMENT OF POLICY.—It is the policy of the 21 United States to protect religious freedom and to oppose 22 hatred based on religion, nationality, race, or ethnicity, in-
23 cluding countering anti-Semitism, at home and abroad.

24 (c) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Con-
25 gress that the United States should reach out to democ-

1 racy and human rights activists in Venezuela, and to as-
2 sist them in their efforts in combating anti-Semitism in 3 Venezuela, including—

4 (1) expressing its support for all Venezuelan
5 citizens targeted by the Chavez government, includ-
6 ing those in the Jewish community, in their daily
7 struggle for freedom, civil liberties, and the protec-
8 tion of the rule of law;

9 (2) calling on the Government of Venezuela to 10 abide by its international obligations and to protect 11 the rights of the Jewish Venezuelan community, ir-
12 respective of their political views;

13 (3) expressing the support of Congress for the 14 Jewish community in Venezuela.

Ms. RUSH. Amendment H.R. 2410, offered by Mr. Mack of Florida. "In title II, add at the end of subtitle B the following new section: 'Jewish community in Venezuela.'"—

Mr. MACK. I ask unanimous consent to waive the reading.

Chairman BERMAN. So ordered and without objection. And the gentleman from Florida is recognized on his amendment.

Mr. MACK. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. As we all aware, Hugo Chavez and his cronies have targeted the Jewish community of Venezuela and we, in Congress, must stand against tyrants and show our support to the Jewish community. The facts are clear, Mr. Chairman. Before Chavez took power, the Jewish community in Venezuela was a thriving one and the Jewish population included families that have lived in the country for over two centuries and were survivors of the Holocaust. Unfortunately, Mr. Chavez—sorry, Mr. Chairman—unfortunately, Mr. Chairman, we have witnessed growing state sponsored hostility toward the Jewish people in Venezuela. In January 2009, a Caracas synagogue was attacked. The men shattered religious objects, spray painted "Jews, get out" on the temple's walls, and stole a computer database containing names and addresses of Jews living in Venezuela. That same month, Venezuela expelled Israel's Ambassador to Venezuela, along with six other Israeli diplomats.

Later, Venezuela officially broke relations with the State of Israel, ending 60 years of diplomatic ties and deepening the vulnerability of Venezuela Jews. In February 2009, attackers through an explosive at a Jewish community center with the intent of spreading fear and terror. Mr. Chairman, the list goes on and on.

Countless organizations have already warned us on the current situation in Venezuela. One of them, the U.S. Commission on International Religious Freedoms placed Venezuela on its watch list of religious freedom violators, finding that official state rhetoric against the Venezuelan Jewish community created an environment where Jewish religious leaders and institutions are at risk of attack. Last month, the magazine of Venezuela's state-owned oil company printed on the front page a cartoon depicting a prison camp. Above it was an Israeli flag and the sign read "under new management." The facts are clear, this is state-sponsored hostility toward the Jewish population in Venezuela.

Mr. Chairman, my amendment asks for Members of Congress to stand side-by-side with the Jewish community in Venezuela and express to them our support and to let them know that they are not alone in their struggle. I know that many of you have expressed concerns as to the timing of this amendment of which I respect each and every one of your opinions. But to me, we cannot idly stand by and not talk and continue to condemn the actions of Hugo Chavez on the Jewish community in Venezuela. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentleman has expired. The gentleman from Florida, Mr. Klein, is recognized.

Mr. KLEIN. Thank you, Mr. Chairman, I move to strike the last word.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. KLEIN. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. First, I would like to thank the gentleman from Florida, Mr. Mack. He and I worked very actively together on a number of Venezuela issues. I think all of us in this body and people in the United States are very concerned with Hugo Chavez, the tactics he has used on his own people, the strategies he has used in the Hemisphere to influence other countries and many of them are unacceptable.

The issue that Mr. Mack brings to us today is something that is very important, but does require a little more information for consideration. I live in south Florida and I have had the opportunity, along with others, to visit with members of the Venezuelan Jewish community that live in south Florida, people that do business in south Florida and have close relations with the Jewish community in Venezuela. And what I have heard over multiple meetings with them is, yes, this is certainly an environment that is not what it was. There have been incidents, as mentioned by Mr. Mack, that are more than troubling, that are not acceptable and we should condemn them. And at the same time we have heard from them, we are still able to conduct our businesses, we are still able to live, we are still able to do the things that we need to do.

Now, I cannot speak for them, other than to say that maybe if I was living in that environment, I would have gotten out. I certainly, as a student of history, and I know many of us understand the consequences of many of the European Jews that did not leave their countries when they did. But, we have to obviously look at each situation as it comes. And in this particular situation, there are a number of ongoing activities that have gone on that are being monitored by international Jewish organizations in Latin America, which I have also spoken with, and the word we are getting back is at the moment, the time being, the community there, by and large, believes that they are safe. They are not threatened physically. They do not like some of these activities that are going on, but they are continuing to be able to conduct their lives and choose to continue to live there. And, in fact, and this is the crux of the whole point, it would be more damaging if the United States Congress were to put this type of resolution out there right now, in their view, in terms of how their government would react, than other activities are going on right now in their region, specifically Argentina, and I met with the Ambassador from Argentina, Mr. Timmerman, and other countries in that region that have been working with the Venezuelan Government to back off and take back and deal with some of these issues.

Now, I am not accepting the fact that Mr. Chavez is going to all of a sudden turn around and have a different attitude. But what I am saying very clearly is there are times when we, in America, and this Congress can do the right thing. We feel it is the right thing. We know that we are sending a message out to the world that will, in fact, help a local community. And there are times when our good intentions or good wishes can do more damage. And what I am seeing specifically in this case, based on my conversations with the communities in south Florida that had direct relations and continue over the last number of weeks have direct relations and contacts with the Venezuela Jewish community, as well as ambassadors from various countries working in that area, as well as Jewish community international organizations that are very closely monitoring what is going on right now in that country, that it is not in our best interest, with all good intents that Mr. Mack has, to take up this amendment at this time.

So, I would suggest, Mr. Chairman, that this committee do not accept this amendment, but absolutely continue to work very hard to monitor and assist this community in all ways possible.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentleman has expired. The gentleman from Nebraska.

Mr. FORTENBERRY. I move to strike the last word.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. FORTENBERRY. I yield time to the gentleman from Florida, Mr. Mack.

Mr. MACK. Thank you. And just real quickly, I believe that my friend, Mr. Klein, is correct, that when he says that there are those who believe that the time is not right. But, I also have heard from many, both from south Florida and as well from Venezuela, that believe that the time is now. It is time to act. And it is the decision that we have to make. Are we going to act and stand together and denounce the actions of Chavez and his government or are we going to delay and take a wait-and-see approach? And I believe, Mr. Chairman, that we ought to support this amendment. Thank you.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentlelady from Nevada.

Ms. BERKLEY. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I move to—

Chairman BERMAN. The gentlelady is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. BERKLEY. Thank you. I move to strike the last word. I pride myself on being in touch with Jewish communities throughout the world and I would like to think of myself as being in the forefront of those concerned about the rise of anti-Semitism throughout Europe, Asia, and South America. I do not take a backseat to anybody on this issue. So when I first heard of the situation in Venezuela with the Jewish community, my first reaction was to react and I seriously contemplated sending a resolution around for people to sign up and to pass independently to support Mr. Mack's amendment. But, I also started hearing from members of the Venezuelan Jewish community and they have convinced me to take a step back and not do anything at this time that may further exacerbate the situation and cause more problems for the Jewish community. And as long as they took the time to contact me and spoke with such passion that this is not the right time for the United States Congress to react, I can only honor their wishes. And I thank the gentleman from Florida for bringing this to everybody's attention. But, I will be voting no, with the understanding that if we get a signal from the Venezuelan Jewish community, I will work very closely with you on this issue and move it forward in Congress as a separate resolution. And I yield back.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentlelady has expired. The gentleman from New York, Mr. Ackerman, is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. ACKERMAN. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. Let me first thank the gentleman from Florida, Mr. Mack, for his sincere and genuine and heartfelt concern for this beleaguered community. We appreciate it, all of us in the Congress do and those of us with Jewish heritage, in particular.

I, also, serve as the president of the International Conference of Jewish Parliamentarians, representing members of parliaments all over the world, who are of the Jewish faith. And one of the things we do is try to look out for Jewish communities that are in peril all over the world and speak out on their behalf and try to defend their rights as part of the overall human rights concerns that we together share. This community finds itself in a very precarious position. And sometimes there are unattended consequences to the good and righteous actions that we would take as legislators, that we do not personally have the sensitivity to fully understand and is counterintuitive to what we would do in most other circumstances, as well. But this particular community in this particular country feel that they are literally under the gun and any push back at this time, although they welcome the moral support that we could give them as individuals, would be taken by the President of that country, as well as others, as a sign and signal that they should clamp down further on this particular community.

Sometimes, we have to ask those, who we would help, what is in their best interest. I know I tell some of my Republican conservative friends that I want to bring down a bunch of liberal Pinkos like me from New York to campaign in their Republican primary and they indicate they would not be helped by my kind intentions. There is a funny aspect to that. But, this is real and this is serious. I would ask the gentleman to consider rethinking this and working collectively with the rest of us, so that we can figure out a better way to help those people. My mother, who was my favorite philosopher, used to say if you want to help me, help me my way. I think that is the best advice a mother—and I think I speak for everybody—mother was always right.

I think we should take a look at try to figure out, and I know that everybody is not of the same view and think we should push this issue a little hard, but if the gentleman would consider withdrawing that, because even those of us, who would be reluctant to vote against this as a resolution because we agree with the notion and the sentiments, would be compelled to do so. And I think we might be able to figure out a better way to help those people, who certainly are deserving of the concern that you have shown and for which we are grateful. I yield back the balance of my time.

Chairman BERMAN. I recognize myself. Motion to strike the last word and yield to the gentleman from Florida.

Mr. MACK. Thank you, Mr. Chairman, and one of the things that I can do, even though I am from Florida, is look around and count votes. But with that being said, this is something that I am very, very passionate about and believe in deeply. And the crux of the argument is the time right and I believe that the time is right. I absolutely believe the time is right and that we should and must act now. But if there is sincerity on the other side to work with us, with me, in listening to those, who have contacted me, the chief rabbi from Venezuela, who is in support, then I would be inclined to withdraw the amendment, but doing so in a way that really does foster an opportunity for us to work side by side with the hopes of bringing something either through the committee or to the floor that can move this issue forward.

Mr. ENGEL. Will the gentleman yield? Will Mr. Mack yield to me?

Mr. MACK. Yes.

Mr. ENGEL. I am sorry. Mr. Berman, I am sorry.

Chairman BERMAN. Yes, I will reclaim my time and we are moving ahead here and give the Western Hemisphere Subcommittee chairman, Mr. Engel, I yield to him.

Mr. ENGEL. Thank you. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. And let me first overall thank Mr. Mack and publicly state what a pleasure it is to work with him as the ranking member on my subcommittee. We have had many talks and many discussions about this issue and other issues and I have always found Mr. Mack to be a thoughtful, reasonable, and someone who cares very much about not only this issue, but—

Chairman BERMAN. You do not know him very well.

Mr. ENGEL. So, I just want to say to Mr. Mack that, obviously, as chairman of the Subcommittee on the Western Hemisphere, I follow this situation facing the Jewish community of Venezuela as closely as I have followed any issue in the region. The Jewish community has been under siege in Venezuela and members of this committee, Democrats and Republicans, were very effective in sending a letter, which I authored, to Hugo Chavez after the recent thrashing of the synagogue, deploring, condemning it, and saying that he has created an atmosphere in Venezuela that made it okay for people to think that they can thrash the Jewish community and perpetuate other anti-Semitic acts upon the small Jewish community in Venezuela.

So, we have not been quiet on this committee. The letter was signed by 11 Democrats and nine Republicans and as bipartisan as you can get. And I am told by many, many people, it had a great impact. People in the Jewish community in Venezuela have said that that letter had a great impact and changed the Venezuelan Government's not attitude necessarily, but how they were dealing with the Jewish community of Venezuela. So, I think that we can be effective. We can do the right thing.

And we have many people in that community now that we talk to clandestinely and I would tend to be guided by what they say. And as Mr. Klein had mentioned, Ms. Berkley, and others, Mr. Ackerman, the community is saying right now, they would prefer us not to do anything and to see how the situation is. The situation has gotten better. But, I do not mean to imply that it is good, because it is not good. And I want to assure Mr. Mack and everyone else on this committee that I will continue to speak out and involve other members of this committee in speaking out and letting the Jewish community and the Government of Venezuela and Hugo Chavez, himself, know that we are not turning a blind eye to this. It is not a matter of doing this resolution or doing nothing. We are not going to do nothing. We are going to do a lot of things and we are going to be guided by what the community there says. And if the community right now is saying that we have been effective, we got the government to back down, we have been helpful to them in this situation. And now, they are asking us right now to leave it. I think the best thing to do is to leave it. But, I want to tell Mr. Mack and then I will close, Mr. Chairman, that—

Chairman BERMAN. 8 seconds.

Mr. ENGEL [continuing]. In between—that is hard—in between the—even if I say it in Spanish, it is hard—in between the time now and when the bill finally hits the floor, we will continue to monitor the situation of the Jewish community. And I want to assure Mr. Mack that if at any point before the bill hits the floor, that they—

Chairman BERMAN. I yield myself an additional minute and without objection and yield it, seconds of it, to the gentleman from New York, so that I can yield the rest of it to the gentleman from New Jersey.

Mr. ENGEL. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I was saying between now and the time the resolution hits the floor, we will be in constant contact with the Jewish community in Venezuela. And if they think it would be helpful to have this kind of a resolution, then I assure Mr. Mack that we will work to get it in, in time for the entire House to vote on it. And I just want to close by saying that Mr. Mack's resolution, I found it moderate. I found it temperate. I thought it was good. It is just not right at this time. But, if it is right in the future time, I want to assure Mr. Mack that I will be right there with him pushing the resolution. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I yield back.

Chairman BERMAN. I yield the remaining 26 seconds to the gentleman from New Jersey.

Mr. SIRES. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I, also, want to thank Congressman Mack. As someone who is Hispanic, but is very close to the Jewish issue through marriage, I can tell you that it is a concern and a constant conversation in my household. But the concern that I have is if we sort of do not do anything on this issue, we just have to make sure that we monitor the issue in Venezuela because today, it is a Jewish community. Tomorrow, it may be the Catholic community. The following year, it may be the Christian community. So, we have to make sure that this country monitors it, because I do not want to come back here in a year and say we should have done something stronger than we did today. So, that is just—I want to thank you, Chairman, for your time.

Chairman BERMAN. My time has expired and can we—the gentleman from Florida, as I understand it, is prepared to—

Mr. MACK. Mr. Chairman?

Chairman BERMAN. Yes.

Mr. MACK. With that, I would ask unanimous consent to withdraw the amendment.

Chairman BERMAN. Without objection, the amendment is withdrawn.

Ms. WOOLSEY. Mr. Chairman?

Chairman BERMAN. I have a proposal for the committee. Let me make a proposal to the committee here. As I understand it, we have several amendments. Three of them, I am prepared to accept. And I was wondering if we could consider them en bloc and then the members could speak to the amendment, but altogether. I think it might go faster that way—and simultaneously—no. The amendments would be Mack, the Western Hemisphere; Fortenberry, religious minorities in the Middle East; and Fortenberry, IAEA related to the weapons of mass destruction commission findings. Would there be any objection to considering those three amendments en bloc?

[No objection.]

10 struction Proliferation and Terrorism regarding the Inter-
11 national Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) and nuclear safe-
12 guards reform:

13 (1) The United States should work with the

18 (2) The United States should work with the

2 the IAEA can meet its own inspection goals, whether

18 activities under the Additional Protocol.

19 (4) The United States should work with the

20 of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of State shall
21 submit to the appropriate congressional committees a re-
22 port on progress toward the implementation of this sec-
23 tion.

Chairman BERMAN. Without objection, that will be the order.

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Mr. Chairman?

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman from Nebraska.

Mr. FORTENBERRY. I have no objection, except that I had three amendments. The third one, which—

Chairman BERMAN. The third one—

Mr. FORTENBERRY [continuing]. Overall, but I would like to make a statement on it.

Chairman BERMAN. Yes. After we do the en bloc amendment and the Woolsey colloquy, we will recognize—

Mr. FORTENBERRY. We will consider that separately, then. I see. Thank you.

Chairman BERMAN [continuing]. The gentleman from Nebraska for the final, final amendment. So, the clerk shall distribute the amendments en bloc.

Ms. RUSH. Amendment to H.R. 2410, en bloc, offered by Mr. Mack of Florida, "In title"—

Chairman BERMAN. Without objection, reading of the three amendments being considered en bloc will be waived. And let us see, I have never done this before. We have two different authors. Mr. Mack, why don't you start first.

Mr. MACK. It is a good amendment and I hope everybody will support it. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. Mr. Fortenberry.

Mr. FORTENBERRY. I am sorry, Mr. Chairman, I do not have the ability to be that brief. I need to speak to mine. The first amendment simply relates to strengthening IAEA, the International Atomic Energy Agency safeguards by incorporating key recommendations of the bipartisan commission on the prevention of weapons of mass destruction, several important recommendations they have made, and I think will be helpful to strengthening the security of this country and identifying vulnerabilities and preventing misuse of sensitive nuclear materials and technologies worldwide.

The second amendment, would you like me to speak to that now—

Chairman BERMAN. Yes.

Mr. FORTENBERRY [continuing]. Now, Mr. Chairman? We all are aware that in many of our discussions on the Middle East tend to focus on Shi'a, Sunni, and Kurdish communities when talking about human rights and the status of differing ethnic populations. However, Iraq's constitution also guarantees religious freedom, but many of the religious minorities are main targets of sectarian violence and this includes Iraq's Christians, the Izidis, Shabacks, Sabi, and Mandians, Bahis, and remnant Jewish community that are highly vulnerable. So, this amendment simply calls for a more focused effort to examine the situation of religious minorities in Iraq, but also throughout the entire Middle East, to determine what steps that can be taken to decrease their vulnerability to intimidation and violence.

Chairman BERMAN. If there is no further debate, the amendment en bloc is before us. All of those in favor, say aye.

[A chorus of ayes.]

Chairman BERMAN. All opposed.

[A chorus of noes.]

Chairman BERMAN. The ayes have it. One Mack and two Fortenberry amendments are hereby adopted. The gentlelady from California. We are almost done with this bill.

Ms. WOOLSEY. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I would like to ask for a colloquy with you at this moment.

Chairman BERMAN. This is the moment.

Ms. WOOLSEY. Thank you. Thank you for the time and thank you for the work that you and your staff have put into this excellent forward-thinking bill. To all who have read and reviewed the policies set forth here, it is obvious that the bill will build upon the ideals of a strong State Department, one that executes policy based on diplomacy, engagement, and equality. I am very encouraged that in the early stage, the new leadership at the State Department, led by Secretary Hillary Clinton, has placed high importance on the issue of gender equality through the appointment of Mullane Vervier as the head of the new office on global women's issue. The Secretary made an early and unmistakable declaration that the role of women will be considered at every level of decision making.

Women deserve, as a basic human right, access to maternal healthcare. Unfortunately, as I saw on a recent trip to Tanzania, only a small percentage of women have access to prenatal delivery and postnatal care. Sometimes, it is as basic as a lack of transportation to a clinic or it could be as serious as corrective surgery for obstetric fistula. The obstacles to care are great. Every minute, someone in the world, a woman dies in pregnancy or childbirth. In the poorest region, one out of 22 women will die from these causes, compared with one in 4,800 in the United States of America. Today's bill serves to begin the process of rebuilding civilian capacity to conduct diplomacy and promote development.

Mr. Chairman, I understand that later this year, you plan to move forward with a larger scale foreign aid reform package. Is that correct?

Chairman BERMAN. It certainly is.

Ms. WOOLSEY. Well, thank you, Mr. Chairman. I hope you will consider the issue of maternal mortality and women's health in connection with the foreign aid reform package. Specifically, I hope to work with you to develop a comprehensive, evidence-based maternal action plan that is funded at a responsible level. I believe this is a key element I promoting security, stability, and prosperity for women and their families worldwide.

Chairman BERMAN. If the gentlelady will yield, I very much appreciate her comments. This is an issue that is really very important to me and I think it is important to a strong bipartisan majority of the committee, as a whole. And I look forward to working with you, specifically, as well as other members of the committee to help improve both the quality of healthcare for women and girls around the world and their access to it through our foreign assistance reform effort.

Ms. WATSON. Mr. Chairman?

Chairman BERMAN. The gentlelady from California has the time.

Ms. WOOLSEY. Am I able to yield to others? I will yield to Ambassador Watson.

Ms. WATSON. I wanted to go on the Jackson Lee Sudan amendment as a co-sponsor.

Chairman BERMAN. So it is Jackson Lee, Lee, and Watson.

Ms. WATSON. Thank you.

Mr. PAYNE. Mr. Chairman, I feel left out, without a man being on it. Would you add Payne to that list?

Chairman BERMAN. Without objection, you will all be, you and any others who want to by letting staff know, will be retroactively added as the authors of that amendment.

Ms. WOOLSEY. Excuse me, Mr. Chairman. This is my colloquy so I am assuming they are in support of my women's mortality issue also.

Chairman BERMAN. Yes.

Ms. WOOLSEY. Thank you very much.

I yield back.

Chairman BERMAN. Time is yielded back. The gentleman from Nebraska.

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Thank you again, Mr. Chairman, for leading the hearing today. I also want to thank our ranking member for attempting to offer some reasonable alternatives today.

My amendment that I propose—

Chairman BERMAN. I am sorry. You are offering your amendment at this point? Or are you just moving to strike the last words?

Mr. FORTENBERRY. I am sorry. I would like to be recognized to offer my amendment.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman is recognized, but first the clerk will distribute and read the amendment.

This is the Fortenberry Amendment on the conscious clause is the right term for it.

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Mr. Chairman, if it is acceptable I would move to dispense with the reading.

Ms. RUSH. Non-discrimination requirements?

Chairman BERMAN. It is coming around right now, so give people a chance to look at it. Without objection, the amendment will be deemed as read and the gentleman from Nebraska will be recognized for 5 minutes.

[The amendment of Mr. Fortenberry follows:]

AMENDMENT TO H.R. 2410

OFFERED BY MR. FORTENBERRY OF NEBRASKA

At the appropriate place in the bill, insert the following new section:

1 SEC. ____. NONDISCRIMINATION REQUIREMENTS.

2 No employee of the Department of State or any other
3 Federal department or agency and no Federal Govern-
4 ment contractor or subcontractor carrying out any pro-
5 gram authorized or funded under this Act may be dis-
6 criminated against on the grounds of refusal to participate
7 in the program to which the employee or contractor or 8 subcontractor (as the case may be), exercising deeply held
9 convictions, has a religious or moral objection, or an objec-
10 tion of conscience,

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Mr. Chairman, this amendment simply tries to provide sensible conscious protection for our diplomatic community. I propose that in order to try to do some service to help our diplomatic corps and our State Department, I do not want to put any diplomat in a position of violating their most deeply held belief of conscience, and I appreciate the fact that you have stated several times during this hearing that no Foreign Officer would be forced to act against their moral precepts. Unfortunately, as we have discussed in private, trying to codify this is more complicated than it first appeared. So I do appreciate our conversation and from what I understand your general inclination to seek language that may be acceptable in this regard that could potentially be in the manager's amendment. So I would be happy to withdraw the amendment given that understanding.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman will yield.

I was reminded about this in listening to President Obama's speech at Notre Dame where, if I can quote, he called for the first time for drafting a sensible conscience clause and went on to talk about honoring the conscience of people who disagree on abortion and other issues.

It is in that spirit that I was taken with the gentleman's amendment and wondering if there is a way to do this in a manageable way that allows the government to continue functioning, because this applies to employees as well as to Federal contracts. So I appreciate the gentleman raising the issue. I do intend to work with him to try and work through some of these processes to see if we can get a workable amendment to bring in some of the people familiar with State Department functions to discuss it. I yield back to him.

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Thank you for that commitment, and I look forward to continuing to work with you and wrestle through the complications here. So I yield back the time.

Chairman BERMAN. With unanimous consent, the gentleman's amendment is withdrawn.

The gentleman from New York, Mr. Ackerman, is he prepared to make a motion?

Mr. ACKERMAN. If you wish, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. Why not?

Mr. ACKERMAN. I move the favorable consideration and recommendation of H.R. 2410 as amended to the floor of the House.

Chairman BERMAN. The question occurs on the motion by the gentleman from New York to report H.R. 2410 as amended favorably to the House.

All in favor, say aye.

[A chorus of ayes.]

Chairman BERMAN. All opposed, no.

[No audible response.]

Chairman BERMAN. The ayes have it, and the motion is adopted.

Without objection, the bill we reported as a single amendment in the nature of a substitute incorporating the amendments adopted by the committee, and the staff is directed to make any technical and conforming amendments, to remove from the bill as amended provisions that would cause the bill to be referred to other committees, or that would result in additional direct spending.

I do want to thank the members for sitting through the first part of this markup and I hope they will stay for the second part, which is very important but I think will be much shorter.

I particularly want to thank the staff, both for the majority and the minority. Until I got this job I never, I knew they did well with the issues I cared about; I did not realize what it took to deal with the issues everyone on the committee cares about as well as a lot of other people in the House. They spent incredible hours putting this together, dealing with the amendments, dealing with the manager's amendment, and dealing with us most of all. I think we owe them a great debt of thanks.

I also want to mention Mat Eckstein and Mark Synnes from Legislative Counsel who we could really drive crazy with the various forms of issues that came up, and their great drafting skill.

With that, we move to, pursuant to notice I now call up H.R. 1886, the Pakistan Enduring Assistance and Cooperation Act.

Without objection the amendment in the nature of a substitute before the members will be considered as base text for purposes of amendment, will be considered as read and will be open for amendment at any point.

24 SEC. 3. FINDINGS.

25 Congress finds the following:

1 (1) The Islamic Republic of Pakistan has been
2 an invaluable ally of the United States for more
3 than 4 decades.

4 (2) With the free and fair election of February
5 18, 2008, Pakistan returned to civilian rule after al-
6 most 9 years under a military dictatorship.

7 (3) After the September 11, 2001, terrorist at-
8 tacks against the United States, Pakistan recognized
9 the significant challenges emanating from within its 10 borders, and chose to partner with the United States
11 in its fight against al Qaeda, the Taliban, and other
12 extremist and terrorist groups.

13 (4) Since 2001, the United States has contrib-
14 uted more than $10,000,000,000 to Pakistan to
15 strengthen Pakistan's governance, economy, edu-
16 cation system, healthcare services, and military, so
17 as to bring freedom and opportunities to the people
18 of Pakistan while helping to combat terrorism and
19 to counter a domestic insurgency.

20 (5) The United States requires a balanced, inte-
21 grated, countrywide strategy that targets assistance
22 throughout Pakistan and does not disproportionately
23 focus on military activities or one particular area or 24 province.

1 (6) Despite apprehending the top leadership of
2 al Qaeda—Khalid Sheikh Muhammad, Ramzi bin al-
3 Shibh, and Abu Faraj al-Libi—as well as the leader-
4 ship and rank and file of affiliated terrorist groups,
5 Pakistan, particularly the FATA as well as areas
6 under central government authority such as Quetta
7 in Balochistan and Muridke in Punjab, remains a
8 sanctuary for al Qaeda, the Afghan Taliban, and af-
9 filiated groups from which these groups organize ter-
10 rorist actions against Pakistan and other countries.

11 SEC. 4. DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLES.

12 Congress declares that the relationship between the
13 United States and Pakistan should be based on the fol-
14 lowing principles:

15 (1) Pakistan is an invaluable friend and ally to 16 the United States, both in times of strife and in 17 times of peace, and the 2 countries share many com-
18 mon goals, including combating terrorism and vio-
19 lent radicalism, solidifying democracy and rule of 20 law in Pakistan, and promoting the social and mate-
21 rial well-being of the people of Pakistan.

22 (2) The United States seeks a sustained, long-
23 term, multifaceted relationship with Pakistan based 24 on friendship between the peoples of the 2 countries,
25 the commitment to democracy and the rule of law,

1 and the mutual interests of stability, security, and
2 prosperity.

3 (3) It is critical for the United States to sup-
4 port Pakistan's democratic government and 5 strengthen its democratic institutions, including its 6 parliament and the judicial system.

7 (4) The United States supports Pakistan's
8 struggle against extremist elements and recognizes
9 the profound sacrifice made by Pakistan in the fight
10 against terrorism, including the loss of more than 11 1,600 soldiers since 2001 in combat with al Qaeda,
12 the Taliban, and other extremist and terrorist
13 groups.

14 (5) The United States intends—

15 (A) to actively and consistently pursue a
16 sustained, long-term, multifaceted relationship
17 with Pakistan, devoted to strengthening the 18 mutual security, stability, and prosperity of 19 both countries;

20 (B) to support the people of Pakistan and
21 their democratic government in their efforts to
22 consolidate democracy, expand good governance,
23 and enhance the rule of law, through strength-
24 ening Pakistan's parliament and in helping

1 Pakistan reestablish an independent and trans-
2 parent judicial system;

3 (C) to promote long-term development
4 projects, including healthcare, water manage-
5 ment, and energy programs, in all areas of 6 Pakistan;

10 improve the living conditions of the people of 11 Pakistan;

12 (E) to work with the Government of Paki-
13 stan, particularly with provincial education au-
14 thorities, to improve Pakistan's public school

17 help to create an appropriate national cur-
18 riculum program that would apply to public,
19 private, and religious schools;

20 (F) to expand people-to-people engagement
21 between the United States and Pakistan,
22 through increased educational, technical, and 23 cultural exchanges and other methods;

24 (G) to redouble its efforts to work with the 25 Government of Pakistan, through all appro-

1 appropriate means, in establishing a
2 counterinsurgency and counterterrorism strat-
3 egy to prevent any territory of Pakistan from 4 being used as a base or conduit for terrorist at-
5 tacks in Pakistan, Afghanistan, or elsewhere,
6 and ensure that madrasas in Pakistan are not 7 used to incite terrorism; and

8 (H) to ensure that Pakistan has strong
9 and effective law enforcement and national de-
10 fense forces, under civilian leadership, with suf-
11 ficient and appropriate defense equipment and 12 training to effectively defend Pakistan against 13 internal and external threats.

14 (6) Simultaneously, the United States expects
15 Pakistan—

16 (A) to ensure a transparent, mutually ben-
17 eficial, and trusting relationship with the 18 United States which expands beyond the com-
19 mitment of the 2 countries to fighting ter-
20 rorism;

21 (B) to maintain its commitment to and en-
22 sure the uninterrupted practice of democracy
23 and democratic governance, including the devel-
24 opment of a strong parliament, an independent
25 judicial system, and an extension of rule of law

1 to all areas of Pakistan, as committed to by the 2 elected civilian government;

3 (C) to promote the long-term development
4 of Pakistan through investments in infrastruc-
5 ture, rural development, and other similar pro-
6 grams that are sustained and supported by 7 each successive democratic government in Paki-
8 stan;

9 (D) to ensure that the people of Pakistan,
10 including those living in areas governed by the
11 FCR, have access to public, modernized edu-
12 cation and vocational training to enable them to 13 provide for themselves, for their families, and
14 for a more prosperous future for their children,
15 and establish increased government oversight of 16 the education curriculum of madrasas, as cur-
17 rently mandated by Pakistani law, to include
18 the closing of any madrasas found to have links
19 to terrorism;

20 (E) to ensure transparency and provide ef-
21 fective accountability of all United States as-

11 SEC. 3. FINDINGS.

12 Congress finds the following:

13 (1) The Islamic Republic of Pakistan has been
14 a critical ally of the United States for more than 4
15 decades.

16 (2) With the free and fair election of February
17 18, 2008, Pakistan returned to civilian rule after al-
18 most 9 years under a military dictatorship.

19 (3) After the September 11, 2001, terrorist at-
20 tacks against the United States, Pakistan chose to 21 partner with the United States in the fight against 22 al Qaeda, the Taliban, and other extremist and ter-
23 rorist groups.

24 (4) Since 2001, the United States has contrib-
25 uted more than $12,000,000,000 to Pakistan to

1 strengthen Pakistan's governance, economy, edu-
2 cation system, healthcare services, and military, so
3 as to bring freedom and opportunities to the people
4 of Pakistan while helping to combat terrorism and
5 to counter a domestic insurgency.

6 (5) The United States requires a balanced, inte-
7 grated, countrywide strategy that provides assistance
8 throughout Pakistan and does not disproportionately
9 focus on military assistance or one particular area or 10 province.

11 (6) Despite killing or capturing hundreds of al
12 Qaeda operatives and other terrorists—including
13 major al Qaeda leaders, such as Khalid Sheikh Mu-
14 hammad, Ramzi bin al-Shibh, and Abu Faraj al-
15 Libi—Pakistan's FATA, parts of the NWFP,
16 Quetta in Balochistan, and Muridke in Punjab re-
17 main a sanctuary for al Qaeda, the Afghan Taliban,
18 and affiliated groups from which these groups orga-
19 nize terrorist actions against Pakistan and other
20 countries.

21 (7) Pakistan's security forces have recently
22 begun taking concerted action against those who 23 threaten Pakistan's security and stability, with mili-
24 tary operations in the Bajour agency in the FATA

1 and in the Swat, Buner, and Dir districts in the 2 NWFP.

3 (8) The displacement of over 1,000,000 Paki-
4 stanis poses a grave humanitarian crisis and re-
5 quires the immediate attention of the United Na-
6 tions, and the strong support of donor nations, to 7 provide food, water, shelter, medicine, sanitation and 8 other emergency services and supplies to the dis-
9 placed, along with longer-term development assist-
10 ance. The humanitarian crisis highlights the need
11 for Pakistan to develop an effective national 12 counterinsurgency strategy, in order to mitigate 13 such displacement.

14 SEC. 4. DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLES.

15 Congress declares that the relationship between the
16 United States and Pakistan should be based on the fol-
17 lowing principles:

18 (1) Pakistan is a critical friend and ally to the 19 United States, both in times of strife and in times
20 of peace, and the two countries share many common
21 goals, including combating terrorism and violent
22 radicalism, solidifying democracy and rule of law in 23 Pakistan, and promoting the social and material
24 well-being of the people of Pakistan.

1 (2) United States assistance to Pakistan is in-
2 tended to supplement, not supplant, Pakistan's own
3 efforts in building a stable, secure, and prosperous
4 Pakistan, and United States assistance will be whol-
5 ly ineffective without Pakistan's own serious efforts
6 to improve the health, education, and living stand-
7 ards of its population, including maintaining or in-
8 creasing the financial resources devoted to such ef-
9 forts.

10 (3) The United States supports Pakistan's
11 struggle against extremist elements and recognizes
12 the profound sacrifice made by Pakistan in the fight
13 against terrorism, including the loss of more than
14 1,600 soldiers since 2001 in combat with al Qaeda,
15 the Taliban, and other extremist and terrorist
16 groups.

17 (4) The United States intends to work with the 18 Government of Pakistan—

19 (A) to build mutual trust and confidence
20 by actively and consistently pursuing a sus-
21 tained, long-term, multifaceted relationship be-
22 tween the two countries, devoted to strength-
23 ening the mutual security, stability, and pros-
24 perity of both countries;

1 (B) to support the people of Pakistan and
2 their democratic government in their efforts to
3 consolidate democracy, through strengthening
4 Pakistan's parliament, helping Pakistan rees-
5 tablish an independent and transparent judicial
6 system, and working to extend the rule of law
7 in all areas in Pakistan;

8 (C) to promote long-term development and 9 infrastructure projects, including in healthcare,
10 water management, and energy programs, in all
11 areas of Pakistan, that are sustained and sup-
12 ported by each successive democratic govern-
13 ment in Pakistan;

14 (D) to encourage sustainable economic de-
15 velopment in Pakistan and the integration of 16 Pakistan into the global economy in order to 17 improve the living conditions of the people of 18 Pakistan;

19 (E) to ensure that the people of Pakistan,
20 including those living in areas governed by the
21 FCR, have access to public, modernized edu-
22 cation and vocational training to enable them to
23 provide for themselves, for their families, and
24 for a more prosperous future for their children;

1 (F) to expand people-to-people engagement
2 between the two countries, through increased
3 educational, technical, and cultural exchanges
4 and other methods;

5 (G) to ensure transparency of and provide
6 effective accountability for all United States as-
7 sistance and reimbursements provided to Paki-
8 stan;

9 (H) to take steps to improve Pakistan's
10 counterterrorism financing and anti-money
11 laundering laws to comply with international 12 standards, to include applying for "Financial 13 Action Task Force" observer status and adher-
14 ing to the United Nations International Con-
15 vention for the Suppression of the Financing of 16 Terrorism;

17 (I) to establish a counterinsurgency and
18 counterterrorism strategy to prevent any terri-
19 tory of Pakistan from being used as a base or 20 conduit for terrorist attacks in Pakistan, or 21 elsewhere, and ensure that madrasas in Paki-
22 stan are not used to incite terrorism;

23 (J) to ensure that Pakistan has strong and 24 effective law enforcement and national defense
25 forces, under civilian leadership, with sufficient

1 and appropriate security equipment and train-
2 ing to effectively defend Pakistan against inter-
3 nal and external threats;

4 (K) to ensure access of United States in-
5 vestigators to individuals suspected of engaging
6 in worldwide proliferation of nuclear materials,
7 as necessary, and restrict such individuals from 8 travel or any other activity that could result in 9 further proliferation;

10 (L) to help Pakistan meet its commitment
11 to not support any person or group that con-
12 ducts violence, sabotage, or other activities
13 meant to instill fear or terror in Pakistan's 14 neighboring countries; and

15 (M) to help Pakistan gain control of its 16 under governed areas and stop any support, di-
17 rection, guidance to, or acquiescence in the ac-
18 tivities of, any person or group that engages in 19 acts of violence or intimidation against civilians,
20 civilian groups, or governmental entities.

19 SEC. 307. SUNSET.

20 The authority of this Act, other than section 104,
21 shall expire after September 30, 2013.

Chairman BERMAN. I recognize myself for up to 5 minutes to explain the amendment in the nature of a substitute.

The United States has an enormous stake in the security and stability of Pakistan. All of us are deeply concerned about the security and stability of that country.

We cannot allow al-Qaeda or any other terrorist group that threatens our national security to operate with impunity in the tribal regions of Pakistan. Nor can we permit the Pakistani state and its nuclear arsenal to be taken over by the Taliban.

To help prevent this nightmare scenario we need to forge a true strategic partnership with Pakistan, strengthen Pakistan's democratic government, and do what we can to make Pakistan a force with stability in a volatile region.

H.R. 1886 is designed to help achieve these goals. This legislation would massively expand economic, social and democracy assistance to Pakistan and provide a significant increase in military assistance.

Specifically, the bill provides funding to strengthen the capacity of Pakistan's democratic institutions, including its Parliament, judicial system and law enforcement agency. It also calls for increased assistance for Pakistan's public education system, with an emphasis on access for women and girls.

To demonstrate America's long-term commitment to the stability and democratic future of Pakistan, H.R. 1886 authorizes a permanent fund in the U.S. Treasury that will serve as the conduit for most non-military assistance to Pakistan.

With regard to military assistance, our legislation increases funding for professional military education with an emphasis on training in counterinsurgency and in civil/military relations. It boosts the funding available for Pakistan to purchase military equipment and requires that 75 percent of those funds be used for items directly related to counterinsurgency and counterterrorism.

The legislation also codifies the 2006 contract between the United States and Pakistan that requires Pakistan to pay for F-16 fighter aircraft with its own national funds rather than American tax dollars.

To strengthen civilian control of the military, H.R. 1886 mandates that all military assistance flow through Pakistan's elected civilian government.

The legislation authorizes a new Pakistan Counterinsurgency Capabilities Fund—we like to call it PCCF—in the State Department. This provision lays down an important marker that providing security assistance to other countries is a matter of foreign policy and should remain a core responsibility of the Secretary of State.

Finally, the legislation includes some important accountability provisions to ensure that security assistance to Pakistan is being spent in a manner consistent with U.S. national security interests. It requires an annual Presidential determination that Pakistan is cooperating with the United States on nonproliferation, is meeting its commitment to combat terrorist groups, and has made progress toward that end.

Contrary to what some have said, these are not rigid or inflexible conditions. To ensure that the President has sufficient flexibility, we provide a waiver if he is unable to make the determinations. I believe this is an excellent bill that will strengthen the critical United States-Pakistan relationship and support U.S. national security objectives in South Asia and I urge all my colleagues to support the legislation.

I now turn to the ranking Republican member for her to express her views on this legislation.

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. As always, thank you so much.

At the outset, Mr. Chairman, I would like to emphasize that Congress and the administration are united in our goals toward Pakistan. We want a long term partnership with a modern, a prosperous, a democratic Pakistan that is at peace with itself and is at peace with her neighbors. We want a Pakistan that maintains robust controls over its nuclear weapons technology, and we want a Pakistan that does not provide safe havens for al-Qaeda, Taliban and other militant extremists.

Mr. Chairman, while I appreciate the hard work that has gone into your bill and the incorporation of some elements suggested by our side, serious concerns remain.

The manager's amendment does include certain helpful changes such as the inclusion of more flexible waiver standards, but on the whole, however, I fear that the size and the tenor of the bill still leaves the impression that Members of Congress are arm-chair generals and are endeavoring to micromanage U.S. policy toward Pakistan at a delicate time when this new administration has yet to develop and submit an implementation plan for its strategy.

As Secretary of Defense Gates and Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Mullen wrote to the members of the Armed Services Committee last month, the degree of conditionality and limitations on security assistance to Pakistan severely constrains the flexibility necessary for the Executive Branch and the Department of Defense given the fluid and dynamic environment that exists in Pakistan.

This concern is particularly acute in terms of the current Pakistani military offensive against the Taliban and other extremists in Swat and adjacent areas of the northwest frontier province. Instead, I will be offering a Republican substitute which I introduced yesterday in a bill form with the ranking members of the Committees on Appropriations, Armed Services, Homeland Security and Intelligence, and joined by Minority Leader Boehner, Minority Whip Cantor, and Conference Chairman Pence.

I asked my colleagues on the national security committees for insight and input to ensure maximum coordination and to some degree to emulate the administration's interagency strategic review approach. A parallel bill has also been introduced with respect to Afghanistan as it is my belief that Pakistan cannot and must not be considered in a vacuum. These countries are part of a wider theater of operations, and must be dealt with as one package as the administration has suggested following the conclusion of its strategic review.

The Republican substitute recognizes that of all the foreign policy challenges facing us, stabilizing and reforming Pakistan may be one of the most daunting.

Given the enormous complexities of the situation in Pakistan as well as the rapidly changing conditions on the ground, we believe that it is critical at this stage that all relevant agencies retain the necessary flexibility to craft policies that offer the best chance of successfully partnering with the Pakistani Government and people to defeat violent extremism.

At the same time our substitute requires an ongoing policy dialogue between the administration and the Congress regarding evolving U.S. policy toward Pakistan, as well as a robust congressional oversight mechanism of our strategy, our implementation plan, allocation and expenditure of U.S. assistance.

Accordingly, the Republican substitute requires that no later than 30 days after the enactment of the Supplemental Appropriations Act for 2009 the President submit to Congress a comprehensive interagency strategy and implementation plan for U.S. efforts to eliminate safe havens and assist toward the long term security and stability in Pakistan.

In doing so it requires that the strategy and implementation plan include a description of how U.S. assistance will be used to achieve U.S. foreign policy objectives. It will also describe progress on achieving these objectives as well as a financial plan and a description of the resources, programming and management of U.S. assistance to Pakistan and the criteria used to determine their need and value in advancing our U.S. objectives.

The Republican substitute fully funds the administration's pending request for non-military assistance, $1.5 billion; and provides such sums as may be deemed necessary through 2013.

I hope that you give serious consideration to our substitute amendment, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentlelady has expired.

Before we get to the Republican substitute, are there members who wish to have general comments on the bill?

The gentlelady from Texas.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Thank you very much, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. A move to strike the last word, and is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. I move to strike the last word, and I thank you so very much, Mr. Chairman.

I rise to support the legislation, and with great remorse and disappointment to oppose the pending, to be offered Republican substitute.

There has been a lot of hard work going into this initiative and I would offer to say that the first framework should be our committed friendship with Pakistan, a country founded 60 years ago on the democratic process. We are in this legislation protecting the national security of America, but we are emphasizing without a doubt the friendship that we have with Pakistan and the reality of the importance of Pakistan's surviving against the insurgents and Taliban and the existing and alleged presence of al-Qaeda and Osama bin Laden in the FATA and frontier area of Pakistan.

We know that they have escaped from places known previously in Afghanistan. We know that the disruption in Pakistan today is not of the hard-working Pakistani citizens who seek education and social justice, civil justice, who adhere to three branches of government, a Parliament, a justice system, a judiciary, and a civilian executive. We also know that they have had a democratic election. We know they have experienced an enormous tragedy with the assassination of Benazir Bhutto. But yet they had a peaceful election of which I was present. What a miraculous episode or set of incidents, to tragically lose your candidate and then have an uninterrupted election. They did that.

In the weeks past their leadership came to Washington and proved themselves well. President Zardari indicated that he is interested and committed to securing their nuclear material. He is interested and committed in ensuring that the insurgents and Taliban do not disrupt, diminish, undermine his particular government. And it is evident by the bloodshed shown on behalf of the Pakistani military and the frontier area and now in Swat, that they are committed to the fight for justice.

So Mr. Chairman, I am very grateful that there is language in this legislation that in the list of, if you will, conditionalities or the list of benchmarks in Section 206, there is language I secured that indicates that we will acknowledge the progress that Pakistan makes in moving forward in assuring that they are in essence fighting against the insurgents and Taliban, that in fact their military and intelligence authorities are focusing on the security of their nation and the elimination of those who might be interested in undermining those systems of government. Meaning that insurgents and others would join the military. This is not a condemnation of the military. It is not a condemnation of the intelligence system in Pakistan. But it is a recognition that all of us have to be vigilant and diligent.

So we will acknowledge their success story.

Then there is language in here that emphasizes one of the weaknesses of the education system and that is to keep young girls in school. And we specifically indicate that that is an important aspect of that.

I hope that my colleagues will support this. In conversations that are not classified we know that there is attention being paid to the idea of securing their particular nuclear resources. We know the manager's amendment, or the amendment in the nature of a substitute will also speak to the protecting and not expanding or using U.S. dollars for any expansion of their nuclear resources.

Lastly I would say, Mr. Chairman, that this initiative is still making its way to the Congress. I would hope that the Pakistani people would see the good intentions here and the well-meaning partnership and not perceive the emphasis on protecting nuclear resources or the mention of military and intelligence as in any way of condemning the friendship or recognizing, or not recognizing the friendship or not recognizing the blood that was shed by the Pakistani military on behalf of freedom and on behalf of justice.

Lastly in these 21 seconds, there are now 1 million people who are being displaced by Swat. I hope that we can assure that the money that Secretary Clinton has put in place, we, Mr. Chairman, can work with the State Department. That money must get there now. And it must get to the NGOs now. And it must get to the people, and I would say almost not to the government, it has got to get to the people.

I yield back and I support this amendment and oppose the substitute. I yield back, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. Thank you.

The time of the gentlelady has expired.

The gentleman from New Jersey.

Mr. SMITH OF NEW JERSEY. Mr. Chairman, thank you for yielding. I yield to the distinguished ranking member.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentlelady is recognized.

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Thank you so much, as always, Mr. Chairman and Mr. Smith.

I would like to further highlight some of the items that are included in the Republican substitute, Mr. Chairman.

One of the items to highlight is that the substitute seeks to ensure that congressional oversight, and congressional notifications, keep pace with the ever-changing conditions on the ground. This is very important as we have seen. Just look at today's and tomorrow's headlines how swiftly the situation keeps moving in Pakistan. It requires quarterly briefings on the developments in Pakistan. Written notification to Congress on adjustments in strategy, related changes, and allocations, changes in expenditures.

The Republican substitute also fully funds the administration's request for the critically important new Pakistan Counterinsurgency Capability Fund, PCCF. We will be hearing that phrase a lot in the months to come.

General David Petraeus, the head of U.S. CENTCOM, Central Command, describes this fund as a vital tool to provide our senior military representatives in Pakistan with swift access to funding to counter and perhaps prevent emerging threats and to rapidly enhance Pakistani counterinsurgency capabilities.

In short, Mr. Chairman, the Republican substitute is tailored to meet the pressing requirements for United States national security at this critical hour for Pakistan while at the same time laying the groundwork for long term security, long term stability in that country, but as well as for Afghanistan and the wider region, and preserving appropriate congressional oversight mechanisms throughout.

Thank you to the gentleman from New Jersey for the time, and I thank the chairman for the time as well.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentleman from New Jersey has expired.

The gentlelady from California, Ms. Lee, is recognized to strike the last word. The young lady is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. LEE. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

First let me say I am greatly encouraged by the goals of this legislation which aims to put the United States' smart power to work by reshaping our relationship with Pakistan based upon a long-term commitment to social, economic and political development.

The legislation integrates key benchmarks and limitations absent in previous aid packages which resulted in $10 billion in U.S. aid since 2001 yielding little or no results or progress on many fronts. This legislation also seeks to reshape the United States/Pakistan relationship by shifting the United States aid away from historical trends of almost exclusively military assistance and instead toward economic, social and democratic priorities.

As a long time supporter of nuclear nonproliferation efforts, I am also pleased that the chairman was able to work with myself and other members of the committee to address our concerns regarding the potential expansion of Pakistan's nuclear program which was reported in the press earlier this week.

The critical reporting requirement added to this bill will provide an important oversight mechanism to help ensure that no United States aid, whether directly or indirectly, would aid a destabilizing expansion of Pakistan's nuclear arsenal.

It is time we hold the Pakistani Government accountable for its management of United States aid dollars and more importantly to the people of Pakistan who desperately crave a stable, democratic and prosperous country.

Nuclear weapons unfortunately are pointed in many directions in many parts of the world and I do not want to see our country supporting any efforts that would allow the money to be fungible, that would allow for, by default, our U.S. tax dollars going to support the proliferation of nuclear weapons in Pakistan.

Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I yield the balance of my time.

Chairman BERMAN. I thank the gentlelady very much. The gentleman from Florida seeks recognition.

Mr. MACK. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Real quickly—

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. MACK. Thank you, and it will not be that long, I promise.

As we talk about Pakistan, there is a friend of mine who has done some extraordinary work in Pakistan. His name is Greg Mortinson. He has written a book called "Three Cups of Tea." I think many members, it would serve us all well to take the time to read the book and to, Mr. Chairman, if there is a time you would have time to meet with him and talk about his experience and what he has learned in Pakistan, I think the Congress could learn a lot from him and what he has done. So I just wanted to put that on the record, Mr. Chairman. Thank you.

Chairman BERMAN. If the gentleman would yield.

Mr. MACK. Yes.

Chairman BERMAN. Actually, I have not read the book but then that goes with a lot of books I have not read. But I have heard about this book. I hear it is a very important and powerful book and I would be happy to. I know a little bit about what it calls for and the experience and would be happy to follow up with you on that.

The time of the gentleman has expired.

The gentleman from Georgia, Mr. Scott, is recognized.

Mr. SCOTT. Thank you very much, Mr. Chairman. I too want to commend you and your leadership.

I do want to focus my remarks on the urgent concern of the nuclear arsenal within Pakistan. Certainly I want to concur and certainly agree with my colleague Ms. Barbara Lee and appreciate the inclusion of one aspect of our concern in the manager's amendment which was that none of our funds be directly or indirectly used to expand their nuclear capacity.

But Mr. Chairman, I would like to raise this concern, that it appears, and maybe you can answer for me, but it appears that the other concern, not whether they will use any of this money to expand their nuclear arsenal, but the fact that we need some evidence, some information concerning Pakistan's ability to protect and secure Pakistan's existing nuclear arsenal from falling into control of internal or external extremist groups or non-state authorized actors.

Perhaps on page 55 of your amendment, and I ask this question of you, and then perhaps if you deem it necessary that we might add additional language to take care of that part or if this language would do so, is it your intent on page 55, section D, line 8, where we state, "A detailed description of Pakistan's efforts to prevent proliferation of nuclear-related material and expertise." If that is meant to arrive at the same point of making sure that the word "proliferation" applies to their existing arsenal and having protections that it not get into the hands of internal or external extremist groups—

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. If the gentleman would yield.

Mr. SCOTT. My concern is that the word "proliferation" tended to mean them on their own expanding it out as opposed to the protection and securing their existing nuclear arsenal from falling into other hands.

I am particularly concerned—

Chairman BERMAN. Would the gentleman yield on this issue?

Mr. SCOTT. Yes, I will yield, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. Section D is more what you interpret it to be than what you like it to be. It is a focus on any current proliferation issues.

The issue you raise is critically important, and I have spent a significant amount of time and a number of members of the committee have spent time on this issue. This is an issue that I say in all sincerity should not be discussed in the bill. It is a critical issue, but it is a little analogous to a discussion we had a little while ago. Do we help what we know is vitally important by discussing that in the bill? I would love to talk to you further about it, but I would like to make the case that the fact that that specifically is not referenced in the bill in no way signifies that we in Congress or the administration are not extremely sensitive to the issue.

But I believe putting it in the bill is counterproductive to what we both want. Trust me.

Mr. SCOTT. Quite naturally, I will trust you, Mr. Chairman.

Let me just make a final point on it, and I trust you, we have had conversations—

Chairman BERMAN. That was sort of a facetious comment, but—

Mr. SCOTT. Absolutely. You have my trust on it, and I wanted to raise the issue rather than put an amendment on there.

I am just very, very concerned not only about the external forces but as we know, Mr. Chairman, there is internal fragility going on in Pakistan as well. And I will leave it as you want it to be, and we will take the word "proliferation" to mean, and your commitment of trust, and I will accept that.

Chairman BERMAN. I appreciate that very much and we will talk about this some more.

The time of the gentleman has expired. The gentlelady from Nevada seeks recognition. For what purpose?

Ms. BERKLEY. I move to strike the last words.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentlelady is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. BERKLEY. Thank you.

I am going to support the majority bill, but I have serious reservations for both versions of the bill.

I recognize the importance of partnership with Pakistan and the United States in our efforts to fight against al-Qaeda and the Taliban, but I fear that the situation on the ground is spiraling out of control and I, as Ms. Lee said, have a serious concern about the fact that over the last few years we have given $10 billion to the Pakistanis and have very little to show for it other than the situation on the ground seems to be far worse, the government seems to be losing control of the situation, and we have little if any accountability for the billions of dollars that we have already spent.

I believe corruption is widespread and rampant in Pakistan. The new President, I have a serious lack of confidence in his ability to right this ship of state. I believe has done little if anything other than to contribute to the continuance of corruption in that country while the people of Pakistan are suffering.

As far as the nuclear arsenal is concerned, and I understand that this is probably not the place to talk about it, it seems to me that Pakistan is more focused on its perceived conflict with Pakistan than it is with partnering with us to root out the Taliban and al-Qaeda, and that worries me as well. I do not think we know enough about their nuclear arsenal location, capability and security of it.

Those are the concerns I have. I wanted to express them as I vote for the legislation. But I do think that our new President and new Congress are entitled to a Pakistani position of their own and that is the reason that I am supporting the legislation.

Chairman BERMAN. Have you already yielded or could you yield back to me just for one—

Ms. BERKLEY. I would like to yield the balance of my time to you.

Chairman BERMAN. And I will not use the balance of your time.

But you raise very important issues. What has happened over the past 8 years and the inability to account for so much of the money that has been appropriated, taxpayer money? There were a number of guiding principles in crafting the bill and the amendment in the nature of the substitute, and the amendment in the nature of the substitute does not change, but central to it was ensuring that never happen again. I will not take the time to explain all the different ways we try to make it, but within the provisions regarding monitoring and evaluation and the whole nature of—and here I think it is a bipartisan, bicameral and bi-branch—administration and the Congress—desire in creating the Pakistani Counterinsurgency Capabilities Fund, the PCCF, is to change the way we have been doing things, reimbursing for items that have not been receipted, providing significant amounts of funds for things that may not be related to the counterinsurgency. The whole thrust of this is to change that.

We think the issue is critical, but we think your comments are valid. It is valid to be skeptical if the past is prologue, and this is about changing the past.

Ms. BERKLEY. Reclaiming my time. That is why, as with Mr. Scott, I have great faith and confidence in our chairman and that is why I will be supporting you in this bill.

Chairman BERMAN. Thank you.

The gentlelady from Arizona is recognized.

Ms. GIFFORDS. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I move to strike the last words.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentlelady is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. GIFFORDS. Mr. Chairman, I appreciate the work that you have done on this legislation and for the ranking member as well.

I support the underlying intent of this bill, but I just wanted to bring up one specific point. I think I am the only member in the majority that serves both on this committee and also on the Armed Services Committee. There may be a couple of folks on the other side. But there is some concern specifically about the differences on Title 2 between the Foreign Affairs Committee and HASC.

So Mr. Chairman, I look forward to hopefully seeing these differences worked out before the bill moves to the floor, but I just wanted to raise those concerns and let you know that I am looking forward to seeing that language.

Chairman BERMAN. If the gentlelady will yield, we are going to, I think, be spending a lot of time trying to work out those differences between here and the floor.

Ms. GIFFORDS. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. Thank you.

The time of the gentlelady has expired.

I think I would like to recognize the gentlelady from Florida for purposes of offering a substitute amendment.

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Thank you so much, Mr. Chairman, and I ask that the substitute be considered and be passed out to the members at this time.

Chairman BERMAN. Without objection, the amendment will be considered as read and the amendment is before us, and the gentlelady is recognized.

[The amendment of Ms. Ros-Lehtinen follows:]

AMENDMENT IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE
TO H.R. 1886
OFFERED BY M. _____

Strike all after the enacting clause and insert the following:

1 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

2 This Act may be cited as the “United States-Pakistan
3 Security and Stability Act”.

4 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

5 Congress finds the following:

6 (1) Congress supports the following elements
7 outlined in the President’s White Paper of the Inter-
8 agency Policy Group’s Report on United States Pol-
9 icy Toward Afghanistan and Pakistan:

10 (A) The core goal of the United States
11 must be to disrupt, dismantle, and defeat al
12 Qaeda and its affiliated networks and their safe
13 havens in Pakistan.

14 (B) The threat that al Qaeda poses to the 15 United States and its allies in Pakistan—in-16 cluding the possibility of extremists obtaining 17 fissile material—is all too real.

1 (C) The United States must overcome its
2 trust deficit with Pakistan and demonstrate
3 that it is a reliable, long-term partner.

4 (2) The Government of Pakistan is facing sig-
5 nificant security and socio-economic challenges that 6 set the conditions for greater radicalization and may 7 threaten Pakistan's viability. Such challenges include
8 the following:

9 (A) Al Qaeda's and other extremist groups'
10 campaign of violent attacks throughout Paki-
11 stan, including the Red Mosque incident, the 14 (B) Pakistan's population growth at a rate

15 of approximately two percent a year, with near-
16 ly half of its 172 million residents illiterate,
17 under the age of 20, and living near or below
18 the poverty line.

19 (3) Security and stability to Pakistan is further
20 complicated given the prevalence of ungoverned
21 spaces between Pakistan and Afghanistan in which 22 state control has not been fully exercised given eth-
23 nic and tribal affiliations.

24 (4) The security and stability of Pakistan is 25 vital to the national security of the United States,

1 and the consequences of failure poses a grave threat
2 to the security of the American people, the region,
3 and United States allies.

4 (5) The objectives of United States policy to-
5 ward Pakistan are to empower and enable Pakistan
6 to—

7 (A) develop into a prosperous and demo-
8 cratic state that is at peace with itself and with 9 its neighbors;

10 (B) actively confront, and deny safe haven
11 to al Qaeda, the Taliban, and other extremists;

12 (C) implement the economic, legal, and so-
13 cial reforms required to create an environment
14 that discourages violent Islamic extremism; and

15 (D) maintain robust command and control
16 over its nuclear weapons technology.

10 control and a stable constitutional government
11 in Pakistan and promote bilateral and regional 12 trade and economic growth.

15 succeeding in sustained counter-insurgency and 16 counter-terror operations.

12 on Intelligence of the House of Representatives; and

13 (2) the Committee on Appropriations, the Com-
14 mittee on Armed Services, the Committee on For-15 eign Relations, and the Select Committee on Intel-
16 ligence of the Senate.

Amend the title so as to read: “A bill to require the President to develop a comprehensive interagency strategy and implementation plan for long-term security and stability in Pakistan, and for other purposes.”.

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Thank you so much. I know the hour is late and you have already heard my explanation of what this substitute does, but I believe that it has the best approach because it gives the flexibility that all the relevant agencies need to react to the shifting situation on the ground. It gives the flexibility to the White House, to the Congress, to the Department of Defense, to the Department of State. And as I said, this is a bill that has been drafted with the ranking members of the appropriate committees as our previous speaker had pointed out. She was worried about how this bill would conflict or not conflict with her other committee, the Committee on Armed Services.

We have drafted our substitute in coordination with the ranking members and the other members of the pertinent committees, so we think this is a balanced approach and we think that this is the one that could go a long way toward stabilizing and reforming Pakistan without micromanaging from above.

I ask for its consideration.

Chairman BERMAN. I will recognize myself to speak to the Republican substitute, and I will make some points of why I do prefer my substitute to her substitute. But also to indicate that I would like between now and the floor—I do think it would be very useful to develop a bipartisan approach here and I am quite open to further discussions on this.

The ranking member has endorsed the Obama administration's request for a funding level of $1.5 billion a year for economic assistance. I am very happy to see that, and our bill does as well.

The fact that there is agreement on this point among the White House and members of the committee from both sides of the aisle underscores the fact that providing such assistance is the right and necessary thing to do.

The proposed amendment is long on aspirations and short on details. It does not take the time that our bill, our substitute, our amendment in the nature of a substitute and our original bill too, to describe how U.S. assistance should be expended. It says nothing about the expenditure of military assistance. It contains no accountability provisions to ensure that the U.S. assistance is used appropriately.

I believe that the United States relationship with Pakistan is too critical and too complex for Congress to be silent on such matters.

H.R. 1886 essentially includes all of the provisions of the gentlelady's substitute, but more. It requires the President to provide a comprehensive regional security strategy. Not Congress, the President. And includes extensive reporting requirements regarding progress toward disrupting terrorist networks. It authorizes the Pakistani Counterinsurgency Capabilities Fund. And H.R. 1886 includes other critical provisions including the establishment of a Pakistan Democracy and Prosperity Fund to provide additional flexibility for economic assistance and robust monitoring and evaluation mechanisms, the issues raised by the gentlelady from Nevada just a moment ago, to help ensure that this time there is the appropriate expenditure of such assistance.

One final word about the PCCF. The provision of security assistance has been and should remain a tool of the Secretary of State to advance foreign policy objectives. In the case of Pakistan, the growing insurgency underscores the need for assistance but it does not necessitate establishing an entirely new authority in the Department of Defense.

H.R. 1886 established PCCF within the State Department to ensure that the Secretary of State remains the primary voice in the bilateral relationship with that country. But I do want to add that the whole way we created this fund, the many differences from traditional security assistance, with all the requirements and provisions of that and some of the bureaucratic hurdles that one has to overcome, are dealt with and eliminated in this bill based on conversations that we have had with the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Mike Mullen, in line with the kinds of things that General Petraeus wants to do. In other words, we do not want traditional road blocks that mean when you provide security assistance it could be 6 months, 1 year or 2 years down the road before anything is procured and before that assistance is afforded.

We know this is an urgency and we take care to make sure that all the obstacles that would prevent that immediate assistance from happening are dealt with in our bill.

So I share the gentlelady's concerns and the gentlelady from Arizona's concerns, but fundamentally this is about a decision to provide security assistance. This has traditionally been and is rightfully so for many reasons appropriately a Department of State function and that is why we create PCCF in the Department of State.

I urge my colleagues to support H.R. 1886 and oppose the substitute amendment.

Can we go to a vote on this issue?

Before us is the substitute amendment proposed by the gentlelady from Florida, the ranking member. All those in favor say aye.

[A chorus of ayes.]

Chairman BERMAN. All opposed no?

[A chorus of noes.]

Chairman BERMAN. The noes have it. The noes prevail and the amendment is defeated.

Are there any further amendments?

Mr. MCCAUL. Mr. Chairman?

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman from Texas.

Mr. MCCAUL. Thank you. I have an amendment at the desk.

Chairman BERMAN. The gentleman's amendment to be distributed and the clerk will read.

[The amendment of Mr. McCaul follows:]

AMENDMENT TO H.R. 1886
OFFERED BY MR. McCAUL OF TEXAS

At the appropriate place in the bill, insert the following new section:

1 SEC. ____ . RESTRICTION ON UNITED STATES MILITARY AS-
2 SISTANCE TO PAKISTAN.

3 (a) RESTRICTION.—United States military assistance
4 may be provided to the Government of Pakistan on and 5 after the date of the enactment of this Act only if the 6 President transmits to Congress a certification described
7 in subsection (b).

8 (b) CERTIFICATION.—A certification described in this
9 subsection is a certification that contains a determination
10 of the President that—

11 (1) the Government of Pakistan is making Dr.
12 Abdul Qadeer Khan available to the United States
13 Government for direct questioning; and

14 (2) the Government of Pakistan is providing 15 adequate assurances to the United States Govern-
16 ment that it will monitor Khan's movements and ac-
17 tivities in such a manner as to prevent his participa-
18 tion in any efforts to disseminate nuclear technology 19 or know-how.

1 (c) WAIVER.—The President may waive the restric-
2 tion on assistance to the Government of Pakistan under
3 this section if the President certifies to Congress that it
4 is in the national interests of the United States to do so.

5 (d) DEFINITION.—In this section, the term “United 6 States military assistance” includes the provision of equip-
7 ment, supplies, and training.

Ms. RUSH. Amendment to H.R. 1886 offered by Mr. McCaul of Texas. "At the appropriate place in the bill, insert the following new section: 'Section blank. Restriction on United States military assistance to Pakistan. (a)'"

Chairman BERMAN. Without objection, the reading of the amendment shall be dispensed with, and the gentleman from Texas is recognized for 5 minutes on his amendment.

Mr. MCCAUL. I thank the chairman.

Since 9/11 we have spent nearly $10 billion in aid to Pakistan to assist the Government of Pakistan. It has been a series of carrots. I commend the chairman for putting sticks in his bill, particularly with respect to security in the FATA, in the tribal area, and also with respect to expansion of their nuclear program.

We have heard from members on the other side about the proliferation issue. You cannot look at the proliferation issue without raising the name of Dr. A.Q. Khan. He is perhaps the master nuclear proliferator of all time, proliferating nuclear weapons to countries like Iran, to North Korea, to Libya. He was indicted by the Dutch Government. He confessed to participating in a clandestine international network that provided nuclear technology to other nations.

After being released from house arrest there has been no conclusive evidence that the network that Khan helped build has been completely dismantled.

This is the real issue in Pakistan.

The United States has provided all the funding and yet the Government of Pakistan has refused to allow the United States direct access to Mr. Khan for questioning to find out how extensive is this proliferation. It seems to me if we are going to correctly assess what the proliferation damage is, that the United States Government needs to have that direct access to Mr. Khan.

This is a bipartisan idea. I am the ranking member on the Homeland Security Intelligence subcommittee. Jane Harman is the chair of that subcommittee. The provisions in this amendment are almost identical to a bill that she has filed that I have co-sponsored. It basically just says very simply that if we are going to provide this kind of funding we should at least be entitled to ask Dr. Khan directly questions about the damage and the expanse of his proliferation. It also asks that the government monitor his movements.

I hope this will be viewed, it is a very serious issue, and this committee will look at this amendment in a very bipartisan way. I urge that this committee adopt and pass this amendment.

With that, I yield back.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentleman is expired, and I will recognize myself to address the amendment.

I regret that I have to ask, but strongly ask the members to oppose this amendment. I am very sympathetic to his interest, the gentleman's interest, in the United States gaining access to one of the world's worst nuclear proliferators, but this amendment is a mistake.

The gentleman's amendment is either exactly the same or very similar to an amendment that I believe he co-sponsored with Congresswoman Harman of California.

We have put into our bill in serious part occasioned by the Harman legislation a provision which prohibits—I want to make sure I am reading it right—Section 206, a limitation on U.S. military assistance to Pakistan and I am going to just take a moment to read it: “None of the funds authorized to be appropriated for military assistance to Pakistan for Fiscal Year 2011,” which is the first year it could apply, and it is the same as the gentleman’s, “or each fiscal year thereafter, may be obligated or expended if the President has not made the determinations described in subsection (b) . . .

“(b)(1) a determination by the President at the beginning of each fiscal year that the Government of Pakistan is continuing to cooperate with the United States in efforts to dismantle supplier networks relating to the acquisition of nuclear weapons-related materials, including, as necessary, providing access to Pakistani nationals associated with such networks.”

Before additional security assistance goes, the President has to make that determination.

I have spoken with Congresswoman Harman about this issue, I would guess, 14 times. We fly on the same planes back and forth from California every week. She thinks that our language is the right way to move ahead. There is great pressure on us to take out the language we have in the bill, but making specific reference to A.Q. Khan in the legislation is a mistake because of the consequences in terms of building the relationship of partnership and trust that we want to build with Pakistan to take on this mission.

Everyone knows what we are talking about in our condition. Pointing the finger even at someone as notorious and appropriate to have a finger pointed at as A.Q. Khan creates a reaction that undermines what we want to do, it does not further it.

I am with the spirit of what the gentleman wants to do. I would have done what he did if I thought it would be more likely for us to gain access to that individual. I do not for a moment think naming him makes it more likely. It may not be very likely anyway, we will find out.

But what I do know is if we name him specifically in this bill it will be much less likely. So I would urge my colleagues here to, as difficult as it is, I think it is very important to oppose this amendment and I yield back the balance of—

Does the gentleman want to be yielded my remaining time, or does the gentleman seek his own time?

Mr. CONNOLLY. I would be glad to accept your time, Mr. Chairman. Just briefly.

I am an original co-sponsor of the Harman bill along with Congressman Royce, and I feel very strongly that we have to address the issue of the world’s single most notorious proliferator since the advent of nuclear technology.

However, as the chairman says, there are ways of achieving objectives and there are other ways to achieve the objective we share.

I think that the language in this bill is carefully crafted. I have worked with the chairman on this language from the basis of the bill that mirrors the language of the gentleman, and we have also agreed we are going to look at report language and look at other opportunities for making sure we achieve this objective.

I would urge my colleague to give that some consideration. There are other ways of achieving the objective. I have been persuaded those ways are efficacious.

I thank the chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. My time has expired.

Does anyone else seek recognition on this subject? The gentleman from California, Mr. Rohrabacher.

Mr. ROHRABACHER. Mr. Chairman, over my many years in Washington, both in the White House and in Congress, I have seen time and again suggestions that we should back down from various standards that were set in order to ensure that what we are trying to accomplish is something that is within the realm of possibility and also is accomplished.

There are always people who want to talk us out of saying exactly what we are trying to do and drawing a line in the sand, claiming that it will be done some other way. Over and over again, that is not what happens.

We are told we are going to do it a different way, and guess what? It does not happen the other way. For whatever reason, the other side never really takes us seriously when we try to come at it in a much softer approach.

We have provided Pakistan with $12 billion in aid since 9/11. How much more do we have to do to prove our friendship? Is it too much to ask people who supported the Taliban, people who were instrumental in keeping the Taliban in power, when I spent my 1990s trying to get an alliance against the Taliban, and I remember when I went in and I went up to Peshawar and had to sleep with guns underneath our pillows, for Pete's sakes.

How long is it going to be before we know that Pakistan, we are their friends and the people who are not accepting things like what is being demanded of this legislation or this amendment, if they cannot accept that, they are not our friends and we should not give them any money.

A.Q. Khan is vital, the information about him is vital to our national security. We are talking about nuclear weapons here. What about the next 9/11 which A.Q. Khan may have given a nuclear weapon to a terrorist who is planning to light it off in one of our cities? How do we know that is not happening?

If they do not think of us as their friends enough to publicly make this person available to us, they should not get one red cent of our money. This is a security issue of such magnitude, we need to speak in very bold and distinct language and we need to draw the line and people need to know where we stand. We are not going to get anywhere by trying to treat people with kid gloves and not make them make a choice between the United States and the radical Islamists who would slaughter thousands and thousands of people in various countries in order to terrorise Western civilization.

This bill is very realistic. I support it 100 percent. I think it stems from a dialogue that we had with President Zardari when he visited recently, and I asked him specifically whether or not the United States would be permitted to question A.Q. Khan, and he dodged that issue.

I also asked whether or not American forces would be permitted to attack the Taliban staging areas just inside Pakistan from staging areas where they were staging attacks on American troops in Afghanistan, and he failed to answer that one correctly as well.

Now they are either going to be our friends or they are not. This is a good way to determine that. If they are not willing to be friends enough to tell us that they are going to let us know about A.Q. Khan and his nuclear threat to the security of the people of the United States, then they do not deserve our help.

That is as simple as that. I think it is very clear, the very last thing we need to do is be nebulous and try to be warm and fuzzy. Warm and fuzzy gets us nowhere. We are going to have to be tough and make sure we watch out for the security interests of the people of the United States.

Chairman BERMAN. The time of the gentleman has expired.

The gentleman from Missouri, Mr. Carnahan is recognized.

Would the gentleman yield?

Mr. CARNAHAN. I yield.

Chairman BERMAN. In some discussions I am told that the gentleman from Texas is open to inclusion of the word "direct" as a modifier of "access," and if we agree to that change, he would withdraw his amendment.

Is that a correct understanding? I yield to the gentleman Mr. Carnahan's time, but—

Mr. MCCAUL. Yes, if the gentleman will yield.

The issue here is not just access, but direct access. Access by the United States Government to Dr. Khan. Whether or not he is specified in this bill, if the language said direct access, because my understanding as the ranking member on the Homeland Security Intelligence Community, we have not been given that. It has been more indirect.

I will leave it at that.

Direct access to all Pakistan nationals.

Chairman BERMAN. To all Pakistan nationals associated with such networks.

Mr. MCCAUL. Correct.

Chairman BERMAN. We do not have enough people to have direct access.

Mr. MCCAUL. But I am saying they will provide direct access to all Pakistani, within the provisions—

Chairman BERMAN. Of this bill, which is a Presidential determination as necessary.

Mr. MCCAUL. Now remember, my amendment has a waiver provision in it.

Chairman BERMAN. If the word to be added—if we can dispense with all the yieldings and just get right down to it, if the word is just "direct," I am prepared to by unanimous consent amend our amendment in the nature of a substitute to include it.

Mr. MCCAUL. I think that would be reasonable.

This objection was not called to my attention until about 5 minutes ago.

Chairman BERMAN. I apologize. We had a few other things—

Mr. MCCAUL. I understand.

The issue for me is the direct access. That would encompass getting direct access to Dr. A.Q. Khan which I hope would be a part of the committee's record. It is on the record here. If that is the understanding of the chairman.

Mr. ROHRABACHER. Point of information, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman BERMAN. If the gentleman will withdraw his amendment then I will yield Mr. Carnahan's time to Mr. Rohrabacher and then offer a unanimous—

Mr. ROHRABACHER. This is a point of information about the issue that you are discussing, Mr. Chairman, in terms of this determination.

I believe that the point of information does, the parliamentary—

Chairman BERMAN. I never understood what that point of parliamentary information was, but I hereby recognize the gentleman for purposes of making it.

Mr. ROHRABACHER. The compromise you are offering is to take A.Q. Khan's name out of the legislation?

Chairman BERMAN. No. A.Q. Khan's name is not in the legislation. I think that is part of why the gentleman offered his amendment.

Mr. ROHRABACHER. I am talking about the gentleman's amendment.

Chairman BERMAN. No. This would be, the gentleman would withdraw his amendment and I would seek unanimous consent to insert the word "direct" in front of "access" in the amendment in the nature of a substitute.

Chairman BERMAN. But the result would be that what would pass this committee would be wording that would not include A.Q. Khan's name, is that correct?

Mr. ROHRABACHER. Yes.

Chairman BERMAN. Thank you.

Mr. MCCAUL. If the gentleman will yield.

I am prepared to withdraw the amendment if the language "direct access" is put into the language.

Chairman BERMAN. And I am prepared to put in "direct access" if the gentleman is willing to withdraw his amendment. I think we have a deal.

Mr. MCCAUL. But with the understanding from the chairman that the direct access to Pakistan nationals would encompass Dr. A.Q. Khan.

Chairman BERMAN. One thing I know is that that individual is a Pakistani national who is and certainly has been associated with such a network. I cannot, to be honest with you at this moment—I read some names—I cannot name a single other person who I, from my recollection, is so clearly associated.

Mr. MCCAUL. And I must say—

Chairman BERMAN. I do not think we are—

Mr. MCCAUL. I am not sure why we are so shy to acknowledge this.

Chairman BERMAN. Because if you believe the purpose of this bill is not—I mean my friend from California sort of characterized it to do something for the Pakistanis.

This is about an issue that we are doing something for America. We are talking about al-Qaeda; we are talking about the Taliban; we are talking about Afghanistan; we are talking about international terrorism. We are talking about a fundamental challenge to the control of a government that has nuclear weapons.

I cannot think of much more that is in our interest than doing something on this. And I am told by people who share that feeling that the reference to a specific individual is counterproductive to that effort. Do I know for sure whether it is or it is not? No, but I have gotten a little taste of it just from the discussions over the past 3 or 4 months, and I think they are right. That is the reason I do not want to mention A.Q. Khan. If we can vote on the amendment, or we can make this deal.

Mr. MCCAUL. If the chairman will yield. If I can be clear, I am willing to withdraw it if direct is put in there and with the understanding in the congressional record here on the record, that that would encompass direct access to Dr. A.Q. Khan.

Chairman BERMAN. First of all, it is in the context of, nothing we do will guarantee direct access to anybody in Pakistan under the control of the Pakistan Government because we do not get to have that kind of control over other countries.

So nothing is going to guarantee anything.

We are trying to establish a principle here. One of the important issues is dismantling this nuclear nonproliferation network. We want our security assistance, we want a determination of the President in terms of future security assistance to know that that has been done. We want to empower the President to make that determination. If he determines access to a particular individual is necessary to ensure the dismantlement of that network or that it has been dismantled, we want to empower him to do that. That is what our goal is here.

Mr. MCCAUL. If the chairman will yield again, I do not want to prolong this healthy discussion, but if you would agree that A.Q. Khan falls within the umbrella of this section—

Chairman BERMAN. We have always intended to have a report. Don't tell Congressman Flake I said this. That would describe in more detail what we mean by this.

Mr. MCCAUL. There would be reporting language on it this year—specifically talking about Dr. Khan.

With that said, I am prepared to withdraw if the language “direct” is put into the bill and the reporting language reflects that that would include access to Dr. Khan.

Chairman BERMAN. And no one will conclude that our report constitutes a mushy earmark. [Laughter].

Without objection, the amendment by the gentleman from Texas is withdrawn. I ask unanimous consent to add the term “direct” in front of “access” in the amendment, in Section 206 of the amendment in the nature of a substitute.

Without objection, so ordered.

The question is on the amendment in the nature of a substitute. All in favor will vote aye.

[A chorus of ayes].

Chairman BERMAN. All opposed will vote no.

[A chorus of noes.]

Chairman BERMAN. The ayes have it and the amendment is agreed to.

The chairman is prepared to—

Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA. Mr. Chairman, first I just want to ask unanimous consent that my statement be put in the appropriate place regarding my strong support of H.R. 2410.

Chairman BERMAN. Yes, without objection that will be—

Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA. And Mr. Chairman I move a favorable recommendation of H.R. 1886 as amended to the House.

Chairman BERMAN. The question occurs on the motion by the gentleman, H.R. 1886 as amended favorably to the House.

All in favor say aye.

[A chorus of ayes.]

Chairman BERMAN. All opposed say no.

[No audible response].

Chairman BERMAN. The ayes have it and the motion is adopted. Without objection the bill will be reported as a single amendment in the nature of a substitute, incorporating the amendments adopted by the committee.

Staff is directed to make any technical and conforming amendments.

The gentleman from New York.

Mr. ACKERMAN. Mr. Chairman, in accordance with the rules of the House I ask for 2 days to file additional views on the legislation just considered.

Chairman BERMAN. Without objection, so ordered.

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Mr. Chairman, I did mean to say “no” on the voice, and I was—

Chairman BERMAN. Let the record show the gentlelady from Florida thought no, even though she forgot to say it.

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Thank you.

Chairman BERMAN. Again, thank you all very much. The committee is adjourned.

[Whereupon, at 5:21 p.m., the committee was adjourned.]

May 20, 2009

Chairman Berman's opening statement at markup of the Foreign Relations Authorization Act for Fiscal Years 2010 and 2011 (H.R. 2410)

H.R. 2410 authorizes funding for fiscal years 2010 and 2011 for the Department of State, the Peace Corps, U.S. international broadcasting activities, and other foreign affairs programs.

This legislation continues efforts by this Committee to strengthen U.S. foreign policy agencies to promote American national security interests and better serve U.S. citizens.

For far too long, we have failed to provide the State Department with the resources it needs to fill critical overseas posts, provide adequate training, and ensure effective oversight of the programs that it manages. With the expansion of U.S. diplomatic responsibilities in the 1990's and the more recent demands of Iraq and Afghanistan, the Foreign Service has been strained to the breaking point.

Sixteen percent of all positions are currently unfilled. One in nine positions overseas is vacant.

H.R. 2410 builds on the process begun in the current fiscal year to help rebuild the capacity of the State Department.

Specifically, our legislation supports the President's request for funding to hire over 1000 new staff, including at least 750 Foreign Service Officers.

332 of these positions will be used to immediately expand our diplomatic presence in Afghanistan, Pakistan and other strategic areas.

A further 213 positions will be dedicated to improving and expanding training in critical needs languages such as Arabic, Chinese, Hindi, and Urdu.

The bill also provides resources for significant numbers of new public diplomacy officers, arms control experts, and counterterrorism specialists.

In addition, H.R. 2410 reforms the Foreign Service Act to accelerate the transition of the diplomatic corps from its traditional diplomatic framework to a more expeditionary mission to meet the new challenges facing our nation.

Finally, to help ensure that the State Department can continue to attract the best and brightest to its ranks -- and retain those professionals over the long term -- our legislation closes the "pay gap" that currently results in a 21 percent pay cut when junior Foreign Service Officers leave Washington, DC for overseas assignments.

Hiring and training a large number of new Foreign Service Officers to advance our national security interests overseas doesn't come cheap.

But investing resources now to help prevent conflict and failed states is much more cost effective than providing massive amounts of humanitarian relief, funding peacekeeping operations, or, in the most extreme circumstances, putting U.S. boots on the ground.

H.R. 2410 also authorizes funds to pay our full dues and all recognized arrearages to the United Nations.

The U.N. system is very far from perfect, and doesn't always live up to our expectations on a number of occasions.

But on a wide range of issues with implications for U.S. national security – from Iran's nuclear weapons program, to North Korea, to climate change -- we need the close cooperation of the international community.

And experience has shown that withholding U.S. dues to leverage change at the UN simply doesn't work – we are much more likely to get the reforms we want through active engagement.

H.R. 2410 also supports a significant expansion of the Peace Corps, a vigorous public diplomacy effort, an increase in international broadcasting activities, and a strengthened arms control and nonproliferation Bureau at the State Department.

In addition, the legislation creates a new foundation to help U.S. students study abroad, enhances U.S. efforts to help Mexico and other Latin American countries to reduce drug violence, and addresses a number of key human rights and democracy issues around the world.

Finally, H.R. 2410 reforms our system of export controls for military technology, improves oversight of U.S. security assistance, and requires a report to the Congress on actions taken by the U.S. to maintain Israel's qualitative military edge.

I think it's an excellent piece of legislation – I guess I would – but I want to thank all the members from both sides of the aisle who have contributed to its creation. Many of your thoughtful ideas are included in this text, and they have made the bill much better. I urge all my colleagues to support this legislation.

Chairman Berman's opening statement at markup of H.R. 1886,
the Pakistan Enduring Assistance and Cooperation Act

The United States has an enormous stake in the security and stability of Pakistan, and all of us are deeply concerned about the security and stability of that country.

We cannot allow al Qaeda or any other terrorist group that threatens our national security to operate with impunity in the tribal regions of Pakistan.

Nor can we permit the Pakistani state – and its nuclear arsenal – to be taken over by the Taliban.

To help prevent this nightmare scenario, we need to forge a true strategic partnership with Pakistan, strengthen Pakistan's democratic government, and do what we can to make Pakistan a force for stability in a volatile region.

H.R. 1886, the Pakistan Enduring Assistance and Cooperation Enhancement Act, is designed to help achieve these goals.

This legislation would massively expand economic, social and democracy assistance to Pakistan, and also provide a significant increase in military assistance.

Specifically, the bill provides funding to strengthen the capacity of Pakistan's democratic institutions, including its parliament, judicial system and law enforcement agencies.

It also calls for increased assistance for Pakistan's public education system, with an emphasis on access for women and girls.

To demonstrate America's long-term commitment to the stability and democratic future of Pakistan, H.R. 1886 authorizes a permanent fund in the U.S. Treasury that will serve as the conduit for most non-military assistance to Pakistan.

With regard to military assistance, our legislation increases funding for professional military education, with an emphasis on training in counterinsurgency and in civil-military relations.

It boosts the funding available for Pakistan to purchase military equipment, and requires that 75 percent of those funds be used for items directly related to counterinsurgency and counterterrorism.

The legislation also codifies the 2006 contract between the U.S. and Pakistan that requires Pakistan to pay for F-16 fighter aircraft with its own national funds, rather than American tax dollars.

To strengthen civilian control of the military, H.R. 1886 mandates that all military assistance flow through Pakistan's elected civilian government.

The legislation authorizes a new Pakistan Counterinsurgency Capabilities Fund – we like to call it PCCF – in the State Department.

This provision lays down an important marker that providing security assistance to other countries is a matter of foreign policy and should remain a core responsibility of the Secretary of State.

Finally, the legislation includes some important accountability provisions to ensure that security assistance to Pakistan is being spent in a manner consistent with U.S. national security interests.

It requires an annual presidential determination that Pakistan is cooperating with the U.S. on nonproliferation, is meeting its commitment to combat terrorist groups, and has made progress towards that end.

Contrary to what some have said, these are not "rigid" or "inflexible" conditions.

To ensure that the President has sufficient flexibility, we provide a waiver if he is unable to make the determinations.

I think this is an excellent bill that will strengthen the critical U.S.-Pakistan relationship and support U.S. national security objectives in South Asia, and I urge all of my colleagues to support the legislation.

CLEARED FOR PUBLIC RELEASE

MATERIAL SUBMITTED FOR THE RECORD BY THE HONORABLE ENI F.H. FALEOMAVAEGA, A REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS FROM AMERICAN SAMOA, AND CHAIRMAN, SUBCOMMITTEE ON ASIA, THE PACIFIC AND THE GLOBAL ENVIRONMENT

THE AMBASSADOR

EMBASSY OF VIETNAM
1233 20th Street, NW, Suite 400

The Honorable Eni F. H. Faleomavaega
2422 Rayburn HOB
Washington, DC 20515-5201

Washington, May 18, 2009

Dear Chairman Faleomavaega,

I am writing to you to draw your attention to the H. Res. 20 introduced by Congressman Ed Royce on Jan. 6, 2009, calling on the State Department to list Vietnam as a "Country of Particular Concern":

As you may know in 2006 the State Department decided to remove Vietnam from the CPC list. This move reflected the reality, acknowledging Vietnam's straight records in the areas of human rights and religious freedom.

The Vietnamese Government and State have always set as their ultimate goals to improve the rights and freedom of their people for the sake of the Vietnamese people themselves. This continuous and consistent approach has brought about positive results: In 2008 and early 2009, nine religious groups received national recognition, tripling the number that received recognition throughout 2007. The number of locally registered Protestant congregations also increased. In Ho Chi Minh City, there are now 130 registered congregations and by the end of 2008 there were 1,175 in the Central Highlands and 126 in the Northern provinces. The improvement of religious freedom was acknowledged by Vatican Undersecretary of State Monsignor Pietro Parolin, the Pope's Envoy, during his visit to Vietnam earlier this year.

What was written in Congressman Royce's H. RES. 20 was a distortion of the situation in Vietnam. Those detained as mentioned in the Resolution are those who violated the laws of Vietnam, not because of their religious practices or beliefs. We are of the view that application of recommendations in the H. RES. 20 not only risks the credit of the US and the Congress as it does not reflect the reality, but also puts hindrance on our partnership which has been expanding drastically in recent years.

For these reasons, I do hope that you will look into the matter and make a just decision for the sake of our bilateral ties.

Thank you very much for your kind consideration and cooperation.

Sincerely,

Vietnam – Religious Freedom/Country of Particular Concern

- The International Religious Freedom Act (IRF Act) states that a country is to be designated as a CPC if it engages in or tolerates particularly severe violations of religious freedom, including torture, extended detentions without charges, disappearances, and other flagrant denials of life, liberty, or security due to religious beliefs.
- A country can be designated a CPC at any time if considerable evidence is found to indicate that they are participating in widespread severe violations of religious freedom.
- After being placed on the CPC list in 2004, Vietnam addressed the central violations that caused it to be designated and instituted policies and practices to protect some religious freedoms. The Secretary removed Vietnam from the list in 2006 because it no longer fit the criteria of a severe violator under the IRF act.
- We will continue to monitor the situation in Vietnam to evaluate whether Vietnam has backslid on the progress made to date or has resumed engaging in widespread severe violations. If substantial evidence demonstrates that Vietnam is doing so, they may be re-designated.
- At this time religious leaders continue to report that conditions have vastly improved and that the majority of believers are able to practice their faith without harassment.
- We agree with US Commission on International Religious Freedom (USCIRF) that problems remain in Vietnam, and we would like to see continued improvements. However, in our judgment the evidence we have suggests that it is an overstatement to characterize the remaining problems as “widespread and severe.”
- When Vietnam was designated a CPC in 2004 there was a large number of religious prisoners, religious believers throughout the country were subject to severe harassment, entire villages – with people numbering in the thousands – were forced to renounce their faith, and over one-thousand places of worship were shut down in the Central Highlands.
- By 2006, Vietnam had addressed the central violations that caused it to be designated a Country of Particular Concern, and had instituted policies and practices to protect religious freedom. The Secretary removed Vietnam from the list in 2006 because it no longer fit the criteria of a severe violator of religious freedoms, as defined by the IRF Act.
- All prisoners of faith that were on our list in 2004 have been released. There have been only isolated cases of renunciation in the past year, almost all the places of worship that were shut down prior to 2004 have re-opened, new churches and religious denominations continue to be recognized, religious texts are now printed and distributed in several ethnic minority languages, and many thousands of believers are able to practice their faith without harassment.

- The Government of Vietnam promulgated a new legal framework that bans forced renunciation of faith and sets guidelines for legally registering and recognizing religious groups. The Government has been providing training courses in remote areas of the country to direct local leaders on the implementation of the new legislation.
- The training and implementation of the legal framework has been imperfect and we continue to work with the Vietnamese to address these issues and speed up the registration process in remote areas. However the majority of believers report that the religious freedom conditions in Vietnam are vastly improved and that they are able to practice their faith with little or no harassment.

Vietnam Religious Issues

Religious Freedom Continued Improvements

- Nine religious groups received national recognition in 2008 and early 2009, triple the number that received recognition throughout 2007.
 - The nine are: Bani Muslim Sect, Vietnam Seventh Day Adventist, Vietnam Baptist Church, Vietnam Baptist Society, Presbyterian Church of Vietnam, Vietnam Mennonite Church, Vietnam Baha'i Community and two Buddhist churches.
- The number of locally registered protestant congregations also increased. In Ho Chi Minh City there are now 130 registered congregations and by the end of 2008 there were 1, 175 in the Central Highlands and 126 in the Northern provinces.
- The Committee on Religious Affairs (CRA) continues to hold training programs for religious denominations and local authorities on registration procedures and proper implementation of the legal framework on religion.
- The Government reportedly revised a 2006 version of a national training manual on the legal framework on religion that disparaged Protestantism and instructed officials to encourage recent Protestant converts to return to their traditional animistic beliefs. The Department does not have the funds to translate the document in order to conduct a full review it to ensure problematic language is removed.
- Protestant believers throughout the country continued to report significant improvements in their situation.
- The Catholic Church reported that their ability to gather and worship improved and restrictions have eased on assignment of new clergy. Government approved the establishment of one additional Catholic seminary. And no longer restricts the number of students who may enter seminary each year.
- Monsignor Pietro Parolin, the Holy See's Undersecretary of State for Relations with States lead a Holy See's delegation to Vietnam in late February 2009 to discuss forming a working group to explore opening diplomatic relations. This visit was the culmination of continued reciprocal official visits between the Vatican and the Government in recent years and has been partially attributed to recent improvements in religious freedom in the country. 1
- In April 2008 provincial authorities and the Catholic Church reached agreement on the return of La Vang church and pilgrimage center, a significant Catholic pilgrimage site and one of three priority properties the Catholic Church has formally requested the Government return.

Vietnam Religious Issues

Continuing Religious Freedom Problems

- Registrations are still moving slowly in the NW highlands. Since 2006, over 1,000 ECVN congregations have applied for registration and only 126 applications have been accepted.
- During the reporting period there were several reports of harassment, abuse, and in a few cases forced renunciation of faith against unregistered congregations.
- Restrictions remain on the UBCV, Khmer Krom Buddhists, and on numerous unregistered Hoa Hao, Cao Dai, and Protestant groups.
- There are still a number of property restitution issues outstanding:
 - Throughout 2008 large demonstrations took place at the former Papal Nunciature in Hanoi demanding return of the property. The Government and the Church have yet to resolve the dispute. The Nunciature was confiscated from the Church after 1975. Earlier the land housed a Buddhist temple that the French tore down to build the Catholic mission. Land issues are thus sensitive as one claim begets another.
 - In March 2008 the Southern Evangelical Church of Vietnam (SECV) issued a global “call to prayer” alleging interference in ecclesiastical affairs and seeking restitution for more than 250 confiscated properties.
- The Government continued to oppose efforts by the UBCV to operate and continued to restrict the movement of UBCV leaders, including the Ven. Thich Quang Do.

U.S. Policy and Action

- At the May 2008 U.S.-Vietnam Human Rights Dialogue A/S Kramer raised the following religious freedom issues:
 - 1) The need to expedite registrations for congregations in the Northwest Highlands,
 - 2) the need to expand training on religious laws for local officials,
 - 3) the importance of increasing accountability for officials who do not fairly implement those laws, and
 - 4) the need to address property restitution for religious groups.
- U.S. officials raised religious freedom concerns with the Prime Minister, Deputy Prime Minister, government cabinet ministers, Communist Party of Vietnam (CPV) leaders, senior provincial officials, and others.
- President Bush pressed Prime Minister Dung on the importance of religious freedom during their June 2008 meeting.

STATEMENT OF THE HONORABLE ENI F.H. FALÉOMAVAEGA
BEFORE THE HOUSE COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN AFFAIRS
REGARDING THE ROYCE AMENDMENT WHICH CALLS FOR
THE U.S. STATE DEPARTMENT TO LIST VIETNAM AS A "COUNTRY OF PARTICULAR CONCERN"

May 20, 2009

Mr. Chairman:

I move to strike the last word, and wish to include for the record a letter from Vietnam's Ambassador to the U.S. in opposition to the Royce amendment. I also wish to include the State Department's response to the amendment.

The Royce amendment calls for the State Department to list Vietnam as a "Country of Particular Concern" (CPC) with respect to religious freedom.

Vietnam was placed on "Country of Particular Concern" (CPC) list in 2004. In 2006, under the Bush Administration, the U.S. Department of State took Vietnam off of the CPC list because it "no longer fit the criteria of a severe violator under the International Religious Freedom (IRF) Act."

While I agree with Mr. Royce that problems remain in Vietnam, and while I am aware that the U.S. Commission on International Religious Freedom would like to see Vietnam put back on the list, the Commission on International Religious Freedom also recognizes positive developments, as does the U.S. Department of State. According to the State Department, Vietnam has addressed the central violations put forward in the Royce amendment, and has "instituted policies and practices to protect religious freedom."

According to State, "All prisoners of faith that were on our list in 2004 have been released. There have been only isolated cases of renunciation in the past year, almost all of the places of worship that were shut down prior to 2004 have re-opened, new churches and religious denominations continue to be recognized, religious texts are now printed and distributed in several ethnic minority languages, and many thousands of believers are able to practice their faith without harassment."

The reference Mr. Royce's amendment makes to the Catholic Church was a land dispute, not a religious dispute. In fact, according to Ambassador Phung, "the improvement of religious freedom was acknowledged by Vatican Undersecretary of State Monsignor Pietro Parolin, the Pope's Envoy, during his visit to Vietnam earlier this year."

Ambassador Phung also reports that since the Bush Administration's decision to take Vietnam off the CPC list, "in 2008 and early 2009, nine religious groups received national recognition, tripling the number that received recognition throughout 2007. The number of locally registered Protestant congregations also increased. In Ho Chi Minh City, there are now 130 registered congregations and by the end of 2008 there were 1,175 in the Central Highlands and 126 in the Northern provinces.”

Given Vietnam’s progress and willingness to work with the United States on this issue that is important to all of us and also considering that the U.S. Department of State, as well as our U.S. Ambassador to Vietnam does not support Vietnam being placed back on the CPC list, I encourage my colleagues to extend a hand rather than a fist as I believe it is far better for “America to play its role in ushering in a new era of peace,” as President Obama said, than for us to shun our neighbors and refuse to engage in the process of change. For these reasons, I urge a no vote on the Royce amendment.

STATEMENT OF THE HONORABLE ENI F.H. FALEOMAVAEGA REGARDING H.R. 2410, THE STATE DEPARTMENT REAUTHORIZATION ACT

May 20, 2009

Mr. Chairman:

I commend you for your leadership in offering H.R. 2410, the State Department Authorization bill, and I thank you for including a number of my provisions in the base text.

I am especially appreciative for the inclusion of my provision to rename the United States-South Pacific Scholarship Program (USSP) in honor of my mentor, the late Congressman Phillip Burton who was a voice for Pacific Island populations, and worked every day of his life to ensure social justice and human dignity for all people.

I also thank you for accepting my request to recognize Kazakhstan's commitment to nonproliferation and for offering to host a nuclear fuel bank.

My office also worked closely with you to establish a Central Asia Scholarship program for public policy internships, and to establish scholarships for indigenous peoples of Mexico and Central and South America.

I also appreciate your support of my efforts on behalf of Pacific Island States. Diabetes, a seriously debilitating disease, has reached epidemic proportions in the Pacific Islands States including the Cook Islands, Fiji, Kiribati, Marshall Islands, Micronesia, Nauru, Palau, Papua New Guinea, Samoa, Solomon Islands, Tonga, Tuvalu, and Vanuatu. While recognizing that simple, relatively low-cost means already exist to reduce the incidence of diabetes significantly through appropriate prevention and treatment programs, these programs have not as yet reached the Pacific Islands so as to effect a major reduction in the incidence of diabetes. In order to contribute to the improvement of health conditions, the authorization I requested will provide assistance for health services designed to prevent and treat diabetes in the Pacific Islands, and also for safe water and sanitation.

I also thank you for including language regarding West Papua. I believe it is necessary for the Secretary of State to report on the 1969 Act of 'Free' Choice, the current political status of West Papua, and the extent to which the Government of Indonesia has implemented and included the leadership and the people of West Papua in the development and administration of Special Autonomy. It is also necessary for the Administration to report to the appropriate Congressional committees the extent to which the Government of Indonesia has certified that it has halted human rights abuses in West Papua.

Again, I thank you for your support of these initiatives, and once more I commend you for your leadership in moving this legislation forward.

STATEMENT ON JERUSALEM WAIVER
COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN AFFAIRS MARKUP

Jerusalem Waiver:

Mr. Chairman, I whole-heartedly believe that the rightful capital of Israel is Jerusalem; however given the proposed cuts to embassy security in the International Affairs FY'10 budget, I do not believe that this is the appropriate time to remove the waiver.

The administration should not lose the option to keep the consulate in Tel Aviv until a time where the United States can be sure of the safety of its Foreign Service staff...

Thank you, Mr. Chairman

CONGRESSMAN MICHAEL E. MCMAHON
STATEMENT ON SEC. 333
COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN AFFAIRS MARKUP

MAY 20, 2009

Sec. 333: Same-sex partners' benefits:

Mr. Chairman, I think that it is important to note that our brave Foreign Service officers serve in some of the most dangerous places in the world and their loved ones' sacrifices should be recognized, despite identity or sexual orientation.

The United States needs the courage and professionalism of our Foreign Service, and the least we can do is to ensure that our country will reward these sacrifices.

We have a duty to protect our Foreign Service officers and their families, and disagreement with one's lifestyle does not validate leaving any citizen or government official or loved one stranded in what is most likely, an incredibly dismal situation.

CONGRESSMAN MICHAEL E. MCMAHON
STATEMENT ON CYPRUS AMENDMENT
COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN AFFAIRS MARKUP

MAY 20, 2009

Cyprus Amendment

Mr. Chairman, I would like to strike the last word.

Chairman Berman, I agree with Congressman Bilirakis. It is critical that the State Department and USAID work to foster the re-unification of Cyprus.

I strongly support the notion that a memorandum of understanding should be signed between the legitimate government of Cyprus and USAID, however I also understand that the foreign relations authorization act is not the appropriate vehicle in which to do this.

If this amendment were to be placed in this bill, it would essentially be worthless.

I look forward to working with the committee on addressing this issue in the foreign assistance act.

CONGRESSMAN MICHAEL E. MCMAHON
STATEMENT BEFORE THE
COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN AFFAIRS MARKUP

MAY 20, 2009

OPENING STATEMENT:

- Mr. Chairman, today's mark-up signifies a new way forward for not only this distinguished committee, but for our world.
- The mark-up of the Foreign Relations Authorization Act and the PEACE Act will lead the way forward in bolstering civilian institutions and reclaiming America's distinguished seat in the international arena.
- It is time to us to lead as a Congress as a partner with President Obama and Secretary Clinton and put foreign assistance on an equal footing with our military assistance.
- Chairman Berman recognizes that and I want to commend him on his yeoman's work in developing this legislation.
- This bill does that, it re-engages the United States with the world, starting with the United Nations Population Fund. An invaluable resource to helping women and children in the developing world.
- It does this by treating the domestic partner of an American foreign service office with the same equality and respect we would treat a spouse or family member.
- This bill signals a new day in giving the United States Department of State the tools it needs to meet the challenges in a very challenging world.
- In this spirit, I am particularly encouraged by the inclusion of two of my exchange program requests in the state department authorization designed to promote democracy and equality in Liberia and Sri Lanka.
- I am incredibly proud of the US-Liberia Women's Legislator Exchange, but the Sri Lankan minority group exchange for high school students comes at a critical time.
- The end of a brutal 26 year war has been announced in Sri Lanka, but there is still much to be done.
- The disproportionate standard of living amongst the various ethnic regions in Sri Lanka sets the stage for a resurgence of terrorism and must be curtailed responsibly.

- The over 30,000 displaced civilians currently housed in IDP camps need a political solution to the root causes of the conflict that have been ignored for decades.
- Through programs like this cultural minority exchange and an increase in tightly monitored assistance to the region for those that need it most, the United States can restore a broken trust that exists between Sri Lankan minority groups and the government.
- Mr. Chairman, I have included a provision in the foreign relations act which asks the Government of Sri Lanka to put forward a timely and credible proposal to engage its Tamil community who do not espouse violence or terrorism, and to develop power sharing arrangements so that lasting peace and reconciliation can be achieved.
- Accordingly, this provision also raises the issue of the restricted access of journalists and aid agencies into the IDP camps and urges for all parties to allow these parties unobstructed access to the region to prevent further suffering, and ultimately, future uprisings, as well.
- On the topic of the Peace Act, I commend the committee for pursuing new paths to avoid a catastrophe in Pakistan.
- This bill provides incentives, security and flexibility that have long been missing in the global community's strategy in both Pakistan and Afghanistan.
- I was touched by a story in yesterday's New York Times describing a Pakistani youth group known as "Responsible Citizens," taking matters into their own hands to keep their community in Lahore, Pakistan clean and orderly.
- The PEACE Act will give these future leaders of Pakistan the opportunity to avoid the strong extremist influence in the region and grow to become influential leaders in a stable Pakistan.
- I am glad that the United States is showing Pakistan that they will not leave an ally high and dry, yet the US will also not stand to be manipulated to continue writing blank checks to the Pakistani government.
- Mr. Chairman, I would like to once again express my strong support for these two bills and for the return to a combination of soft and hard power tools to restore the United States' image and place in the world.
- Thank you, I yield my time.

CONGRESSWOMAN SHEILA JACKSON LEE OF TEXAS STATEMENT BEFORE THE
COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN AFFAIRS
MARKUP OF HR 2410, THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE REAUTHORIZATION

MAY 20, 2009

Let me first thank Chairman Berman his leadership in bringing this important legislation before the Committee. I am pleased to have worked very closely with Chairman Berman to ensure that my language was included in the text of the bill or in amendment language.

I have included provisions on statelessness that has now been included in the bill. These provisions found in section 235 address the issue of internally displaced persons in Iraq. My language ensures that these persons are able to return to their homelands. These provisions mirror the provisions that I have in my stand alone bill on stateless. I am pleased that this language has been included so that these populations can be assisted.

In addition, I have included Sense of Congress language that the United States should support efforts to find a stable and lasting peace in Sudan in the wake of devastating conflict that led to major humanitarian disaster in Darfur and through the Sudan. This conflict caused the deaths of hundreds of thousands. The language further provides that to achieve peace in Darfur, all parties must agree to uphold the Comprehensive Peace Agreement (CPA). Moreover, the language provides that the United States should support efforts to prepare for the national elections and for the referendum. It further provides that the United States should support efforts to develop international strategy to support the rebuilding of Sudan, with a particular focus on key CPA benchmarks including transitional justice, actions addressing the perpetrators of war crimes, policies towards, the return of displaced Darfuris and other people to their homeland, and management of the armed forces, and that U.S. policy toward Darfur should be fully integrated with U.S. policy toward the CPA as a full and lasting resolution to the Darfur crisis hinges on the resolution of a common set of national problems.

To understand the importance of my Sense of Congress language, it is important to address the history of Sudan. The crisis in Darfur began in February 2003, when two rebel groups emerged to challenge the National Congress Party (NCP) government in Darfu. The crisis in Darfus in western Sudan has led to a major humanitarian disaster, with an estimated 2.45 million people displaced, more than 240,000 people forced into neighboring Chad, and an estimated 450,000 people killed.

In July 2004, the House and Senate declared the atrocities in Darfur genocide and on May 4, 2006, the Government of National Unity and the Sudan Liberation Movement/Army signed the Darfur Peace Agreement after almost two years of negotiation. In July 2007, the U.N. Security Council passed Resolution 1769, authorizing the deployment of a robust peacekeeping force in Darfur. The resolution authorized the United Nations African Union force in Darfur to take all necessary measures to protect its personnel and humanitarian workers.

In July 2008, International Criminal Court (ICC) Chief Prosecutor Luis Moreno-Ocampo accused President Omar Bashir of Sudan of genocide, crimes against humanity, and war crimes and asked ICC judges to issue an arrest warrant for President Bashir. On March 4, 2009, the ICC

Pre-Trial Chamber issued a warrant of arrest for President Bashir. On March 4, 2009, the ICC Pre-Trial Chamber issued a warrant of arrest for President Bashir for war crimes and crimes against humanity.

It is important that against this backdrop that the U.S. reaffirm that genocide is still occurring in Darfur, displaced individuals should be resettled in their homeland, and the perpetrators of war crimes should be prosecuted.

This legislation is intended to shore up U.S. diplomacy and development efforts. Defense, diplomacy, and development are the three pillars of our national security. In recent years, diplomacy and development have been short-changed. Capacity must be rebuilt in these critical areas.

The legislation authorizes hiring 1500 additional Foreign Service Officers over the next two years and contains provisions on recruitment and training of officers to improve the Foreign Service's ability to respond to modern challenges. It requires the State Department to conduct a quadrennial review of its policies and programs that defines objectives, budget requirements and how these programs fit into the President's national security strategy.

Among other significant measures in the bill are provisions that:

- ensure that the United States will meet its financial commitments to the United Nations (U.N.) and other international organizations
- allow financing the refurbishment of helicopters for U.N. peacekeeping missions in Darfur, the Republic of Congo and Chad
- establish the Senator Paul Simon Study Abroad Foundation as a new executive branch corporation to expand dramatically the number and economic diversity of U.S. students studying overseas
- end the long-standing practice of excluding the committed partners of Foreign Service officers from the benefits routinely provided to the spouses and children of officers serving abroad
- support the Administration's plan to double the size of the Peace Corps, and authorize a plan to use short-term volunteers to respond to humanitarian and development needs worldwide
- broaden the Merida anti-drug trafficking initiative to include the Caribbean, and improve monitoring and evaluation of Merida programs
- and increase resources and training for enforcement of intellectual property rights, especially in countries identified by the U.S. government as lax in enforcing those rights.

I would ask that my colleagues support this bill. I yield back the balance of my time.

CONGRESSWOMAN SHEILA JACKSON LEE,
OF TEXAS
STATEMENT ON H.R. 1886, PAKISTAN ENDURING ASSISTANCE AND COOPERATION
ENHANCEMENT ACT OF 2009

May 20, 2009

Thank you, Mr. Chairman for hosting today's very important markup. At today's markup, members of the Foreign Affairs Committee will consider H.R. 1886, Pakistan Enduring Assistance and Cooperation Enhancement Act of 2009.

This legislation establishes a new, more positive framework for U.S.-Pakistan relations. The legislation establishes a set of principles that should govern the U.S.-Pakistan relationship, including the actions that the two countries should take to maintain a robust, relevant and lasting relationship. The bill is comprised of three titles. The first Title provides Economic, Social and Democratic Development Assistance for Pakistan; the second Title provides Security Assistance for Pakistan; and the third Title requires the President to develop a regional security strategy; provides for enhanced monitoring, evaluation, and auditing of U.S. assistance; requires a Presidential report on Pakistan, including an evaluation on Pakistan's progress in counterterrorism and an assessment of whether assistance provided to Pakistan is in any way facilitating the expansion of Pakistan's nuclear weapons program; and requires that all assistance to Pakistan be provided through a civilian government in Pakistan established by free and fair elections.

AMENDMENT LANGUAGE

I have worked tirelessly with Chairman Berman to include several key provisions in this important legislation. I worked very closely with the Chairman to include my language in his Manager's Amendment. First, I am pleased that the Chairman has included language on page 5 of the legislation which states that the United States recognizes the recent major efforts that Pakistan has taken in the SWAT area. Second, the manager's amendment includes language on page 40 in section 206 which states that any limitations on the dispensation of military funds to Pakistan should be modified or reconsidered if Pakistan has made rapid compliance with the objectives contained in the section (i.e., those objectives that lead to cooperation with the United States). Lastly, the Manager's Amendment includes important language on page 19 that funding for education must be used for the education of school girls between the ages of 10-20 and that the money should be used to make sure that these girls stay in school.

I would urge that my colleagues support the Manager's Amendment. I believe that it contains language that would be of benefit to the Pakistani people. In the future, I would like to see additional language included in the bill that addresses the issue of displaced persons and that attempts to repatriate those people in their homeland.

CODELS to PAKISTAN

I have been to Pakistan many times. My belief in this country and its relationship with the United States drove me to co-chair the Pakistan Caucus. This year alone, I have participated in two Congressional Delegation Trips to Pakistan, and I am very passionate about diplomatically relations between our two countries.

Benazir Bhutto, shortly before her death said that “The next few months are critical to Pakistan's future direction as a democratic state committed to promoting peace, fighting terrorism and working for social justice. Democracy is necessary to peace and to undermining the forces of terrorism.” I had the pleasure of knowing the late Benazir Bhutto and losing her death was truly a tragedy felt beyond Pakistan. She made this statement over two years ago, yet is relevant today more than ever.

PAKISTAN

As much as we must focus on the internal conflicts in Pakistan, we must not forget the external issues affecting the region as a whole and the need for stabilization.

Over the years, U.S. assistance to Pakistan has fluctuated with political events, sending mixed messages and leading most Pakistanis to question both our intentions and our staying power. Today, many Pakistanis believe the United States will cut and run when it serves our purpose, a belief which undermines our long-term efforts to defeat extremists, foster democratic change, and support transparent and accountable institutions that promote security and stability in Pakistan.

However, the status quo is not working: many in the United States believe we are paying too much and getting too little—and most Pakistanis believe exactly the opposite. Without changing this baseline, there is little likelihood of drying up popular tolerance for anti-U.S. terrorist groups or persuading Pakistani leaders to devote the political capital necessary to deny such groups sanctuary and covert material support.

CONGRESSWOMAN SHEILA JACKSON LEE,
OF TEXAS
STATEMENT ON H.R. 1886, PAKISTAN ENDURING ASSISTANCE AND COOPERATION
ENHANCEMENT ACT OF 2009

May 20, 2009

Concerning this bill, consider making an amendment at Rules that deals with displaced persons in Pakistan.

More than a million peace loving people of Swat, Malakand, Buner and Dir have chosen the way to sacrifice the lives of their beloved family members, their homes and belongings, and the assets built over generations, for the sake of Peace and Security of Pakistan and its implications for the whole world. A recent UN report indicates this Internal Displacement of well over one million souls as the biggest in the past fifteen years

Besides older people (mostly traumatized) the IDPs include over half a million children and infants who are not even aware of the complexities of the crises. . . . What lies ahead of them and for how long. . . no one can predict at this stage. They need your support. . . . It is not only the food, shelter and health care They need a lot more. . . . They need your moral support initially and then as practical supporters to get them back to normal life as quickly as possible, even they are away from heir homes for an indefinite period awaiting rehabilitation.

And then there is YOUTH . . . especially male, the most vulnerable lot under such environment of unrest, misery and despondency and above all without amenities of life. . . .at this juncture they are just like aimless missiles, we have to guide them and keep them OCCUPIED with constructive devices: like functional literacy, life based skills, food-for-work, marketable skills training, recreation and above all sensitization for tolerance and conflict resolution. . . and that too well in time before they are charged into any destructive mode. So we all have a responsibility to share!
